Greater Than the Sum of its Parts?

Heppler optimistic his Yellow Jackets have the collective talent to contend

With the return of four starters from a team that reached match play at the NCAA Championship a year ago, Georgia Tech has one of its most experienced teams ever.

Head coach Bruce Heppler, whose program extended its string of consecutive years in the NCAA Tournament to 13 last spring and finished the year ranked No. 5 in the Golfstat final rankings, continues to build on a program which has won the Atlantic Coast Conference title four times in five years, and has won it outright each of the last two.

The Yellow Jackets lost only one senior - Chesson Hadley, an honorable mention All-American and a two-time All-ACC selection who won medalist honors at last year's conference championship and tied for 15th in medal play at the NCAA Championship.

Among the returnees are two other honorable mention All-Americans, seniors John-Tyler Griffin and Paul Haley, another all-ACC choice in junior James White, and another senior in Kyle Scott, who had three top-10 finishes.

There's no obvious horse among those four players (Griffin had the low stroke average among Tech's returnees at 71.94), but they give the Yellow Jackets a deep group who can contend on a regular basis.

"We played really well in our team qualifying event," said Heppler, entering his 16th year at the helm of the Yellow Jackets. "I thought it was the best golf we've played collectively here at home in two or three years. I feel very good about this team. As I've said many times, the better we play at home bodes well for tournaments."

Griffin, who has always had the ability to handle the tougher golf courses on which Tech has played, was as consistent as any player on the team a year ago, finishing in the top 20 seven times in 12 events, six of those in the top 10, and was ranked No. 23 nationally at the end of the year. The Wilson, N.C., native broke into the Jackets lineup at the Southern Highlands Collegiate in the spring of his freshman year and has not missed an event since.

The other two seniors were relative newcomers last year, but played like veterans.

Haley earned his first regular playing time since the 2007-08 season and made it count, posting top-20 finishes in five of 11 events, including a tie for fourth at the ACC Championship and a tie for ninth at the NCAA Championship. Usually playing from the No. 3 or 4 position, the Dallas, Texas, native averaged 73.43 strokes per round, fifth on the team.

Scott also played in 11 events, earning four top-20 finishes, including a pair of top-10s, and had the team's fourth-best stroke average at 72.00. The Johannesburg, South Africa, native tied for 12th at the ACC Championship and won a point for the Yellow Jackets against national champion Augusta State in NCAA match play.

With four top-10 finishes in his first two years, White has been a solid regular as well. A former state high school champion from Acworth, Ga., White has played well when it matters, twice finishing in the top 20 of the ACC Championship and winning a point against Augusta State in last year's NCAA match play. He finished the year third on the team in stroke average at 71.43.

Good competition for the traveling squad on a weekly basis comes from Minghao Wang, a Chinese-born junior who attended high school in Reunion, Fla., Seth Reeves, a freshman who red-shirted last year and was one of the top-rated junior players in Georgia (Duluth), and William Miller, a junior from Venetia, Pa., who has three events under his belt.

Wang was chosen to represent his home country in the fall at the World Amateur Team Championship, and he has one top-20 finish in eight career events. Reeves, a lefthander who has played well in team qualifying events, led his Peachtree Ridge team to a AAAAA state title in 2009 and was the individual state runner-up to teammate James White in 2008.

Bo Andrews, a rising sophomore who played in six events last year and had a 75.88 stroke average, will red-shirt this year.

Heppler brought in only one freshman, Richard Werenski from South Hadley, Mass., but he enrolled in January and became ready to compete in the fall after a successful summer. Werenski, who attended the Hank Haney International Golf Academy and completed his academic work at the Heritage Academy in Hilton Head, S.C., qualified for match play at the U.S. Amateur this summer at Chambers Bay and finished in the top 10 of three other amateur events.

"I think our depth this year will be better," said Heppler. "Ming's coming off an injury and is healthy. Seth is coming off a red-shirt year and is getting better, and William is also playing better. Those guys will push everybody, and we need to see some incremental improvement from the four that played in the NAAs."

"I felt at the end of the spring, we were playing well enough to win a national championship, and if we can start from there this fall, we'll have another chance this year out in Stillwater. A lot of those teams that were in the top 10 at the end of last year return four or five starters, too, so it should be a competitive year."

The lineup that hits the road will play four times within the borders of their home state, including the 22nd annual Carpet Capital Collegiate in Rocky Face, Ga., the 5th United States Collegiate Championship at the Golf Club of Georgia in Alpharetta, and the Callaway Collegiate Match Play championship, which this year comes to Hawks Ridge Golf Club in Ball Ground, Ga., The Yellow Jackets also will host a smaller event next April at the Golf Club of Georgia involving six teams.

Heppler, in his 16th season on the Flats, will take his team to the usual spring stops on the Kohala Coast of the Big Island in Hawaii, the Puerto Rico Classic in Rio Grande, Puerto Rico, and the Southern Highlands Collegiate Masters in Las Vegas, Nev.

