GEORGIA TECH (10-6, 2-1 ACC) vs. CLEMSON (10-6, 0-3 ACC)

GAME 17 • January 16, 2019 • 9 p.m. ET • Littlejohn Coliseum • Clemson, S.C.

About Wednesday's Game

Georgia Tech continues its 40th season of Atlantic Coast Conference basketball Wednesday evening with a 7 p.m. regionally-televised contest against Clemson at Littlejohn Coliseum in Clemson, S.C. It is the Yellow Jackets' second straight road game after opening the ACC schedule with two at home.

Tech (10-6, 2-1 ACC), in its third season under head coach Josh Pastner, is 2-2 on the road this season, having evened its mark Saturday with a 73-59 victory at Syracuse. The Yellow Jackets also won at Arkansas, 69-65, on Dec. 19, following losses at No. 5 Tennessee and Northwestern in November. Tech opened its ACC schedule with a 92-79 win over Wake Forest and a 52-49 loss to No. 9 Virginia Tech.

Clemson (10-6, 0-3 ACC), in its ninth season under head coach Brad Brownell, is 7-2 at home this season. The Tigers opened their ACC schedule with road losses to No. 1 Duke (87-68) and Syracuse (61-53) and a home loss to No. 4 Virginia (63-43). In non-conference play, Clemson has beaten Georgia and South Carolina.

Wednesday's game will be broadcast live on the ACC's Regional Sports Network (Fox Sports South in Georgia), and will be streamed live on ACC Network Extra, available through the ESPN app. Radio coverage is provided on the Georgia Tech IMG Sports Network, airing in Atlanta on 680 AM and 93.7 FM the Fan. The Tech broadcast is available on satellite radio (XM ch. 385, internet ch. 976).

Starting Lineup

• Taming the Tigers - Georgia Tech is looking to snap a three-game skid in its series with Clemson, and end a 13-game losing streak to the Tigers on the road. The Yellow Jackets last defeated Clemson at Littlejohn Coliseum on Feb. 8, 2005.

• A Tech win at Clemson would give the Yellow Jackets a 3-1 ACC start for the second straight year.

• A Tech win at Clemson also would give the Jackets two ACC road wins in a row for the first time since Feb. 17 and Feb. 27, 2016 (Florida State and Boston College).

• Tough at home - Tech is 13-7 against ACC teams at home under Pastner, 5-4 against top-25 ACC teams.

• Tough slate - January shapes up as a rugged month as Virginia Tech, Syracuse, Clemson, Duke and North Carolina all made the NCAA Tournament field last season. Duke is currently No. 1 in the nation, while Virginia Tech and North Carolina are ninth and 13th, respectively. Clemson and Syracuse were ranked in the top 25 to begin the season.

• Guard your yard - Georgia Tech ranks fourth in the ACC in scoring defense (No. 17 nationally), No. 3 in field goal percentage defense (No. 8 nationally) and No. 2 in three-point percentage defense (No. 4 nationally). The Jackets are also third in blocked shots and in fourth in steals.

• Below average - Wake Forest is the only team to exceed its season scoring average against Tech this season - breakdown by game: Lamar 81.8 (69), Tennessee 85.5 (66), East Carolina 71.1 (54), UTRGV 70.2 (44), Prairie View A&M 69.2 (54), Northwestern 73.5 (67), St. John's 83.9 (76), Florida A&M 63.2 (40), Gardner-Webb 82.9 (79), Arkansas 81.8 (69), Georgia 79.2 (70), Kennesaw State 62.5 (57), USC Upstate 70.9 (63), Virginia Tech 81.1 (52), Syracuse 70.9 (59).

• 50 (per) Cent - Georgia Tech has shot well above 50 percent four times in its last five games (44.7 percent vs. Virginia Tech the exception). The Jackets have connected on a collective 55.3 percent on those five games, 36 percent from three-point range.

• Who's hot - Georgia Tech has deployed six different starting lineups this season, and 10 Yellow Jackets have started two or more games.

• Longer bench - Tech has deployed at least eight players for significant minutes in each of its games so far, including nine in two of its ACC games to date. Tech's bench has played 33.1 percent of available minutes, 115th in the nation according to KenPom.com (national average is 31 pct.). Tech reserves are outscoring their opponents 26.2 to 15.9 per game).

Series vs. Clemson

• This is the oldest and longest-running series the Yellow Jackets have with an ACC member. The 132 all-time meetings are more than 30 greater than Tech has played with any other ACC opponent, and longest with any opponent save Georgia (195 meetings). The series dates back to the 1912-13 season, when John Heisman coached the Tech basketball team.

• Clemson is one of two permanent home-and-away opponents on Tech's schedule each year (Notre Dame is the other).

• Clemson has won the last three meetings, including a 72-70 win in Atlanta and a 75-67 win in Clemson during the 2017-18 regular season.

• The Yellow Jackets trail 47-34 to the Tigers since joining the ACC.

• Tech has an all-time record of 42-25 against the Tigers at home, including a 27-15 record at Alexander Memorial Coliseum and a 3-3 mark at McCamish Pavilion.

• Tech is 1-3 under head coach Josh Pastner against Clemson, and 4-14 vs. Tiger teams coached by Brad Brownell.

• Tech is just 16-44 all-time in games played at Clemson, including an 8-37 mark in Littlejohn Coliseum. The Jackets have lost 13 straight games on the road in the series, and 12 in a row at Littlejohn, dating back to their last victory on

Last Season vs. Clemson

Clemson 72, Georgia Tech 70

Jan. 28, 2018 • McCamish Pavilion

Trailing by eight points with less than three minutes to play, Georgia Tech battled back to pull even with No. 18 Clemson, only to see the Tigers' Marquise Reed hit the game-winning layup with 25 seconds remaining and hand the Yellow Jackets a 72-70 defeat.

Down 68-60 with 2:33 to go, Josh Okogie scored all 10 of Georgia Tech's points during a 10-2 run over the next 1:52 and knotted the score at 70 apiece on a pair of free throws with 41 seconds remaining.

However, on the ensuing possession, the Tigers regained the lead on Reed's go-ahead basket off a drive down the left side of the key.

Georgia Tech had two chances to win the game or send it to overtime, but Okogie missed a shot amidst heavy traffic in the lane with seven seconds to go and, after a missed free throw by Reed with three seconds remaining, the Yellow Jackets weren't able to get a shot off before the final buzzer.

