MCCAULEY AQUATIC CENTER

The home of the Yellow Jacket swimming and diving program is the McAuley Aquatic Center, formerly the Georgia Tech Aquatic Center (GTAC), located on the west side of campus as the foundation of the Campus Recreation Center (CRC). The facility was the site of all swimming, diving and synchronized swimming competition as well as the swimming portion of the modern pentathlon during the Centennial Olympic Games in the summer of 1996.

The facility was officially named the McAuley Aquatic Center in 2016 to honor James Herbert "Herb" McAuley, a 1947 electrical engineering graduate and former swimming champion who devoted four decades to coaching swimmers at Tech -- both competitive swimmers and undergraduates taking the compulsory and infamous "drown-proofing" class.

In March 2016, the McAuley Aquatic Center topped the list of "The 10 Best Collegiate Competition Swimming Pools" by College Ranker.

MCAULEY AQUATIC CENTER

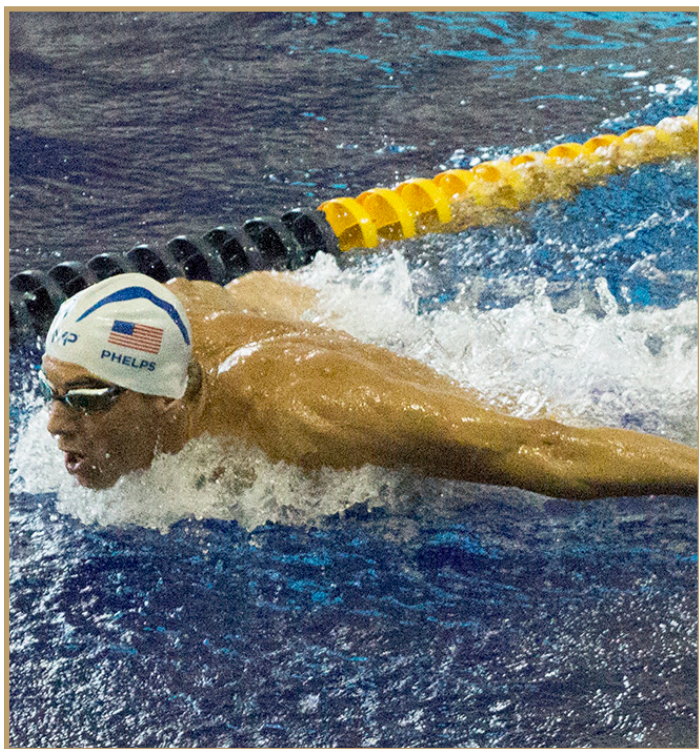

Along with hosting the '96 Olympics, the GTAC (now McAuley) played host to the 2005 Atlantic Coast Conference Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Championships, the 2005 NCAA Zone Diving Championships, the 2006 NCAA Men's Swimming and Diving Championships, both the 2016 NCAA Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Championships and most recently the 2017 ACC Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Championships.

Other test events held at the facility included the Nations Bank Pan Pacific Swimming Championships, the IXth Diving World Cup and the IXth Water Polo World Cup.

The NCAA Division I Men's and Women's Swimming and Diving Championships will return to the McAuley Aquatic Center in 2022.

The women's swimming and diving championships are set for March 16-19, 2022. The men's championships will follow from March 23-26,

In July 2016, the U.S. Olympic Swimming Team practiced at the McAuley Aquatic Center before heading to Rio for the 2016 Summer Olympics. Michael Phelps (pictured above) and Katie Ledecky were among the U.S. Olympians who fine-tuned their skills prior to heading to Brazil for competition in August.

2022. It will be the third time Georgia Tech has hosted the swimming and diving championships, most recently in 2016. The first time the Yellow Jackets hosted the swimming and diving championships was in 2006.

The McAuley Aquatic Center provides the Yellow Jackets with a world-class venue for aquatic sports and serves as an important element of the physical legacy of the Games, enhancing the activities Georgia Tech can offer its students for years to come.

The 1,900-seat main stadium contains a competition pool and a dive pool.

The competition pool is 50 meters by 10 lanes, with two movable bulkheads so that courses can be set up for 25 yards, 25 meters or 30 meters for water polo. It also features a movable floor which can be set from zero depth to seven feet, eight inches.

The dive pool features one- and three-meter springboards plus one-, three-, five-, seven-and-a-half- and 10-meter platforms, as well as a Spargar system that sends a mass of bubbles from the bottom of the tank to ease entry into the water.

The original $21 million facility was funded entirely by the Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games (ACOG). Construction on the facility began in July 1994 and was completed in time to host the VIIth Synchronized Swimming World Cup in August 1995. The newly-renovated enclosure of the GTAC is part of an over $45 million expansion to the CRC.

HEAD COACH

COURTNEY
SHEALY HART*HEAD COACH

GEORGIA, 2001
10TH SEASON AS HEAD COACH AT GEORGIA TECH
(12TH SEASON OVERALL AT GEORGIA TECH)

- 39 NCAA Championships participants
- Five NCAA all-Americans
- Nine ACC Individual Champions
- 17 all-Conference performers
- Countless school records broken
- Two-time Olympic Gold Medalist
- 26 NCAA all-America honors
- 2000 NCAA National Swimmer of the Year
- 2000 SEC Swimmer of the Year
- Five-time NCAA Champion
- 19-time SEC Champion

A two-time Olympic Gold Medalist, a five-time NCAA Champion and the 2000 NCAA Women's National Swimmer of the Year, Courtney Shealy Hart was named the head coach of the Yellow Jackets' swimming and diving programs on April 30, 2009. Hart, who was a Georgia Tech assistant coach for two years from 2007-09, is the eighth head coach in the history of the program.

