Jackets Are No. 2 Seed in Norman, Okla., Regional

Georgia Tech's golf team, ranked 9th in the nation in the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index and 12th in the Golfstat rankings, has been made the No. 2 seed in the NCAA Norman, Okla., Regional, which will be played May 17-19 at the Jimmie Austin OU Golf Club.

The Yellow Jackets earned an automatic berth in the regional round by winning the Atlantic Coast Conference championship last month, is playing in an NCAA regional for the 15th straight year and for the 21st time in the 23 years the NCAA has used a regional qualifying format for its championship. They are part of a regional field that includes 14 teams and five individuals.

The full Norman, Okla., Regional field, in order of seed, includes the nation's top-ranked team in Texas, the Yellow Jackets, 13th-ranked Washington, No. 23 Florida State, No. 31 Oklahoma, (host), No. 36 Saint Mary's, Calif. (West Coast Conference champion), No. 35 Illinois (Big Ten Conference Champion), No. 48 Middle Tennessee State, No. 49 South Carolina, San Diego, Arizona, Sacramento State (America Sky Men's Golf Conference champion), IUPUI (Summit League champion) and Loyola-Chicago (Horizon League champion).

The Yellow Jackets head into the post-season having won twice this year, including the Brickyard Collegiate in the fall and the ACC Championship last month. All five Tech players are ranked among the nation's top 150 players by the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index - James White (19), Anders Albertson (26), Bo Andrews (99), Richard Werenski (104) and Ollie Schniederjans (146).

In all, 81 teams and 45 individuals are completing for spots in the NCAA Men's Golf Championship, which will take place May 29-June 3 at Riviera Country Club in Pacific Palisades, Calif. The other five regional sites (with top seed in parentheses) are the University of Michigan Golf Course in Ann Arbor, Mich. (Southern California), the University of Georgia Golf Course in Athens, Ga. (Alabama), The Club at Olde Stone in Bowling Green, Ky. (UCLA), Grandover Resort East Course in Greensboro, N.C. (Auburn), and the Stanford Golf Course in Stanford, Calif. (California).

Seven ACC teams earned regional bids altogether, including Wake Forest (9th seed in Athens, Duke (4th seed in Greensboro), Virginia (4th seed in Ann Arbor), NC State (10th seed in Ann Arbor), Clemson (4th seed in Bowling Green), Virginia Tech (8th seed in Bowling Green),

Each regional is a 54-hole, stroke-play event with 13 teams and 10 individuals, or 14 teams and five individuals, competing. The top five teams after 54 holes and one individual not on those teams in each regional advance to the NCAA finals.

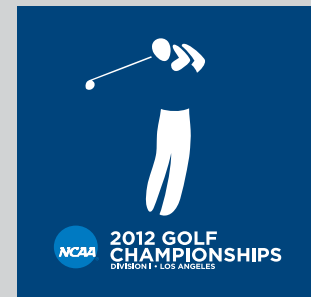

Tech has failed to advance through an NCAA regional only once in 21 tries (the Yellow Jackets did not receive bids in 1996 and 1997). Heppler's teams have won two regionals outright, in 1998 in Dausfuskie Island, S.C., and 1999 in Providence, R.I., and shared the 2002 title with Clemson in Roswell, Ga.

Carrying On

Only two of the five players who reached the match play portion of last year's NCAA Championship, All-American James White and sophomore Richard Werenski, are back this year.

The other three, Haley, John-Tyler Griffin and Kyle Scott, graduated less than a month after winning that championship. This year's travel squad features a pair of freshmen, Anders Albertson and Ollie Schniederjans, and sophomore Bo Andrews, who hails from Raleigh, N.C.

Head coach Bruce Heppler's team has enjoyed a solid year, finishing fourth or higher in every event except one, including a pair victories at the Brickyard Collegiate in the fall and the ACC Championship last month. This spring, the Yellow Jackets also have logged runner-up finishes at the Seminole Intercollegiate and the Gary Koch Invitational, while finishing fourth at the Amer Ari Invitational, the Puerto Rico Classic and the Barona Collegiate Cup.