Tech scored the game's first seven points, led by as many as 12 points in the first half and held a 38-30 advantage with just 1:30 to go before halftime. However, Clemson scored the game's next 13 points to take a 43-38 lead early in the second half and the Jackets never regained the lead.

Georgia Tech never trailed in the first 22:12 of the game and never led in the final 17:48.

Okogie led all scorers with 26 points, hitting 7-of-10 shots from the field and 10-of-12 from the foul line.

Clemson's Gabe Devoe paced the Tigers with a career-high 25 points on 10-of-15 shooting, including 5-of-8 from three-point land.

Clemson 75, Georgia Tech 67

Feb. 24, 2018 • Clemson, S.C.

Georgia Tech went cold over the final 10 minutes and watched an 11-point lead evaporate on the way to a 75-67 loss to No. 15 Clemson at Littlejohn Coliseum. Josh Okogie, who missed a big chunk of that time after collecting his fourth foul, finished with a team-high 22 points.

Gabe DeVoe scored 25 points and Shelton Mitchell added 14 as he returned from two games missed with a concussion, and Tigers ended the game on a 29-14 run after Okogie picked up his fourth foul for the Yellow Jackets with 11:44 to go.

Tech missed 11 of its last 12 shots and turned the ball over four times in the final seven minutes to lose their seventh straight game and 11th of 12. The Tigers ended a three-game losing streak.

The Yellow Jackets took a 49-38 lead on a 3-pointer by Evan Cole with 15:35 left in the game, but foul trouble started creeping up on Georgia Tech, and coach Josh Pastner had to juggle three of his starters with four fouls in the final five minutes. Cole and fellow freshman Moses Wright both fouled out.

DeVoe's 3-pointer with 48 seconds to go closed out an 11-0 run that turned a 61-58 deficit into a 69-61 lead for Clemson. DeVoe's 25 matched his career high he set on Jan. 28 in a 72-70 win at Georgia Tech.

Clemson led by as much as 10 early in the first half, but Georgia Tech rallied and led by four at halftime.

Feb. 8, 2005 (70-62). Tech was Clemson's first opponent in Littlejohn Coliseum back on Nov. 30, 1968. The Tigers won, 76-72.

- Tech actually won four of the first five meetings with Clemson at Littlejohn Coliseum under Paul Hewitt, but the Tigers have won the last 12 in a row there, 13 in a row if you count a 2016 victory at Bon Secours Wellness Arena in Greenville when Littlejohn was undergoing renovations.

- Tech's 111-108 win against the Tigers at Littlejohn Coliseum on Jan. 24, 2001 is the highest-scoring regulation game Tech has had with any ACC opponent. The Jackets defeated Florida State by the same score in Tallahassee (in two OTs) on Feb. 11, 1999, and lost to Wake Forest in the 2007 ACC Tournament, 114-112 in double-overtime.

- The Yellow Jackets have won three of four ACC Tournament meetings with the Tigers, including a 69-61 semi-final decision on the way to the 1993 conference title in Charlotte.

Last Time Out - Tech Upends Syracuse

Jose Alvarado and Curtis Haywood combined for six three-point field goals and 34 points, while Georgia Tech shot 68.2 percent from the floor in the second half and pulled away for a 73-59 victory over Syracuse Saturday evening at the Carrier Dome.

The Yellow Jackets (10-6, 2-1 ACC) bounced back from a heart-breaking loss and a defensive struggle Wednesday night with Virginia Tech, outscoring the Orange (11-5, 2-1) 47-33 after intermission. Alvarado and Haywood supplied 28 of those points to stave off two Syracuse rallies and cancel out 22 Tech turnovers.

Alvarado hit 5-of-6 shots from the floor and all three of his three-point attempts, plus a 6-of-7 clip from the free throw line, while Haywood went 6-of-10 from the floor, 3-of-6 from three-point range, and had seven assists.

Tech put itself in position to win with a solid defensive first half, taking a 27-26 lead into the locker room by repeatedly going inside to post players James Banks III and Abdoulaye Gueye, who scored 20 of the Jackets' points. Banks finished with 16 points (6-of-10 FG) and seven rebounds, while Gueye scored 10 in his first start since Nov. 28.

Gueye missed much of the second half with severe cramps, but sophomore Evan Cole mitigated the loss with eight points and eight rebounds.

The Yellow Jackets defended well once again, holding Syracuse to 31.6 percent shooting from the floor and just 7-of-33 from three-point range. Oshae Brissett led the Orange with 15 points, while Elijah Hughes added 12 and Tyus Battle scored 11.

Following the Trends

- Georgia Tech started its sixth different lineup this season at Syracuse, inserting Curtis Haywood II for freshman Khalid Moore and Abdoulaye Gueye for Moses Wright. Devoe, a freshman, has started Tech's last seven games, having made his first collegiate start at Arkansas. Haywood returned to the starting lineup for the first time since Dec. 17 vs. Gardner-Webb, and Gueye for the first time since Nov. 28 at Northwestern. Transfer James Banks III has started 10 straight games in the post, and Jose Alvarado has started 15 of the 16 Tech games. No Tech player has started every game this season.

- Banks and Gueye started together for the first time this season. They had played together very little over the course of the non-conference season (less than five minutes). Since ACC play began, however, they have been on the court together more (3:44 vs. Wake Forest, 6:31 vs. Virginia Tech, 19:24 at Syracuse).

- Tech went with its shortest playing rotation of the season, with four starters playing 35 or more minutes, two other players with 20+, and two others with less than 10. At least eight players have seen significant minutes in most games this season, nine vs. Northwestern, St. John's and Georgia despite Evan Cole missing those games with an ankle injury, and nine vs. Virginia Tech with Curtis Haywood out with an illness.

- The 14-point margin of victory came up one-point shy of the Yellow Jackets' highest in a road game under Josh Pastner, behind last year's 69-54 win at Pittsburgh, almost one year to the date (1/13/18).