Thanks in part to deep recruiting classes and the development of talent, Hart has steadily built Georgia Tech into a program that can compete in the nationally recognized Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC). Since taking over the reins of the program, both the men's and women's teams have consistently increased its points total at the ACC Swimming & Diving Championships each year.

Hart has presided over a fantastic stretch for the Tech program that has seen multiple men's swimmers compete in eight NCAA Championships since taking over the program before the start of the 2009-10 season. Since 2009, a total of 20 program records have been established multiple times on the men's team and a total of 18 program records in both swimming and diving for the women's team.

The success has extended beyond the pool as the Yellow Jackets have annually been one of the nation's top academic swimming & diving programs. The men's swimming & diving team has earned APR Public Recognition Awards from the NCAA in 2012-13, 2013-14, 2014-15, and 2015-16, while both the men's and women's programs annually earn CCAA scholar all-America team honors.

Hart spent one season as an assistant coach at North Florida in 2006-07 prior to arriving on The Flats where she served as an assistant coach from 2007-09.

She helped guide North Florida to a fifth-place finish at the Pacific Coast Swimming Conference Championships and led nine individuals to top-16 finishes at the meet. She also guided one student-athlete to a top-eight finish in the conference championship meet.

Before heading into the coaching scene, Hart participated in the 2000 Summer Olympic Games for the United States. She took home a pair of gold medals in Sydney, Australia, in the 400 meter medley relay and 400 meter freestyle relay.

Hart also competed on the international scene in the Pan-American Games (1999, 2003), Pan Pacific (2002) and the United States World Cup Teams (2000-04).

At the University of Georgia, Hart led the Bulldogs to back-to-back NCAA team championships in 1999 and 2000. She was named the 2000 NCAA Female Swimmer of the Year after capturing individual national titles in the 50 free, 100 free and 100 back. She also captured NCAA titles as a member of the 400 free relay and 400 medley relay teams. She finished her NCAA career with 26 All-America honors, the most in UGA history, plus two more honorable mention citations.

Hart won nine individual Southeastern Conference (SEC) titles, 10 SEC relay crowns and set five conference records. She was named the SEC Female Swimmer of the Year in 2000.

After graduating from Georgia in 2001 cum laude with a degree in sports studies/communications, Hart worked as a motivational speaker for the NCAA, Coca-Cola, Healthsouth and Arby's, and served as the director of the Golden West Swim Lessons Program in Huntington Beach, Calif., before heading to North Florida.

In the summer of 2013, Hart was inducted into the Georgia Aquatic Hall of Fame, signifying both her achievements as a collegiate all-American and National Swimmer of the Year at the University of Georgia and as a two-time Olympic Gold Medalist.

Hart, who earned her master's degree in sports administration from Georgia in 2005, was inducted into the Irmo High School Hall of Fame in September 2017.

Hart and her husband, Justin, have two children — Jackson and Mara.

DIVING COACH

JOHN
AMES

DIVING COACH

OHIO, 1993
18TH SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH

- Seven NCAA Championships participants (22 events)
- Eight NCAA all-America honors (includes honorable mentions)
- 10 all-ACC performers
- Two ACC Champions
- Multiple school records

John Ames, who has become a staple of the Georgia Tech program, enters his 18th year overall as the diving coach for the Yellow Jackets' swimming & diving program in 2018-19. He came to The Flats in August 2001.

Under Ames' guidance, Tech divers continue to excel at the national level while rewriting the program record books.

Over his time on The Flats, seven different Yellow Jacket drivers have qualified and competed at the NCAA Men's and Women's Swimming & Diving Championships in multiple events – Evan Stowers (2006 & 2007), Stephanie England (2008), Hannah Krimm (2008), Brandon Makinson (2011), Shannon Lumbrá (2015), Brad Homza (2015 & 2016) and Matt Casillas (2018) - while combined the group has totaled eight NCAA all-America and honorable mention honors.

The success has extended beyond the pool as the Yellow Jackets have annually been one of the nation's top academic swimming & diving programs. The men's swimming & diving team has earned APR Public Recognition Awards from the NCAA in 2012-13, 2013-14, 2014-15, and 2015-16, while both the men's and women's programs annually receive CSCAA scholar all-America team honors, with over 25 divers having garnered CSCAA scholar all-America and all-America honorable mention honorees since 2001.

Ames' divers own the Georgia Tech record book on both the women's and men's side in all three diving events – 1-meter, 3-meter and platform dives – with the top-10 in all three events comprised of divers that competed for Tech from 2005 and on under Ames' tutelage.

Matt Casillas set the new school record in the men's 3-meter dive in 2017-18 with a score of 424.95, eclipsing Brandon Makinson's record of 422.55 set back in 2013. Brad Homza set the record in the men's platform dive with a score of 436.25 in 2016, while Makinson is still the record holder in the 1-meter dive with a score of 388.50 from 2012.

