Starting Lineup

• They're back - Georgia Tech welcomed back two key players - senior forward Abdoulaye Gueye and sophomore guard Jose Alvarado for its win over Notre Dame. Alvarado missed last Saturday's game against Louisville with a groin injury suffered Jan. 16 in Tech's loss at Clemson. Gueye missed both games with a medical condition stemming from a cramping episode suffered at Syracuse on Jan. 12.

• Banks and Gueye - James Banks III and Abdoulaye Gueye have given Georgia Tech an increasingly reliable frontcourt combination in ACC play. The duo shared the floor for more than 56 minutes in wins over Syracuse and Notre Dame (Gueye was sidelined for games against Clemson and Louisville) and the Jackets outscored those teams by 13 points when they both were on the court.

• The Bank is open - In 18 games at Georgia Tech, James Banks III has exceeded his 46-game totals at Texas in every offensive category. Banks has six double-doubles this season for the Jackets, fourth most in the ACC.

• Guard your yard - Georgia Tech ranks No. 3 in the ACC in scoring defense (67.0 ppg) and field goal percentage defense (38.5 pct.) and No. 2 in three-point percentage defense (27.6 pct.) against conference opponents. The Jackets rank No. 1 in steals (8.5 pg) and fourth in blocked shots (5.2 pg).

• Below average - Wake Forest and Clemson are the only opponents to exceed their season scoring averages against Tech this season - breakdown by game: Lamar 81.8 (69), Tennessee 85.5 (66), East Carolina 71.1 (54), UTRGV 70.2 (44), Prairie View A&M 69.2 (54), Northwestern 73.5 (67), St. John's 83.9 (76), Florida A&M 63.2 (40), Gardner-Webb 82.9 (79), Arkansas 81.8 (69), Georgia 79.2 (70), Kennesaw State 62.5 (57), USC Upstate 70.9 (63), Virginia Tech 81.1 (52), Syracuse 70.9 (59), Louisville 79.9 (79), Notre Dame 74.7 (61).

• Rising up - Since its Dec. 22 game against Georgia, in which the Yellow Jackets scored 59 points and shot 32.3 percent from the floor, Georgia Tech has averaged 69.2 points, shot 51 percent from the floor, 32.5 percent from three-point range and assisted on 65.3 percent of its made field goals (130-of-199).

• "Blue" streak - Georgia Tech has lost its last 11 meetings with Duke. The Yellow Jackets' last win over the Blue Devils was a 71-67 decision at Alexander Memorial Coliseum on Jan. 9, 2010, when current Utah Jazz forward Derrick Favors was a Tech freshman. Tech's last win in Durham occurred March 3, 2004, a 76-68 win that helped propel the Yellow Jackets to their second Final Four appearance.

• Tough at home - Tech is 14-8 against ACC teams at home under Josh Pastner, 5-4 against top-25 ACC teams.

• Tough slate - Tech ends the month of January with games against No. 2 Duke on the road and No. 11 North Carolina at home. The Jackets began their conference slate two years ago with the same two opponents, defeating North Carolina at home before losing at Duke.

• Going deep - Georgia Tech has deployed eight different starting lineups this season, and 10 Yellow Jackets have started three or more games.

• Longer bench - Tech has utilized at least nine players in five of its ACC games to date (eight at Syracuse). Tech's bench has played 33.7 percent of available minutes, 104th in the nation according to KenPom.com (national average is 30.8 pct.). Tech reserves are outscoring their opponents 23.6 to 16.4 per game.

Last Game - Tech Holds Off Notre Dame

Keyed by a 17-5 second-half run, Georgia Tech defended Notre Dame, 63-61, on Tuesday night at McCamish Pavilion.

For much of the evening, Tuesday's game was a back-and-forth affair, featuring eight ties and 12 lead changes in the first 29 minutes of the contest. Trailing 42-41 with less than 12 minutes to go, Georgia Tech (11-8, 3-3 ACC) scored 17 of the next 22 points to take its largest lead at 58-47 with 5:08 remaining.

Notre Dame (11-8, 1-5 ACC) pulled within two points on three occasions late in the ballgame but the Yellow Jackets held on for their fourth straight home win over the Fighting Irish. A follow dunk by Abdoulaye Gueye with 52 seconds to go and a pair of free throws by Jose Alvarado with 8.2 seconds left on the clock proved crucial to the Jackets keeping the Irish at bay.

James Banks and Alvarado led four Jackets in double-figures with 16 points apiece. Gueye added 13 points and Michael Devoe chipped in with 11 to round out Tech's four double-figure scorers. Alvarado's 16-point performance came in his first game back after missing last Saturday's game versus Louisville due to injury while Gueye returned to the lineup for the first time since missing the last two contests due to a medical condition.

Following the Trends

- Jose Alvarado (groin), Abdoulaye Gueye (unspecified medical condition) and Brandon Alston (personal matter) all dressed and were on the bench Tuesday night against Notre Dame. Alvarado missed the Louisville game, while Gueye and Alston both missed the Louisville and Clemson games.
- The Yellow Jackets went back to the starting lineup that it used to win the Syracuse game – Alvarado, Michael Devoe and Curtis Haywood II on the perimeter, Gueye and James Banks III in the frontcourt.
- Devoe, a freshman, has started Tech's last 10 games, having made his first collegiate start at Arkansas. Haywood started his fourth straight game and 14th of the season, while Banks has started the last 14 straight games in the post. Gueye has started eight games, and Alvarado 17.
- Georgia Tech has used eight different starting lineups this season. No Yellow Jacket has started every game this season, and 10 different players have started three or more games.
- Tech made no substitutions over the final 11:45 of the game, keeping four of its starters on the floor and freshman Khalid Moore, who replaced Curtis Haywood II. The Jackets trailed 42-41 when Moore returned to the game, and the freshman scored all seven of his points over that stretch.