- Wake Forest is the only Georgia Tech opponent to exceed its season scoring average (74.4 ppg) this season against the Yellow Jackets this season, scoring 79 points. Tech had held every other opponent this season under its season scoring average – breakdown by game: Lamar 81.8 (69), Tennessee 85.5 (66), East Carolina 71.1 (54), UTRGV 70.2 (44), Prairie View A&M 69.2 (54), Northwestern 73.5 (67), St. John's 83.5 (76), Florida A&M 63.2 (40), Gardner-Webb 82.9 (79), Arkansas 81.8 (69), Georgia 79.2 (70), Kennesaw State 62.5 (57), USC Upstate 70.9 (63), Virginia Tech 81.1 (52), Syracuse 70.9 (59).

- Syracuse was the 12th team to come in under 40 percent against the Jackets this season, hitting 31.6 percent from the floor. Tech has held its last four opponents under 40 percent; they have connected on a combined 33.2 percent.

- The Orange's 31.6 percent was its lowest from the floor this season, the second straight game a Tech opponent has hit a season low.

- Tech's last two opponents have hit a combined 12-of-60 (20 percent) from three-point range. Syracuse made 7-of-33, while Virginia Tech was 5-of-27. Virginia Tech and Syracuse also have posted season lows in points and field goal percentage.

- Meanwhile, Tech continues to shoot the ball well, connecting on well above 50 percent for the fourth time in five games. The Jackets converted a season-high 59.5 percent against Syracuse, its highest clip in an ACC game since making 62.8 percent at NC State on 1/2/1999, and its best in any game since hitting 60.3 percent against Cornell on 11/13/2015.

- In its last five games, Tech has connected on 55.3 percent of its field goal tries, 36 percent of its three-point attempts and 71.8 percent of its free throws, averaging 76 points per game. The scoring average is the best for any five-game stretch for Tech under Josh Pastner, and the best of any five-game stretch since Dec. 21-Jan. 6 in the 2015-16 season (77.2).

- In the same five-game stretch, Tech's opponents have hit 34.6 percent from the floor, 26 percent of their threes and 68.6 percent of their free throws, averaging 62 points per game.

- Reflecting an emphasis in practice on offensive tempo, particularly early in the shot clock, Tech has piled up 99 assists on 135 made field goals in its last five games (73.3 percent), including 16 on 25 made field goals against Syracuse. Tech had just nine assists on 21 field goals against Georgia on Dec. 22.

- Tech has won twice on the road this season despite committing 20 or more turnovers. The Yellow Jackets defeated Syracuse despite recording 22 miscues, and won at Arkansas despite having 20. Those are the two highest turnover totals for the Jackets this season.

- Owing to its shorted bench rotation this season, Tech's reserves matched a season low with eight points (also 8 vs. Gardner-Webb). For the season, Tech reserves have averaged 26.2 points per game to 15.9 for the opponents.

- Tech ranks No. 1 in the nation, according to KenPom.com, in percentage of first-half minutes that Jackets are on the floor with two fouls (70.6 percent). The national average is 21.1 percent.

Personnel Notes

- Sophomore Jose Alvarado scored 19 points at Syracuse for his 12th double-figure scoring game this season and seventh in eight games. He hitting 5-of-6 shots from the floor and 3-of-3 from three-point range in 38 minutes. Since a 3-for-20 afternoon against Georgia, the gritty 6-foot guard has hit 21-of-39 from the floor, 9-of-21 threes, in Tech's last five games, and he has 19 assists against just 11 turnovers, as well as 16 rebounds.

- Sophomore guard Curtis Haywood II returned to action in a big way against Syracuse after missing the Virginia Tech game due strep throat. He scored 15 points, his most since getting his season high of 18 in the third game of the season against East Carolina, banged home 3-of-6 from three-point range and dished a career-high seven assists against the Orange. All three of his triples came in the second half, and he has a 36.2-percent accuracy rate this season.

- Abdoulaye Gueye made his first start since Nov. 28 against Northwestern, and continued his recent run of quality basketball, scoring 10 points on 5-of-7 shooting and doing a good job moving the ball through Syracuse's zone defense. He played 23 minutes, his game cut short by severe cramps early in the second half. In his last five games, Gueye has averaged 9.2 points and 4.6 rebounds in 18.4 minutes per game while hitting 71.4 percent (20-of-28) of his shots from the floor. He also has eight assists and eight blocked shots over that period.

- James Banks III has seven double-figure scoring games this season after scoring 16 at Syracuse with seven rebounds. Banks went 6-of-10 from the floor and is Tech's top marksman this season at 58.9 percent. He also blocked three shots and is averaging nearly 2.5 this season, second most in the ACC.

- Freshman Michael Devoe has started seven straight games and logged six double-figure scoring games this season. He scored just five at Syracuse, but grabbed four rebounds and had two assists and four steals in 35 minutes.

- Sophomore forward Evan Cole stepped in for the injured Gueye to play 16 second-half minutes (20 total). He scored all eight of his points and grabbed seven of his eight rebounds in the period, making both of his field goal attempts and hitting 4-of-6 from the foul line. Cole has played well since his return from a high ankle sprain (missed seven of nine games between Nov. 16 and Christmas), averaging 8.8 points and 4.4 rebounds in 14.6 minutes of court time. He has gone 17-of-23 from the floor.

- Sophomore forward Moses Wright, who started 13 straight games at the big forward position, did not play for the first time this season.

Pastner's Key Metrics

- Assists to made field goals: The Jackets have 99 assists on 135 field goals (73.3 percent) in its last five games. The Jackets are at 60.6 percent for the season, 23rd in the nation, well above the nation's average of 52 percent. Tech assisted on 16 of 25 made field goals (64 percent) against Syracuse, meeting its nightly goal of 60 percent for the fifth straight game and sixth time this season.

- Free throws made to opponents' attempts: Tech is 37-13 under Josh Pastner when attempting more free throws than the opponent. Tech connected on 17-of-27 free throw attempts to Syracuse's 16-of-21 (nightly goal of making more than opponent tries not accomplished).

- Turnovers: Tech has averaged 15.1 turnovers per game this season, 17.3 in ACC games to date. Target each night is 11 or fewer, which Tech has met twice this season (both wins). More telling for Tech under Josh Pastner is that when Tech has committed fewer turnovers than its opponent, it is 22-13. When it has committed more, it is 18-22.

- Guard rebounding: Tech's guards combined for nine of Tech's 25 defensive rebounds against Syracuse. The group of Alvarado, Alston, Devoe, Haywood, Moore and Phillips has combined to take 194 of Tech's 416 defensive rebounds this season (46.6 percent).

