TECH GOLF NOTEBOOK

INFORMATION

Georgia Tech's golf team headed West for its NCAA regional, for the second straight year joining 13 other teams for the Tucson Regional at the Gallery at Dove Mountain in Marana, Ariz. For just the third time since regional play was introduced in 1989, the Yellow Jackets did not advance through the regional, thing for seventh place.

Team Update

Georgia Tech was ranked No. 42 in the latest Golfstat rankings and No. 38 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Index following NCAA regional competition. The Yellow Jackets finished third (Princeton Invitational) and second (Clemson Invitational) in their last two tournaments, their best showings in a spring that has been difficult, then finished fourth in a stacked ACC Championship field in which the Yellow Jackets outplayed four teams ranked ahead of them nationally.

The Yellow Jackets finished 14th out of 15 teams in a loaded field and logged their highest score of the year (905, +53) at the Valspar Collegiate Invitational, three weeks after posting their lowest score of the year (857, -7) in a sixth-place finish at the Puerto Rico Classic.

Tech had a 83-64-5 won-loss record cumulatively against a schedule rated the 15th-toughest in the country, and a 14-40-1 mark against top-25 teams. Only top-ranked Texas and No. 5 Stanford faced more top-25 teams than have the Yellow Jackets.

The Yellow Jackets posted high finishes of fifth place at the Carpet Capital Collegiate and the United States Collegiate Championship in the fall.

Tech Lineup

Tech's top five players in terms of scoring average competed in the ACC Championship and the NCAA Tucson Regional, led by junior Vincent Whaley (McKinney, Texas), who had three top-5 finishes to his credit this year, including a victory at the Clemson Invitational. He also tied for fifth at the Amer Ari Invitational with a career-low score of 207 (-9) and tied for ninth at the Princeton Invitational. He was ranked No. 79 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Index, and led the Jackets with a 72.16 stroke average and a 72.2 won-loss percentage.

Also in the starting five were sophomore Chris Petefish (Danville, Calif.), who led the Jackets (T-7) at the ACC Championship and tied for ninth in Puerto Rico. He ranked second on the team in stroke average (73.48). He also tied for 17th in the NCAA Tucson Regional along with Whaley and Jacob Joiner.

Joiner, a sophomore from Leesburg, Ga., who won the Carpet Capital Collegiate in the fall, had four other top-20 finishes, including a tie for 11th at the Puerto Rico Classic and a tie for 12th at Princeton this spring. He finished second on the team in won-loss percentage and third in stroke average (73.68).

Sophomore James Clark (Columbus, Ga.), who had one top-10 finish (Clemson) and a 73.77 stroke average, and junior Michael Hines (Acworth, Ga.), with a 75.38 average in eight events, completed the Tech travel team.

Tee Shots

- The seven players on Georgia Tech's roster collectively have played 329 rounds in their collegiater careers, compared to 475 rounds by last year's starting five in the NCAA Championship and 537 by the 2013-14 NCAA quintet.

- Three of Tech's players had played in an NCAA regional or championship. The 2015 regional unit included Chris Petefish (T-14), James Clark (T-29) and Vincent Whaley (T-49). At the NCAA Championship, Whaley tied for 33rd, Petefish finished solo 53rd and Clark tied for 54th.

- According to the Golfweek/Sagarin ratings, Tech faced the 15th-most difficult schedule in Division I (last year's team played the ninth-most difficult) -- Tech went 14-40-1 vs. the nation's top 25 teams, 30-52-3 vs. the top 50, 48-60-3 vs. the top 100.

- Tech finished fourth (ACC Championship), third (Princeton Invitational) and second (Clemson Invitational) in its last three events leading into the NCAA regional, but no higher than fifth in any event prior to that in 2015-16.

- Tech's team scoring average for the year is 290.14, nearly six strokes higher than last year's 284.90, almost nine shots higher than last year's 282.2.

- Tech's top two players in the Golfweek/Sagarin rankings were Vincent Whaley (79) and Jacob Joiner (239). Four members of last year's lineup finished in the top 150 - Schniederjans at No. 8, Albertson at No. 37, Petefish as 114 and Whaley at No. 143.