Last Season vs. Duke

Duke 80, Georgia Tech 69

Feb. 11, 2018 • McCamish Pavilion

No. 9/8 Duke shot 52.9 percent from the field in the first half, which allowed it to withstand a spirited run in the second half and defeat undermanned Georgia Tech, 80-69, in front of a fourth-straight sellout crowd at McCamish Pavilion.

Hot-shooting Duke (20-5, 8-4 ACC) raced out to a 9-0 lead and led by 26 points early in the second half. However, despite losing starting point guard Jose Alvarado, Georgia Tech (11-14, 4-8 ACC) cut the deficit to 12 with 7:05 to go in the game, drew within 10 on two different occasions and cut it to single digits in the final minute.

Already playing primarily with just a six-man rotation, the Yellow Jackets suffered a huge blow with 8:14 to go in the first half when Alvarado sustained a frightening left elbow injury on a fall to the floor. The elbow was stabilized but Alvarado was transported to a local hospital for further evaluation.

Georgia Tech's Josh Okogie led all scorers with 29 points. Okogie also paced the Yellow Jackets with four assists.

Grayson Allen led Duke with 23 points. The Blue Devils were playing without freshman Marvin Bagley III, the Atlantic Coast Conference's leading scorer and rebounder.

• Tech again used nine players in the game against Notre Dame, but only six of them for more than three minutes, and only five players scored. At least eight players have seen significant minutes in all of Tech's games this season, despite a variety of injuries and illnesses.

• Wake Forest (74.4 ppg, scored 79) and Clemson (71.4 ppg, scored 72) are the only Georgia Tech opponents to exceed their season scoring averages this season this season against the Yellow Jackets this season. Tech had held every other opponent this season under its season scoring average — breakdown by game: Lamar 81.8 (69), Tennessee 85.5 (66), East Carolina 71.1 (54), UTRGV 70.2 (44), Prairie View A&M 69.2 (54), Northwestern 73.5 (67), St. John's 83.5 (76), Florida A&M 63.2 (40), Gardner-Webb 82.9 (79), Arkansas 81.8 (69), Georgia 79.2 (70), Kennesaw State 62.5 (57), USC Upstate 70.9 (63), Virginia Tech 81.1 (52), Syracuse 70.9 (59), Louisville 79.9 (79), Notre Dame 74.7 (61).

• Tech held Notre Dame to 61 points (74.7 average), 32.3 percent from the floor (41.5 percent average) and 23.3 percent from three-point range (33.7 percent average). The Jackets also came up with 13 turnovers against a team that came in averaging 9.5 (No 2 in the ACC).

• Tech has shot 48.6 percent from the floor and 31.8 percent from three-point range in ACC games, compared to 45.2 percent from the floor and 30.5 percent in its non-conference schedule.

• Since the Dec. 22 game against Georgia, in which Tech scored 59 points and shot 32.3 percent from the floor, the Yellow Jackets have averaged 69.2 points, shot 51 percent from the floor, 32.5 percent from three-point range and assisted on 65.3 percent of their made field goals (130-of-199).

• Tech's ACC opponents have attempted 88 more shots from the floor and 64 more three-point field goals than have the Yellow Jackets through six games. The Jackets have outshot them, percentage-wise, 48.6-38.5 percent from the floor and 31.8-27.6 percent from three-point range. The Jackets have attempted 32 more free throws and made 12 more.

• After sharing the floor for less than five minutes during the non-conference season, James Banks and Abdoulaye Gueye have played together for increasingly longer periods in ACC play (3:44 vs. Wake Forest, 6:31 vs. Virginia Tech, 19:24 at Syracuse, 36:56 vs. Notre Dame).

Personnel Notes

• Abdoulaye Gueye, who missed Tech's last two games against Clemson and Louisville with an unspecified medical condition, posted his second straight double-digit scoring game with 13 points (5-12 FG) with eight rebounds, matching his season high against Notre Dame. He scored 10 in a start at Syracuse, the game in which he was injured. The 6-9 senior is Tech's third-leading scorer in ACC games (9.3 ppg over four games) and has hit 15-of-29 shots from the floor.

• James Banks III posted his sixth double-double this season (16 points/10 rebounds vs. Notre Dame) and his second in a row while playing against the ACC leader in double-doubles (John Mooney, who earned his 11th of the season). Banks has 10 double-figure scoring games this season and leads the Jackets in scoring in ACC games (15.7 ppg, 58.2 pct. FG, 72.7 pct. FT).

• Jose Alvarado returned after missing the Louisville game with a groin injury suffered at Clemson on Jan. 16, and matched Banks for team-high honors with 16 points against Notre Dame. The sophomore has 14 double-figure scoring games this season and nine in his last 10 games. Since a 3-for-20 afternoon against Georgia, the gritty 6-foot guard has hit 28-of-60 from the floor, 13-of-32 threes, in his last seven games.

• Freshman Michael Devoe has started 10 straight games and logged seven double-figure scoring games this season. He scored 11 points against Notre Dame, his first double-digit game since scoring 16 against Wake Forest in the ACC opener on Jan. 5, and had five assists and just one turnover in 38:32.

• Freshman Khalid Moore scored all seven of his points over the final 11:45 of the game, nailing his only three-point attempt to give the Jackets a 46-42 lead with 10:31 left in the game. He made all three of his field goal attempts and has converted 51.9 percent for the season.