On the women's side, Camryn Hidalgo broke the Tech record in both the 1-meter (331.35) and the 3-meter (362.10) dives in 2017-18, which were previously set back in 2016 and 2005, respectively, while Stephanie England set the record in the platform dive in 2007 with her score of 308.25.

He has coached arguably Tech's most decorated divers in Hannah Krimm, Stephanie England, Evan Stowers and Brad Homza.

Ames coached Tech's first female diving all-American as then-sophomore Krimm finished seventh on the 3-meter springboard at the 2008 NCAA Championships. Krimm was also recognized as an honorable mention all-American on the 1-meter board, while England was an honorable mention all-American in both the 3-meter and platform events in 2008. The Tech divers accounted for all 21 of the Jackets' total points at the NCAA Swimming & Diving Championships to lead them to a 30th-place finish — the highest in program history.

Under Ames' guidance, Stowers became the first-ever Tech diver to qualify for the NCAA Championships in 2006. At the Georgia Tech Aquatic Center, Stowers again made history by finishing seventh on the men's platform, becoming the first Tech diver to garner all-America honors after becoming only the Jackets' second-ever ACC individual champion in diving. Stowers returned to the NCAA Championships in 2017, earning all-America honors for the second-consecutive season.

Homza, who became Tech's third ACC Champion in diving in 2016 on the men's platform event, earned NCAA all-America honors with an 11th-place finish in the 1-meter dive at the 2016 NCAA Championships.

Along with his coaching duties at Tech, Ames also mentors the Atlanta Diving Association, which has become one of the top United States Diving programs in the state of Georgia.

Hired in August 2001, Ames came to Tech from George Washington University and the Montgomery Dive Club, one of the largest diving programs in the nation. Prior to his stint with Montgomery and George Washington, Ames served as an assistant coach with the Northern Virginia Dive Club. He also worked as a graduate assistant and diving coach at Western Illinois University.

Ames graduated from Ohio University in 1993 with a bachelor's degree in psychology after completing his collegiate diving career with the Bobcats. He earned a master's degree in sport administration while at Western Illinois.

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

BILL
KOPPELMAN*ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

WYOMING, 2002
SEVENTH SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH

Bill Koppelman was promoted to associate head coach for the Georgia Tech men's and women's swimming program in June 2017 after working the previous five years as an assistant coach. He joined the Yellow Jackets' staff in July 2012 following six years as an assistant coach at Texas Christian University (TCU).

Koppelman's new role will expand his coaching, recruiting and administrative responsibilities with both the men's and women's swimming teams. He will continue to serve as the recruiting coordinator and also work with the middle distance swimmers for both the men's and women's rosters.

He has guided a Tech swimmer to the NCAA Swimming & Diving Championships all six years that he has been on The Flats with Nico van Duijn (2013, 2014 and 2015), Alex Kimpel (2016), Rodrigo Correia (2017) and Caio Pumputis (2018).

Since coming to GT in the summer of 2012, a number of middle distance performers have set school records and career marks each season, while both the men's and women's teams have consistently increased its points total at the ACC Swimming & Diving Championships each year.

As the recruiting coordinator, Koppelman has helped bring in a number of strong recruiting classes over the last six years, including current record holders Iris Wang, Maddie Paschal, Chiara Ruiui, Laura Branton, Kira de Bruyn, Caroline Lee, Morgan Lyons, Emily Ilgenfritz, Megan Young, Rodrigo Correia, Christian Ferraro, Colt Williamson, Goerzen, Moises Loschi, van Duijn, Youssef Hammoud, Mats Westregren, Noah Harasz and Ben Southern, among others.

While at TCU, the Horned Frogs skyrocketed in the national rankings, and their recruiting classes consistently gained recognition from around the country. Koppelman was an integral part of TCU's climb to the top of the Mountain West Conference in 2009-10 when the men's team stormed through its schedule to an 8-0 overall record and 5-0 record in the league. It was the first MWC team crown for TCU.

Though he served as the men's recruiting coordinator, Koppelman tutored both the men's and women's breaststroke and butterfly swimmers and saw all of those women's school records fall under his guidance, along with 14 of 19 men's swimming records.

Koppelman, who has been involved with coaching since before he graduated college, helped two-time Olympian Edgar Crespo claim the 2010 Mountain West Conference title in the 100 breaststroke and Sabine Rasch win the 100 freestyle conference crown in 2011. He also coached Crespo and the Panamanian team at the 2012 Olympics.

Koppelman joined the TCU staff in the fall of 2006 after spending the previous year as head coach of Cyprus High School in Magna, Utah, as well as serving as head coach of the Pirate Swim Club, a USA Swimming Club team.

Prior to his stint at Cyprus High School, Koppelman worked as a graduate assistant with the University of Utah swim team and was a volunteer assistant coach at the University of Wyoming as an undergraduate.

During his time at Utah, Koppelman worked with 11 U.S. National swimmers, one Canadian National finalist, 17 all-Mountain West Conference swimmers and two NCAA qualifiers.

Koppelman and his wife, RheaAnn, have two kids – Adelyn and Knox.