Build the Wall

Due to its ability to play both zone and man-to-man and keep opponents off balance, Georgia Tech has been able to rely on its defense to win games over Josh Pastner's first two-plus seasons at Georgia Tech.

This Yellow Jacket team has played it well enough to rank No. 11 in adjusted defensive efficiency (91.1 ppg/100 possessions), and is No. 4 in the ACC and 17th in the NCAA in scoring defense at 62.1 points per game.

- Tech's effective field goal percentage defense (42.3 pct.) ranks No. 6 nationally, according to KenPom.com, and the Jackets are No. 8 in the NCAA rankings in field goal percentage defense (37.4 pct.). Tech ranks 15th in KenPom in effective two-point percentage (43.5) defense.

- The Jackets have also defended the three-point shot better, allowing just 27.0-percent accuracy to rank No. 2 in the ACC and No. 8 nationally. Tech is No. 4 in effective 3-point defense according to KenPom.com.

- Tech has improved markedly in another area - takeaways. The Jackets are No. 4 in the ACC and rank 38th nationally in steals (8.2 per game) and are No. 3 and 20, respectively, in blocked shots (5.3 per game).

- Tech's NIT finals team from 2017 ranked No. 6 in adjusted offensive efficiency (91.0 points allowed per 100 possessions) according to KenPom.com. That group ranked fourth in the ACC in scoring defense (66.8 ppg) and No. 1 in FG percentage defense (39.8 pct.).

They Said It

The Jackets played their defense so well Saturday at Syracuse, they had the Orange players at a loss to explain it after the game.

"It wasn't a 1-3-1, it was like a 1-1-3, almost. With the wings elevated, so I don't know," guard Frank Howard said. "It was tough."

"It's hard when they do that, that matchup 1-1-3, kind of," forward Oshae Brissett said. "I don't even know how to describe it. It's a weird zone. I don't even know how to describe it right now."

Assisted Living

Georgia Tech coach Josh Pastner preached and prodded his Yellow Jackets on ball and player movement and hard cutting from the first time he got his team on the practice court. His primary measuring stick on how well the Jackets perform offensively is their ratio of assists to made field goals.

Tech is No. 23 so far in 2018-19 at 60.6 percent (67.6 pct. in ACC games), and remains well above the national average (52.2 pct.) in that category. The Jackets did not perform as well in that department in 2017-18, assisting on 54.6 of its made field goals overall, 53.9 against ACC teams, and missing Pastner's 60-percent bar 14 times.

In Pastner's first season, the Yellow Jackets ranked 13th nationally, according to KenPom.com, in highest percentage of assists to made field goals at 62.6 percent, the team's highest rate since the 2000-01 season. Tech's number was 63.2 percent in ACC games. Pastner's nightly goal is 60 percent.

Tech's top assists-to-made field goals ratios: 1987-88 - 68.3; 1988-89 - 65.9; 1986-87 - 65.8; 1992-93 - 65.0; 1985-86 - 64.8; 2000-01 - 62.9; 1999-00 - 62.9; 2016-17 - 62.6

Building Depth

Georgia Tech has deployed six different starting lineups this season, and 10 Yellow Jackets have started two or more games.

Tech has deployed at least eight players for significant minutes in all of its games so far, including as many as nine in its ACC games. Tech's bench has played 33.1 percent of available minutes, 116th in the nation according to KenPom.com (national average is 30.9 pct., down from 31.5 pct. last season).

Last season, three Tech players ranked among the ACC's top 12 in average minutes per game. Currently, Jose Alvarado is Tech's highest ranked player in that category at No. 11, and no other Yellow Jacket appears in the top 25. Tech's reserves played 30.1 percent of the minutes (210th in the country).

Other Storylines for 2018-19

- 104th season - Georgia Tech is playing its 104th season of basketball and has an all-time record of 1,371-1,232.

- Unlucky 13 - Tech was picked to finish 13th in the Atlantic Coast Conference this season in a vote of the ACC media, ahead of Pittsburgh and Wake Forest. The Yellow Jackets finished 13th last season.

- Seven - Number of freshmen and sophomores expected to play significant roles for the Yellow Jackets this season.

- 1.34 years - Average experience of the players on Georgia Tech's current roster, which ranks No. 285 in the nation (No. 1 is the oldest), according to KenPom.com. The national average is 1.68 years.

- The upward progress of the program is evident in the development of its 2017-18 freshman class, each of whom received significant playing time last season and made significant contributions on the ACC level. Though not highly-rated in terms of rankings, the four-man class has a wide range of skills and is ripe for development into consistent conference-level performers over the next couple of years.

a. Point guard Jose Alvarado started every game last season and showed durability and toughness by averaging more than 38 minutes in ACC games until suffering a dislocated elbow Feb. 11.

b. Off-guard Curtis Haywood II was developing into a significant shooting threat and excellent defender before suffering stress reaction in his shin and missing the final month of the 2017-18 season.

c. Forwards Evan Cole and Moses Wright, both under-the-radar signees, exceeded expectations for their first year when forced into action due to injuries over the final month of the season. With added strength and development this off-season, can be counted on to be in the frontcourt rotation and make significant contributions at both ends of the floor.

- Coach Pastner, his staff and the student-athletes in the program have carried over a solid, sustainable culture of accountability and dependability from the previous coaching staff which enabled the team to overcome a number of key injuries last season and continue to work hard and remain focused on the court and in the weight room.

- Pastner replaced two assistant coaches - Tavaras Hardy and Darryl LaBarrie - over the last year. Hardy was named head coach at Loyola of Maryland in late March, while LaBarrie resigned during the season. Anthony Wilkins, an Atlanta native, joined the staff after five seasons at Tulane, and Julian Swartz was elevated from his position as director of recruiting and compliance.

- Tech has added a three-man recruiting class ranked No. 46 in the country according to 247Sports, including consensus four-star guard Michael Devoe and three-star forwards Khalid Moore and Kristian Sjolund, and true to staff's objectives, the class has varied skill sets and are expected to develop into significant contributors next season and beyond (building through multiple quality recruiting classes)

- Another addition to the roster this season - 6-3 guard Shembari Phillips, a high-major conference player who sat out the 2017-18 season as a transfer from Tennessee. Has the size and varied skill set necessary to compete in the ACC (6.2 ppg, 3.1 rpg, 37.5 pct. 3s in 2016-17). He has two years of eligibility.