Pastner's Key Metrics

• Assists to made field goals: The Jackets have 130 assists on 199 field goals (65.3 percent) in its last seven games. The Jackets are at 58.9 percent for the season, 23rd in the nation, and 58.5 percent in ACC games. Tech assisted on 11 of 24 made field goals (45.8 percent) against Louisville, coming up short of its nightly goal of 60 percent.

• Free throws made to opponents' attempts: Tech is 37-15 under Josh Pastner when attempting more free throws than the opponent. Tech connected on 10-of-15 free throw attempts to Notre Dame's 12-of-15 (nightly goal of making more than opponent tries not accomplished).

• Turnovers: Tech has averaged 15.1 turnovers per game this season, 16.0 in ACC games to date (3.5 more per game than opponents). Target each night is 11 or fewer, which Tech has met twice this season (both wins). More telling for Tech under Josh Pastner is that when Tech has committed fewer turnovers than its opponent, it is 22-13. When it has committed more, it is 20-24.

• Guard rebounding: The group of Alvarado, Alston, Devoe, Haywood, Moore and Phillips has combined to take 225 of Tech's 488 defensive rebounds this season (46.1 percent). Tech's guards combined for 11 of Tech's 25 defensive rebounds against Notre Dame.

Build the Wall

Due to its ability to play both zone and man-to-man and keep opponents off balance, Georgia Tech has been able to rely on its defense to win games over Josh Pastner's first two-plus seasons at Georgia Tech.

This Yellow Jacket team has played it well enough to rank No. 16 in adjusted defensive efficiency (92.5 ppg/100 possessions), and is No. 4 in the ACC and 24th in the NCAA in scoring defense at 63.5 points per game.

• Tech's effective field goal percentage defense (43.4

pct.) ranks No. 6 nationally, according to KenPom.com, and the Jackets are No. 7 in the NCAA rankings in field goal percentage defense (38.3 pct.). Tech ranks 18th in KenPom in effective two-point percentage (44.7) defense.

- The Jackets have also defended the three-point shot better, allowing just 27.4-percent accuracy to rank No. 2 in the ACC and No. 6 nationally. Tech is No. 7 in effective 3-point defense according to KenPom.com.

- Tech has improved markedly in another area - takeaways. The Jackets are No. 3 in the ACC and rank 47th nationally in steals (7.9 per game) and are No. 3 and 15, respectively, in blocked shots (5.2 per game).

- Tech's NIT finals team from 2017 ranked No. 6 in adjusted offensive efficiency (91.0 points allowed per 100 possessions) according to KenPom.com. That group ranked fourth in the ACC in scoring defense (66.8 ppg) and No. 1 in FG percentage defense (39.8 pct.).

Assisted Living

Georgia Tech coach Josh Pastner preached and prodded his Yellow Jackets on ball and player movement and hard cutting from the first time he got his team on the practice court. His primary measuring stick on how well the Jackets perform offensively is their ratio of assists to made field goals.

Tech is No. 38 so far in 2018-19 at 58.9 percent (58.5 pct. in ACC games), and remains well above the national average (52.1 pct.) in that category. The Jackets did not perform as well in that department in 2017-18, assisting on 54.6 of its made field goals overall, 53.9 against ACC teams, and missing Pastner's 60-percent bar 14 times.

In Pastner's first season, the Yellow Jackets ranked 13th nationally, according to KenPom.com, in highest percentage of assists to made field goals at 62.6 percent, the team's highest rate since the 2000-01 season. Tech's number was 63.2 percent in ACC games. Pastner's nightly goal is 60 percent.

Tech's top assists-to-made field goals ratios: 1987-88 - 68.3; 1988-89 - 65.9; 1986-87 - 65.8; 1992-93 - 65.0; 1985-86 - 64.8; 2000-01 - 62.9; 1999-00 - 62.9; 2016-17 - 62.6

Building Depth

Georgia Tech has deployed eight different starting lineups this season, and 10 Yellow Jackets have started three or more games.

Tech has deployed at least eight players for significant minutes in all of its games so far, including as many as nine in its ACC games. Tech's bench has played 33.7 percent of available minutes, 104th in the nation according to KenPom.com (national average is 30.8 pct.). Last season, Tech ranked No. 210 with 30.1 minutes played by reserves.

In conference play this season, head coach Josh Pastner has relied on a core group for longer durations - Jose Alvarado, James Banks and Michael Devoe all rank among the conference top 10 in average minutes, yet still utilized eight or nine players altogether.

Other Storylines for 2018-19

- 104th season - Georgia Tech is playing its 104th season of basketball and has an all-time record of 1,373-1,234.

- Unlucky 13 - Tech was picked to finish 13th in the Atlantic Coast Conference this season in a vote of the ACC media, ahead of Pittsburgh and Wake Forest. The Yellow Jackets finished 13th last season.

- Seven - Number of freshmen and sophomores expected to play significant roles for the Yellow Jackets this season.

- 1.30 years - Average experience of the players on Georgia Tech's current roster, which ranks No. 291 in the nation (No. 1 is the oldest), according to KenPom.com. The national average is 1.68 years.

