JUST GEORGIA TECH, PLEASE

Georgia Tech "University" sounds official, but it's incorrect. The Georgia Institute of Technology is the school's official title, but Georgia Tech will work fine, or just Tech (unless you are in Virginia or Texas). We would appreciate it if you would use our name in those ways. Thanks!

GENERAL INFORMATION

Media Information

MEDIA SERVICES

The 2012 Georgia Tech Baseball Yearbook is published primarily as a source of information for members of the media. Requests for additional information, interviews and photographs should be directed to Assistant Sports Information Director Mike DeGeorge.

Baseball releases, which include updated statistics, are available on a bi-weekly basis throughout the season. Fast and easy access to this information can be achieved by accessing the official Georgia Tech Athletics website, www.RamblinWreck.com. The Georgia Tech Sports Information Office will email weekly releases to members of the media on a bi-weekly basis.

SPORTS INFORMATION OFFICE

The Georgia Tech Sports Information Office is located on the first floor of the Arthur B. Edge Athletics Center, on the corner of Techwood Drive and Bobby Dodd Way.

RUSS CHANDLER STADIUM

Georgia Tech's home field is located on the corner of Fowler Street and Ferst Drive, with the entrances to the stadium along Ferst Drive.

Directions from the North (I-75): Follow I-75 South to Northside Drive/Howell Mill Road Exit. Follow exit to Northside Drive and turn right. Proceed to 10th Street (sixth light) and turn left. Follow 10th Street to Fowler Street (fifth light) and turn right. Stadium will be on the right.

Directions from the North (I-85): Follow I-85 South to North Avenue exit and turn right. Proceed to Techwood Drive (first light) and turn right. Follow Techwood Drive to Fifth Street (second light) and turn left. Stadium will be on the right.

Directions from the South: Follow I-75/I-85 North to 10th Street exit and turn left. Proceed to Fowler Street (second light), and turn left. Stadium will be on the right.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Media credentials will be issued only to working members of the media. Children and other non-workers are not allowed. Members of the media may claim credentials in the GT Ticket Office until four hours prior to each game (excluding weekends) before they are moved to media will-call at Russ Chandler Stadium.

Requests: Contact Mike DeGeorge at least one day prior to home game or series.

Media Will Call: Third base ticket booth, corner of Cherry Street and Ferst Drive.

Media Parking: A limited number of media parking spaces at various locations around Russ Chandler Stadium are available. Please include parking requests along with credential requests.

Press Box: The Russ Chandler Stadium Press Box is located atop the grandstand behind home plate. It includes space for working members of the press, official and visiting scorers, the public address announcer and the scoreboard operator. Also located on the press level are two radio booths, a television booth, and eight luxury suites (two indoor, six outdoor). The Press Box is on the same level as the third base entry gate.

MEDIA INTERVIEWS

All interview requests for head coach Danny Hall or any Georgia Tech baseball player should be directed to Mike DeGeorge in the Sports Information Office.

Players and coaches are available to the media before and after practice or by appointment (for mornings and early afternoons). Interviews with coaches or players while the team is on the road can be arranged by contacting Mike DeGeorge via cell phone or email.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Head coach Danny Hall is available to meet any working members of the press immediately following the game on the field at Russ Chandler Stadium. Due to space limitations in the locker room, all player interviews are also conducted on the field; media members are not permitted in the clubhouse area. Mike DeGeorge will coordinate all postgame interview requests for Georgia Tech.

Interviews with visiting team members can be done on the field, subject to the policy of the visiting team's sports information representative.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Media credentials are required for all photographers and television media. All credentials not picked up at the Sports Information Office will be left at the ticket will-call window at the third base entrance of the stadium.

both dugouts, with space for both still and video cameras. Photographers are also permitted to shoot from the press level, but may not shoot from ground level between the two dugouts. Photographers are not permitted on the field at any time. Photographers may move from one photo well to the other by exiting the dugouts and walking along the concourse behind home plate.

PRESS BOX SERVICES

Updated cumulative statistics, game notes, scorecards and team rosters are available in the Press Box prior to each home game. A final box score will be distributed at the conclusion of each game.

An official scorer is assigned to all home games, and baseball SID Mike DeGeorge will keep the media informed of all scoring decisions, noteworthy facts and records.

TELEPHONES

The Russ Chandler Stadium Press Box is equipped with several telephones for use by working media only. Each radio booth is equipped with two courtesy standard phone lines, use of which will be granted on a reciprocal basis. Visiting radio crews needing additional service should contact AT&T at 800.356.3093, using game operations manager Jeff Gilbert as the local contact.

INTERNET

High-speed wireless internet is available in the Russ Chandler Stadium Press Box, including both radio booths and the television booth. There are also a limited number of DSL connections available in all four booths as well as phone lines for dial-up access.

RAMBLINWRECK.COM

The official website of Georgia Tech athletics is updated daily with the latest on Yellow Jacket sports.

It provides schedules, rosters, statistics and notes on every varsity team including bios on every student-athlete and coach.

Fans will also find video, photo galleries, feature stories, blocks, and regular columns.

ON THE AIR

Television: A number of home games will be aired on television this season, including CSS and as part of the ACC television package on RSN and ESPN/ESPN2/ESPNU/ESPN3.

As part of the ACC's record 43 television games in 2012, Georgia Tech has six games on either RSN, ESPN or ESPN3. (The CSS and FS-South schedules were not announced at press time).

Television details can also be found at www.RamblinWreck.com.

Radio: All of Tech's baseball games will be aired on radio in 2010. WREK Radio (91.1 FM in Atlanta/www.wrek.org) is scheduled to carry every one of Tech's games. Check www.RamblinWreck.com for details.

2012 GEORGIA TECH BASEBALL

Coch Hall's 2012 Season Preview

HEAD COACH DANNY HALL

ON THE GOALS AND EXPECTATIONS OF THE 2012 GEORGIA TECH BASEBALL TEAM»»

"Our expectations are always extremely high, and we expect to be good every year. I think the history of Georgia Tech baseball and the tradition is that we are going to be good every year.

"In saying that, the goal never changes: we want to get to the College World Series; we'd love to get to the National Championship, but we have a lot of things that we need to take care of to try to get to that level. I think that first and foremost we need to try to finish as high as we possibly can in the ACC and try to win the ACC Tournament, which is one of the most difficult tournaments in the country, and then get in to the NCAA Regionals.

"It is definitely a process we have to go through, but our goal is always to get to Omaha at the end of the year."

ON LOSING MARK POPE, JED BRADLEY, JACOB ESCH AND MATT SKOLE TO THE MLB DRAFT LAST SEASON»»

"First and foremost, to lose Mark Pope, your No. 1 pitcher, and Jed Bradley, your No. 2 pitcher -- two guys that were not only good pitchers but also logged a lot of innings -- is hard to replace. I am definitely concerned about guys that will fill those two roles.

"Also, Jacob Esch and Matt Skole were two very good players on the left side of our infield. Skole, in particular, has been a great player and great hitter for us, hitting in the middle of our order for three years. Esch was just one of those guys that kept coming each and every year, getting better. I feel like we have a lot to replace. Even though we only lost four, I think it was four really important cogs for our team.

ON REPLACING THOSE FOUR»»

"In looking at shortstop, we started last year with Mott Hyde at short then moved him to second base and put Esch at short. I thought that really made our team gel, so Mott's going to get the first crack at shortstop, and Connor Winn will definitely get a chance to play either there or second.

"There is a pretty good battle at third base between Chase Butler and Alex Cruz, but in the preseason, I think Chase is definitely ahead of Alex. I feel like both those guys are capable of being good defenders. Mott played everyday last year, and I think he's a much better hitter; Cruz had a great summer in the Florida Collegiate League, so I think we have the ingredients to be good on the left side of the diamond.

"If you look at our pitching staff, Buck Farmer, who won the most ACC games last year of any pitcher in the conference, will go to Friday. Buck's a great competitor, he's got great stuff, has really been a workhorse for us for his first two years here and will now lead our staff as a junior. I think Matthew Grimes, who pitched on Tuesdays and did a great job pitching those Tuesday games for us last year, will go to Saturday, and Sunday is to be determined. I think we have four great candidates to see who is going to pitch on Sunday and who will pitch on Tuesday. It may be Dusty Isaacs, DeAndre Smelter, Jonathan Roberts, or freshman Cole Pitts. I think two of those four will get a lot of starts.

"We will need a fifth starter right out of the gate because we play four games the first weekend at Winthrop, then go to Georgia Southern, playing five games in six days. We will have some answers by the time we start conference play on who needs to pitch on Sunday and who needs to pitch those midweek games."

ON THE BACK END OF THE BULLPEN»»

"It starts with Luke Bard. We really debated long and hard on whether we were going to put Bard in our starting rotation, but I just felt like in the second half of the year last year he was one of the dominant closers in our league. I fully trust him to come in and get the job done late in games. I think it's important in college baseball that you have somebody that can

2011 SEASON PREVIEW

LUKE BARD

DEANDRE SMELTER

come in and close those games out and I think that guy is Luke for us. I'm very excited about him being there.

"I think the other guy you might see a little bit towards the end of games would be Zane Evans. When we recruited Zane out of Roswell High School, he had pitched a lot in high school and pitched a lot for the East Cobb Yankees in the summertime, and we felt like he could really help us as a pitcher. We thought he could help us catch and hit a bit, but last year he was the only catcher we had, and we rode him almost the whole year. This year we have more catching depth, so I think I'll be able to use Zane at little bit more on the mound."

ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF THE INFIELD»

"You've got Jake Davies coming back at first base. Daniel Palka played a lot of first base in the fall and I feel very confident both those guys could play there and play well; both of them are excellent hitters. We've taken Sam Dove from left field and moved him to second base. He was an infielder coming in here and ended up winning the left field job for us last year and hitting very well for us. His natural position, however, is playing in the infield, so we've got him at second where you could also see Connor Winn playing; he's certainly going to battle both Sam and Mott for playing time in the middle.

"The other guy is Evan Martin; I've moved him out of the outfield and put him at second, so I feel like we have some depth there as well."

ON THE OUTFIELD DEPTH»

"We have Kyle Wren coming back -- certainly one of the best center fielders in college baseball -- so we're excited to have him back for his sophomore year. We have Brandon Thomas, who is our most viable position player as a pro prospect and will be starting for his third year. He got a lot of playing time as a freshman, played everyday last year, had a great summer in the Cape, and I really expect Brandon to have a breakout year. I am probably going to move Brandon from right to left and try to utilize his speed in left field more. Then in right field, Paul Kronenfeld is probably the guy that I thought had a real good fall and a pretty nice summer. I think you could see one of our freshmen, Charles Sheffield, out there, or even have Palka go out there and play from time to time.

"Right field might take us awhile to settle on who is going to play there, but I do feel like we have some very good candidates, not only to play well defensively but to also give us some offense from that position."

ON THE IMPROVED DEPTH AT CATCHER»

"Zane was a warrior last year, but we have Mitch Earnest back, and Mitch has really made some great strides. He walked on last year, made our team and has made a lot of strides defensively and offensively. Then we have two freshmen -- Connor Lynch from Pope High School here in Marietta, is a real good defender with a good arm and catches well, and A.J. Murray, a kid out of New Jersey, who I really like. He is a tremendous competitor, his brother played college baseball at Wake Forest. A.J. can really swing the bat and is a real good, tough kid. I think you'll see some mixture of all three of them getting some playing time just to spell Zane, and we're excited that, for the first time in two years, we have some depth in that position."

ON THE DH ROLE»

"I think it could be, depending on what we do at first base and right field, the guys I mentioned earlier that would fill in at DH. If you look at right-handed hitters, if Evan Martin is not playing, he has a chance to get in there. Sheffield's got a chance, as well as Murray.

"If you're looking for a lefty bat, Kronenfeld could be a DH if he's not playing, as well as Davies or Palka. I feel like we have plenty of options, but it'll just come down to whoever is hitting good at the time."

ON WHICH FRESHMEN MAKE THE BIGGEST IMPACT»

"I think the two pitchers, Pitts and Josh Hedding, are going to definitely help us. Pitts had a little bit of a tender shoulder in the fall, and we didn't get a chance to see him a lot, but he did get in there towards the end and threw the ball very well. Hedding, who played at Buford, pitched them to the State Championship last year, has a good arm, but also a real good feel for his breaking ball.

"Then if you look at those catchers, I think that Murray and Lynch can both help us. Sheffield is the guy that we need to look for a spot for him to play. He has tremendous power and a great throwing arm. A real good defender in that class is Michael Hodorowski, who can really play center field, so we could use him to defend and maybe use him in our short-game-of-fense as we move forward."

ON WHO EMERGES AS LEADERS»

"Davies is a senior, and I think he is the guy that keeps everybody loose and is the guy that everybody knows has played a lot of baseball. I think guys like Luke Bard -- every guy on our pitching staff respects him -- and they all respect Buck Farmer and how hard he works and competes. Sam Dove is a guy who walked on to our team here and has earned everybody's respect, so you hope that they are all capable of leading.

"It always starts with your upperclassmen, and even though we will start a lot of sophomores, the upperclassmen will have to lead our team."

ON THE EFFECT OF THE NEW BATS LAST YEAR AND WHAT MAY CHANGE THIS YEAR»

"The bats definitely caused a significant change in the game. Home runs were literally cut in half, and it is definitely more of a pitching, defense, short-game offense. I'm sure the bats are improved a little bit this year, but I think the standard that they put in is something that, even though the batting companies can come up with more cutting-edge technology, I don't think it's going to drastically alter the way the ball comes off the bat.

"It is much more pitcher-friendly, harder to hit home runs, you have to do a good job of manufacturing runs, and your infielders have the chance to make many more plays just because the ball doesn't shoot through the infield like it used to."

ON THE CHALLENGING NON-CONFERENCE SCHEDULE»

"We always try to play a tough, mid-week, non-conference schedule and try to find some teams we can play early that are good. The first weekend is going to be a major challenge. We play four games, including a double-header on the first day at Winthrop against Kent State, who took Texas to the last game of the Regionals in Austin. Scott Stricklin has worked here for me and I coached Scott at Kent State. He has one of the best programs in the Midwest and their team has perennially been a Top 40 team.

"Tommy Riginos, the coach at Winthrop, was at Clemson and is now in his second year at Winthrop, so I'm sure they will be a lot better this year than they were last year.

"I think that's a tough challenge, but then Ohio State comes in, a good team out of the Big Ten whose coach also played for me at Kent State, so I would say that's a program that's going to be on the rise.

"We have Rutgers again and Georgia three times, as always. Georgia Southern is probably the sleeper team. They have two kids on their team, one pitcher and one outfielder, that are projected as first-round picks, and both those kids are tremendous players. Charlotte was in the NCAA Tournament last year, so it doesn't get any easier for the Jackets.

"I think the interesting thing about baseball in the South and Southeast is that a lot of those midweek games -- whether it's Georgia Southern, Mercer, who beat us twice last year, Kennesaw State, or Georgia State -- are not easy games and we will have to be up to the challenge when they roll in here.

"We were not good last year in those midweek games, other than against Georgia, so we need to definitely do a better job."

ON THE ACC»

"I think the ACC just keeps getting better and better, and even the teams that people think are down near the bottom seem to be getting better players and some new coaches, so I know they are going to make those teams much better.

"I think it will be a dogfight, day in and day out. It's not easy to finish in the Top 8 just to get in to the ACC Tournament, but that's got to be a goal: to play well in the ACC and get in that tournament up in Greensboro."

2012 Preseason Notes

QUICK REWIND

Georgia Tech finished the 2011 season at 42-21 overall, was 22-8 in Atlantic Coast Conference play and shared the Coastal Division Championship with Virginia.

The 22 ACC wins tied a school record (2005) and the Coastal Division crown was Tech's first since that same season.

Tech reached the NCAA Tournament for the fourth-consecutive season, the 11th time in 12 years, the 16th time in head coach Danny Hall's 18 years and the 27th time in school history.

The Yellow Jackets hosted an NCAA Regional for the ninth time since 2000 and the 11th time overall.

Georgia Tech lost four juniors from the 2011 team to the MLB Draft -- LHP Jed Bradley (1st Round, Milwaukee), 3B Matt Skole (5th, Washington), RHP Mark Pope (5th, San Diego), IF/RHP Jacob Esch (11th, Florida) -- and one senior RHP Kevin Jacob (31st, St. Louis).

LOOKING FORWARD

Georgia Tech returns 23 letterwinners (11 starters) for the 2012 season, including Preseason All-America picks Buck Farmer (junior RHP) and Kyle Wren (sophomore CF).

Wren was a First Team All-ACC pick last season and a First Team Freshman All-America, while Farmer garnered Second Team All-ACC honors along with Jake Davies (junior 1B).

Of Tech's 10 incoming freshmen, three were selected in the 2011 Major League Baseball Draft -- RHP Cole Pitts (32nd Round, Cleveland), C A.J. Murray (48th, Houston) and OF Charles Sheffield (49th, Oakland).

CLOSING ON MAJOR MILESTONE

Having spent his entire coaching career involved with winning programs, Danny Hall's tenure at Georgia Tech has been his most successful, as he is the all-time winningest baseball coach in Yellow Jacket history with 779 victories at the school.

Hall enters this 19th season on the Flats just 13 victories shy of becoming the 46th Division-I baseball coach all-time to reach 1,000 career wins. He's ranked 13th among active Division-I coaches in winning percentage (.679), and is 16th among active D-I coaches in number of victories (987).

Hall has led Tech to the NCAA Tournament on 16 occasions and guided the Yellow Jackets to the College World Series in 1994, 2002 and 2006, the only head coach in the program's storied history to reach the promised land of Omaha.

HALL GETS FIRST HALL OF FAMER

The first of what may be many of Danny Hall's former players is entering the National Baseball Hall of Fame as Barry Larkin was elected in January.

Hall was an assistant at Michigan, where Larkin played from 1983-85. During Larkin's press conference, he thanked Hall for helping him develop his fundamentals.

Hall: "I want to extend my sincere congratulations to Barry Larkin. It is an honor that could not be awarded to a better individual. Barry embodies the true spirit of what it takes to succeed at the highest level, both on the field and off the field. I am both proud and honored to have coached him."

HALL NABS CONFERENCE WIN NO. 300

Danny Hall joined elite company when Georgia Tech defeated North Carolina on Sunday, May 15. The Yellow Jackets skipper recorded his 300th career Atlantic Coast Conference victory, becoming just the fourth coach in conference history to reach the 300 conference wins plateau.

He joined Bill Wilhelm of Clemson, the all-time leader at 378, Florida State's Mike Martin (361), and Clemson's Jack Leggett (304). Hall (302), who has never had a losing season in ACC play, has extended his streak of 15-win seasons to nine.

CONSISTENTLY SUCCESSFUL

With an appearance in the 2011 NCAA Atlanta Regional, Georgia Tech returned to the NCAA Tournament for the 25th time in the last 27 years. The Yellow Jackets have played in the NCAA Tournament every year since 1985 with the exception of the 1999 and 2007 seasons, and made its 27th overall postseason appearance in history last year.

Since 2002, Georgia Tech has appeared in nine NCAA Regionals, three NCAA Super Regionals and two College World Series.

