Yellow Jackets Continue Road Trip In Florida

• After picking up its first ACC wins of the season, the Georgia Tech Volleyball team (9-7, 2-3 ACC) continues its road swing this weekend in the Sunshine State.

• The Yellow Jackets will face Miami (12-4, 2-3) Friday night at 7 p.m. and then No. 20 Florida State (12-3, 4-1) Sunday at 1 p.m. The match against the Seminoles will be televised live on FS-Florida and Fox College Sports Atlantic.

• This will be Tech's 12th and 13th matches away from O'Keefe Gym this season. After this weekend swing in Florida, the Yellow Jackets will play 10 of their final 14 at home.

Scouting Miami

• Georgia Tech is 5-6 all-time against Miami including a pair of five-set losses last season. The Yellow Jackets haven't won in Coral Gables since 2007 (3-1).

• The Hurricanes are off to a 12-4 start and have an identical 2-3 mark in ACC play. They're led by Lane Carico who has 3.28 kills a set, which is good for sixth in the ACC. Setter Katie Gallagher is first in the ACC with 10.98 assists per set and Ryan Shaffer comes in at 10th with 3.80 digs per set.

Scouting Florida State

• No. 20 Florida State, 12-3 overall and 4-1 in ACC play, is Tech's second ranked opponent this season. The Seminoles, picked in a tie with Duke for first place in the ACC preseason poll, just lost their first conference match of the season at first-place North Carolina.

• Georgia Tech is 28-11 all-time against FSU after splitting a pair of matches last season. The Jackets' 3-2 come-back win in Tallahassee was their first win against a ranked team on the road since 2003. The Seminoles came back to sweep the Jackets at O'Keefe Gym later in the season.

• FSU has a very balanced scoring attack with seven players averaging at least 1.5 kills per set and no one with more 3.21. Visnja Djurdjevic comes in at ninth in the ACC with 3.21 kills per set, while Lauren Young (1.24) and Sareea Freeman (1.21) are second and fourth, respectively, in the league in blocks.

What Sophomore Jinx?

• Don't tell sophomore right-side hitter Monique Mead there is such a thing as a sophomore jinx. The 2009 ACC Freshman of the Year and honorable mention AVCA All-American is first in the ACC and 20th in the nation averaging 4.34 kills per set. She is one of just two players in the ACC with more than four kills a set.

• Mead has three double-doubles this season and has had at least 20 kills six times.

• In a five-set loss to Duke on Sept. 24, Mead piled up a career-high 30 kills. It was Tech's first 30-kill match since Talisa Kellogg had 35 against Virginia on Oct. 22, 2005 and just the 12th 30-kill match by an individual in school history.

• Mead is hitting .272 this season and also averages 1.97 digs and 0.93 blocks a set.

Can You Dig It?

• On Aug. 28, senior libero Jordan McCullers recorded her 1,000th career dig. The Atlanta native now has 1,222 in her career which is 53 behind Kele Eveland for 10th place in school history.

• McCullers is averaging 4.08 digs per set this season which ranks eighth in the ACC. She has also been contributing in other ways as she has a career-high eight assists twice, most recently Oct. 1 at Virginia.

Percy Bursts Onto The Scene

• Last year it was Monique Mead who had a break-out season for Georgia Tech and this year it looks like it might be Jennifer Percy.

• Percy, a native of Mobile, Ala., has at least 13 kills in three of the five ACC matches this season. That includes the career-high 17 she had at Virginia on Oct. 1. Percy is now fourth on the team with 1.93 kills a set and also has 17 total blocks.

• In high school, Percy was a member of the prepvolleyball.com "Senior Aces" and led her team to three state titles. She was a four-time all-state performer and member of the 2008 USA Volleyball Junior A1 camp.

Sophomores Getting Reps

• Two sophomores, Susan Carlson and Nicki Meyer, have made some significant contributions this year after playing sparingly as freshmen in 2009.

• Carlson has played in all 61 sets this season, while Meyer has seen time in 37 sets, mainly in the last few weeks.

• Carlson, a native of Burbank, Calif., has been solid across the board with 1.95 digs per set and 47 kills. She is also second on the team with 15 service aces.

• Carlson recently had a career-high 12 digs Oct. 1 at Virginia and has had at least 10 digs in four different matches.

• Meyer, meanwhile, has played in all but one set since Sept. 17 at Clemson. Meyer has 21 digs on the year and has been a big part of the Jack-ets' stellar defensive efforts.

Block Party

• Junior Asia Stawicka has continued to put up some impressive blocking numbers this season, something she has done when healthy throughout her Tech career thus far.

• Stawicka is currently fifth in the ACC with 1.20 blocks per set and has 73 total, including seven solo. She is 45 away from 10th place in Tech history with 276 blocks now, despite missing nearly half of her freshman year with an elbow injury. With 254 career block assists, the Warsaw, Poland native is just five behind Kele Eveland for 10th-place.

• Stawicka is also seventh in the ACC this year with a .370 hitting percentage and is averaging 2.11 kills per set, good for third on the squad.

Tonya JOHNSON

2nd Season As Head Coach At Georgia Tech
30-17 (.638)

In her first season as head coach of the Georgia Tech Volleyball Team, Tonya Johnson led the Yellow Jackets to a 21-10 record and their first trip to the NCAA Tournament since 2004. Under Johnson, the Jackets finished third in the ACC after being picked eighth in the preseason poll with a 15-5 conference record. Johnson coached two AVCA honorable mention All-Americans, the ACC Freshman of the Year and three All-ACC picks.

Johnson immediately won over Georgia Tech fans as the Jackets topped rival Georgia in a five-set thriller in her first career match as a head coach. Later in the season, the Yellow Jackets handed ACC champion and NCAA national seed Florida State its only conference loss of the season. The win was Tech's first on the road against a ranked team since 2003. The Yellow Jackets finished in the top of the ACC in nearly every statistical category including second in assists, third in kills and fourth in hitting percentage. Defensively, Tech allowed the second-fewest kills, assists and digs in the league.

Tonya Johnson was named the seventh head volleyball coach in Georgia Tech history on January 9, 2009. She was an assistant coach under Jerrett Elliott at Texas for five years before being promoted to associate head coach in 2008. She helped guide the Longhorns to the 2008 NCAA Final Four following back-to-back Regional Final appearances in 2006 and 2007. The Longhorns concluded last season with a 31-3 record after recording more than 20 victories in each of the four seasons prior. An excellent recruiter on the national level, Johnson helped Elliott land the nation's second-ranked recruiting classes in each of the last three seasons (2006-08). Texas' 2009 recruiting class is also expected to be among the country's best, with the signing of the nation's top- and fifth-ranked prep players. A Longhorn has earned the Big 12's Conference Freshman of the Year honor each of the last three seasons, one of whom has also been named the National Freshman of the Year.

In addition to serving as the recruiting coordinator, Johnson worked with the Longhorns' outside hitters, three of whom received All-America accolades over her last three seasons at Texas. Juliann Faucette, the National Freshman of the Year in 2007, was tabbed a first-team AVCA All-American in 2007 after receiving first team Big 12 honors as a freshman. Ashley Engle, a right-side hitter that earned Big 12 Freshman of the Year honors in 2006, was named a first-team AVCA All-American in 2008 after being tabbed to the AVCA All-America second team in 2006, and Destinee Hooker received first-team AVCA All-America honors in 2008 after earning second-team accolades in 2007 and honorable mention recognition in 2006.