- The upward progress of the program is evident in the development of its 2017-18 freshman class, each of whom received significant playing time last season and made significant contributions on the ACC level. Though not highly-rated in terms of rankings, the four-man class has a wide range of skills and is ripe for development into consistent conference-level performers over the next couple of years.

a. Point guard Jose Alvarado started every game last season and showed durability and toughness by averaging more than 38 minutes in ACC games until suffering a dislocated elbow Feb. 11.

b. Off-guard Curtis Haywood II was developing into a significant shooting threat and excellent defender before suffering stress reaction in his shin and missing the final month of the 2017-18 season.

c. Forwards Evan Cole and Moses Wright, both under-the-radar signees, exceeded expectations for their first year when forced into action due to injuries over the final month of the season. With added strength and development this off-season, can be counted on to be in the frontcourt rotation and make significant contributions at both ends of the floor.

- Coach Pastner, his staff and the student-athletes in the program have carried over a solid, sustainable culture of accountability and dependability from the previous coaching staff which enabled the team to overcome a number of key injuries last season and continue to work hard and remain focused on the court and in the weight room.

- Pastner replaced two assistant coaches - Tavaras Hardy and Darryl LaBarrie - over the last year. Hardy was named head coach at Loyola of Maryland in late March, while LaBarrie resigned during the season. Anthony Wilkins, an Atlanta native, joined the staff after five seasons at Tulane, and Julian Swartz was elevated from his position as director of recruiting and compliance.

- Tech has added a three-man recruiting class ranked

No. 46 in the country according to 247Sports, including consensus four-star guard Michael Devoe and three-star forwards Khalid Moore and Kristian Sjolund, and true to staff's objectives, the class has varied skill sets and are expected to develop into significant contributors next season and beyond (building through multiple quality recruiting classes)

- Another addition to the roster this season – 6-3 guard Shembari Phillips, a high-major conference player who sat out the 2017-18 season as a transfer from Tennessee. He has the size and varied skill set necessary to compete in the ACC (6.2 ppg, 3.1 rpg, 37.5 pct. 3s in 2016-17). He has two years of eligibility.

- Tech also accepted transfer James Banks, a 6-9, 243-pound frontcourt player from Decatur, Ga., ranked as high as No. 49 among high school seniors in the class of 2016. After two years at Texas, he enrolled at Tech for the summer term and was granted immediate eligibility by the NCAA on Nov. 13. He has two seasons of eligibility at Tech.

- Tech returned six players who received significant playing time in 2017-18 – 15 or more minutes per ACC game – and combined to start 91 games overall. They accounted for more than 53 percent of total minutes played and 43 percent of Tech's scoring. Five of those players have two or more years of eligibility remaining.

- Tech has a young roster this season – three freshmen, four sophomores, three juniors and two seniors among scholarship players returning or incoming – but the process of getting old and staying old and building a sustainable winning program is ongoing.

- Player development successes over the past two seasons include Josh Okogie, Ben Lammers and Tadic Jackson, who maximized their skill sets under the current coaching staff, doubling their scoring and rebounding averages over their first two seasons. Okogie went from being ranked the 11th in the state as a HS senior to a first-round NBA draft pick. Last season, 6-9 forward Abdoulaye Gueye developed into an ACC-level contributor, making a similar leap from the non-conference season to conference play. Graduate transfer Brandon Alston, who has a year of eligibility remaining, had similar statistical numbers on the ACC level this season as he compiled in two seasons at Lehigh and was fundamentally sound in his ballhandling and defense.

- With the addition of Phillips and the arrival of Devoe and Moore, as well as the return of Alston and sophomores Alvarado and Haywood, Tech is deep and talented across the perimeter and wings. Tech has Gueye, rising junior Sylvester Ogbonda and Banks to rotate through the post, with Cole and Wright rotating in the big forward position. This gives Pastner the option of playing a bigger lineup when necessary.

- Tech has won 34 games overall and 14 ACC games in Josh Pastner's first two seasons, on par or better than the first two years of each of Josh Pastner's predecessors in the ACC era. For comparison, Buzz Williams won 12 ACC games in his first two years at Virginia Tech, same with Tony Bennett at Virginia. Leonard Hamilton and Mike Krzyzewski each won 10. Pastner has won 14.

- Head coach Josh Pastner's Georgia Tech teams are 5-13 against top-25 teams (5-4 at home) in his first two-plus seasons.

- Tech has sold out 12 games at McCamish Pavilion over the past two-plus seasons, including a facility-record five games in 2017-18. Tech's 28 homecourt wins over Pastner's first two seasons are more than any two-year period in the Jackets' ACC era except the 2015-16 and 2016-17 seasons combined (31). That's 43 home wins over the past three seasons, more than 14 per season.

Jose Can You See

Point guard Jose Alvarado, recruited to Georgia Tech primarily for his winning attitude and determination, was given the green light by head coach Josh Pastner to handle the position, sink or swim, before his freshman season came to an abrupt end Feb. 11 against Duke. He dislocated his left elbow in a fall, and missed the rest of the season.

The Brooklyn native, the first Tech player from the New York area in nearly 20 years, has developed into the Yellow Jackets general on the floor in his sophomore season, leading the Jackets in scoring (13.8 ppg, 15.6 vs. the ACC), assists (3.2 pg, 3.6 vs. the ACC) and steals (1.8 pg, 1.8 vs. the ACC). He also has hit 44.7 percent of his shots from the floor, 11-of-25 from three-point range and 80.6 percent from the free throw line in ACC games to date.

Alvarado's freshman season was full of promise until it came to an abrupt halt on Feb. 11, when he dislocated his left elbow on a hard fall to the floor trying to contest a breakaway shot from Duke's Javin Delaurier. Until then, he had averaged 12.6 points per game to rank second on the team, 3.9 rebounds and 3.3 assists with an assist/turnover ratio of 77/56. He also shot the ball well, making 45 percent of his shots from the floor, 37.4 percent from three-point distance, and 80.2 percent from the foul line on 80 attempts.