- Tech's best score of the year was 857 (-7) at the Puerto Rico Classic.

- Georgia Tech has played in the NCAA Championship finals 28 times, and 27 times since 1985.

Tech Again Receives APR Public Recognition

Georgia Tech's golf team was among four Yellow Jacket teams that were publicly honored by the NCAA for being among the top 10 percent in Academic Progress Rates (APR). The four teams — football, golf, men's swimming & diving and volleyball — are the second-most honorees for Georgia Tech and the most since 2013.

Bruce Heppler's golf program earned a perfect four-year APR score of 1000 and has done so every year since its inception. Tech's golf program has received an APR Public Recognition Award every year since the APR's inception in 2006. Georgia Tech is one of only three ACC golf programs to receive an APR award every year.

The APR measures eligibility, graduation and retention each term and provides a clear picture of the academic performance for each team in every sport.

The APR is an annual scorecard of academic achievement calculated for all Division I sports teams nationally. The most recent APR scores are based on the 2011-12, 2012-13, 2013-14 and 2014-15 academic years. This year marks the 12th year of APR data for most teams.

Tech Signs Four in Class of 2016

Georgia Tech has signed four highly-regarded junior golf prospects from the class of 2016 - Andy Ogletree of Little Rock, Miss., Luke Schniederjans of Powder Springs, Ga., Anton Serafini of Lake Mary, Fla., and Tyler Strafaci of Davie, Fla.

Ogletree is ranked No. 25 nationally and No. 11 in the class of 2016 by the Junior Golf Scoreboard. He is the top-ranked player in his class in the state of Mississippi and No. 2 overall. In 2015, Ogletree finished 23rd in the Western Junior, 24th in the Junior Players and 24th in the Foot Joy Junior, made it to the quarterfinals of the U.S. Junior Amateur Championship and shot a 65 in a sectional qualifier to reach the U.S. Amateur. Named to the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger all-state first team in 2015, Ogletree won medalist honors four straight years in the class AA state championship playing at Union High School.

An all-state performer in Georgia in 2014 and 2015 at Harrison High School, Schniederjans helped the Hoyas to three class AAAAAA regional titles from 2013 to 2015. He graduated from Harrison before his senior season. On the junior circuit, Schniederjans is ranked No. 110 nationally among all classes, No. 6 in Georgia in his class, having earned four victories in junior events and 18 top-10 finishes overall in the last three years. In 2016, Schniederjans has won the Amelia Island Junior Open in the Hurricane Junior Golf Tour, tied for seventh at the Florida Azalea Amateur and tied for 19th at the Puerto Rico Junior Open, an American Junior Golf Association event.

Ranked 12th among junior golfers in the state of Florida, Serafini posted nine top-10 finishes in junior tournaments over the last three years, including three top-5 finishes in the Florida Boys Junior Championship. He also tied for ninth place in stroke play and made the round of 16 in the 2014 U.S. Junior Amateur Championship. He is ranked No. 147 nationally in the Junior Golf Scoreboard and No. 167 in the Golfweek/Sagarin junior ratings. Serafini led Lake Mary Prep to a pair of Florida state high school championships (2013, 2015) and was the individual runner-up in 2013. He won the 2015 district and regional champion and made the 2013, 2014 and 2015 all-Central Florida boys team.

An honorable mention Rolex Junior All-American in 2015, Strafaci is ranked 19th nationally and sixth in the class of 2016 in the Junior Golf Scoreboard. He is the top-rated class of 2016 player in the state of Florida and No. 3 overall. In 2015, he has logged a pair of victories, another top-5 finish, seven top-10s and 11 top-20s out of 14 junior events in 2015. Strafaci captured victories in sectional qualifying tournaments for the U.S. Amateur and U.S. Junior Amateur, and reached the round of 32 in match play at the U.S. Junior Amateur. Captain of his high school team, Strafaci led American Heritage to the 2012 and 2014 Florida state championship and runner-up finishes in 2013 and 2015. He won the individual state title in 2015.