Prior to its recent streak, Georgia Tech has participated in the NCAA playoff just twice, in 1959 and 1971, with an additional play-in tournament appearance in 1948.

Georgia Tech made its first trip to the College World Series in 1994, advancing to the championship game before falling to Oklahoma, 13-5. Tech returned in 2002 and 2006.

JACKETS CRACK PRESEASON TOP 25 FOR 19TH TIME UNDER HALL

Georgia Tech has been ranked in the preseason Top 25 by at least one of the major polls (Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball, USA Today/Baseball Weekly) in each of Danny Hall's 19 seasons as the Yellow Jackets' skipper.

Tech has been a preseason Top 10 pick in eight of the last 14 years and a Top 5 selection in four of the last 12.

The Jackets open the 2012 season at No. 9 in the Collegiate Baseball poll and No. 12 in Baseball America.

TECH ON THE AIR

A record 43 baseball games involving ACC teams, including all 13 games of the ACC Baseball Championship in Greensboro, N.C., will be broadcast by the conference's television partners this season.

Tech is slated for six games as part of the ACC's package, including one nationally-televised contest at North Carolina (April 22) on ESPN.

Additional games on ESPN3, CSS and FS-South are possible and all non-TV home games will be streamed live at RamblinWreck.com.

Date	Opponent	Time	Network
March 31	vs. Duke	1 p.m.	ESPN3
April 7	vs. Florida State	6 p.m.	ESPN3
April 20	at North Carolina	6 p.m.	ESPN3
April 21	at North Carolina	2 p.m.	ESPN3
April 22	at North Carolina	12 p.m.	ESPN3
May 12	at Virginia	1 p.m.	ESPN3

Radio broadcasts of every Tech game -- home and road -- can be heard over the air on WREK (91.1), the flagship station of Georgia Tech baseball, and at RamblinWreck.com.

PAIR OF JACKETS EARN PRESEASON ALL-AMERICA NOD

Junior RHP Buck Farmer and sophomore CF Kyle Wren were named to the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association Preseason All-America Team, and Farmer also earned a spot on the Louisville Slugger Preseason All-America list.

JACKETS SET HISTORY AT ACC TOURNEY

Georgia Tech placed its name in ACC and school history during the 2011 ACC Championships. The Jackets defeated NC State, 6-5, in a 15-inning thriller that set the tournament record for longest game ever played at the Championship. The innings also tied a school-record, previously set May 1, 1993 against Oglethorpe.

The game lasted five hours and seven minutes, which was a new school record, besting the previous record of five hours against Navy on May 23, 1986.

The Tech pitchers combined for 18 strikeouts against the Wolfpack, which tied an ACC Tournament record.

Most NCAA Regional Appearances (last 27 years)

Team	No.
1. Florida State	27
Miami	27
3. GEORGIA TECH	25
Texas	25
5. LSU	24

HYDE STEALS THE GAME

The 15-inning affair against NC State couldn't have ended with a more dramatic finish. Freshman Mott Hyde scored the eventual game-winner on a straight steal of home, sliding under the glove of NC State catcher Pratt Maynard in the top half of the 15th inning. Hyde took off during Wolfpack pitcher Jonathan Ogburn's wind-up (wasn't in the stretch), and perfectly timed the pitch to the plate.

It was the first straight theft of home in all of head coach Danny Hall's 18 seasons.

JACKETS EARN SHARE OF COASTAL DIVISION TITLE

The Jackets earned a share of the 2011 Atlantic Coast Conference regular season title after finishing the regular season with a 22-8 conference record.

Tech and Virginia, both in the ACC Coastal Division, finished with identical records. It was the first regular season title for the Jackets since the 2005 season.

22 CONFERENCE VICTORIES TIE SCHOOL RECORD

Tech's 22 conference wins during the 2011 season tied a school-record, previously set by the 2005 team. Head coach Danny Hall tied the record with the youngest team in his 18 seasons on the Flats, a group consisting of 17 freshmen.

The 2005 squad, which won Tech's last ACC Championship, had just nine freshmen on its roster.

SALUTE TO MARCH

The Month of March was very promising for Danny Hall's ball club, as the Jackets went 16-2 in the second month of the season.

After losing the first game of the month, Tech went on to win 16 straight before losing on March 29.

It has historically been the best month in all of coach Hall's 18 years. Tech is 248-71 (.777) in March since 1994.

The winning streak of 16 (from March 4 to March 27) -- at one point the longest in the nation last season -- was the longest at GT since 2006, the last time the Jackets went to the College World Series. It was also four wins shy of the school record of 20 straight victories, set in the 1990 and 2004 seasons.

TECH FIELDS LARGEST FRESHMAN CLASS IN 2011

The 2011 freshman class was the largest in the nation of all the major conferences. All 17 of Tech's newcomers saw action last season, 10 made starts -- including six newcomers starting on Opening Day.

The class, which is the largest ever brought in during coach Hall's 19 seasons, earned a No. 6 national ranking and the No. 1 overall ranking in the state.

Of major conferences, Georgia Tech's 17 freshmen last season was the most, followed by Kentucky and Mississippi (16) and Duke and Washington (15).

TECH LANDS SIX ON ALL CONFERENCE TEAMS

Six Georgia Tech players were named to the 2011 All-Atlantic Coast Conference baseball team, as voted on by the 12 league coaches.

Junior Mark Pope and freshman Kyle Wren landed a spot on the first team, while juniors Jake Davies, Matt Skole, Jed Bradley and sophomore Buck Farmer were named second team.

Tech has had four or more players selected to All-ACC teams 16 times in head coach Danny Hall's 18-year tenure on the Flats.

MOUND PRESENCE

The Tech pitching staff has combined for a 2.77 ERA last season, the team's lowest ERA since a school record ERA of 2.60 in the 1973 season.

In 2010, the pitching staff posted the second lowest ERA in the Danny Hall era at 4.02, and the lowest since a 3.92 earned run average in 1994 -- Coach Hall's first season on the Flats.

A hard-nosed player that can play nearly every position in the field ... A line-drive hitter with great instincts at the plate and on the base-paths ... A very good base runner with outstanding speed.

Named to the ACC Honor Roll in 2009, 2010 and 2011.

2011

Saw action in 24 games and made four starts... Hit .200 (7-for-35) with two home runs and four RBI... His pinch-hit two-run homer with two outs in the 10th inning was the difference in a road win at Miami on March 26... Martin's shot -- just the second homer of his career -- ignited a nine-run rally as the Jackets beat the Hurricanes, 12-3... His other bomb was a solo shot to lead off the seventh and break a 3-3 tie at Wake Forest... Tech eventually won that game 6-5 in extras... Went 1-for-2 with a run and an RBI in a 3-2 loss versus No. 9 North Carolina on May 13.

2010

Hit .227 with 11 runs, three doubles, five RBIs and a stolen base in 29 games (six starts, five in left field) ... Had one multi-hit and one multi-RBI game on the year ... Started in left field against Virginia Tech (4/27), going 2-for-3 with an RBI-double and a stolen base ... Drove in two game-deciding runs on a double to right field against Georgia at Turner Field (4/27) ... Had a hit and scored a run in the series-opener with NC State (4/30).

2009

Made 26 game appearances, including eight starts ... Earned the first start of his career at Georgia State (4/15), where he hit a three-run homer in his first at bat ... Had four multi-hit and two multi-RBI games to his credit this season ... Had a pinch-hit RBI single in a 2-for-2 performance against Maryland (3/7) ... Made a pair of defensive plays at third base in the ninth inning against North Carolina (4/4) after entering as a pinch hitter earlier in the game ... Also had a pinch-hit single the in the series finale against the Tar Heels (4/5) ... Bunted for a single as a pinch-hitter against Virginia (4/10) ... Went 2-for-5 with a home run, four RBI and two runs scored in the first start of his career at Georgia State (4/15) ... Tripled and scored a run in Tech's 5-4 win at #20 Clemson (4/24) ... Hit .500 (6-for-12) with two runs and three RBI in the weekend series vs. Presbyterian (5/1-5/3).

- 2012 Preseason All-America
- 2011 Second Team All-ACC
- 2010 Coastal Plains #2 Pro Prospect
- 2009 MLB Draft Pick (45th Round)

A highly-touted pitcher coming off an All-ACC performance in 2011... Has great size, good upside and is a tough competitor ... Possesses a good fastball and slider with an excellent changeup... Expected to hold down the Jackets' Friday spot after starting on Sundays in 2011... Had a terrific freshman year in 2010, mostly serving in a setup role out of the bullpen... Named a Louisville Slugger Preseason All-America in 2012.

Rated the No. 2 prospect in the 2010 Coastal Plain Summer League by Baseball America ... Selected in the 45th round of the 2009 Major League Baseball Draft by the Atlanta Braves, but elected to enroll at Georgia Tech instead.