Alvarado has posted 27 double-figure scoring games in his career, seven times scoring 20 or more. And the 6-foot playmaker has averaged 34 minutes per game, with eight complete 40-minute games.

He was not the first Tech point guard to earn the starting job as a freshman and handle it well. He follows such Tech greats at Mark Price, Kenny Anderson, Travis Best, Stephon Marbury, Tony Akins and Jarrett Jack, as well as others who started at the position as freshmen without reaching their lofty accomplishments.

Banking Hours

The most significant development in the direction of this year's Georgia Tech team may have occurred Nov. 13, when the NCAA granted James Banks III immediate eligibility after his transfer from Texas.

Tech received that news while conducting its shootaround for its second game of the season, at Tennessee. Arrangements were made to get Banks to Knoxville (transfers to not make road trips), where he contributed five points and seven rebounds in a 66-53 loss.

The personable 6-9 post player has progressed rapidly since that modest start. He posted his first double-double four games later at Northwestern (12 pts/12 rebs), and made his first start the game after that against St. John's (14 pts/12 rebs).

Since ACC play began, Banks has been Tech's leading scorer (15.7 ppg) and rebounder (6.3 rpg) while hitting 58.2 percent of his shots from the floor and 72.7 percent of his free throws. Defensively, he ranks second in the conference in blocked shots (2.67 per game), and has anchored one of the nation's top defensive teams (16th nationally in defensive efficiency according to Kenpom.com).

He has added two more double-doubles, 24/11 against Louisville and 16/10 against Notre Dame, and has six for the season.

In 18 games at Tech, Banks has exceeded his 46-game totals at Texas in every offensive category.

Devoe Getting Comfortable

Freshman guard Michael Devoe, the highest-rated high school prospect Georgia Tech has recruited under Josh Pastner, has steadily improved for the Yellow Jackets since the season began.

The Orlando, Fla., native suffered a setback by missing six weeks of preseason practice with a toe injury and began the season slowly, but has steadily played more minutes and improved his production.

He entered the Tech starting lineup at Arkansas on Dec. 19, a game Tech won, 69-65, and he scored 11 points. From that point to the present, Devoe has averaged 10.3 points and 2.7 assists per game, hitting 45.8 percent of his shots from the floor. He has averaged 35.2 minutes in ACC games.

Miami was the last team to play Tech there, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

Devoe scored 16 points in his ACC debut against Wake Forest, and chipped in 11 with five assists in 39 minutes against Notre Dame.

Out of Africa

Georgia Tech got a big lift from an unlikely source once ACC play began last season, junior forward Abdoulaye Gueye (pronounced "AB-doo-lie GAY"). During the month of January and into February, the Yellow Jackets saw the 6-9 native of Senegal (by way of Birmingham, Ala.) become a legitimate offensive force, and not just a disruptor on defense and on the boards.

Known as "A.D." to his teammates and coaches, the likeable Gueye took advantage of a much-improved jump hook shot to average 6.5 points (50 percent from the floor) and 4.5 rebounds in in ACC games.

Gueye has made a similar jump from non-conference to ACC play this season as well, averaging 9.3 points and 4.5 rebounds while hitting 15-of-29 shots from the floor.

Tech's BFFs (Big Freshman Forwards)

Georgia Tech's four-man freshman class in 2017-18 was not highly rated in terms of stars, but head coach Josh Pastner viewed the group of Jose Alvarado, Curtis Haywood II, Evan Cole and Moses Wright as a solid foundation on which to build the Yellow Jackets' program.

With Alvarado and Haywood, the more highly-rated players in the group, out with injuries for the last month of the season, the other two members of the class received an opportunity to grow. After Tech's Jan. 24 loss at Florida State, Pastner put Cole and Wright in a "red-shirt" program than entailed extra strength and conditioning sessions and extra skill work on the court in addition to the team's regular practices. It paid off for them and for the Jackets.

On Feb. 11 against Duke, Cole and Wright played their first extended minutes of the ACC season, and they didn't disappoint.

In the second half of that game, the duo combined for 19 points, 12 rebounds, four assists and three blocks in 41 minutes as Tech pared a 26-point second-half deficit down to 11 in an 80-69 loss. As a result, they combined for eight starts over the remainder of the season, and have both started games at the big forward spot this season.

Jackets' Signing Class Ranked No. 46

Georgia Tech's 2018 signing class was ranked No. 46 in the nation in a composite ranking published by 247Sports.

Tech signed a trio of high school prospects — 6-3 guard Michael Devoe of Orlando, Fla., 6-7 forward Khalid Moore of New York, N.Y., and 6-9 forward Kristian Sjolund of Kongsberg, Norway by way of Katy, Texas - to national letters-of-intent during the November signing period.

All three prospects are highly regarded for their talent level, versatility and upside as head coach Josh Pastner continued to build the Yellow Jackets' program.

Thin Gold Line

Some of Georgia Tech's most successful teams in the Atlantic Coast Conference era have had thin benches and a trio of players who averaged more than 35 minutes per game in ACC play, beginning with the Yellow Jackets' first ACC Championship team in 1985, dubbed the "Thin Gold Line."

Devoe, a four-star prospect, was ranked No. 62 in the Rivals 150, and No. 56 in the ESPN 100 (No. 15 point guard in the nation). He led Oak Ridge High School in Orlando, Fla., to a berth in the state quarterfinals as a junior before enrolling at Montverde Academy for his senior year, helping them to a national championship.