ASSISTANT COACH

NORMENT

ASSISTANT COACH

GEORGIA, 1998
FIRST SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH

Michael Norment was named the Georgia Tech swimming and diving assistant coach on Oct. 1, 2018.

Norment joins the Yellow Jackets after founding the Metro Atlanta Aquatic Club (MAAC) in 2013 and compiling an impressive resume in the pool as an eight-time NCAA All-American and a two-time member of the U.S. National Team (1997, '98).

"We're extremely excited to have Michael join us at Georgia Tech," head coach Courtney Shealy Hart said. "To be able to add an eight-time NCAA All-American swimmer to our staff, who also has experience professionally and nationally is a great gift. Michael possesses a wealth of experience. His success with the MAAC club team to go along with his ability to develop swimmers will be great additions to our staff. We're fortunate to have him with us."

While with the MAAC, Norment coached four swimmers to seven individual NCSA Junior National Titles, with two earning top-eight finishes at the USA Swimming Junior National Championships. In just three years after establishing MAAC, Norment already had three swimmers qualified for the 2016 USA Swimming Olympic Trials. He also helped develop three Georgia High School State Champions and an NCAA All-American.

"I am honored to become part of the Georgia Tech Family," Norment said. "I'm truly thankful for the opportunity that head coach Courtney Shealy Hart has provided. We have an incredibly talented coaching staff that I'm excited to work with. The team has been enthusiastic and extremely supportive. There's a great energy here amongst the swimmers, coaches, and entire athletics staff. Atlanta is a diverse, growing and prosperous city and Georgia Tech is well-positioned to help our students capitalize on the opportunities afforded to them."

Norment continued, "We have a tremendous opportunity to attract athletes from a vast in-state talent pool, and will have the ability to draw on the national and international talent base as well. I'm looking forward to helping this team become a dominant force in the ACC, at the NCAA Championship level and in international competition."

Prior to coaching, Norment attended the University of Georgia, where he was an SEC Champion in the 100 breaststroke and an eight-time all-American. In 1997, he earned a spot on the USA Swimming National Team, competing in the 1997 Pan-Pacific Championships. He would then qualify for his second international competition, earning a spot on the 1999 U.S. National Team, competing in the 1999 Pan-Pacific Championships.

A Hempstead, N.Y. native, Norment moved to Philadelphia, Pa. during high school to train with famed swim coach James Ellis, head coach of the Philadelphia Department of Recreation (PDR). Under Ellis' tutelage, Norment went on to win Junior Nationals in 1992 and was selected for the USA Swimming National Junior Team that same year, joining current Georgia Tech head coach Shealy Hart.

Norment resides in Atlanta with his wife, Nay, and their daughter Assata Rose (17) and son, Mozi (13).

KANSAS STATE, 1975

ISBELL

FACULTY ATHLETICS REPRESENTATIVE

GEORGIA TECH, 1990

G.P. "Bud" Peterson was appointed April 1, 2009, as the 11th president of Georgia Tech. Under his leadership Georgia Tech developed and is implementing its 25-year strategic plan, exceeded the $1.5 billion goal for Campaign Georgia Tech by 20 percent, grown innovative collaborations and strategic partnerships, expanded the campus infrastructure, and increased national and global visibility. Notably in that time, applications have more than tripled, and enrollment has increased by 45 percent. Since he assumed office, Georgia Tech's R&D and sponsored activity expenditures have risen from $532 million to $908 million, an increase of 71 percent.

Peterson came to Georgia Tech from the University of Colorado at Boulder, where he served as chancellor. Prior to that, he served as provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in New York, and for 19 years on the faculty and in leadership positions at Texas A&M University. He has worked for NASA and the National Science Foundation (NSF).

Throughout his career, Peterson has played an active role in helping establish the national education and research agendas, serving on many industry, government, and academic task forces and committees. He has served on a number of national accreditation agencies, with a focus on improving and assessing outcomes for higher education. He also has served on congressional task forces, research councils, and advisory boards, including the Office of Naval Research, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of Energy, the National Research Council, and the National Academy of Engineering.

A distinguished scientist, he has served since 2008 as a member of the National Science Board, which oversees the NSF and advises the U.S. president and Congress on national policy related to science and engineering research and education. He is a member of the American Council on Education board of directors. He currently serves as chair of the NCAA Board of Governors, the NCAA's highest governing body. In February 2018, he was named to the National Space Council's User Advisory Group.

Peterson, a fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA), received the AIAA Distinguished Service Award in 2011. His research has focused on phase change heat transfer in both the cooling of electronic devices and spacecraft thermal control. He is widely published, authoring or co-authoring 17 books or book chapters, 240 refereed journal articles, and 146 conference publications. He also holds 16 patents, with three others pending.

President Peterson and Georgia Tech's first lady, Val Peterson, are tireless ambassadors for Georgia Tech. He regularly speaks to government, business and industry, and community leaders, as well as civic and community groups, faculty, staff, students, and alumni. This past summer, the Petersons made their 10th annual Georgia Tour, meeting with businesses, media representatives, government leaders, and alumni groups. Their Georgia tours have covered almost 7,500 miles, visiting friends and leaders in more than 100 cities and almost all of the state's 159 counties.