- Tech also accepted transfer James Banks, a 6-9, 243-pound frontcourt player from Decatur, Ga., ranked as high as No. 49 among high school seniors in the class of 2016. After two years at Texas, he enrolled at Tech for the summer term and was granted immediate eligibility by the NCAA on Nov. 13. He has two seasons of eligibility at Tech.

- Tech returned six players who received significant playing time in 2017-18 - 15 or more minutes per ACC game - and combined to start 91 games overall. They accounted for more than 53 percent of total minutes played and 43 percent of Tech's scoring. Five of those players have two or more years of eligibility remaining.

Tech played 55 seasons in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, compiling a record of 556-194 (.741). Miami was the last team to play Tech there, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

- Tech has a young roster this season — three freshmen, four sophomores, three juniors and two seniors among scholarship players returning or incoming — but the process of getting old and staying old and building a sustainable winning program is ongoing.

- Player development successes over the past two seasons include Josh Okogie, Ben Lammers and Tadic Jackson, who maximized their skill sets under the current coaching staff, doubling their scoring and rebounding averages over their first two seasons. Okogie went from being ranked the 11th in the state as a HS senior to a first-round NBA draft pick. Last season, 6-9 forward Abdoulaye Gueye developed into an ACC-level contributor, making a similar leap from the non-conference season to conference play. Graduate transfer Brandon Alston, who has a year of eligibility remaining, had similar statistical numbers on the ACC level this season as he compiled in two seasons at Lehigh and was fundamentally sound in his ballhandling and defense.

- With the addition of Phillips and the arrival of Devoe and Moore, as well as the return of Alston and sophomores Alvarado and Haywood, Tech is deep and talented across the perimeter and wings. Tech has Gueye, rising junior Sylvester Ogbonda and Banks to rotate through the post, with Cole and Wright rotating in the big forward position. This gives Pastner the option of playing a bigger lineup when necessary.

- Tech has won 34 games overall and 14 ACC games in Josh Pastner's first two seasons, on par or better than the first two years of each of Josh Pastner's predecessors in the ACC era. For comparison, Buzz Williams won 12 ACC games in his first two years at Virginia Tech, same with Tony Bennett at Virginia. Leonard Hamilton and Mike Krzyzewski each won 10. Pastner has won 14.

- Head coach Josh Pastner's Georgia Tech teams are 5-12 against top-25 teams (5-4 at home). The Jackets knocked off No. 15 Miami and No. 25 Notre Dame last January as part of a 3-1 ACC start.

- Tech has sold out eight games at McCamish Pavilion over the past two seasons, including a facility-record five games in 2017-18. Tech's 29 homecourt wins over the past two seasons are more than any two-year period in the Jackets' ACC era except the 2015-16 and 2016-17 seasons combined (31). That's 43 home wins over the past three seasons, more than 14 per season.

Jose Can You See

Freshman point guard Jose Alvarado, recruited to Georgia Tech primarily for his winning attitude and determination, was given the green light by head coach Josh Pastner to handle the position, sink or swim, before his freshman season came to an abrupt end Feb. 11 against Duke. He dislocated his left elbow in a fall, and missed the rest of the season.

The Brooklyn native, the first Tech player from the New York area in nearly 20 years, has rounded into the Yellow Jackets general on the floor in his sophomore season, leading the Jackets in scoring (13.9 ppg, 17.3 vs. the ACC), assists, 3.3 pg, 4.3 vs. the ACC) and steals (1.9 pg, 2.0 vs. the ACC). He also has hit 53.8 percent of his shots from the floor, 7-of-14 from three-point range and 81 percent from the free throw line in three ACC games to date.

Alvarado's freshman season was full of promise until it came to an abrupt halt on Feb. 11, when he dislocated his left elbow on a hard fall to the floor trying to contest a breakaway shot from Duke's Javin Delaurier. Until then, he had averaged 12.6 points per game to rank second on the team, 3.9 rebounds and 3.3 assists with an assist/turnover ratio of 77/56. He also shot the ball well, making 45 percent of his shots from the floor, 37.4 percent from three-point distance, and 80.2 percent from the foul line on 80 attempts.

Alvarado has posted 27 double-figure scoring games in his career, seven times scoring 20 or more. And the 6-foot

Thin Gold Line

Some of Georgia Tech's most successful teams in the Atlantic Coast Conference era have had thin benches and a trio of players who averaged more than 35 minutes per game in ACC play, beginning with the Yellow Jackets' first ACC Championship team in 1985, dubbed the "Thin Gold Line."

playmaker has averaged 34 minutes per game, with eight complete 40-minute games.

He was not the first Tech point guard to earn the starting job as a freshman and handle it well. He follows such Tech greats at Mark Price, Kenny Anderson, Travis Best, Stephon Marbury, Tony Akins and Jarrett Jack, as well as others who started at the position as freshmen without reaching their lofty accomplishments.

Out of Africa

Georgia Tech got a big lift from an unlikely source once ACC play began last season, junior forward Abdoulaye Gueye (pronounced "AB-doo-lee GAY"). During the month of January and into February, the Yellow Jackets saw the 6-9 native of Senegal (by way of Birmingham, Ala.) become a legitimate offensive force, and not just a disruptor on defense and on the boards.

Known as "A.D." to his teammates and coaches, the likeable Gueye took advantage of a much-improved jump hook shot to average 6.5 points (50 percent from the floor) and 4.5 rebounds in six ACC games.

Gueye has made a similar jump from non-conference to ACC play this season as well, averaging 8.0 points and 3.3 rebounds while hitting 10-of-17 shots from the floor.

TECH NOTEBOOK

Media Guidelines

Georgia Tech's practices are closed to the public and the media, but coaches and student-athletes are made available prior to each game before one of the team's practices. Notices will be distributed weekly to confirm the schedule.

TV stations are allowed to shoot B-roll during the first 10 minutes of those practices.

Media are asked to notify Mike Stamus the day before of their need to attend and to make specific student-athlete requests.

Interview requests with student-athletes that need to be conducted at other times must be arranged through the Georgia Tech communications office at least 24 hours in advance. These interviews will be conducted at a time and place convenient to the student-athletes' availability and class schedule.