Tech's NCAA Championship History

Georgia Tech has reached the NCAA Championship finals 27 times since 1985 (28th time in program history), which is tied for fourth most in that time period behind Oklahoma State (31), Florida (30), Arizona State (29) and Texas (28). Tech has posted nine top-8 finishes in the last 14 tries. (Tech played in NCAA regionals in 2008, 2012 and 2015 but did not advance.)

The Yellow Jackets tied for 10th in 2009, the first-year of the stroke-play/match-play format, but qualified for match play each of the last four times they have advanced to the NCAA Championship (third in 2010, second in 2011, second in 2013, fifth in 2014). Tech did not advance out of its regional in 2012.

Tech has lost to the eventual champion three times in its first three forays into match play - Augusta State by the score of 3-2 in the quarterfinals in 2010 and 2011 and to Alabama (3-0-2) in 2013.

Tech has been the runner-up in the NCAA Championship four times (1993, 2000, 2002 and 2005), more than any team in the history of the championship except Houston, Michigan, Texas and Wake Forest, who also have four, and Oklahoma State, which has five.

In 1993 and 2002, the Yellow Jackets led after 54 holes, but finished second by one shot to Florida in 1993, and by four shots to Minnesota in 2002.

In 2000, the Yellow Jackets rallied to tie Oklahoma State after 72 holes, but lost to the Cowboys on the first hole of a playoff. Tech and OSU matched the lowest 72-hole team score in NCAA Championship history (36-under-par 1,116) at the Grand National Lake Course in Opelika, Ala. In 2005, Tech finished 11 shots behind Georgia, and seven shots ahead of third-place Washington.

Since Bruce Heppler became Tech's coach, the Jackets have finished in the top 8 11 times, with one 10th-place and one 11th-place finish.

Three Tech players have won national collegiate championships. Troy Matteson did it most recently in 2002 at Ohio State. Watts Gunn (1927) and Charlie Yates (1934) won national titles under a match play format before the NCAA took sponsorship of the championship in 1939.

Other top-10 finishers for Tech include David Duval (runner-up in 1991 and 1993, T-8 in 1990), Bill McDonald (T-2 in 1988), Bunky Henry (2nd in 1967), Roberto Castro (3rd in 2005), Nacho Gervas (T-3 in 1986), Paul Haley (T9 in 2010), Kris Mikkelsen (T-4 in 2001), Stewart Cink (T-5 in 1994), Bryce Molder (6th in 1998), Matt Weibring (6th in 2000), James White (T8 in 2011) and Ollie Schniederjans (T8 in 2013 and 2nd in 2015).

TECH GOLF NOTEBOOK

Tech and NCAA Match Play

The 2009 NCAA Championship featured a new twist with the team champion determined via match play. The top eight teams after 54 holes of stroke play advance to a match play tournament format.

This year's format has added a fourth round of stroke play for the top 15 teams and nine individuals not on those teams, after which the national individual champion and the top eight teams for match play will be determined.

It is a format that Bruce Heppler has supported vigorously. Under Heppler, Georgia Tech finished in the top eight of the NCAA Finals seven times in 10 tries under the 72-hole, stroke-play format. Tech is one of only two teams (Oklahoma State is the other) to have advanced to match play four times in the six years the current format has been in effect.

In the stroke-play/match play era, the Yellow Jackets have finished 10th, third, second, second and fifth, respectively, in the stroke-play portion the NCAA Championship in five tries (Tech did not advance out of its regional in 2012). Tech has lost to the eventual national champion three of the four times has qualified for match play (Augusta State in the 2010 and 2011 quarterfinals, Alabama in the 2013 semifinals).

Tech has had success in other match-play events in recent years, reaching the finals of the Callaway Collegiate Match Play Championship four times in six appearances.

Tech in NCAA Regional Competition

Georgia Tech has advanced through an NCAA regional 23 times in 26 tries, and all but twice since the NCAA went to a six-regional qualifying format in 2009. Head coach Bruce Heppler's teams have won five regional tournaments outright, most recently in 2014, and tied for one other.