2011-12 GEORGIA TECH GOLF NOTES

The Yellow Jackets have a head-to-head winning percentage of 83.7 against the nation's 9th-most difficult schedule.

White, who has finished out of the top 20 only once this year and has five top-5 performances, leads this Tech contingent with a 70.9 stroke average. The senior from Acworth, Ga., won the Byron Nelson Award this year and is ranked 19th nationally in the Golfweek/Sagarin ratings.

Albertson, a first-year player from Woodstock, Ga., ranks 26th nationally in the Sagarin ratings, has a 71.1 stroke average, seventh in the ACC, and has finished in the top 10 five times in 10 events. Andrews also has four top-10 finishes and a 72.2 average, while Werenski, from South Hadley, Mass., has a 72.1 average and two top-10s, and Schniederjans has an even 72.8 average and four top-20 showings (two top-10s).

Tech Continues to Dominate ACC Championship

Georgia Tech won its fourth consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 2012, sixth in the last seven years, leading wire-to-wire for a 7-shot victory over Virginia at the Old North State Club.

The Yellow Jackets has led each of the last four ACC Championships wire-to-wire and posted the day's low score in nine of the 12 rounds. Four of Tech's five players finished in the top 10 in 2012 - Anders Albertson T4, Bo Andrews, Richard Werenski and Ollie Schniederjans each T7. All-American James White tied for 16th and counted his score only once in three rounds.

Tech's 14 ACC men's golf titles in history ranks second among conference schools behind Wake Forest (18). Tech has won nine of its conference titles under current head coach Bruce Heppler, five of those outright (1999, 2001, 2002, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012) and two shared (2006, 2007).

The Yellow Jackets won five championships (1985, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994) under previous head coach Puggy Blackmon.

Eight of Tech's ACC titles have occurred at the Old North State Club, the first occurring in 1999 by 10 strokes over North Carolina and Duke. Tech won the 2011 crown with a tournament record score of 831 (-33) and by a record 20 strokes. Tech shared the 2006 title with North Carolina, and the 2007 crown with Virginia Tech.

Georgia Tech's individual ACC Champions include Bob McDonnell in 1985, David Duval in 1991 and 1993, Mikko Rantanen in 1994, Bryce Molder in 2000, Cameron Tringale in 2006, Chesson Hadley in 2010 and Paul Haley in 2011.

Tech's NCAA Championship History

Georgia Tech reached the NCAA Finals 24 times since 1985, a number surpassed by only three schools in that period, and has posted seven top-8 finishes in the last 11 tries. The Yellow Jackets tied for 10th in the first-year of the 54-hole stroke-play/match-play format, but qualified for match play each of the last two years by finishing third and second in the stroke play competition.

Tech lost to eventual champion Augusta State by the score of 3-2 in the match play quarterfinals each of the last two years.

Tech has been the runner-up in the NCAA Championship four times (1993, 2000, 2002 and 2005), more than any team in the history of the championship except Houston, Michigan, Texas and Wake Forest, who also have four, and Oklahoma State, which has five.

In 1993 and 2002, the Yellow Jackets led after 54 holes, but finished second by one shot to Florida in 1993, and by four shots to Minnesota in 2002.

In 2000, the Yellow Jackets rallied to tie Oklahoma State after 72 holes, but lost to the Cowboys on the first hole of a playoff. Tech and OSU matched the lowest 72-hole team score in NCAA Championship history (36-under-par 1,116) at the Grand National Lake Course in Opelika, Ala. In 2005, Tech finished 11 shots behind Georgia, and seven shots ahead of third-place Washington.

Since Bruce Heppler became Tech's coach, the Jackets have finished in the top 8 nine times, with one 10th-place and one 11th-place.