Peterson earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering, a second bachelor's degree in mathematics, and a master's degree in engineering, all from Kansas State University. While at Kansas State, he lettered three years as a tight end/wide receiver for the Wildcats. He earned a Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University. He and his wife, Val, have four adult children, two of whom are Georgia Tech alumni.

Charles Isbell, senior associate dean and professor in the College of Computing, was named faculty athletics representative (FAR) to the Georgia Tech Athletic Association on June 6, 2017.

The FAR serves as the liaison between the Institute and the Athletic Association on issues regarding rules compliance, developments at the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), and activities related to Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) membership.

"Charles is an engaged leader and innovator at Georgia Tech in numerous areas, and we are very fortunate that he has agreed to add the role as the Institute's new faculty athletics representative to his responsibilities," said Peterson. "On behalf of all of Georgia Tech, I would also like to thank Reggie DesRoches for serving us so well as our FAR for the past three years."

Isbell has been a faculty member at Georgia Tech since 2002, but first came to Tech as a student to earn his bachelor's degree in computer science. He also holds a Ph.D. in computer science from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

His first institutional service role at Tech was with the Institute Undergraduate Curriculum Committee, where he worked with student-athletes returning to finish their degrees.

"Since the very beginning of being here as a faculty member, I've been interested in the way student-athletes interact with the rest of the institution," he said.

Isbell hopes to continue events that DesRoches organized to facilitate faculty and student-athlete interaction. He also hopes to serve as a bridge for faculty members to pursue more research endeavors with the Athletic Association.

"I can't tell you the number of conversations I've had with faculty members who have been interested in working with athletics, but weren't sure how to go about doing it," he said. "I'm going to put energy into making those connections."

For Isbell, understanding the experience of student-athletes is paramount to success in higher education. Athletic achievements can elevate a university's profile to prospective students, and student-athletes' relationship to the university is one that can be used as a model for the broader campus community.

"Anyone interested in higher education and how it has to grow and change has to understand how Division I athletics works at a university," he said. "As higher education changes, we have to think of ourselves more as a community and consider what lets people build connections and keep coming back. It's going to have to happen with all students, faculty, and staff, and athletics can be an example of how to do that well."

While Isbell is a fan and frequent attendee of Georgia Tech athletic events, his support for student-athletes extends beyond the stands.

"I want the student-athletes to know I am here for them, and I intend to talk with them and be a resource for them," he said. "I want them to know that and believe it, and know that I take it very seriously."

Isbell's research focuses on statistical machine learning and interactive artificial intelligence. He teaches several courses both to on-campus students and to students around the world in Tech's Online Master of Science in Computer Science program. His three-year term as FAR began on July 1, 2017.

TODD STANSBURY

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

GEORGIA TECH, 1984

Todd Stansbury, a Georgia Tech alumnus and football letterwinner, was introduced as the Institute's ninth director of athletics on Sept. 22, 2016.

After he officially arrived back on The Flats on Nov. 28, 2016, Stansbury identified four strategic priorities for Georgia Tech athletics — to define the GT athletics brand, to establish an internal culture, to align the internal structure and to generate new revenue. In just 19 months on the job, he has addressed those priorities through a slew of initiatives and accomplishments.

Highlights include:

- a significant revenue lift spurred by increased giving to the Alexander-Tharpe Fund and ticket sales, which can be traced in large part to an innovative overhaul of sales operations that focused on integrating fundraising and ticket sales efforts;
- the establishment of a partnership with adidas to serve as the official apparel provider of Georgia Tech athletics, which was announced on Aug. 22, 2017 and went into affect on July 1, 2018;
- significant facilities upgrades, including a new $4.5 million football locker room, a $1.2 million investment in new videoboards at several competition venues (baseball, softball, volleyball and tennis, as well as Bobby Dodd Stadium's Callaway Plaza) and a refresh of the student-athletes' nutrition center and training table;
- a re-emphasis on Georgia Tech athletics iconic Total Person Program, with investments for additional staff and programming for student-athletes, including the department's first-ever Jackets Without Borders service trips to Costa Rica (2017) and Puerto Rico (2018);
- a comprehensive brand refinement that included defining Georgia Tech athletics' official colors, Tech's first-ever athletics wordmark and a simplification of the iconic interlocking GT logo;
- the creation of Georgia Tech's "Gold Code," which outlines the department's core values, brand differentiators, vision, mission and the Everyday Champions formula — Winning + The Institute + Total Person Program = Everyday Champions;
- the establishment of two new offices within the athletics department — the office of brand and ideation, which works to identify and tell the story of the Yellow Jackets' brand, and the office of innovation, which oversees Georgia Tech's efforts to build on its status as college athletics' leader in innovation, particularly through collaboration and partnerships with the Institute and innovation hubs throughout Atlanta.

In June 2018, Stansbury unveiled the most significant undertaking of his tenure as Georgia Tech's A.D. — Athletics Initiative 2020. AI 2020 aims to raise $125 million for athletics facilities, endowments and operations by 2020 with three priorities in mind — recruiting (putting GT in position to attract the special type of student-athlete that can excel both athletically and academically at Tech), building a better student-athlete (equipping them with the tools they need to excel in their sport, while also developing each as a Total Person that succeeds in academics and life) and winning (being true to the great tradition of excellence at Georgia Tech by competing for ACC and national championships).