2011

Second team All-ACC... Finished his dominating sophomore season at 11-3 in 16 starts as Tech's Sunday starter... Third in the rotation behind a pair of 2011 MLB draft picks - first-rounder Jed Bradley and fifth-rounder Mark Pope... Posted a 2.82 ERA, recorded a pair of complete games... Went 8-1 in conference play in 2011 with a 3.03 ERA and upped his ACC record to 11-1 in his career... The eight conference wins were the most by any pitcher in the league in 2011, while his 99.1 innings were the fourth-most in the league... Only 34 of his 47 runs allowed were earned... Ran a seven-game win streak from March 6-May 1... Made quality starts in nine of his 16 appearances... Opened the season by allowing no runs through 5.0 innings against Kent State but received little run support in the no decision (Feb. 20)... Picked up his first win of the year against Rutgers by fanning eight in six innings while giving up just a run on March 6... Fired 8.0 innings of shutout ball in the 6-2 win over Maryland on March 13... Mowed down the Hurricanes with a season-high nine strikeouts in 8.0 innings while improving to 4-1 as the Yellow Jackets completed the sweep of Miami with a 3-1 win... Registered his fifth-straight win, allowing two earned runs over five innings at Duke on April 3... Earned sixth win of the season after seven strong innings with eight strikeouts and four earned runs in the 10-8 victory at No. 1 Virginia on April 10... Tossed his first career complete game (8.0 innings), scattering three runs on four hits in a loss to No. 18 Clemson on May 1... The setback ended a seven-game win streak for Farmer, and was his first career loss in conference play... Enjoyed his best career start to date, holding No. 9 North Carolina to just four hits in eight shutout innings on May 15... He combined with Luke Bard to hold UNC scoreless for the first time last season ... Scattered three runs over seven innings against Virginia Tech for his 10th win of the season... Fell for just the third time after allowing three earned runs over six innings against No. 7 Florida State, fanning eight batters in the 4-2 loss in the ACC Tournament... His second career complete game was brilliant, keeping Georgia Tech alive in the NCAA Regional with a nine-inning, nine-strikeout effort to rout Austin Peay, 12-2... He scattered just five hits, allowed two runs (one earned) and gave up just one extra base hit in his first career NCAA postseason decision.

2010

Posted a 5-1 record and a 3.63 ERA in 19 appearances (three starts) ... Had 49 strikeouts in 52.0 innings, and held opponents to just a .209 batting average ... ### DANNY HALL FILE

Full Name: Danny Jarrell Hall, II

Birthdate: November 27, 1954

Education: Bachelor's degree from Miami (Ohio), 1977; Master of administration degree from Miami (Ohio), 1979.

Playing Experience: Four-year letterwinner at Miami (1974-77); All-Mid-American Conference (1976-77); Team Co-Captain (1976-77); Led Miami to NCAA Regional Tournaments in 1974, 1977; Ninth-round draft choice by Oakland Athletics (1973)

Coaching Experience: Graduate Assistant Coach at Miami (Ohio), 1977-79; Assistant Coach at Michigan, 1980-87; Head Coach at Kent State, 1987-93; Head Coach at Georgia Tech, 1994-Present

Joined Georgia Tech Staff: December 7, 1993

Having spent his entire coaching career involved with winning programs, Danny Hall's tenure at Georgia Tech has been his most successful, as he is the all-time winningest baseball coach in Yellow Jacket history with 779 victories at the school. He has led Tech to the NCAA Tournament on 16 occasions and guided the Yellow Jackets to the College World Series in 1994, 2002 and 2006, the only head coach in the program's storied history to reach the promised land of Omaha.

Hall enters this 19th season on the Flats just 13 victories shy of becoming the 46th Division-I baseball coach all-time to reach 1,000 career wins. He's in the Top 15 among active Division-I coaches in winning percentage (.679), and is Top 20 among active D-I coaches in number of victories (987).

Under Hall, Georgia Tech has averaged 43.3 wins per season, the 10th-highest figure in the nation over the last 18 years. In the last decade alone he directed the Yellow Jackets to two College World Series appearances, three Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament titles (2000, 2003, 2005) and four ACC regular season championships (2000, 2004, 2005, 2011).

Head Coach • 779-349-1 (18 Years at Tech) 17
987-466-1 (24 Years Overall)

Since Hall's arrival at Georgia Tech in 1994, a staggering 97 Yellow Jackets have been selected in the Major League Baseball Draft a total of 107 times, while 46 MLB Draftees have chosen to attend Georgia Tech to play for the Yellow Jacket skipper. Twelve of his student-athletes have been selected in either the first or supplemental rounds, while he has coached 49 players that have been taken in the first 10 rounds of the MLB draft.

Hall's no-nonsense, professional approach to baseball has given his players the fundamentals they need to be successful after leaving Georgia Tech, as is indicated in the number of his former players that have appeared on Major League rosters. Current major leaguers Brandon Boggs of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Marlon Byrd of the Chicago Cubs, Tyler Greene of the St. Louis Cardinals, Micah Owings of the Cincinnati Reds, Eric Patterson of the Detroit Tigers, Mark Teixeira of the New York Yankees, Jason Varitek of the Boston Red Sox, Matt Wieters of the Baltimore Orioles, Blake Wood of the Kansas City Royals and Mike Nickeas of the New York Mets all played for the Yellow Jacket skipper. Since his first head coaching job in 1988, Hall has coached no fewer than 24 players that have appeared on Major League rosters.

The success of Hall's former players in professional baseball is molded by their accomplishments at Tech, as his Yellow Jacket teams have advanced to 16 NCAA Regionals in his 18 years at the school. Georgia Tech has posted 40 NCAA victories since his arrival in 1994, winning regionals in 1994, 2000, 2002, 2004, 2005 and 2006 and super regionals in 2002 and 2006. The Yellow Jackets have posted a .500 or better record in Atlantic Coast Conference play every year since his arrival, and have finished third or better in the league in 11 of his 18 seasons. Georgia Tech has been ranked as the top team in the country six times for a total of 22 weeks under Hall, and in five of the last 10 seasons.

In his first year at Georgia Tech, Hall guided an extremely talented and veteran unit with four All-Americans and three first-round draft choices to the brink of a national championship, Georgia Tech's first-ever appearance in the College World Series, and a 50-17 record. Hall was recognized by his American Baseball Coaches Association peers as Coach of the Year in the Atlantic region, and may have won the national honor if not for the unranked-to-national title season put together by Oklahoma's Larry Cochell. Three Yellow Jackets earned consensus first-team All-America recognition and those three players finished in the top three in the conference batting stats, a first in ACC history.

Hall guided Tech back to the NCAA's in 1995 and 1996 with teams dominated by freshmen and sophomores. His 1997 squad captured its first ACC regular season title in just his fourth year on the Flats and played in the NCAA Midwest Regional. In addition to earning his first ACC Coach of the Year accolade in 1997, the Yellow Jacket skipper was named the National Coach of the Year by The Sporting News, the first such honor for any Tech baseball coach.

After the Yellow Jackets failed to earn an NCAA Regional bid in 1999 for the first time since his arrival at Tech, Hall guided the Jackets to one of their most successful seasons in 2000 - capturing the ACC regular season and tournament championships in addition to the NCAA Atlanta Regional title. The team concluded the year with a 50-16 record, and Hall was tabbed the ACC's Coach of the Year for the second time in his career.

Following another 40-win season in 2001, the sixth since Hall took over the reigns in 1994, the Yellow Jacket coach guided Tech to just its second College World Series appearance in 2002 by turning in one of the best coaching jobs of his career, leading a Tech team that included 17 freshmen and only three seniors back to Omaha. The Yellow Jackets swept through the NCAA Atlanta Regional and NCAA Atlanta Super Regional with a perfect 5-0 record before finishing fifth at the College World Series. They concluded the 2002 campaign with 52 victories, establishing a new school record for wins in a season.

Hall led Georgia Tech to its sixth ACC championship in school history, and second in four years under his direction, with an improbable run to the title in 2003. An early round loss, combined with weather issues, forced Tech to play a triple-header on the final day of competition, with Hall guiding the Yellow Jackets to a 10-6 win over North Carolina, a 10-7 win over Florida State and a 6-5, 10-inning victory over NC State to claim the title in the first triple-header sweep in league history.

In 2004, the Yellow Jackets captured their third ACC regular season title under Hall while the team made its fifth-straight NCAA appearance, and 10th since Hall's arrival on the Flats. Tech hosted a regional for the fourth time in five years, and advanced to a super regional for the third time since 2000. From 2004-05, Hall directed Tech to an ACC-record 25-straight conference wins, and the Yellow Jacket skipper was awarded with his third ACC Coach of the Year award after guiding Tech to the 2005 ACC regular season and tournament titles.

Georgia Tech, which earned a top-eight national seed in the NCAA Tournament for the fourth-consecutive year, made its third-straight NCAA Super Regional appearance the following season and advanced to its third College World Series since Hall's arrival. Hosting an NCAA Regional for the fifth-straight year, Tech swept through the Regional and Super Regional with a perfect 5-0 record before ending the 2006 season in Omaha with a 50-10 overall record.

Hall became Georgia Tech's winningest coach in 2005, earning his 505th victory at the school March 27 at Miami. His Georgia Tech teams have posted a 779-349-1(.670) record in 18 years and he owns a 987-466-1 (.679) record in his 24 seasons as a head coach. Hall has also led the Yellow Jackets

Each of Hall's Tech teams has been powered by a potent offense, leading or finishing second in the ACC in batting or run production in 10 of his 18 years as the Yellow Jackets' head coach. Tech established a school record with a .342 team batting average in 2000, and then eclipsed that mark with a .347 clip the following season.

Hall has had 87 players earn all-conference honors in his 18 years, while his players have received 32 All-America nods since 1994. He has coached two National Players of the Year, two National Freshmen of the Year, one ACC Player of the Year, one ACC Pitcher of the Year and three ACC Rookies of the Year.

The Yellow Jacket head coach had a school-record 10 players selected in the 2005 Major League Baseball draft and matched that total just two years later when 10 more were selected in the 2007 MLB Draft. Over the last five years under Hall, Tech has had 43 players selected in the draft.

Hall's teams have been equally successful in the classroom, as 120+ student-athletes have been named to the ACC Honor Roll (with a 3.0 or higher grade point average) and eight have earned Academic All-America honors on 11 occasions.

From a pair of conference titles and NCAA regional appearances as a player, through six Big Ten championships and four College World Series teams as an assistant coach, to two conference titles and a pair of NCAA regionals as a head coach, Hall was well-prepared for the task that faced him when he took over the reins at Georgia Tech in December, 1993.

