QUICK HITS

- 🏈 QB Nathan Elliott established a new school record for pass attempts without an interception with 52 in the loss at Syracuse. Elliott finished one attempt shy of the overall program mark of 53 set by Kevin Anthony against LSU in 1985. His 34 completions against the Orange ranked third in UNC history behind Marquise Williams (38 vs. Georgia Tech in 2014) and Mitch Trubisky (35 vs. Pitt in 2016).
- 🏈 DE Malik Carney was added to the Ted Hendricks Award Watch List following his performance at Cal. In just four games this season, the senior leads the team with 5.5 sacks and 7.5 tackles for loss. The Hendricks Award honors the nation's top defensive end.
- 🏈 The Tar Heel defense held Cal to 279 total yards in the season opener. That total marks the first time UNC has held an opponent under 300 yards since Stanford gained 283 yards in the 2016 Sun Bowl. The 279 yards were the fewest allowed since Virginia gained just 253 yards against the Tar Heels in 2016.
- 🏈 After Dazz Newsome's 75-yard punt return touchdown at Syracuse, Carolina has 17 total kick and punt return touchdowns since the start of the Larry Fedora era in 2012.
- 🏈 The Tar Heels were one of only five teams nationally to have multiple kick return touchdowns and over 1,000 kickoff return yards in 2017.
- 🏈 Carolina returned the vast majority of its offensive playmakers from 2017. UNC scored 41 TDs a year ago and 36 of those are back in 2018, including Michael Carter, who led the team with nine scores. PK Freeman Jones, who led the roster with 64 total points, is also back. In total, 90 percent of the team's total offense - 4,003 of 4,435 yards - returns in 2018.
- 🏈 Fedora sports a 27-15 mark at Kenan Stadium during his career in Chapel Hill. His 25 home wins in his first five seasons were the most by any UNC coach in his first five seasons.
- 🏈 Fedora-coached teams have been responsible for five of the top 10 offensive seasons in UNC history.
- 🏈 Carolina has established more than 100 school single-season and career offensive records since 2012. In 2016, the Tar Heels established 36 individual records and six team records.
- 🏈 Former UNC standout wide receiver Mack Hollins was part of the Philadelphia Eagles' Super Bowl LII-winning team last season. Hollins became the 22nd different Tar Heel to win a Super Bowl, and those 22 winners have combined for a total of 29 rings won.

- The Tar Heels host UCF on Sept. 15 in the home opener before kicking off league play in Chapel Hill against Pitt on Sept. 22.
- Carolina will play a Thursday night game for the eighth consecutive season when the Tar Heels travel to south Florida to face Miami on Sept. 27. UNC is 9-8 all-time on Thursday nights, with a 34-31 win at Pitt last November in its most recent primetime appearance.
- After an open week, the Tar Heels will host Virginia Tech on Oct. 13 before another set of back-to-back road games. On Oct. 20, Carolina will visit Syracuse for the first ACC meeting between the two schools, which have not faced off on the gridiron since 2003. In four all-time meetings, the road team has won all four contests - Syracuse won in Chapel Hill in 1995 and 2003 while the Tar Heels were victorious in the Carrier Dome in 1996 and 2002.
- UNC and Virginia will face off in the 123rd edition of the South's Oldest Rivalry in Charlottesville on Oct. 27. The Tar Heels have won four straight at Scott Stadium since snapping a 14-game road losing streak to the Cavaliers in 2010.
- Carolina will spend the entire month of November in the state of North Carolina, starting with a home game against Georgia Tech on Nov. 3. After the earliest Duke game in series history in 2017, the rivalry game returns to the season's final month in 2018 on Nov. 10 in Durham.
- UNC will host Western Carolina in its final non-conference game for the second straight year. The Tar Heels' 65-10 win last season was the first meeting between the two schools.
- For the fourth consecutive season, UNC will close out the regular season against NC State, with the Tar Heels hosting the Wolfpack for Senior Day on Nov. 24.

BROWN SELECTED FOR NFF COLLEGE HALL OF FAME

- The National Football Foundation (NFF) & College Hall of Fame announced earlier this year the 2018 College Football Hall of Fame Class, which includes the names of 10 first-team All-America players and three standout coaches, and former North Carolina head coach Mack Brown was among the 13 individuals honored.
- The inductees were selected from the national ballot of 75 All-America players and six elite coaches from the Football Bowl Subdivision and the 98 players and 31 coaches from the divisional ranks.
- Brown, who was honored in an on-campus celebration in August, will be officially inducted at the 61st NFF Annual Awards Dinner on Dec. 4, 2018, at the New York Hilton Midtown.
- During 10 seasons as the head coach at North Carolina from 1988-97, Brown won 69 games – tied for the second most victories in school history. Brown's Tar Heels posted winning records in his final eight seasons and went to bowl games every year beginning in 1992, including a win in the 1993 Peach Bowl, the program's first bowl appearance since 1986.
- The 1996 ACC Coach of the Year led North Carolina to three 10-win seasons, and the team finished in the top 25 four times, including a No. 10 ranking in 1996 and the No. 4 spot in 1997.

HUFF NAMED TO NFF HALL OF FAME BALLOT

- The National Football Foundation (NFF) & College Hall of Fame announced in June the names on the 2019 ballot for induction into the College Football Hall of Fame, including 76 players and six coaches from the Football Bowl Subdivision and 100 players and 32 coaches from the divisional ranks.
- UNC's Ken Huff, a 1974 consensus first-team All-American and first-team All-ACC selection, is on this year's ballot. That season, Huff was the recipient of the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the ACC's best offensive lineman and he served as a team captain on a squad that set school total offense records and finish fifth nationally.
- Huff was inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in 2008 and was Carolina's ACC Legend at the 2015 conference championship game in Charlotte.