The crown jewel of AI 2020 is a $70 million renovation of Georgia Tech's Edge Center. The new Edge Center will serve as a sleek and innovative home base for Georgia Tech athletics' teams and administration, a one-stop shop for key student-athlete services, an anchor for recruiting efforts and a showcase for the Institute's commitment to student-athlete success and fan engagement.

A native of Oakville, Ontario, Stansbury was initially drawn to Georgia Tech when he befriended several Tech football student-athletes while on a family vacation in Florida as a youngster. The student-athletes invited Stansbury and his family to attend a practice on their way back through Atlanta. They accepted and, after visiting campus, Stansbury was determined to attend and play football at Tech.

Several years later, he was offered and accepted a football scholarship to attend Tech. He enrolled in 1980 and played linebacker and special teams for the Yellow Jackets under head coach Bill Curry. He went on to be selected in the third round of the Canadian Football League draft by the Saskatchewan Roughriders in 1984 but after a brief CFL career, returned to Atlanta to begin a banking career.

In 1988, he left banking and returned to The Flats to become an academic advisor for Georgia Tech's football program. In 1991, he was promoted to assistant athletics director for academics by legendary A.D. Homer Rice.

After leaving Tech in 1995, Stansbury's career included stops at Houston (associate A.D. - 1997-2000) and Oregon State (executive associate A.D. - 2003-12), as well as three stints as an athletics director at East Tennessee State (2000-03), UCF (2012-15) and Oregon State (2015-16).

Stansbury and his wife, Karen, who were married inside Georgia Tech's Arthur B. Edge Intercollegiate Athletics Center, reside in Atlanta. After they were married in 1995, the couple traveled the world for 18 months before returning to the United States.

AKIN

ASSOCIATE A.D.
STUDENT-DEVELOPMENT/SWA

KANSAS STATE, 1991

Joeleen Akin, a former Georgia Tech athletics staff member with more than 20 years of experience in college athletics, returned to Georgia Tech as associate athletics director for student-athlete development and senior woman administrator in July 2016.

Akin is a member of the Georgia Tech Athletic Association's executive leadership team, serves as the administrator for the Yellow Jackets' volleyball and softball programs and oversees Tech's renowned Total Person Program.

In her first year back on The Flats, she helped enhance Georgia Tech's student-athlete development initiatives through the implementation of several new programs, including the first-ever Jackets Without Borders service trip to Costa Rica in August 2017. She has also spearheaded the student-athlete two day orientation program which is the Leadership Academy and Jump Start Jackets that are offered to Tech student-athletes.

She serves on the Institutes Executive Advisory Committee and is a member of the Leading Women at Georgia Tech program. She also chairs the student-athlete welfare committee (CARE Team) and is the vice chair for the WBCA Diversity and Inclusion Committee.

Akin rejoined the Georgia Tech athletics administration after 13 years at nearby Agnes Scott College. She served as Agnes Scott's athletics director and physical education chair for 12 years (2003-15) before being promoted to associate dean for athletics and student activities in February 2015.

Prior to her 13-year tenure at Agnes Scott, she spent seven years at Georgia Tech as director of women's basketball operations (1996-98), marketing/operations manager (1998-99) and director of marketing (1999-2003).

During her 12 years as athletics director at Agnes Scott, an NCAA Division III institution in Decatur, Ga., Akin oversaw a program that produced eight NCAA Tournament teams and a coaching staff that earned 12 different coach-of-the-year recognitions. Under her direction, Agnes Scott student-athletes maintained a 3.0 cumulative grade point average and participated extensively in on- and off-campus service projects.

Akin's tenure at Agnes Scott was marked by innovation and vision. She created and implemented numerous student-athlete development and engagement initiatives at ASC, including a new student-athlete orientation program, Safe Zone training for student-athletes, coaches and staff, and coordination of campus-wide academic resources for student-athletes.

Administratively, she developed a unique revenue-generation model that resulted in a 200-percent increase in the school's athletics budget and partnered with a national franchise Snap Fitness to bring a state-of-the-art fitness facility to campus at no cost to the college. She also coordinated with the school's communications department to create the now-trademarked tagline "Smart Women Sweat" to promote the Scotties' athletics programs.

In addition to her duties as athletics director and physical education chair, Akin was Agnes Scott's women's basketball coach from 2003-07 and was named the Great South Athletic Conference Coach of the Year in 2006. She also served as commissioner of the Great South Athletic Conference from 2011-16 and was a member of the NCAA Division III women's basketball committee and NCAA volleyball regional advisory committee from 2014-16.

Prior to her arrival at Georgia Tech in 1996, Akin also served as a sports marketing assistant at Auburn and NC State and as a member of the women's basketball staffs at UNC Wilmington and Kansas State.

A Kansas native, Akin earned bachelor's (1991) and master's (1993) degrees from Kansas State. She and her husband, Charles, have two children: Bobbie and Ryan.