All of Hall's teams have been winners, and he has had a hand in developing some of baseball's best talent over his coaching career. Eighteen of his players at Kent State University were drafted by major league baseball organizations. Hall came to the Flats after building a strong program in his six-year stint (1988-93) at Kent. Hall led the Golden Flashes to Mid-American Conference championships and bids to NCAA regionals in each of his last two seasons, compiling an 86-28 record during that time.

He forged a 208-117 (.640) record in his six years at Kent State, twice winning Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year honors. He also won more games than any other MAC school from 1989-93.

Before becoming a head coach, Hall served as an assistant coach at one of the nation's powerhouses - Michigan - where the Wolverines won the Big Ten six times and participated in seven NCAA regionals and four College World Series. During his tenure, Hall coached future major leaguers Jim Abbott, Scott Kamieniecki, Barry Larkin, Hal Morris, Chris Sabo and Gary Wayne.

A former president of the American Baseball Coaches Association, Hall now sits on its Board of Directors and is directly responsible for future elected officers within the ABCA as a member of its Nominations Committee. Hall is also a contributing writer on baserunning techniques in Baseball Strategies, a book produced by the ABCA in 2002.

Hall was selected to the Miami (Ohio) Athletics Hall of Fame in 1998 and the Kent State Athletics Hall of Fame in 2005 and was inducted into the Miami Cradle of Coaches in 2007. He is married to the former Kara Zufall and has three sons, Danny III, Carter and Colin.

Assistant Coach • Fifth Year Miami (Ohio) '77

Tom Kinkelaar, a former college teammate of Georgia Tech head coach Danny Hall and the Yellow Jackets' pitching instructor, is in his fifth season as an assistant coach and eighth with the Yellow Jacket baseball program.

Kinkelaar took over as the pitching coach prior to the 2008 season after spending his first three years on the Flats as the Yellow Jackets' director of baseball operations.

Well-respected by his players and fellow coaches alike, Kinkelaar has been instrumental in developing the Georgia Tech pitching staff into one of the top units in the conference and country during his first three seasons. Since taking over his position as an assistant, Kinkelaar has had 10 of his hurlers drafted in the MLB First-Year player draft, including first-rounders' Jed Bradley (15th overall, 2011) and Deck McGuire (13th overall, 2010) in back-to-back seasons. Neither Bradley nor McGuire had previously been drafted out of high school.

In 2011 alone, Georgia Tech pitchers posted a 2.76 team ERA, the second lowest in school history. Only the 1971 staff's 2.65 ERA was lower. Junior pitcher Mark Pope earned All-America honors and set a modern day school record for career complete game shutouts with four. Three of Kinkelaar's pitchers earned All-ACC honors, while four were selected in the MLB draft.

The 2010 season was equally as strong as the one that would follow. The group would post a 4.02 ERA, the lowest since the 1994 season. Three of Kinkelaar's pitchers from that staff were drafted in the 2010 MLB first-year player draft. Deck McGuire earned All-America honors for the second-straight season and added a First Team All-ACC honor.

In 2009, right-handed star McGuire was named the ACC Pitcher of the Year – becoming the first pitcher in Tech history to earn the honor. McGuire went on to earn first team All-America honors, the first Tech pitcher to do so since Chuck Crowder in 1998. He was also a finalist for National Pitcher of the Year. Another pitcher, Zach Von Tersch, was selected by the New York Mets in the 2009 Major League Baseball Draft. The staff as a whole ranked in the top five in the conference in ERA, Strikeouts and wins, and among the top 15 in the nation in strikeouts per nine innings.

A year earlier in 2008, Kinkelaar was responsible for the development of five freshmen – more than one-third of the entire pitching staff – in his first year directing the Yellow Jacket hurlers. One of those newcomers, McGuire, became the first Yellow Jacket pitcher in five years to earn Freshman All-America accolades while another member of his starting staff, junior David Duncan, became the first Tech pitcher to receive all-ACC recognition since 2005.

Kinkelaar's first pitching staff made an immediate impact in 2008, turning in back-to-back shutouts to begin a season for the first time since 1925. Those two shutouts were followed by a one-run outing to help Tech to the fewest runs given up in a three-game series in nearly 99 years. His squad combined for five shutouts on the season, the most since Tech's 2002 College World Series campaign.

Kinkelaar brings a wealth of experience to the coaching staff, as he has served in various coaching capacities over the last 30 years. Prior to 2008, his last collegiate coaching stint came at his alma mater, Miami (Ohio), where he served as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator from 1996-99. Working primarily with the RedHawk pitching staff, Kinkelaar had 12 pitchers drafted into professional baseball during his three years in Oxford. He had four drafted following his first year at Georgia Tech.

Prior to his arrival on the Flats, Kinkelaar completed a successful four-year stint as a teacher and head basketball coach at Wakefield High School in Raleigh, N.C., where he led the Wolverines to the North Carolina 4A state championship in 2004 just four years after the school opened its doors. Kinkelaar was named Wakefield's first basketball coach in 2000 after spending two years as the head basketball coach at Lemon-Monroe High School in Monroe, Ohio from 1999-2000.

Kinkelaar spent over 20 years within the high school systems in North Carolina, Ohio and Illinois teaching business, accounting and economics but turned his attention back to teaching baseball in 2008, a subject that he excelled in during his four-year stint as a pitcher on the Miami (Ohio) team from 1973-77.

A fourth-round draft pick of the New York Mets in the 1973 Major League Baseball draft, Kinkelaar went on to pitch four years in the RedHawk program before earning his degree in education in 1977.

He spent the next 19 years coaching and teaching in the Illinois and North Carolina High School Systems, including stints at Mundelein High School in Mundelein, Ill. from 1977-80 and at Sanderson (1980-93) and Leesville (1993-94) High Schools in Raleigh. From 1994-96, Kinkelaar was the head basketball coach at New Hanover High School in Wilmington while serving as the volunteer assistant baseball coach at UNC Wilmington.

Kinkelaar is married to the former Margaret Kerr, and has one daughter, Sara.

BRYAN PRINCE FILE

Full Name: Bryan Nathan Prince
Birthdate: November 4, 1978
Education: Bachelor's degree in management from Georgia Tech, 2005.
Playing Experience: Four-year letterwinner as a catcher at Georgia Tech (1998-2001); All-Atlantic Coast Conference first team (2000-01); Team Co-Captain (2000); Led Georgia Tech to NCAA Regional Tournaments in 1998, 2000, 2001; 10th round draft choice by Cincinnati Reds (2001); Cincinnati Reds minor leaguer (2001-04).
Coaching Experience: Volunteer Assistant Coach at Georgia Tech, 2006; Assistant Coach at Indiana, 2007; Assistant Coach at Georgia Tech, 2008-Present.
Joined Georgia Tech Staff: July 3, 2007.
 (First stint: August 1, 2005)

Bryan Prince is in his fifth year on the Flats as an assistant baseball coach, having played for head coach Danny Hall from 1998-2001 and then beginning his coaching career as Tech's volunteer assistant in 2006.

A two-time semifinalist for the prestigious Johnny Bench Award and two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference catcher at Georgia Tech from 1998-2001, Prince works with the Yellow Jackets' hitters and catchers.

Prince also serves as the recruiting coordinator for the Jackets, having locked up three classes that ranked among the top 35 in the nation, including a 2011 class that ranked as high as sixth. Several standouts have been drafted out of high school but chose to enroll at Tech.

Beginning with his first season as hitting coach in 2008, the Jackets power numbers have risen tremendously. In 2010, the team belted a school-record 122 home runs, the second most in the nation. In addition, the team ranked second in the ACC in batting average (.326), the highest Georgia Tech total in the last five years.

Although offensive numbers dipped nationwide in 2011 with the adjustment to the new bats, Georgia Tech remained near the top of the ACC in average (.303, 3rd), home runs (48, 4th) and slugging (.442, 4th). The Jackets had three players finish in the ACC's Top 10 in hitting (Matt Skole, .348, fourth; Jake Davies, .347, sixth; Kyle Wren, .340, ninth), while Jacob Esch was second in the league in doubles (23) and Daniel Palka belted the ACC's fourth-most home runs (12). Esch and Skole were each drafted following the 2011 season, while Wren, Davies and Skole garnered All-ACC honors.

Prince has also aided in the development of now-sophomore catcher Zane Evans, who during his Freshman All-American season in 2011 became the first freshman catcher at GT to serve as the everyday starter since Jason Varitek in 1991.

In just his second year as the Yellow Jackets' hitting coach in 2009, Georgia Tech belted 111 home runs, the third most in the nation and the second highest mark in school history. With the help of Prince, outfielder Luke Murton hit 20 home runs, nearly doubling his total from 2008. He earned third team All-America honors in the process and was selected along with Jeff Rowland and Tony Plagman in the 2009 MLB draft. He was also responsible for the development of catcher Jason Haniger, who spent his first two years playing behind All-American Matt Wieters before having two outstanding seasons as a starter where he hit .318 with 45 extra-base hits.

Prince returned to Georgia Tech after spending one year as the assistant coach at Indiana University. Under his tutelage, sophomore center fielder Andrew Means earned all-Big Ten honors while finishing third in the league in stolen bases (27-30) and sixth with a .369 batting average. Means led the Hoosiers in average, steals, slugging percentage (.467) and on base percentage (.397) and finished second on the team in both runs (32) and RBI (30).

Prior to his appointment at Indiana, Prince spent one season as the Yellow Jackets' volunteer assistant coach, where he worked with Tech's hitters and catchers and helped guide the team to the third College World Series appearance in the program's history. The Yellow Jackets closed out the season ranked in the top-10 in the nation with a 50-18 final record while leading the Atlantic Coast Conference in runs scored, runs per game, doubles, home runs, RBI, slugging percentage and walks.