The NCAA began using regional qualifying tournaments in 1989, first with the 81 teams split among three sites (27 teams each), then with six sites with either 13 or 14 teams each beginning in 2009. Since the NCAA went to six regional sites in 2009, Tech has finished third (Bowling Green, Ky.), third (Milton, Ga.), tied for third (Radford, Va.), sixth/did not advance (Norman, Okla.), fourth (Tallahassee, Fla.), first (Raleigh, N.C.), third (San Diego) and tied for seventh/did not advance (Tucson).

Tech's first four victories all occurred in 27-team regionals in 1991 (New Haven, Conn.), 1998 (Daufuskie Island, S.C.), 1999 (Providence, R.I.) and 2002 (Roswell, Ga., tied with Clemson). Only the 2014 win occurred in a 13-team field.

Georgia Tech Match Play History

While match play in college golf may be infrequent, Georgia Tech is no stranger to it, having participated in six regular season match play events since 2001, as well as three times in the five years the NCAA has utilized match play to determine its champion. Here is a history of Tech's participation.

ACC Championship History

Georgia Tech has won the last two Atlantic Coast Conference championships, six of the last seven and eight of the last 10.

The last three individual champions also have come from Georgia Tech. Anders Albertson won his second title in 2015, sharing medalist honors with Louisville's Robin Sciote-Siegrist and Virginia Tech's Trevor Cone with a score of 11-under-par 205. He also won the championship in 2013 with a record score of 15-under 201. He is the fifth player to win two ACC titles, and the second Tech player to do so, joining David Duval in 1991 and 1993.

Albertson became Tech's 10th ACC individual champion, joining Bob McDonnell (1985), David Duval (1991, 1993), Mikko Rantanen (1994), Bryce Molder (2000), Cameron Tringale (2006), Chesson Hadley (2010), Paul Haley (2011), Albertson (2013, 2015) and Schniederjans (2014).

Tech's 16 ACC men's golf titles in history ranks second among conference schools behind Wake Forest (18). Tech has won 11 of its conference titles under current head coach Bruce Heppler, nine of those outright (1999, 2001, 2002, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2014, 2015) and two shared (2006, 2007). The Yellow Jackets won five championships (1985, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994) under previous head coach Puggy Blackmon.

Ten of Tech's ACC titles have occurred at the Old North State Club, the first occurring in 1999 by 10 strokes over North Carolina and Duke. Tech won the 2011 crown with a tournament record score of 831 (-33) and by a record 20 strokes. Tech shared the 2006 title with North Carolina, and the 2007 crown with Virginia Tech.

HEAD COACH BRUCE HEPPLER

21st Year at Tech • ACC Coach of the Year 7 times • 11 ACC Championships • 18 NCAA Finals Appearances

If a consistently high level of success over a long period of time is the measure of a great program, then Georgia Tech's golf program under Bruce Heppler would certainly meet the standard. His peers recognized this in 2013 when they inducted him into the Golf Coaches Association of America Hall of Fame.

Tech is currently on a run unprecedented in school history and perhaps unmatched by any other in Division I - eight Atlantic Coast Conference titles in the last 11 years and four trips to match play at the NCAA Championship in the last seven.

Heppler has guided the Yellow Jackets to the NCAA Championship every year since 1998, and helped author 11 top-8 finishes in the Finals, including three runner-up showings.

Tech has advanced to match play at the NCAA Championship for the four times in the eight years the format has been used, and is one of only two programs that have advanced to match play four times.

During his tenure, Tech has won or shared 11 Atlantic Coast Conference titles. Only two ACC coaches have led their teams to more ACC titles than has Heppler. The Yellow Jackets have captured or shared 46 team titles overall.

He was named ACC Coach of the Year in 2014 for the eighth time, more than any coach in ACC history except one, and was a finalist for the GCAA's Dave Williams national coach of the year award.

Since 2000, the Yellow Jackets have finished in the top 10 of the final Golfstat rankings 11 times, and in the final Golfweek/Sagarin top 10 13 times. Tech did not finish lower than 14th in either ranking in any year from 2000 to 2015.

In a July, 2015 poll of his coaching peers conducted by Golfweek magazine, Heppler ranked No. 3. His program was ranked No. 2 among College Factual's ranking of the best colleges to play golf, taking into account both the quality of the golf team, as well as the academic success of the players and the quality of the school.