Three Tech players have won national collegiate championships. Troy Matteson did it most recently in 2002 at Ohio State. Watts Gunn (1927) and Charlie Yates (1934) won national titles under a match play format before the NCAA took sponsorship of the championship in 1939.

Other top-10 finishers for Tech include David Duval (runner-up in 1991 and 1993, T-8 in 1990), Bill McDonald (T-2 in 1988), Bunky Henry (2nd in 1967), Roberto Castro (3rd in 2005), Nacho Gervas (T-3 in 1986), Paul Haley (T9 in 2010), Kris Mikkelsen (T-4 in 2001), Stewart Cink (T-5 in 1994), Bryce Molder (6th in 1998), Matt Weibring (6th in 2000) and James White (T8 in 2011).

About Georgia Tech

• Georgia Tech, ranked 9th in the most recent Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index and No. 12 in the Golfstat rankings, has formed its travel squad from among the same six players in each of its five events this spring. Odd man out for the NCAA regional is sophomore Seth Reeves, who has a pair of top-10 finishes and a 72.4 stroke average.

• The fivesome playing this week has 31 top-20 finishes between them, 21 top-10s and nine top-5s.

• Four of Tech's players rank among the nation's top 104 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index - White is No. 19, Albertson is No. 26, Andrews is No. 99 and Werenski is No. 104. Schniederjans is No. 146. Reeves, who is not playing this week, is No. 114.

• The Tech quintet playing this week is collectively 1-under-par over 144 competitive rounds of golf.

• The Yellow Jackets' average drop (non-counting) score is 75.89, the second-best figure in the nation behind third-ranked UCLA.

• Tech is 13-2 head-to-head this year vs. teams in the Norman Regional, including a 1-1 mark against top-ranked Texas, 1-1 vs Washington, 4-1 vs. Florida State and 2-0 vs. Oklahoma.

Big Week for James White

In the span of one week, All-American James White was named a co-recipient of the Byron Nelson Award, given annually to the nation's to collegiate senior, and named to be a part of the USA team that will compete in the Palmer Cup in late June in Northern Ireland.

White is Georgia Tech's third Byron Nelson Award recipient joining Troy Matteson (2003) and Roberto Castro (2007). He earned first-team All-America and All-Nicklaus Team honors last season. White was also recipient of Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd Award for most outstanding student-athlete at Georgia Tech. The three-time All-ACC selection has five-top finishes in nine team events and has only placed outside the top 20 once this season.

As a two-year member of Georgia Tech's Student-Athlete Advisory Board, White has been active in the athletic department's local elementary school reading program. He is also been very involved in the Special Olympics. During Friday nights in the winter he volunteers with his church program providing clothing and food to the homeless. He's also active in junior golf assisting The First Tee and the Atlanta Junior Golf Clinic at the Dogwood Invitational.

White becomes the seventh Georgia Tech player to be named to a United States team for the Palmer Cup, joining Cameron Tringale (2009), Chesson Hadley (2008), Roberto Castro (2005, 2006), Kevin Larsen (2006), Bryce Molder (1998, 1999, 2001) and Matt Kuchar (1998, 1999). Tech coach Bruce Heppler served as coach of the U.S. team in 2003, and current associate head coach Christian Newton will serve as an assistant coach this year.

Tech Lands Three on All-ACC Team

Atlantic Coast Conference Champion Georgia Tech placed three players - James White, Bo Andrews and Anders Albertson - on the 2012 All-ACC Men's Golf team, and head coach Bruce Heppler was named ACC Coach of the Year for the second straight year.

White made the team for the third straight year, becoming the ninth Tech player to make the all-conference team three times, while Albertson and Andrews were named for the first time. Albertson becomes the sixth Tech freshman to earn a spot on the all-conference team, joining David Duval, Matt Kuchar, Bryce Molder, Roberto Castro and Cameron Tringale, all of whom are currently active on the PGA Tour. Tech has put three or more players on the All-ACC team nine times in its history.