While at Tech, Prince worked with Wieters, who finished his sophomore season hitting .355 with team highs in home runs (15), RBI (71), hits (92), doubles (20) and on base percentage (.480).

Prince originally joined the Georgia Tech coaching staff after a four-year career in professional baseball, playing in the Cincinnati Reds organization.

One of the most popular players in Yellow Jacket baseball history, Prince was a four-year letterwinner for head coach Danny Hall from 1998-2001. The Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., native helped Georgia Tech win the 2000 Atlantic Coast Conference regular season and tournament championships as well as the NCAA Atlanta Regional Title.

A four-year starter behind the plate, Prince's name can be found throughout the Yellow Jackets' record book. He ranks seventh in school history in hits (278), fifth in RBI (216), eighth in at bats (788), ninth in doubles (53) and 16th in total bases (403). Prince ranks 17th in ACC history in career RBI.

Prince was a first-team All-ACC selection in 2000 and 2001, joining Jason Varitek as the only catchers in Georgia Tech history to earn first-team All-ACC honors in consecutive seasons. He was named MVP of the 2000 NCAA Atlanta Regional and elected as Tech's team MVP following that season. He was a semifinalist for the Johnny Bench Award as the nation's top catcher in both 2000 and 2001.

Prince posted a career batting average of .353, and still ranks among Tech's all-time top-20 in batting. He hit .387 with 77 RBI as a junior in 2000 and batted .349 with 63 RBI as a senior in 2001, helping the Yellow Jackets establish the two best team batting averages in school history (.347 in 2001; .342 in 2000).

A 10th round selection of the Cincinnati Reds in the 2001 Major League Baseball Draft, Prince played with Class A Billings of the Pioneer League in the summer of 2001, where he was voted to the league's All-Star Game. He played with Class A Dayton in 2002 and was elected to the Midwest League All-Star Game. Prince played with Class A Potomac of the Carolina League in 2003 and 2004 before retiring from professional baseball.

Prince earned his degree in management from Georgia Tech in 2005. He is married to the former Tracy Carter, also a Georgia Tech graduate, and the couple resides in Atlanta.

Coaching Experience: Volunteer assistant coach at Georgia Tech (2012-)
Joined Georgia Tech Staff: August 17, 2011

Georgia Tech baseball head coach Danny Hall added former Yellow Jacket outfielder Wally Crancer as the volunteer assistant coach in August, 2011.

Crancer returns to the Flats after spending four seasons in the minors with the Baltimore Orioles organization, eventually retiring in May, 2010. His best season came in 2009, when he batted .302 with eight home runs and 34 RBI in 61 games with the Frederick Keys.

He will work primarily with the outfielders, and also help current assistant coach Bryan Prince with the hitters.

"He [Wally] brings a lot to our table, not only with the type of person he is but also his knowledge of baseball and how competitive he was as a player," said head coach Danny Hall. "I am excited to have another former player starting his college coaching career here at Georgia Tech."

Throughout his career, Dr. Peterson has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government, and academic task forces and committees. A distinguished scientist, Dr. Peterson was selected in 2008 by President George W. Bush to serve on the National Science Board through 2014. The Board oversees the National Science Foundation (NSF) and advises the President and Congress on national policy related to science and engineering research and education.

Prior to Georgia Tech, Dr. Peterson served as chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder, a position he has held since 2006.

He is credited with stepping into the University of Colorado at Boulder chancellorship at a crucial time in the institution's history and positively correcting its course. He has been lauded for successfully leading the university beyond these harmful episodes and developing a shared vision – the university's "Flagship 2030 Strategic Plan" – that will carry the university forward into the next two decades.

Dr. Peterson earned undergraduate degrees in mechanical engineering and mathematics as well as a master's degree in engineering from Kansas State University. He earned his doctoral degree in mechanical engineering at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Peterson was born September 1, 1952, in San Francisco, California. He and his wife, Val, have four adult children.

Dan RADAKOVICH

Director of Athletics
Sixth Year
Indiana (Pennsylvania) '80

Now in his sixth year as Director of Athletics, Dan Radakovich has helped take a Georgia Tech program rich in athletic tradition to a higher level of excellence and national respect.

Since Radakovich arrived on the Flats in 2006, Georgia Tech has competed for conference and national championships across the board, Yellow Jacket student-athletes have excelled in the classroom and Tech's facilities rate among the finest in the nation.

In Radakovich's first five seasons on the Flats, the Yellow Jacket football program has played in a bowl game every year. In 2009, coach Paul Johnson's team won the ACC championship and played in a BCS bowl game (FedEx Orange Bowl).

In total, Georgia Tech teams have combined to win 10 ACC championships and seven ACC regular season titles in Radakovich's tenure. In addition, Yellow Jacket teams have combined to make 29 NCAA postseason appearances and captured a national championship in women's tennis.

Over the last five years combined, Tech coaches have been named ACC Coach of the Year 10 times and National Coach of the Year three times. Thirty-five student-athletes have been named first team All-American, 12 have been named ACC Player of the Year in their respective sport, and 24 have earned Academic All-America honors from at least one source.

The construction of new facilities or upgrades to existing ones has been a focus of Radakovich's tenure.

This past year, construction began on two major projects -- the John and Mary Brock Football Practice Facility and McCamish Pavilion. The football indoor practice facility will be completed in July of 2011. McCamish Pavilion, the future home for Tech men's and women's basketball, will open its doors in time for the start of the 2012-13 seasons.

The previous year saw the completion of Shirley Clements Mewborn Field, home for Tech's softball program, which was unveiled prior to the start of the 2009 season. The Zelnak Center, a practice facility for Georgia Tech basketball, was in place prior to the start of the 2009-10 season.

Other facility upgrades under Radakovich include the transformation of Tech's former football locker room on the ground floor of the Edge Athletic Center into a new Technology Center, which benefits academic support services for all Yellow Jacket student-athletes, and cosmetic and functional improvements to Bobby Dodd Stadium.

Outside the competition venues, Radakovich directed an overhaul of the annual giving and donation structure for Tech athletics, anchored by the TECH Fund, which establishes minimum giving levels tied to season tickets in various seating areas of Bobby Dodd Stadium and Alexander Memorial Coliseum.

Radakovich also initiated the Athletic Director's Initiative Fund, started in June, 2006, which has raised in cash and pledges more than $12 million.

Radakovich has also played an integral role in fund-raising initiatives for facility projects including McCamish Pavilion, the John and Mary Brock Football Practice Facility and the Byers Tennis Complex. A 2009 gift from the Henry F. McCamish, Jr., family for the renovation of Alexander Memorial Coliseum, could be worth up to $15 million toward that project.

Named Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics on Feb. 22, 2006, Radakovich came to Georgia Tech after five years as senior associate athletics director at LSU (2001-06). He previously served as the Athletics Director at American University in 2000-01. That followed stints as associate athletics director at South Carolina (1994-2000) and Long Beach State (1989-94) as well as two years as the athletics business manager at Miami (FL) (1983-85).

Just the seventh Director of Athletics in Tech history, Radakovich was named to succeed Dave Braine, who retired after nearly nine years in the post. Radakovich also follows in the footsteps of storied names such as John Heisman, Bobby Dodd and Homer Rice.

A graduate of Center High School near Aliquippa, Pa., and a member of its Alumni Hall of Fame, Radakovich, 53, became a football letterwinner and student coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, where he graduated in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in finance. He was enshrined into the Beaver County Sports Hall of Fame in April, 2008, and was recognized as a Distinguished Alumni from IUP in March, 2009.

Radakovich added a master's degree in business administration from Miami (FL) in 1982. He also completed the Sports Management Institute's executive education program in 1992.

He is married to the former Marcie McDonald, and the couple has two children, Christian, 21, and Grant, 17. Christian is a senior Industrial Engineering major at Georgia Tech.

Wayne HOGAN

Associate Director of Athletics-Public Relations
Sixth Year
Florida State '79

With 35 years of experience in intercollegiate athletics, 10 as a Division I athletic director, Wayne Hogan has been Associate Athletic Director at Georgia Tech since August, 2006.

Hogan was hired by Georgia Tech Athletics Director Dan Radakovich to oversee the communications and public affairs component of Yellow Jacket Athletics, including oversight of media relations, marketing, sales, video services and television and radio. He also serves as the department's liaison with Georgia Tech Sports Properties, the department's multi-media rights-holder, and the Aspire Group, Tech's fan relationship management team. Hogan serves as the athletic director's top advisor in all external matters at Georgia Tech. In addition, he has day-to-day oversight of the Institute's baseball program.

Hogan's leadership style and positive approach have been gleaned from his 35-year association with successful college programs, coaches and administrators. In all that time, Hogan has known nothing but victories and championships. Hogan has had an uncanny run of working with successful football programs. At four different schools, Hogan has been a part of 386 Division I football games with a record of 290-91-5. He has been a part of three national championships, 18 bowl appearances and his teams have been in post-season play in 26 consecutive seasons.

Hogan received a Bachelor's Degree in Communication from Florida State in 1979 and worked briefly with two minor league baseball teams as a broadcaster and public relations specialist. He spent one year with the Houston Astros AAA farm club before moving to Albuquerque and a one-year stint with the Los Angeles Dodgers AAA affiliate. While in Albuquerque, Hogan was coaxed back into collegiate athletics, becoming assistant sports information and marketing director at the University of New Mexico. He returned to Florida State in 1982 as the school's sports information director.

Wayne is married to the former Dawn Dewberry of Treasure Island, Fla., and they have three children: Lindsay, Kelly and J.P.

The Atlantic Coast Conference

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now, in its 59th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 123 national championships, including 65 in women's competition and 58 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 140 times in men's competition and 99 times in women's action.