GEORGIA TECH SWIMMING & DIVING PROGRAM HISTORY

THE EARLY YEARS

Georgia Tech first fielded a swim team in 1918-19, when the first tryout was held at the city Y.M.C.A and about 50 men came out. According to the Blueprint, the fledgling squad featured "some of the fastest water splashers that the South has ever turned out and one that would make any Eastern college hustle to beat." The team was captained by G.R. Fraser, described as the best swimmer in the South and holder of the Southern record in both the 220 yard swim and the 50 yard swim.

Tech's first swim meet was on the road against the Clemson Tigers. In addition to Fraser, the first Tech team included Weiss, Scott, Carson, Evans and Owns, who returned with a 50 -19 victory. Fraser swam the 220 yards in the 2:50.00, cutting four seconds off his own Southern record.

The program enjoyed success against Southern competition throughout the 1920s. In 1927, Tech defeated all Southern opposition and made a good showing against two strong eastern teams.

The Jackets broke into prominence by forcing the famous Brooklyn Y team to the limit, but fell 46-16. Two days later, Yale handed the Jackets the short end of a 46-16 score.

EARLY CHAMPIONS

The Yellow Jacket 'tankmen', despite the lack of an on-campus facility, won 10 straight unofficial South championships from 1926-35.

In 1927, Dave Young tied the national intercollegiate record in the 150 yard backstroke in 1:43.20.

Representing Tech in the national intercollegiate, Young set a new record of 1:46.10 and in the finals established a new record of 1:44.00, finishing four seconds ahead of Spindle of Michigan to win Tech's only national championship in swimming. He also earned all-American honors with a second-place finish in the 220 yard free style.

KENNETH THRASH, SR.

After playing football at Tech, Kenneth Thrash, Sr., took over the swimming reigns and led the Jackets to four-straight Southern Conference Championships from 1932-35.

Almost as impressive as five consecutive conference titles, Thrash only tasted defeat once in dual meets, finishing with an astounding record of 24-1. His winning percentage of 0.960 is the best all-time in school history.

As a former football player for Georgia Tech (1926-28), Thrash helped the Yellow Jackets win two conference titles (1927-28) and a national championship in 1928.

FRED LANOUE

Fred Lanoue, a graduate of Springfield College and former New England diving champion, began working with the Tech swimmers in 1936 and became the Yellow Jackets' full time head coach in 1938 when the Tech pool was completed.

Under Lanoue's guidance, Tech won four Southeastern Conference championships in nine years, the first in 1942 and then three in a row in 1948, 1949 and 1950. Lanoue coached the Jackets for 27 years before his passing in the spring of 1965.

Lanoue was inducted posthumous into the Georgia Aquatic Hall of Fame in 2017.

HERB MCAULEY

The star of the 1942 SEC championship squad was Herb McAuley, who won the SEC 220 and 440 freestyle championships that year.

McAuley had his schooling interrupted by World War II, serving in the Army Signal Corps before graduating from Tech with a degree in electrical engineering in 1947. Upon graduation, he joined the Yellow Jacket staff as assistant coach under Lanoue, a position he held for 17 years.

McAuley succeeded Lanoue as head coach for the 1965-66 season. He coached the Jackets for 23 seasons, compiling a record of 169-144-1. He was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1982 and later the Georgia Aquatic Hall of Fame in 2012.

Tech competed in its first ACC Championships meet in 1980. The program took a one-year hiatus upon McAuley's retirement in 1987, which signaled the end of a 40-year stint on the Tech coaching staff.

BRAD LEHMAN

The swimming program resumed under Brad Legman in 1988-89. In Lehman's first year, senior Tim Halligan earned all-Atlantic Coast Conference honors following his second-place finish in the 200 butterfly. Halligan qualified for the NCAA Championships in the event, finishing 21st.

Legman coached the team for three seasons, amassing an overall record of 19-13.

Bill Humber took over the Tech program in 1991-92. In 1993, he guided the Jackets to their then-best showing at the ACC Championships with the sixth-place finish and a then school-record point total of 198.

SETH BARON

In August 1997, Tech hired Seth Baron to take the helm of the men's swimming and diving program. The Jackets' women's program debuted in 2001-02, and Baron took on the combined program. Baron, formerly an assistant coach at South Carolina and Auburn, also previously worked with the U.S. National Swim Team and was the head coach for the U.S. squad at the 1997 and 2001 World Maccabiah Games in Tel Aviv, Israel.

Under Baron's direction, the Tech men finished in the top five at the ACC Championships in five consecutive seasons, including a third-place finish in his final season as head coach in 2005. Tech finished 32nd at the 2005 NCAA Championships, cracking the Top 35 for the fifth straight year.

In just four seasons of existence, the women's program tallied a 33rd-place finish at the 2004 NCAA Championships and crowned its first all-American in Vesna Stojanovska. The Jackets posted three consecutive sixth-place finishes at the ACC meet, tallying a program-best 285.6 points in 2008-09. The Jackets also qualified two swimmers for the 2005 NCAA Championships for the first time in program history; Stojanovska and freshman Elizabeth Stowe. Junior Sam Morgan qualified for his third consecutive NCAA meet after winning his first ACC title in the mile at the 2006 ACC meet, hosted in the Georgia Tech Aquatic Center. Morgan Garnered his second straight all-American honors, finishing 14th in the mile.