Media are asked not to contact student-athletes directly either by phone, e-mail, text or social media. They are instructed not to respond. Every effort will be made to make them available.

Interviewing Coach Pastner

Media wishing to speak with Coach Pastner at times other than scheduled media availabilities must notify Mike Stamus in the communications office in advance to make or confirm arrangements. He also is available each Monday on the ACC Teleconference (10:50 a.m.) beginning January 7.

Post-Game Protocol

Each head coach will hold a post-game press conference in the designated interview room (Shah Media Room at McCamish Pavilion).

Student-athletes requested by the media will be brought to the interview room following the coaches press conferences, when the team is at home, outside the team's locker room when the team is on the road.

Josh Pastner Radio Show

Head coach Josh Pastner's weekly radio show airs each Monday from 7-8 p.m. on "680 the Fan" and 93.7 FM, beginning Dec. 3.

ACC Coaches Weekly Teleconference

The 15 ACC head basketball coaches will be featured on nine Monday teleconferences during the 2018-19 season, beginning on Monday, January 7, and continuing through March 4. Each coach will have 10 minutes to make an opening statement and answer questions. There will be an instant replay of each teleconference on the Conference's internet site TheACC.com each Monday afternoon.

Georgia Tech head coach Josh Pastner will be on the teleconference at 10:50 a.m. each week.

Coaches that play on Monday in January and February are not required to participate in that day's call. Coach Pastner will be on every Monday at the same time. The teleconference schedule for each Monday will differ for the other 14 head coaches, depending on what teams play that Monday night.

Contact the ACC media relations office at 336-851-6062 for the call-in number and for questions on the schedule.

Tech's BFFs (Big Freshman Forwards)

Georgia Tech's four-man freshman class in 2017-18 was not highly rated in terms of stars, but head coach Josh Pastner viewed the group of Jose Alvarado, Curtis Haywood II, Evan Cole and Moses Wright as a solid foundation on which to build the Yellow Jackets' program.

With Alvarado and Haywood, the more highly-rated players in the group, out with injuries for the last month of the season, the other two members of the class received an opportunity to grow. After Tech's Jan. 24 loss at Florida State, Pastner put Cole and Wright in a "red-shirt" program than entailed extra strength and conditioning sessions and extra skill work on the court in addition to the team's regular practices. It paid off for them and for the Jackets.

On Feb. 11 against Duke, Cole and Wright played their first extended minutes of the ACC season, and they didn't disappoint.

In the second half of that game, the duo combined for 19 points, 12 rebounds, four assists and three blocks in 41 minutes as Tech pared a 26-point second-half deficit down to 11 in an 80-69 loss. As a result, they combined for eight starts over the remainder of the season, and have split starts at the big forward spot this season.

Jackets' Signing Class Ranked No. 46

Georgia Tech's 2018 signing class was ranked No. 46 in the nation in a composite ranking published by 247Sports.

Tech signed a trio of high school prospects — 6-3 guard Michael Devoe of Orlando, Fla., 6-7 forward Khalid Moore of New York, N.Y., and 6-9 forward Kristian Sjolund of Kongsberg, Norway by way of Katy, Texas - to national letters-of-intent during the November signing period.

All three prospects are highly regarded for their talent level, versatility and upside as head coach Josh Pastner continued to build the Yellow Jackets' program.

Devoe, a four-star prospect, was ranked No. 62 in the Rivals 150, and No. 56 in the ESPN 100 (No. 15 point guard in the nation). He led Oak Ridge High School in Orlando, Fla., to a berth in the state quarterfinals as a junior before enrolling at Montverde Academy for his senior year, helping them to a national championship.

Moore was rated a 3-star prospect in the composite 247Sports ranking (No. 51 small forward, No. 5 in New York), as well as a 4-star prospect by ESPN (No. 42 small forward, No. 3 in New York). He attended the same high school that sent All-American Kenny Anderson to Georgia Tech in 1989, and he was a teammate of current Tech sophomore Jose Alvarado on the New York Rens AAU team.

Sjolund was rated a 3-star prospect in the composite 247Sports ranking (No. 56 small forward, No. 18 in Texas), as well as a 4-star by ESPN (No. 36 small forward, No. 17 in Texas). He was born in the state of Washington but grew up in Norway, and has lived in the United States since 2014. He played for the Shooting Stars Red AAU team. Sjolund played with Norway in the 2015 FIBA u16 European Championships, averaging 18.7 points and 5.9 rebounds a game. Then in 2017 he played in the U18 Nordic Championship and scored 7.2 points a game.

Tech's class rank doesn't account for transfers Shembari Phillips, a 6-3 guard, and James Banks, a 6-9 center.

Jackets Add Didenko, Usher

David Didenko, a 6-8, 230-pound forward from Boca

Raton, Fla., who attends Palm Beach State College, signed a national letter-of-intent with Georgia Tech during the early signing period in November, while Jordan Usher, a 6-7, 225-pound forward, has transferred from Southern California and enrolled at Tech for the spring semester.

Didenko attended Boca Raton Community High School before enrolling this year at Palm Beach State, a junior college in Boca Raton. A full academic qualifier in high school, Didenko will enroll at Tech in the summer and have three years of eligibility with the Yellow Jackets.

Born in Russia, Didenko moved to New York in August, 2010, at the age of 10, and is a United States citizen. Prior to his enrollment at Boca Raton Community High School, Didenko attended Northeast High School as a junior, and Montverde Academy for his ninth- and 10th-grade years.

Usher comes to Tech after playing a season and a half for the Trojans, departing from USC after the recently completed fall semester and enrolling for the spring semester. He must complete a year of residency at Georgia Tech and will become eligible to play for the Yellow Jackets following the conclusion of the fall, 2019 term. He will be eligible for the remainder of the 2019-20 season and all of the 2020-21 season.

A native of Canton, Ga., Usher played in all 36 games with two starts for the Trojans as a freshman in 2017-18, averaging 4.8 points and 2.0 rebounds per game while connecting on 40.9 percent of his three-point field goal attempts. In 2018-19, Usher played in 12 games and made two starts, averaging 8.6 points and 3.7 rebounds. A 4-star prospect ranked No. 104 in the nation by 247Sports, Usher played his senior season (2016-17) at Wheeler High School in Marietta, Ga., and prior to that, he attended Sequoyah High School in Canton.