ACC Baseball again made its mark nationally in 2011. The conference saw six teams – Clemson, Florida State, Georgia Tech, Miami, North Carolina and Virginia – ranked nationally throughout the season. That produced a stellar field for the 38th annual ACC Baseball Championship, which was held May 25-29 at Durham (N.C.) Bulls Athletic Park. The championship game came down to a battle of division winners – Coastal co-champion Virginia and Atlantic champion Florida State. Virginia scored a 7-2 win over the Seminoles in the title game with the help of a three-run home run by Championship MVP Steven Proscia. The ACC Championship was the third for the Cavaliers in the 38-year history of league tournament play, with all three ironically coming at Durham Bulls Athletic Park.

Virginia saw junior left-hander Danny Hultzen voted ACC Pitcher of the Year, while the Cavaliers' Brian O'Connor was voted the league's Coach of the Year for a second year in a row. Clemson shortstop Brad Miller, whose .419 batting average during the regular season was 61 points higher than any other league hitter, was voted the ACC Player of the Year. North Carolina third baseman Colin Moran, who hit .389 in ACC games and became just the fourth freshman in school history to drive in 60 or more runs, earned Freshman of the Year honors.

Hultzen finished career at Virginia with a three-year record of 32-5 and a 2.08 ERA, the lowest among conference pitchers with 100 or more career innings from 2009 through 2011. Florida State pitcher Sean Gilmartin's 32 career wins at the end of the regular season were the fifth-most among active NCAA pitchers, and he added one more in postseason play. lection and a Major League draft choice who also excelled in the classroom, was named the ACC Baseball Scholar-Athlete of the Year. National honors went to Clemson's Miller, who received the Brooks Wallace Award as the nation's top shortstop, and Virginia's Hultzen, the John Olerud Award recipient as the nation's top two-way player.

The regular season was also highlighted by Virginia pitcher Will Roberts' perfect game against George Washington on March 29. It was just the second perfect game thrown by an ACC pitcher (and the first since 1959) and only the eighth nine-inning perfect game in NCAA history.

The Major League Baseball Draft in June saw 58 student-athletes from Atlantic Coast Conference schools selected, the third-most in conference history. Four ACC student-athletes – Virginia's Hultzen (second overall), Georgia Tech pitcher Jed Bradley (15th overall), Florida State's Gilmartin (28th overall) and North Carolina shortstop Levi Michael (30th overall) – were selected in the first round.

At least 50 ACC players have been selected in each of the last six MLB Drafts, and the ACC has had multiple first-round selections in 10 of the last 11. The ACC has produced four No. 1 overall picks in North Carolina's B.J. Surhoff in 1985, Florida State's Paul Wilson in 1994, Clemson's Kris Benson in 1996 and Miami's Pat Burrell in 1998. The current 12 ACC schools have had 826 players selected in the MLB Draft since 1994, including 61 first-round picks. The conference's four student-athletes chosen in the first round in 2011 extended the ACC's streak of at least one player selected in the first round to 20 consecutive years.

Clemson's Miller, Florida State's Gilmartin, North Carolina's Moran and Virginia's Hultzen and Branden Kline were each named to at least one All-America first team, and four other players – Georgia Tech's Mark Pope, Florida State's Ramsey, and Virginia's Roberts and John Hicks – were each named second- or third-team All-America by at least one publication.

Seven ACC teams earned spots in the 2011 NCAA Championship. It marked the sixth time in the last seven years that the ACC had placed at least seven teams among the 64-team field. The conference boasted three of the top five national seeds, as Virginia was seeded No. 1 overall, North Carolina was at No. 3 and Florida State at No. 5. Those teams were joined in postseason play by Clemson, Georgia Tech, Miami and NC State. All three of the ACC's nationally-seeded teams advanced to Super Regional play, with Virginia and North Carolina moving on to the 65th College World Series at Omaha, Neb.

The Tar Heels' trip to the College World Series was their ninth overall and their fifth in six years under head coach Mike Fox. Virginia made its second CWS trip to Omaha, both of which have come in the last three seasons. The ACC, which placed multiple teams to the College World Series for the fourth straight year and the fifth time in six seasons, has sent 14 teams to Omaha since 2006.

2010-11 in Review

The 2010-11 academic year concluded with the league pocketing two more national team titles and 18 individual crowns. The ACC has won 45 national team titles since the beginning of 2000. The conference has won two or more NCAA titles in 29 of the past 31 years. Overall, 132 ACC teams placed in NCAA championships during the past season, and ACC teams played in nine football postseason bowl games (winning four).

The ACC placed at least one team in the final top 10 nationally in 19 of the 25 sponsored sports for which polls were available. In all, 40 ACC teams finished their seasons with a top 10 ranking, including two at the No. 1 spot.

For the 2010-11 campaign, seven of the 12 ACC schools finished among the Top 50 of the final ranking of the NACDA Directors' Cup, awarded annually to the honor the top institution maintaining a broad-based athletic program and achieving success in many sports.

A total of 306 student-athletes from the ACC earned first-, second- or third-team All-America honors in the past year. In addition, the ACC produced three National Players of the Year, four National Freshmen of the Year and four National Coach of the Year recipients.

The Championships

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2010-11 academic year – 12 for men and 13 for women. The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet held in tennis at Wake Forest University.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing with volleyball deciding its champion by regular season play.

JASON BASIL was named the Most Valuable Player of the 2000 ACC Championship after leading the Yellow Jackets to their fourth league title with an 8-4 victory over Clemson in the championship game. Basil became the first player in ACC Tournament history to hit for the cycle with his 4-for-4 performance against Duke. He nearly duplicated the feat three days later against Florida State, falling just a triple shy of the cycle.

Omaha, at last. Georgia Tech's baseball squad finally reached college baseball's promised land in the summer of 1994 under first-year head coach Danny Hall. Over the previous decade, Georgia Tech had produced one of America's most consistent baseball programs, averaging 45 wins per season while earning 10-straight NCAA Tournament invitations. Included in that span were numerous national and No. 1-rankings, and yet no College World Series appearances. But all of that changed in 1994 when the Yellow Jackets outlasted a talented Washington club, 18-7, in the final game of the Midwest II Regional in Wichita, Kansas.

With four of the premier talents in all of college baseball, including consensus first-team All-Americans Jason Varitek, Nomar Garciaparra and Jay Payton, and second-team All-American Brad Rigby - all four of whom were taken among the first 36 players in the June, 1994, draft - Tech headed to Omaha, where they came within one win of the school's first NCAA title.

The Yellow Jackets faced a talented Cal State Fullerton team in the opening game of the 1994 College World Series, with both teams throwing their aces. The Jackets drew first blood in the bottom of the fifth inning when Garciaparra earned a bases-loaded walk. Rigby then took over, striking out the side in the sixth while adding whiffs in the seventh and eighth as well as two more in the ninth to finish with a three-hitter and 10 strikeouts.

A familiar foe was on deck, with Georgia Tech squaring off against Mike Martin's Florida State team in Yellow Jackets' second game of the College World Series. With the score knotted at 4-4 in the top of the ninth inning, Varitek singles home Garciaparra with the first run of an eight-run explosion that set a CWS record for scoring in an extra frame. Matt Saier, the No. 9 hitter in the Tech order, capped the outburst with a grand slam to help the Jackets move on to game three.

Faced with a rematch against Cal State Fullerton, Tech stood one win away from playing for the championship. Payton snapped a 1-for-8 CWS slump with a two-run homer in the top of the first inning, but the Titans tied the game with runs in the first and fourth innings against Rigby. Both teams relied on pitching and defense over the next seven innings before Garciaparra ended the scoring drought with a solo home run in the top of the 12th inning. Fullerton quickly responded by putting runners on the corners with no outs, but Chris Myers struck out DH Sal Mancuso, popped up first baseman D.C. Olsen and retired left fielder Brian King on a liner to Payton to give the Yellow Jackets a berth in the NCAA championship game.

The Yellow Jackets' enjoyment in the title matchup is short-lived, as Oklahoma scored a pair of runs in the bottom of the first inning before home runs in the second and third innings by Varitek and Garciaparra tie the game at 2-2. Disaster struck for Georgia Tech over the next three innings though, as the Yellow Jackets yielded nine runs - five in the fourth and four more in the sixth - to the Sooners, who went on to capture the national title with a 13-5 win.

Georgia Tech ended the 1994 season with its highest final ranking ever. Collegiate Baseball, Baseball America and USA Today all ranked the Yellow Jackets No. 2 in the year-end polls, a mark that has been unmatched since Tech's magical 1994 run.

With Georgia Tech's emphatic 11-5 victory over Florida Atlantic to win the NCAA Atlanta Super Regional, Kyle Bakker was looking forward to the homecoming he'd always dreamed of. A native of Omaha, Bakker returned to his hometown as part of just the second Georgia Tech team to ever advance to the College World Series. The big man didn't disappoint in his one and only hometown appearance either - shutting out South Carolina through eight innings while recording nine strikeouts to lead Georgia Tech to an 11-0 win in the Yellow Jackets' opening game of the 2002 College World Series. Victor Menocal and Matt Murton recorded four hits apiece to pace Tech's offense, and Brian Burks shut the door on the Gamecocks by recording three outs on just six pitches to end the game.

The Yellow Jackets didn't fare as well two days later, as Clemson jumped on Georgia Tech early with an eight-run explosion in the second inning. Tech would get as close as two runs in the sixth inning, but Matt Henrie held the Yellow Jackets to just one hit over the final 2.1 innings to preserve the Tigers' 9-7 win. Menocal and Jason Perry collected three hits apiece and Murton and Eric Patterson each added two hits in the game as Georgia Tech out-hit the Tigers, 14-9, and played flawless defense, but struggled to drive in runs, leaving a staggering 13 men on base.