Stojanovska advanced to her second straight NCAA meet in 2005, after becoming the first women's athlete to win an ACC title, doing so in the 200 fly. Stowe garnered all-ACC honors in the mile, making her and Stojanovska the first all-conference tandem at the conference championship.

Along with collegiate accomplishments, the Tech combined program witnessed its first two Olympians in 2004 as Stojanovska (Macedonia) and incoming freshman Onur Uras (Turkey) competed at the Summer Olympics in Athens, Greece. Joining them in Athens were former men's swimming standouts Leo Salinas (Mexico) and volunteer coach Jorge Oliver (Puerto Rico).

Tech recorded its most successful season to date in 2001-02. Tech's men tallied 580.5 points to finish a program-best second at the ACC Championship, as a record five Jackets earned all-ACC honors. Tech also placed 27th at the NCAA Championships, led by Shilo Ayalon's eighth-place finish in the 1650 free. He earned all-American accolades for the second consecutive season.

In 2000-01, the Yellow Jackets placed third at the ACC Championships, scoring 434.50 points. Four swimmers earned all-ACC accolades: Shilo Ayalon, David Laitala, Scott Lenyk and Tomonori Tsuki.

Tech also scored its first points in NCAA competition in 2001. Ayalon placed 11th in the 1650 free, while Tsuki finished 13th in the 200 breast to become the program's first all-Americans.

The Jackets went 11-3 in dual-meet competition, and 16 school records were established, led by Ayalon's four marks.

In 2000, Baron and the Yellow Jackets finished the regular season with a 5-6 dual-meet record. Laitala became the first Yellow Jacket swimmer in 11 years to earn all-ACC recognition, placing second in the 100 butterfly at the ACC Championships. In his first season at Tech, Baron guided the team to a 4-7 dual-meet record and a seventh-place finish in the ACC Championships.

As an athlete, Baron also competed for the U.S. National Team, winning 10 gold medals in international competitions, including the 1985 World Maccabiah Games and the 1983 Pan Am Maccabiah Games in Sao Paulo, Brazil. He participated in the U.S. Olympic Trials in 1984 and qualified for the 1988 Trials.

COURTNEY SHEALY HART

2009-PRESENT

A two-time Olympic Gold Medalist, a five-time NCAA Champion and the 2000 NCAA Women's National Swimmer of the Year, Courtney Shealy Hart was named the head coach of the Yellow Jackets' swimming and diving programs on April 30, 2009. Hart, who was a Georgia Tech assistant coach for two years from 2007-09, is the eighth head coach in the history of the program.

Thanks in part to deep recruiting classes and the development of talent, Hart has steadily built Georgia Tech into a program that can compete in the nationally recognized Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC). Since taking over the reins of the program, both the men's and women's teams have consistently increased its points total at the ACC Swimming & Diving Championships each year.

Hart has presided over a fantastic stretch for the Tech program that has seen multiple men's swimmers compete in eight NCAA Championships since taking over the program before the start of the 2009-10 season. Since 2009, a total of 20 program records have been established multiple times on the men's team and a total of 18 program records in both swimming and diving for the women's team.

The success has extended beyond the pool as the Yellow Jackets have annually been one of the nation's top academic swimming & diving programs. The men's swimming & diving team has earned APR Public Recognition Awards from the NCAA in 2012-13, 2013-14, 2014-15, and 2015-16, while both the men's and women's programs annually earn CSCAA scholar all-America team honors.

Hart spent one season as an assistant coach at North Florida in 2006-07 prior to arriving on The Flats where she served as an assistant coach from 2007-09.

She helped guide North Florida to a fifth-place finish at the Pacific Coast Swimming Conference Championships and led nine individuals to top-16 finishes at the meet. She also guided one student-athlete to a top-eight finish in the conference championship meet.

Before heading into the coaching scene, Hart participated in the 2000 Summer Olympic Games for the United States. She took home a pair of gold medals in Sydney, Australia, in the 400 meter medley relay and 400 meter freestyle relay.

Hart also competed on the international scene in the Pan-American Games (1999, 2003), Pan Pacific (2002) and the United States World Cup Teams (2000-04).

At the University of Georgia, Hart led the Bulldogs to back-to-back NCAA team championships in 1999 and 2000. She was named the 2000 NCAA Female Swimmer of the Year after capturing individual national titles in the 50 free, 100 free and 100 back. She also captured NCAA titles as a member of the 400 free relay and 400 medley relay teams. She finished her NCAA career with 26 All-America honors, the most in UGA history, plus two more honorable mention citations.

Hart won nine individual Southeastern Conference (SEC) titles, 10 SEC relay crowns and set five conference records. She was named the SEC Female Swimmer of the Year in 2000.

After graduating from Georgia in 2001 cum laude with a degree in sports studies/communications, Hart worked as a motivational speaker for the NCAA, Coca-Cola, Healthsouth and Arby's, and served as the director of the Golden West Swim Lessons Program in Huntington Beach, Calif., before heading to North Florida.

In the summer of 2013, Hart was inducted in to the Georgia Aquatic Hall of Fame, signifying both her achievements as a collegiate all-American and National Swimmer of the Year at the University of Georgia and as a two-time Olympic Gold Medalist.

Hart, who earned her master's degree in sports administration from Georgia in 2005, was inducted into the Irmo High School Hall of Fame in September 2017.