Wire-to-Wire

Though he has expanded his playing rotation this year to reflect the growing level of talent within the program, head coach Josh Pastner remains committed to a tight playing rotation, reminiscent of the way Bobby Cremins coached the Yellow Jackets over his 19 seasons.

Tech has utilized its bench for an average of 44.6 minutes in its last two games after averaging 84 minutes over the Jackets' first nine games.

Jose Alvarado, who had played 96.7 percent of possible ACC minutes prior to his Feb. 11 injury last season, has been on the floor for all but 84 seconds in Tech's last three games, including all 40 at Arkansas.

Last season, Josh Okogie played 92.3 percent of possible minutes in ACC games last season, while Ben Lammers played 90.2 percent. Lammers ranked No. 1 among centers nationally in minutes per game. Alvarado had ranked fifth among freshmen nationally in percentage of minutes played and minutes per game before he was injured.

The threesome had 20 complete games combined in 2017-18 (eight for Alvarado, six for Lammers, five for Okogie), and Tadic Jackson joined the group by playing 40 minutes at Clemson. Tech had at least one player play the full 40 in 12 of 19 ACC games (regular season plus tournament).

NOTE: Between the Cremins era and the arrival of Pastner, only one Georgia Tech player played every minute of a game, regulation or overtime, and that was Marcus Georges-Hunt on Feb. 20, 2016, in a win over Notre Dame at home. In the final 15 seasons of Cremins' tenure (1985-86 through 1999-2000), a total of 196 players logged a 40-minute game.

Winning Starts at Home

Georgia Tech and head coach Josh Pastner have made a priority of making McCamish Pavilion a real homecourt advantage for the program, and the Yellow Jackets made a good start on that by setting a program record for wins at home (17) in 2017-18, which included a 7-2 ACC record and two NIT victories.

Tech is 12-6 against ACC teams at home under Pastner, and that includes a 5-3 mark against ranked opponents.

The Jackets' 60-53 win over No. 25 Notre Dame on Jan. 10 was just the latest triumph in a list that includes eventual NCAA champion North Carolina (No. 9 at the time), No. 6 Florida State and No. 15 Notre Dame last season, as well as a 64-54 win over No. 15 Miami on Jan. 3 this season. Tech's only losses came to No. 9 Louisville last January and to No. 2 Virginia and No. 18 Clemson this season.

Tech is 36-13 at McCamish Pavilion under Pastner.

Tech-UGA Game Moves to November Next Two Seasons

The Georgia Tech and Georgia basketball teams have signed an agreement to play the next two games of the series the week before Thanksgiving, giving both teams an opportunity to play the game at home in front of their student bodies before the fall semester ends.

The teams will face off next season on Wednesday, Nov. 20, at Stegeman Coliseum in Athens, and the following season on Thursday, Nov. 19, at McCamish Pavilion in Atlanta.

In the 194-game history of the series, Tech and Georgia have played their game before Thanksgiving only twice, on Nov. 15, 2013 in Athens and Nov. 14, 2014 in Atlanta. The Yellow Jackets won both games and lead the all-time series, 105-89.

As Southeastern Conference foes from 1932-64, the games were played in January, February and March. After Tech left the ACC, most of the games remained in January and February until the rivalry became a late December fixture at the Omni arena in downtown Atlanta from 1981-94. The series has been played on the two campuses every year since then, mostly in December.

Tech to Play in 2019 Diamond Head Classic

Georgia Tech will make the fifth trip to the state of Hawai'i in program history next December when it will compete in the 2019 Hawaiian Airlines Diamond Head Classic in Honolulu, Hawai'i.

The field for the 2019 Hawaiian Airlines Diamond Head Classic features Ball State (Mid-American), Boise State (Mountain West), Georgia Tech (ACC), tournament host school Hawai'i (Big West), Houston (AAC), Portland (WCC), UTEP (Conference USA), and Washington (Pac-12). The 11th annual event will be played at the Stan Sheriff Center on the campus of the University of Hawai'i. Dates and times will be announced at a later date.

Three teams in the 2019 field were a part of the postseason last season — Boise State (NIT), Houston (NCAA) and Washington (NIT). Meanwhile, five teams will make their first-ever appearance in the Hawaiian Airlines Diamond Head Classic.

Tech has a 10-5 record all time in four previous tournament events in Hawai'i, including a 6-3 mark in three appearances in the Rainbow Classic — 1984 champions, 1988, 1994 — which also were held at the University of Hawai'i. The Yellow Jackets also played in the 1998 Big Island Classic in Hilo, and the 2006 Maui Invitational.

Four Tech Alumni on NBA Rosters

Since 1982, Georgia Tech has produced 19 first-round NBA draft picks and 44 draft picks overall. A total of 38 Georgia Tech alumni have played in the NBA.

Four former Georgia Tech basketball stars were on NBA rosters at the start of the 2018-19 season, including guard Josh Okogie, who was drafted 20th overall by for the Minnesota Timberwolves.

Iman Shumpert, a seven-year NBA veteran, played his third full season in Cleveland after helping the Cavaliers win the NBA championship in 2016, and was traded before the deadline to Sacramento.

Thaddeus Young, an 11-year NBA veteran, is now in his third season with the Indiana Pacers after playing seven seasons in Philadelphia, one in Minnesota and two in Brooklyn.

Derrick Favors has emerged as a key figure in his eighth season in Utah and re-signed with the team after becoming a free agent.

Arts and Letters

Beginning with Moe Miller and Lance Storrs in the summer of 2011, every four-year senior in the Georgia Tech program has graduated with the exception of the Yellow Jackets' 2018 two seniors. Tadic Jackson and Ben Lammers, were both on track to compete their degree requirements in the spring (Jackson) and fall (Lammers) semesters, but both received offers to play overseas.

Derek Craig and Nick Foreman received their Tech degrees in 2012, as did the 2013 senior class of Mfon Udofia, who finished his business administration degree work in the summer, and Pierre Jordan, who completed his Masters degree requirements in building construction in the spring. Brandon Reed graduated in the summer with his management degree before transferring back to Arkansas State to play his final year of basketball.

All three of Tech's four-year seniors in 2013-14 — Kammeon Holsey, Daniel Miller and Jason Morris — graduated that spring. Robert Sampson, the Jackets' only undergraduate scholarship senior in 2014-15, graduated in the spring.