Heppler has recruited and developed his share of star players as well. The Yellow Jackets have had at least a pair of All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorees in 16 of the last 18 years, and landed four members of the team on the squad twice (2005, 2011). Tech has had at least two players earn All-America honors 14 of the last 17 years, and Ollie Schniederjans became the program's 20th and 21st first-team selections in his junior and senior years. Three of his players, Matt Kuchar, Bryce Molder and Troy Matteson, have been named national player of the year.

Thirteen of Heppler's players are currently active members of either the PGA Tour or the Web.com Tour, with several other recent graduates climbing their way up through the SwingThought.com or other mini-tours.

Heppler has been named to coach the United States team in the Palmer Cup twice, in 2003 and 2015, and eight of his players have also represented the USA in that annual event.

Kuchar, Molder, Nicholas Thompson and Cameron Tringale have represented the United States in the Walker Cup matches. Twice, in 1998 and 2013, five or more of the Heppler's active Tech players have qualified to play in the U.S. Amateur. Six of Tech's seven returning players in 2013 competed in that year's U.S. Amateur in Brookline, Mass., an unprecedented feat.

On the conference level since 1985, when the Yellow Jackets won their first ACC Championship, Tech has earned more NCAA Championship berths than any team except Clemson. The Jackets have earned more top-10, more top-5 and more top-2 finishes in NCAA Championship competition than any other ACC team. Tech also has had more All-America selections (61) than any other ACC team during the same period except the Tigers.

His players have been just as successful in the classroom. Tech's golf program has been recognized with a perfect Academic Progress Report score of 1000 for 11 straight years, and every senior has graduated.

Fourteen different players under Heppler have been named All-America Scholars by the Golf Coaches Association of America, which requires a minimum 3.2 GPA and participation in at least 75 percent of a team's events. Two, All-Americans Bryce Molder and Roberto Castro, have received the NCAA's Top VIII Award, an honor given to eight student-athletes from all sports each year and recognizes those who excel in their sport and in the classroom, and exhibit high character, leadership and service to others.

It didn't take long for Heppler to restore the glory to Tech's golf program following a couple of lean years in the mid-1990s. After recruiting future All-Americans Kuchar and Molder, Heppler had the Yellow Jackets back in the NCAA Tournament in his third season, where they finished third, just four shots off the lead. Tech also was ranked No. 1 in the nation during the course of the year and won the NCAA East Regional.

Even better things were to come as Tech captured the first of its ACC titles under Heppler in 1999. In 2000 the Yellow Jackets came the closest to an NCAA Championship in their history, tying for first after 72 holes with Oklahoma State before losing a one-hole playoff. On the year, Tech captured four team titles and finished in the top four in each event it entered.

During the 2001 campaign, the Jackets won their second ACC crown in three years, the second under Heppler, captured a school-record-tying five tournament wins during the year and finished fourth in the NCAA Championship. For his efforts, Heppler was named ACC Coach of the Year and guided three All-Americans in Molder, who was also the consensus National Player of the Year, Matteson and Kris Mikkelsen.

PLAYERS & STAFF

In 2002, Heppler led the Yellow Jackets to arguably the best season in school history, as Tech captured seven team titles and finished second at the NCAA Championship. In the process, Heppler earned National and ACC Coach of the Year honors. During the year, the Jackets won the school's eighth ACC title, while placing all five starters on GCAA All-America teams. Under Heppler's tutelage, Matteson became the third Tech player to win the national individual title.

Tech has dominated the Atlantic Coast Conference in recent years, winning eight of the last 10 titles and six of the last seven. The Yellow Jackets have been to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1998, and only twice in that time failed to advance out of a regional. In the seven years the NCAA has conducted the current medal/match play format for the championship, Tech has advanced to match play four times.

A 55-year-old native of St. George, Utah, Heppler has demonstrated his strength as a recruiter by attracting both National Players of the Year during 1997-98 and the ACC Players of the Year for 1998, 1999, 2000 and 2001. His first recruit at Tech was Kuchar, who won the 1997 U.S. Amateur Championship and was named the ACC Player of the Year and the Fred Haskins National Player of the Year in 1998. Molder was the Jack Nicklaus Player of the Year in 1998 and in 2001, along with being named the ACC Player of the Year in 1999, 2000 and 2001.