Playing out of the loser's bracket two days later, Georgia Tech again faced the Gamecocks but couldn't produce the same results. Timely hitting by the Yellow Jackets, combined with costly errors by the Yellow Jackets, helped South Carolina stake a 9-2 lead through 7.5 innings. Tech answered with a pair of runs in the bottom of the seventh on a two-run home run by Jeremy Slayden, and the Jackets tacked on another run in the bottom of the eighth inning, but the comeback fell short as South Carolina moved on with a 9-5 win.

The 2002 season was one of the finest in school history, as the Yellow Jackets set a new school record with 52 wins while eclipsing the 50-win mark for the fourth time in the program's history. Six Yellow Jackets were selected in the 2002 MLB Draft, including Victor Menocal, who was named to the All-College World Series team after batting a blistering .563 with six runs scored in Omaha.

The Yellow Jackets also finished as a consensus top-10 team for just the third time under head coach Danny Hall, including a No. 5 final ranking by Collegiate Baseball and USA Today while Baseball America ranked Georgia Tech at No. 8.

The 2006 season marked Georgia Tech's third trip to Omaha under head coach Danny Hall, and the Yellow Jackets drew an opening-round matchup against a familiar foe, Atlantic Coast Conference champion Clemson. The Yellow Jackets and Tigers were just two of a league-record four ACC teams taking part in the 2006 College World Series, joining Miami and North Carolina in Omaha.

The Yellow Jackets jumped on the Tigers early, scoring three runs in the top of the first inning. Wally Crancer doubled to reach base with one out and scored on a run-scoring single from Matt Wieters. A two-run home run by pitcher-turned-outfielder Jeff Kindel quickly made the score 3-0 in Tech's favor. Meanwhile, junior left-hander Lee Hyde kept Clemson's batters off balance all afternoon, holding the Tigers scoreless through seven innings, but the league champions mounted a comeback in the eighth inning. Clemson scored eight runs in the frame and held on to take the 8-4 win in the opener.

Dropped into the CWS loser's bracket, the Yellow Jackets found themselves matched up against Cal State Fullerton in the tournament's first elimination game on Sunday, June 18. Tech again scored three runs in the first inning, with RBI singles from Kindel and Wes Hodges and a sacrifice fly from Whit Robbins. Blake Wood cruised through the first three innings before yielding runs in both the fourth and fifth. The Titans would take the lead with back-to-back run-scoring hits in the fifth inning to chase Wood, but the Jackets answered with a solo home run from Wieters in the sixth inning to tie the game. The score remained tied until the top of the ninth, when Cal State Fullerton scored two runs on an infield single.

Despite the 0-2 record in Omaha in 2006, the season was special for several reasons. The Yellow Jackets eclipsed the 50-win mark for just the fifth time in history, and fourth under Hall. Tech led the league in runs (8.7 pg), doubles, home runs, RBI, slugging percentage and walks, while seven Yellow Jackets were selected in 2006 MLB Draft, led by second round selection Wes Hodges.

Tech turned in a consensus top-10 season, according to the final national college baseball rankings. Baseball America and USA Today listed the Yellow Jackets' at No. 7, while Collegiate Baseball had Georgia Tech ranked No. 8.

RECORD BOOK

Georgia Tech's Major Leaguers

Listed here are 60 major league baseball players whose enrollment at Georgia Tech is documented by records in the Tech alumni and registrar's offices. Not all of them actually played baseball at Tech, and a few were enrolled for no more than one quarter or one semester. This list was compiled with the help of Tech alumnus Richard Musterer and the Society for American Baseball Research. For more information and career major league statistics on these men, consult the Baseball Encyclopedia.

Baseball Benefit Dinner

Late in his tenure at Georgia Tech, former Yellow Jacket baseball head coach Jim Morris began the tradition of hosting an annual Georgia Tech Baseball Benefit Dinner, with all proceeds collected at the event going directly to the Yellow Jacket baseball program.

Early in its history, such luminaries as Tommy Lasorda and Jim Lefebvre, as well as Major League Baseball general managers Cam Bonifay and John Schuerholz, served as guest speakers.

Today it has grown into a full-fledged event that not only includes an exceptional speaker, but also both live and silent auctions with all proceeds benefiting the Yellow Jacket baseball program. Additionally, attendees have the chance to meet the members of the upcoming season's baseball team before they take the field for the first time.

The event takes place in late January or early February every year.

PETE GEIST (top) set a school record with nine RBI in a game against Ohio State in 1984. He also hit three home runs in that game, a Tech mark shared by several players. K.G. WHITE (middle) set Georgia Tech single game records for base hits (6 vs. Evansville) and stolen bases (5 vs. East Tennessee State) in 1987. Jeremy Slayden (2003) and Chase Burnett (2009) have since tied White's record. DANNY PAYNE (bottom) ended his career at Georgia Tech by reaching base safely in his last 80 games.

Career Batting Leaders

VICTOR MENOICAL (left) and Jason Varitek are the only two players in Tech history to record 300 base hits. Menocal collected his 327 hits in a school-record 979 at bats. CARLTON FLEMING (right) was the toughest player for opposing pitchers to strike out in school history.

TY GRIFFIN (above) owns one of the few career records not belonging to Jason Varitek - stolen bases. Griffin owns three of the top six single season stolen base totals in Tech history. MARK TEIXEIRA (left) finished with the highest career batting average at Georgia Tech in the last 70 years.

JASON VARITEK is at the top of nearly every Georgia Tech career list.

JASON BASIL (top) still ranks as one of the most successful hitters in Georgia Tech history, with top-five career marks for hits, doubles, RBI, and total bases; SCOTT JORDAN ranks third in school history in career hits and stolen bases and second with 253 runs scored from 1982-85.

Season Batting Leaders

RICHARD LEWIS (left) and Victor Menocal are the only two players in Tech history to record two 100-hit seasons; J.J. THOMAS (right) posted back-to-back 20 home run seasons in 1996 and 1997, and is the only Tech player to accomplish the feat.

If not for teammate Jay Payton's impressive play, NOMAR GARCIA PARRA (above) would have set Georgia Tech's single season records for base hits, doubles, triples and total bases in 1994. He holds the second-best Tech mark in all four categories. ANTHONY MAISANO (left) set the school record for home runs with 25 in 1990.

JAY PAYTON set Georgia Tech's single season records for base hits, RBI, doubles, triples, total bases and at bats in 1994. He also holds the school's career record for triples and has more base hits than any other three-year player in school history.

MARK FISCHER (top right) paced the Atlantic Coast Conference with a .400 batting average in 1996 and then led the Yellow Jackets in batting average, hits, triples, home runs and RBI in 1997; ANDY BRUCE (right) finished his career with the school record in home runs, and his 52 homers from 1988-91 still ranks among the top three in Tech history.

Only one player in school history has swiped more than 40 stolen bases twice in his career - ERIC PATTERSON.

GARY NEWSOM (left) holds the school record for toughest to strike out in a single season - he struck out just twice in 150 at bats in 1980; RICCARDO INGRAM (right) set the single season records for hits, runs and RBI in 1987 and still ranks in the top-10 in all three categories.

Career Pitching Leaders

From top left: DOUG CREEK holds the school records for career wins, innings pitched and strikeouts; JIM POOLE's 22 saves from 1985-88 set a school record that still stands today; CHUCK CROWDER is one of just three pitchers to amass more than 30 wins in a career on the Flats and stands among the top three in school history in victories, innings pitched, strikeouts and shutouts.

From top right: MARC PISCIOTTA owns one of the top three marks in school history for strikeouts per game and stands ninth with 25 victories from 1989-91. BRIAN BURKS is the only player in history to reach 25 wins while recording at least 10 saves at Georgia Tech. Only two players in school history recorded more strikeouts in a three-year career than DAVID ELDER, who stands fourth in Tech's record books with 28 wins from 1995-97. JEFF WATCHKO ranks in the top five in school history in saves and game appearances.

Season Pitching Leaders

Clockwise from top left: SCOTT ERWIN went undefeated in 1988, posting a Tech-best 13-0 record for the Yellow Jackets; BRAD RIGBY set the Tech single season records for victories, innings and strikeouts while leading Tech to the College World Series in 1994; KYLE BAKKER issued a Tech-best 1.60 walks per nine innings while guiding the Yellow Jackets to their second World Series appearance in 2002; BRETT BINKLEY posted 14 saves in 1993, which is the most by a Yellow Jacket in a single season; JIM POOLE holds the Yellow Jacket record for appearances in a season with 45 in 1988 - he also set the school record with 14.32 strikeouts per nine innings the same year.

TECH's 1971 NCAA TEAM rode the arms of its four pitchers, Mike Sorrow (7-3), Mike Schisler (8-0), Bob Jobson (4-0) and Bill Pridgen (8-1). The Yellow Jackets won 28 of their first 29 games and came within a victory of going to the College World Series, finishing the season with a 31-6 record.

AL GOGOLIN won 12 games and pitched 139.1 innings in Tech's College World Series year of 1994.

Clockwise from left: KEITH FLEMING and KEVIN BROWN pitched Georgia Tech to ACC Championships in 1985 and 1986, and in 1987, TODD SHIVER was named the MVP of the ACC Tournament.

TUCKER BARR spent the majority of his time calling pitches, but in 1995, he also served as Tech's closer, recording 12 saves for the Yellow Jackets.

JERRY BASS (left) fanned a school-record 19 batters while tossing a no-hitter against Earlham in 1975; MIKE HOSTETLER (above, center) led the Yellow Jackets and Atlantic Coast Conference with 12 wins and 130.1 innings pitched in 1990; BUD BLEMKER (right) led Tech in strikeouts, innings and earned run average from 1957-59, and his 1.36 ERA in 1957 remains the third-best mark in school history.