From the 2015-16 squad, Marcus Georges-Hunt walked the stage at commencement in May, accomplishing the rare feat of graduating in four years. Point guard Travis Jorgenson, who elected not to use his final year of eligibility, received his degree in December of 2017.

From the 2016-17 team, Josh Heath, Corey Heyward (fifth-year because of an injury redshirt in 2012-13) and Quinton Stephens all graduated in May of 2017, while Rand Rowland finished his requirements and received his degree in December of 2016. Both graduate transfers, Kellen McCormick (summer of 2017) and Jordan Price (fall of 2017), received their Masters degrees.

Georges-Hunt and current senior Tadic Jackson have made the Academic All-ACC team twice, and the Yellow Jackets have had at least one player named to that team since it was instituted for the 2010-11 season.

Tech's men's basketball team has recorded the highest Academic Progress Report scores the last five years since the NCAA began tracking academic performance in 2004-05. The Jackets scored a perfect team single year APR score of 1000 three straight years from 2011-13.

Welcome to The Hank

Georgia Tech is playing its seventh season in McCamish Pavilion, which was for all intents and purposes, brand new when it opened for the 2012-13 season. The only physical elements of McCamish Pavilion that remain from the venerable Alexander Memorial Coliseum are the roof, which was re-covered, and the 32 steel ribs that support it.

The capacity of McCamish Pavilion is 8,600, including 1,665 seats in the new balcony level and 6,935 seats in the lower seating bowl. There are no suites, but there is a premium club area that seats 500. Alexander Memorial Coliseum seated 9,191 spectators in its final configuration.

The most impressive features of McCamish Pavilion are its grand entrance, which fronts 10th and Fowler Streets, the ability for patrons to view the court from the main concourse all the way around, and the theatrical lighting system, which concentrates light on the court while leaving the seating areas dark, modeled after the Staples Center in Los Angeles and Madison Square Garden in New York.

Tech played 55 seasons in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, compiling a record of 556-194 (.741). Miami was the last team to play Tech in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion on Jan. 5, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

BIO UPDATES

Head Coach Josh Pastner • 3rd season

Josh Pastner, who guided Memphis to five post-season berths in seven seasons as the Tigers' head coach, was introduced as Georgia Tech's 14th head basketball coach on April 8, 2016, and wasted no time in getting the Yellow Jackets back to the post-season.

While coaching Tech to 34 wins and building the Jackets' talent base for the future, Pastner has tirelessly promoted the program on campus and throughout the city of Atlanta in an effort to re-create the major homecourt atmosphere that surrounded the Yellow Jackets throughout the 1980s, 1990s and into the middle of the 2000s. The result has been 29 wins and eight sellouts in two seasons at McCamish Pavilion, including a program-record 17 home wins in his first year.

In his first season at the helm, his Yellow Jacket team defied all pre-season expectations by winning 21 games, including four in the National Invitation Tournament. Tech posted an 8-10 ACC record, which included victories over No. 9 North Carolina, No. 6 Florida State and No. 14 Notre Dame, who all finished among the top four in the ACC regular season. He was named Coach of the Year in the ACC and in NABC District 2.

Implementing a high-energy style of play and creative offensive and defensive schemes, Pastner and his staff guided the Yellow Jackets all the way to the finals of the NIT for the first time in 46 years. Two of his players earned all-Atlantic Coast Conference honors; junior center Ben Lammers was named second-team All-ACC and ACC Defensive Player of the Year, while freshman guard Josh Okogie was named to the ACC All-Freshman team.

Though hampered by several significant injuries and other issues in 2017-18, Tech still was able to knock off a pair of top-25 teams while Lammers and Okogie again earned conference honors, and Okogie developed into an NBA first-round draft choice.

Pastner, who turned 41 in the fall, compiled a 167-73 record over seven seasons as the head coach at Memphis, where the Tigers earned bids to the NCAA Tournament four times. He tied for the 10th most wins for a head coach in his first seven seasons in Division I basketball history, and is the second winningest active coach under the age of 40 in NCAA Division I.

Despite his young age, Pastner has been involved in basketball at the Division I level for 21 years, as a player and an assistant coach at Arizona, and as an assistant coach and the head coach at Memphis. He has been a part of teams that have won 524 games, played in 17 NCAA Tournaments and 19 total post-season events. Teams he has been involved with have won 12 conference tournament or regular-season championships, advanced to seven Sweet Sixteens, five Elite Eights, two Final Fours and two NCAA championship games.

As an NCAA head or assistant coach and an AAU head coach, he has coached nearly 25 NBA draft selections.

Pastner's Memphis teams averaged 23.9 wins per season and compiled a conference regular-season record of 82-36, including a conference winning streak of 28 games. The Tigers went 11-4 in Conference USA and American Athletic Conference tournaments, including three championships.

He guided Memphis to five post-season berths, the NIT in 2010 and the NCAA Tournament in 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014. Pastner twice won Conference USA Coach of the Year honors (2010, 2013) by various organizations and news media.

Pastner was born in Glen Dale, W.Va., and grew up in Kingwood, Texas. He earned his bachelor's degree in family studies in December of 1998, in just two and a half years, from Arizona and his master's degree in teaching and teacher education from Arizona in December of 1999, all while lettering four years in basketball under head coach Lute Olson.

He married the former Kerri Lamas of Sierra Vista, Ariz., in 2009. He has a stepson (Ethan) and three daughters, Payten, Kamryn and Harper.

- Versatile and developing frontcourt player who started Tech's first two games this season ... Missed seven of the next nine games recovering from a sprained left ankle suffered in game 2 at Tennessee ... Success comes from hard cutting offensively and crashing the glass at both ends of the floor
- Played in 24 games, averaging 13.8 minutes in those, as a freshman ... Played sparingly in ACC games before working himself back into Tech's rotation the last nine games
- Started the last seven games of the season, averaging 27.4 minutes, 5.7 points and 5.3 rebounds (16-32 FG, 4-9 on 3s)
- Scored a freshman-best 10 points with five rebounds and two assists in 21 minutes off the bench against Duke ... First career double-double (10/10) vs. Wake Forest in final regular-season game
- Originally signed a letter-of-intent to attend UNC-Wilmington, but received a release when the Seahawks' coach, Kevin Keatts, left to become the head coach at NC State ... Highly skilled player with good athleticism and shooting ability