Heppler, a dean's list student at Brigham Young, earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from BYU in 1985, and later received his master's degree in sport management from Massachusetts in 1988. He played golf for one year at Dixie Junior College in St. George before transferring to Brigham Young.

He became a certified public accountant in 1985 and spent one year in the firm of Huber and Associates in Salt Lake City, then began his collegiate coaching career in 1987 as the men and women's golf coach at Amherst. He then spent two years as an administrative assistant at UNLV, becoming the assistant men's golf coach at UNLV in 1989. He spent two years in that role before moving to Oklahoma State in 1991.

"Georgia Tech is a great fit for me," said Heppler. "This is one of the five or six best programs right now if you look around at college golf's successful teams since the '90s. We have a lot of alumni on the PGA Tour, which is great for the school. Young people can see they have a chance to be player of the year or win a national championship here. It's a great school academically, which is a real draw with the general pool of talent out there interested in playing college golf."

Heppler is married to the former Traci Schull of Southbury, Conn., and they have a son, Zakary, and a daughter, Moriah. Heppler is actively involved with Atlanta Alliance for Children and is a member of the Golf Coaches Association of America.

ASSISTANT COACH JEFF PIERCE

First Year at Tech

Jeff Pierce, a veteran professional golf instructor dating back to his college years, joined Georgia Tech's golf program as an assistant coach on October 28, 2015.

Pierce, 28, came to Tech after serving as the director of instruction at Elk River Golf Club in Banner Elk, N.C., during the summer of 2015 and a three-year tenure as the senior instructor at Butch Harmon Floridian, an elite golf learning center based at The Floridian Resort in Palm City, Fla. Pierce has delivered golf instruction to players at all levels, creating and administrating programs in both individual and group situations. He has expertise in the latest instruction technology as well as club fitting and performance.

"Team development is more important than it used to be. We met Jeff and liked his approach to what he was doing," said Hepler. "He's worked with (former Tech All-American) Anders Albertson the last few months and got a thumbs-up from him. Jeff's skill set will be very beneficial to where we are right now. It's a little different dynamic. I'm excited to have someone who has done that full time, can evaluate players in the recruiting process and has connections with teachers all over the country who work with young people."

He replaces former associate head golf coach Brennan Webb, who accepted the position of head golf coach at Middle Tennessee State in August.

Pierce's list of pupils at Butch Harmon Floridian included winners in the PGA Tour, the Web.com Tour, the European Tour and the LPGA Tour. He has traveled 12-15 weeks a year to work directly with players such as former Florida State All-American Brooks Koepka, who finished 24th in the 2015 FedEx Cup standings and won the Waste Management Phoenix Open, and former Louisville All-American Derek Fathauer, who won the 2014 Web.com Tour championship and has played in 57 PGA Tour and 77 Web.com Tour events.

"I'm intrigued and excited to be at Georgia Tech, and I think my skill set can help develop our guys here," said Pierce. "I've been instructing players at the highest level for a long time, and part of that is developing players. I've been doing the job with guys that have been fresh out of college or late in college. To me it's not that big a leap. Most of the work we've done in Florida the last couple of years it to try and develop guys to play on tour. In the college environment, I can have a deeper relationship with our players as we work with them to develop their games."

Prior to working at Butch Harmon Floridian, Pierce was an assistant golf professional at The Virginian Golf Club in Bristol, Va. (March 2011-Oct. 2012), and begin his career as an assistant golf professional at Elizabethtown (Ky.) Country Club from 2006-09 while a student-athlete at Morehead State University.

A native of Glasgow, Ky., Pierce earned All-Ohio Valley Conference honors in golf at Morehead State in the 2008-09 academic year. He earned OVC academic honors (3.5-plus GPA) and made the MSU Dean's List all four years at Morehead State, where he studied industrial engineering technology. He played professionally for a year before diving into instruction full-time.