Moore was rated a 3-star prospect in the composite 247Sports ranking (No. 51 small forward, No. 5 in New York), as well as a 4-star prospect by ESPN (No. 42 small forward, No. 3 in New York). He attended the same high school that sent All-American Kenny Anderson to Georgia Tech in 1989, and he was a teammate of current Tech sophomore Jose Alvarado on the New York Rens AAU team.

Sjolund was rated a 3-star prospect in the composite 247Sports ranking (No. 56 small forward, No. 18 in Texas), as well as a 4-star by ESPN (No. 36 small forward, No. 17 in Texas). He was born in the state of Washington but grew up in Norway, and has lived in the United States since 2014. He played for the Shooting Stars Red AAU team. Sjolund played with Norway in the 2015 FIBA u16 European Championships, averaging 18.7 points and 5.9 rebounds a game. Then in 2017 he played in the U18 Nordic Championship and scored 7.2 points a game.

Tech's class rank doesn't account for transfers Shembari Phillips, a 6-3 guard, and James Banks, a 6-9 center.

Jackets Add Didenko, Usher

David Didenko, a 6-8, 230-pound forward from Boca Raton, Fla., who attends Palm Beach State College, signed a national letter-of-intent with Georgia Tech during the early signing period in November, while Jordan Usher, a 6-7, 225-pound forward, has transferred from Southern California and enrolled at Tech for the spring semester.

Didenko attended Boca Raton Community High School before enrolling this year at Palm Beach State, a junior college in Boca Raton. A full academic qualifier in high school, Didenko will

There will be an instant replay of each teleconference on the Conference's internet site TheACC.com each Monday afternoon.

Georgia Tech head coach Josh Pastner will be on the teleconference at 10:50 a.m. each week.

Coaches that play on Monday in January and February are not required to participate in that day's call. Coach Pastner will be on every Monday at the same time. The teleconference schedule for each Monday will differ for the other 14 head coaches, depending on what teams play that Monday night.

enroll at Tech in the summer and have three years of eligibility with the Yellow Jackets.

Born in Russia, Didenko moved to New York in August, 2010, at the age of 10, and is a United States citizen. Prior to his enrollment at Boca Raton Community High School, Didenko attended Northeast High School as a junior, and Montverde Academy for his ninth- and 10th-grade years.

Usher comes to Tech after playing a season and a half for the Trojans, departing from USC after the recently completed fall semester and enrolling for the spring semester. He must complete a year of residency at Georgia Tech and will become eligible to play for the Yellow Jackets following the conclusion of the fall, 2019 term. He will be eligible for the remainder of the 2019-20 season and all of the 2020-21 season.

A native of Canton, Ga., Usher played in all 36 games with two starts for the Trojans as a freshman in 2017-18, averaging 4.8 points and 2.0 rebounds per game while connecting on 40.9 percent of his three-point field goal attempts. In 2018-19, Usher played in 12 games and made two starts, averaging 8.6 points and 3.7 rebounds. A 4-star prospect ranked No. 104 in the nation by 247Sports, Usher played his senior season (2016-17) at Wheeler High School in Marietta, Ga., and prior to that, he attended Sequoyah High School in Canton.

Wire-to-Wire

Though he has expanded his playing rotation this year to reflect the growing level of talent within the program, head coach Josh Pastner remains committed to a tight playing rotation, reminiscent of the way Bobby Cremins coached the Yellow Jackets over his 19 seasons.

Tech has utilized its bench for an average of 50 minutes in its ACC games thus far after averaging 78 minutes in non-conference play.

Jose Alvarado, who had played 96.7 percent of possible ACC minutes prior to his Feb. 11 injury last season, is averaging 37.2 minutes in ACC games this season and has played 35 or more minutes nine times this season.

Freshman Michael Devoe has averaged 36 minutes in ACC games, and James Banks III has averaged 35.

Last season, Josh Okogie played 92.3 percent of possible minutes in ACC games last season, while Ben Lammers played 90.2 percent. Lammers ranked No. 1 among centers nationally in minutes per game. Alvarado had ranked fifth among freshmen nationally in percentage of minutes played and minutes per game before he was injured.

The threesome had 20 complete games combined in 2017-18 (eight for Alvarado, six for Lammers, five for Okogie), and Tadic Jackson joined the group by playing 40 minutes at Clemson. Tech had at least one player play the full 40 in 12 of 19 ACC games (regular season plus tournament).

NOTE: Between the Cremins era and the arrival of Pastner, only one Georgia Tech player played every minute of a game, regulation or overtime, and that was Marcus Georges-Hunt on Feb. 20, 2016, in a win over Notre Dame at home. In the final 15 seasons of Cremins' tenure (1985-86 through 1999-2000), a total of 196 players logged a 40-minute game.

Winning Starts at Home

Georgia Tech and head coach Josh Pastner have made a priority of making McCamish Pavilion a real homecourt advantage for the program, and the Yellow Jackets made a good start on that by setting a program record for wins at home (17) in 2017-18, which included a 7-2 ACC record and two NIT victories.

Tech is 13-7 against ACC teams at home under Pastner, and that includes a 5-4 mark against ranked opponents.

The Jackets' 60-53 win over No. 25 Notre Dame on Jan. 10 was just the latest triumph in a list that includes eventual NCAA champion North Carolina (No. 9 at the time), No. 6 Florida State and No. 15 Notre Dame last season, as well as a 64-54 win over No. 15 Miami on Jan. 3 this season. Tech's only losses came to No. 9 Louisville last January and to No. 2 Virginia and No. 18 Clemson this season.

Tech is 37-13 at McCamish Pavilion under Pastner.