Heppler, who has skippered the Yellow Jackets' program since 1995, has been named conference coach of the year seven times and led Tech to nine conference crowns, including each of the last four. This year the Jackets won the title, the program's 14th overall, with three new players among the five who competed in the event.

2011-12 GEORGIA TECH BIO UPDATES

BRUCE HEPPLER

Head Coach • 17th Year

If a consistently high level of success over a long period of time is the measure of a great program, then Georgia Tech's golf program under Bruce Heppler would certainly meet the standard. One of the top coaches in collegiate golf, Heppler has guided the Yellow Jackets to nine top-8 NCAA finishes in the last since 1998, including three runner-up finishes.

His Jackets made the NCAA Finals field 14 of the last 15 years. Only three other Division I teams have been to more NCAA Finals (25) since 1985 than have the Jackets.

During his tenure, Tech has won nine Atlantic Coast Conference titles, a total exceeded by only two other coaches in the history of the conference. Six of those titles have come in the last seven years, including the last four in a row. The Yellow Jackets have captured or shared 36 team titles overall.

Heppler was named ACC Coach of the Year for the sixth time in 2011, more than any ACC coach ever except one.

Heppler has recruited and developed his share of star players as well. The Yellow Jackets have had at least a pair of All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorees 13 times in the last 14 years. For 12 of the last 13 years, Tech had at least two players earn All-America honors. Three of his players, Matt Kuchar, Bryce Molder and Troy Matteson, were named national player of the year.

Five of his Tech players, Roberto Castro, Matt Kuchar, Troy Matteson, Bryce Molder and Cameron Tringale are playing on the PGA Tour, three are on the Nationwide Tour, while others are playing on pro tours in the United States and overseas.

Heppler served as the head coach of the United States' Palmer Cup team in 2003, while seven of his players, including James White in 2012, have been selected to play for the USA.

On the conference level since 1985, when the Yellow Jackets won their first ACC Championship, Tech has earned more NCAA Championship berths than any team except Clemson. The Jackets have earned more top-10, more top-5 and more top-2 finishes in NCAA Championship competition than any other ACC team. Tech also has had more All-America selections (52) than any other ACC team during the same period except the Tigers.

Nationally, only Arizona State, Florida and Oklahoma State have had greater success in NCAA Championship competition and in All-America selections over the same period of time. Since 1997, however, when Heppler got the Tech program back on its feet, the Yellow Jackets have fared better head-to-head against all those teams in the NCAA Championship (8-4 vs. Arizona State, 6-7 vs. Oklahoma State, 9-4 vs. Florida).

It didn't take long for Heppler to restore the glory to Tech's golf program following a couple of lean years in the mid-1990s. After recruiting future All-Americans Kuchar and Molder, Heppler had the Yellow Jackets back in the NCAA Tournament in his third season, where they finished third, just four shots off the lead. Tech also was ranked No. 1 in the nation during the course of that year and won the NCAA East Regional.

Heppler's first recruit at Tech was Kuchar, who won the 1997 U.S. Amateur Championship, was named the 1998 ACC Player of the Year and the Fred Haskins National Player of the Year. Molder was the Jack Nicklaus Player of the Year in 1998 and in 2001, along with being named the ACC Player of the Year in 1999, 2000 and 2001. Molder finished his career with the lowest career (70.69) and single-season (69.43) scoring averages in NCAA history at the time.

A dean's list student at Brigham Young, Heppler earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from BYU in 1985, and later received his master's degree in sport management from Massachusetts in 1988. He played golf for one year at Dixie Junior College in St. George before transferring to Brigham Young.

Heppler began his collegiate coaching career in 1987 as the men and women's golf coach at Amherst. He then spent two years as an administrative assistant at UNLV, becoming the assistant men's golf coach at UNLV in 1989. He spent two years in that role before moving to Oklahoma State in 1991.