Tech-UGA Game Moves to November Next Two Seasons

The Georgia Tech and Georgia basketball teams have signed an agreement to play the next two games of the series the week before Thanksgiving, giving both teams an opportunity to play the game at home in front of their student bodies before the fall semester ends.

The teams will face off next season on Wednesday, Nov. 20, at Stegeman Coliseum in Athens, and the following season on Thursday, Nov. 19, at McCamish Pavilion in Atlanta.

In the 194-game history of the series, Tech and Georgia have played their game before Thanksgiving only twice, on Nov. 15, 2013 in Athens and Nov. 14, 2014 in Atlanta. The Yellow Jackets won both games and lead the all-time series, 105-89.

As Southeastern Conference foes from 1932-64, the games were played in January, February and March. After Tech left the ACC, most of the games remained in January and February until the rivalry became a late December fixture at the Omni arena in downtown Atlanta from 1981-94. The series has been played on the two campuses every year since then, mostly in December.

Tech to Play in 2019 Diamond Head Classic

Georgia Tech will make the fifth trip to the state of Hawai'i in program history next December when it will compete in the 2019 Hawaiian Airlines Diamond Head Classic in Honolulu, Hawai'i.

The field for the 2019 Hawaiian Airlines Diamond Head Classic features Ball State (Mid-American), Boise State (Mountain West), Georgia Tech (ACC), tournament host school Hawai'i (Big West), Houston (AAC), Portland (WCC), UTEP (Conference USA), and Washington (Pac-12). The 11th annual event will be played at the Stan Sheriff Center on the campus of the University of Hawai'i. Dates and times will be announced at a later date.

Three teams in the 2019 field were a part of the postseason last season — Boise State (NIT), Houston (NCAA) and Washington (NIT). Meanwhile, five teams will make their first-ever appearance in the Hawaiian Airlines Diamond Head Classic.

Tech has a 10-5 record all time in four previous tournament events in Hawai'i, including a 6-3 mark in three appearances in the Rainbow Classic — 1984 champions, 1988, 1994 — which also were held at the University of Hawai'i. The Yellow Jackets also played in the 1998 Big Island Classic in Hilo, and the 2006 Maui Invitational.

Four Tech Alumni on NBA Rosters

Since 1982, Georgia Tech has produced 19 first-round NBA draft picks and 44 draft picks overall. A total of 38 Georgia Tech alumni have played in the NBA.

Four former Georgia Tech basketball stars were on NBA rosters at the start of the 2018-19 season, including guard Josh Okogie, who was drafted 20th overall by for the Minnesota Timberwolves.

Iman Shumpert, a seven-year NBA veteran, played his third full season in Cleveland after helping the Cavaliers win the NBA championship in 2016, and was traded before the deadline to Sacramento.

Thaddeus Young, an 11-year NBA veteran, is now in his third season with the Indiana Pacers after playing seven seasons in Philadelphia, one in Minnesota and two in Brooklyn.

Derrick Favors has emerged as a key figure in his eighth season in Utah and re-signed with the team after becoming a free agent.

Arts and Letters

Beginning with Moe Miller and Lance Storrs in the summer of 2011, every four-year senior in the Georgia Tech program has graduated with the exception of the Yellow Jackets' 2018 two seniors. Tadic Jackson and Ben Lammers, were both on track to compete their degree requirements in the spring (Jackson) and fall (Lammers) semesters, but both received offers to play overseas.

Derek Craig and Nick Foreman received their Tech degrees in 2012, as did the 2013 senior class of Mfon Udofia, who finished his business administration degree work in the summer, and Pierre Jordan, who completed his Masters degree requirements in building construction in the spring. Brandon Reed graduated in the summer with his management degree before transferring back to Arkansas State to play his final year of basketball.

All three of Tech's four-year seniors in 2013-14 - Kammeon Holsey, Daniel Miller and Jason Morris - graduated that spring. Robert Sampson, the Jackets' only undergraduate scholarship senior in 2014-15, graduated in the spring.

From the 2015-16 squad, Marcus Georges-Hunt walked the stage at commencement in May, accomplishing the rare feat of graduating in four years. Point guard Travis Jorgenson, who elected not to use his final year of eligibility, received his degree in December of 2017.

From the 2016-17 team, Josh Heath, Corey Heyward (fifth-year because of an injury redshirt in 2012-13) and Quinton Stephens all graduated in May of 2017, while Rand Rowland finished his requirements and received his degree in December of 2016. Both graduate transfers, Kellen McCormick (summer of 2017) and Jordan Price (fall of 2017), received their Masters degrees.

Georges-Hunt and current senior Tadic Jackson have made the Academic All-ACC team twice, and the Yellow Jackets have had at least one player named to that team since it was instituted for the 2010-11 season.

Tech's men's basketball team has recorded the highest Academic Progress Report scores the last five years since the NCAA began tracking academic performance in 2004-05. The Jackets scored a perfect team single year APR score of 1000 three straight years from 2011-13.

Welcome to The Hank

Georgia Tech is playing its seventh season in McCamish Pavilion, which was for all intents and purposes, brand new when it opened for the 2012-13 season. The only physical elements of McCamish Pavilion that remain from the venerable Alexander Memorial Coliseum are the roof, which was re-covered, and the 32 steel ribs that support it.

The capacity of McCamish Pavilion is 8,600, including 1,665 seats in the new balcony level and 6,935 seats in the lower seating bowl. There are no suites, but there is a premium club area that seats 500. Alexander Memorial Coliseum seated 9,191 spectators in its final configuration.

The most impressive features of McCamish Pavilion are its grand entrance, which fronts 10th and Fowler Streets, the ability for patrons to view the court from the main concourse all the way around, and the theatrical lighting system, which concentrates light on the court while leaving the seating areas dark, modeled after the Staples Center in Los Angeles and Madison Square Garden in New York.

Tech played 55 seasons in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, compiling a record of 556-194 (.741). Miami was the last team to play Tech in Alexander Memorial Coliseum, a game Tech won, and was the first ACC team to play in McCamish Pavilion on Jan. 5, which Miami won. For the 2011-12 season, Tech played its home games at Philips Arena and the Arena at Gwinnett.

Tech's NCAA Tournament History

Georgia Tech played in the NCAA Tournament five times in 11 seasons under head coach Paul Hewitt and has played in the event 16 times in its history. Fifteen of those appearances have occurred from 1985 to the present.

Tech has a record of 23-16 in NCAA Tournament play, highlighted by its 2004 trip to the NCAA title game as well as a Final Four berth in 1990. The Yellow Jackets have reached the NCAA Sweet 16 seven times (1960, 1985, 1986, 1990, 1992, 1996, 2004).

The 2004 and 2005 appearances were the Yellow Jackets' first back-to-back appearances since Bobby Cremins led the Institute to the Big Dance nine straight years from 1985-93.

Georgia Tech has won at least one game in 11 of its 16 NCAA Tournament appearances.

Tech's ACC Tournament History

Georgia Tech has played in 39 ACC Tournaments, and has a 26-36 all-time record in the event. The Yellow Jackets have won three championships, in 1985 (Atlanta), 1990 (Charlotte) and 1993 (Charlotte).

Tech has been a runner-up four times (1986, 1996, 2005, 2010). The 1986, 1996 and 2010 runs to the finals occurred in Greensboro. Tech also made the finals in 2005 at the Verizon Center in Washington, D.C.

Tech was 0-2 in the ACC Tournament under coach Dwane Morrison, 15-16 under Bobby Cremins (including all three titles), 9-11 under Paul Hewitt (runner-up in 2005 and 2010), 2-5 under Brian Gregory, and 0-2 under Josh Pastner.

BIO UPDATES

Head Coach Josh Pastner • 3rd season

Josh Pastner, who guided Memphis to five post-season berths in seven seasons as the Tigers' head coach, was introduced as Georgia Tech's 14th head basketball coach on April 8, 2016, and wasted no time in getting the Yellow Jackets back to the post-season.

While coaching Tech to 34 wins and building the Jackets' talent base for the future, Pastner has tirelessly promoted the program on campus and throughout the city of Atlanta in an effort to re-create the major homecourt atmosphere that surrounded the Yellow Jackets throughout the 1980s, 1990s and into the middle of the 2000s. The result has been 29 wins and eight sellouts in two seasons at McCamish Pavilion, including a program-record 17 home wins in his first year.

In his first season at the helm, his Yellow Jacket team defied all pre-season expectations by winning 21 games, including four in the National Invitation Tournament. Tech posted an 8-10 ACC record, which included victories over No. 9 North Carolina, No. 6 Florida State and No. 14 Notre Dame, who all finished among the top four in the ACC regular season. He was named Coach of the Year in the ACC and in NABC District 2.

Implementing a high-energy style of play and creative offensive and defensive schemes, Pastner and his staff guided the Yellow Jackets all the way to the finals of the NIT for the first time in 46 years. Two of his players earned all-Atlantic Coast Conference honors; junior center Ben Lammers was named second-team All-ACC and ACC Defensive Player of the Year, while freshman guard Josh Okogie was named to the ACC All-Freshman team.

Though hampered by several significant injuries and other issues in 2017-18, Tech still was able to knock off a pair of top-25 teams while Lammers and Okogie again earned conference honors, and Okogie developed into an NBA first-round draft choice.

Pastner, who turned 41 in the fall, compiled a 167-73 record over seven seasons as the head coach at Memphis, where the Tigers earned bids to the NCAA Tournament four times. He tied for the 10th most wins for a head coach in his first seven seasons in Division I basketball history, and is the second winningest active coach under the age of 40 in NCAA Division I.

Despite his young age, Pastner has been involved in basketball at the Division I level for 21 years, as a player and an assistant coach at Arizona, and as an assistant coach and the head coach at Memphis. He has been a part of teams that have won 524 games, played in 17 NCAA Tournaments and 19 total post-season events. Teams he has been involved with have won 12 conference tournament or regular-season championships, advanced to seven Sweet Sixteens, five Elite Eights, two Final Fours and two NCAA championship games.

As an NCAA head or assistant coach and an AAU head coach, he has coached nearly 25 NBA draft selections.

Pastner's Memphis teams averaged 23.9 wins per season and compiled a conference regular-season record of 82-36, including a conference winning streak of 28 games. The Tigers went 11-4 in Conference USA and American Athletic Conference tournaments, including three championships.

He guided Memphis to five post-season berths, the NIT in 2010 and the NCAA Tournament in 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014. Pastner twice won Conference USA Coach of the Year honors (2010, 2013) by various organizations and news media.

Pastner was born in Glen Dale, W.Va., and grew up in Kingwood, Texas. He earned his bachelor's degree in family studies in December of 1998, in just two and a half years, from Arizona and his master's degree in teaching and teacher education from Arizona in December of 1999, all while lettering four years in basketball under head coach Lute Olson.

He married the former Kerri Lamas of Sierra Vista, Ariz., in 2009. He has a stepson (Ethan) and three daughters, Payten, Kamryn and Harper.