The native of St. George, Utah is married to the former Traci Schull of Southbury, Conn., and they have son, Zakary, and a daughter, Moriah. Heppler is actively involved with Atlanta Alliance for Children and is a member of the Golf Coaches Association of America.

GEORGIA TECH'S NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Troy Matteson - 2002

Troy Matteson capped an outstanding junior season by winning the biggest tournament of the year in Columbus, Ohio, at the NCAA Championships. The victory marked the first time since 1934 that a Yellow Jacket was crowned National Collegiate Champion.

Matteson's run to the title began inauspiciously as he opened with a 2-over-par score of 73 to stand tied for 88th place, seven shots off the tournament lead. That would change quickly, as he found his scoring groove over the next 54 holes of play.

Day two saw the first significant move, as Matteson carded a 5-under-par round of 66 to move into a tie for 12th place a 73-66-139. The steady play continued over the final two rounds, as Matteson finished with sub-par rounds of 70 and 67 respectively to take over the individual lead as the final round came to an end.

The victory marked the fourth individual title of the year for Matteson, tying the school record previously held by David Duval, along with being the third time in school history that a Yellow Jacket had been the individual national champion.

For his efforts, Matteson was named the recipient of the Arnold Palmer National Player of the Year award and earned first-team All-America honors for the first time in his career.

Charlie Yates - 1934

Yates won the British Amateur in 1938 and the Western Amateur in 1935, won the Georgia state championship in 1931 and 1935, advanced to the second round of match play in the U.S. Amateur and was low amateur in the first Masters tournament in 1934.

He culminated a fine college career by winning the 1934 National Collegiate Championship in Cleveland, Ohio, joining Watts Gunn as the only two Tech golfers ever to do so. Yates is one of six Yellow Jackets to have competed in the Walker Cup, as he was a team member in both 1936 and '38, compiling a 3-0-1 record in those matches. In 1953, he was named the captain of the Walker Cup team and was an honorary captain in 1985.

Yates played in the first 11 Masters tournaments, five times finishing as low amateur and three times finishing in the top 24.

He was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1959 and an award named in his honor has been given annually to the member of the Yellow Jacket golf team displaying the most outstanding academic achievement.

Watts Gunn - 1927

The Rambling Wreck and the name of Watts Gunn rose to supreme heights in 1927.

Becoming the first Georgia Tech golfer to win the National Collegiate Championship, Gunn shot a total of 302 over the 72-hole event at the Garden City Country Club to win the medal competition. He went on to despatch Walker Cup teammate Roland McKenzie, 10-9, to win the individual title, and his 69 in the final round broke the course record. He also helped Tech win the Southern Intercollegiate title the same year.

Along with winning the collegiate championship, Gunn was a two-time U.S. Walker Cup team member, joining the squad in both 1926 and 1928. In those two events, he compiled a combined 4-0 record, posting a pair of victories in each.

Gunn was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1961. The annual Yellow Jacket men's golf team award for the season's most improved player is named in Gunn's honor.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP TIMELINE

The national collegiate championships were conducted by the United States Golf Association through 1938, and consisted of a medal competition and a match play bracket similar to today's U.S. Amateur.

The NCAA began conducting the championship in 1939, using a match play format through 1965, when it became a 72-hole, stroke-play event.

The NCAA instituted a 54-hole cut from 1979-88. A 36-hole cut was used in 1989, and again from 1992-2001. No cuts were made in 1990, 1991 or 2002.

Regional qualifying tournaments were instituted in 1989, expanding the championship field to 81 teams, 27 in each of three regionals, with 30 teams advancing to the 72-hole finals. In 2009, the format was changed to include a total of six regional tournaments (13 teams in three, 14 teams in the other three). Thirty teams (five from each regional) advanced to the finals.

The finals structure also changed in 2009, with 30 teams playing 54 holes of stroke play. The individual national champion is crowned after 54 holes, and the top eight teams advance to a match play bracket to decide the team champion.