All in all, Heppler is confident that his players' dedication and enthusiasm will overcome any perceived shortfall in track record, and that any one of his five players on a given week can put forth a contending performance and all five can post competitive scores.

Bruce Heppler

Head Coach

16th year at Tech

Seven ACC Championships

If a consistently high level of success over a long period of time is the measure of a great program, then Georgia Tech's golf program under Bruce Heppler would certainly meet the standard. One of the top coaches in collegiate golf, Heppler has guided the Yellow Jackets to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1998, and helped author eight top-8 finishes in the Finals, including three runner-up showings.

During his tenure, Tech has won or shared seven Atlantic Coast Conference titles, including the title outright in 2009 and 2010 and a share of the championship in 2006 and 2007. Only two ACC coaches have led their teams to more ACC titles than has Heppler. The Yellow Jackets have captured or shared 31 team titles overall.

He was named ACC Coach of the Year in 2009 for the fifth time, more than any coach in ACC history except one.

Since 2000, the Yellow Jackets have finished in the top 10 of the final Golfstat rankings eight times, and in the final Golfweek/Sagarin top 10 nine times. Tech has not finished lower than 14th in either ranking in any year.

All these accomplishments, and more, have factored into Tech's golf program being judged the best in the nation in the September, 2005, issue of Golf Digest magazine, and No. 2 in the 2006 edition.

Heppler has recruited and developed his share of star players as well. The Yellow Jackets have had at least a pair of All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorees in 12 of the last 13 years. Tech has had at least two players earn All-America honors 11 of the last 12 years, and Cameron Tringale became the Jackets' ninth first-team selection in 2009. Three of his players, Matt Kuchar, Bryce Molder and Troy Matteson, have been named national players of the year.

Seven of his Tech players are members of the PGA Tour, including Matt Kuchar, Troy Matteson, Bryce Molder, Nicholas Thompson and Matt Weibring. Three others, including Roberto Castro, Kevin Larsen and Chan Song, are also playing professionally either in the United States or abroad.

During the summer of 2003, Heppler served as the head coach of the United States' Palmer Cup team, which faced off with a team of European collegiate players in Kiawah Island, S.C. Kuchar, Molder, Castro, Hadley and Tringale have all played for the USA in Palmer Cup competition.

On the conference level since 1985, when the Yellow Jackets won their first ACC Championship, Tech has earned more NCAA Championship berths than any team except Clemson. The Jackets have earned more top-10, more top-5 and more top-2 finishes in NCAA Championship competition than any other ACC team. Tech also has had more All-America selections (54) than any other ACC team during the same period except the Tigers.

Nationally, only Arizona State, Florida and Oklahoma State have had greater success in NCAA Championship competition and in All-America selections over the same period of time. Since 1997, however, when Heppler got the Tech program back on its feet, the Yellow Jackets have fared just as well head-to-head against all those teams in the NCAA Championship (8-4 vs. Arizona State, 6-6 vs. Oklahoma State, 8-4 vs. Florida).

His players have been just as successful in the classroom. Last spring, Tech's golf program was recognized with a perfect Academic Progress Report score of 1000 for the third straight year.

Eleven different players under Heppler have been named All-America Scholars by the Golf Coaches Association of America, which requires a minimum 3.2 GPA and participation in at least 75 percent of a team's events. Two, All-Americans Bryce Molder and Roberto Castro, have received the NCAA's Top VIII Award, an honor given to eight student-athletes from all sports each year and recognizes those who excel in their sport and in the classroom, and exhibit high character, leadership and service to others.

It didn't take long for Heppler to restore the glory to Tech's golf program following a couple of lean years in the mid-1990s. After recruiting future All-Americans Kuchar and Molder, Heppler had the Yellow Jackets back in the NCAA Tournament in his third season, where they finished third, just four shots off the lead. Tech also was ranked No. 1 in the nation during the course of the year and won the NCAA East Regional.

Even better things were to come as Tech captured the first of its ACC titles under Heppler in 1999. In 2000 the Yellow Jackets came the closest to an NCAA Championship in their history, tying for first after 72

holes with Oklahoma State before losing a one-hole playoff. On the year, Tech captured four team titles and finished in the top four in each event it entered.

During the 2001 campaign, the Jackets won their second ACC crown in three years, the second under Heppler, captured a school-record-tying five tournament wins during the year and finished fourth in the NCAA Championship. For his efforts, Heppler was named ACC Coach of the Year and guided three All-Americans in Molder, who was also the consensus National Player of the Year, Matteson and Kris Mikkelsen.

In 2002, Heppler led the Yellow Jackets to arguably the best season in school history, as Tech captured seven team titles and finished second at the NCAA Championship. In the process, Heppler earned National and ACC Coach of the Year honors. During the year, the Jackets won the school's eighth ACC title, while placing all five starters on GCAA All-America teams. Under Heppler's tutelage, Matteson became the third Tech player to win the national individual title, the first player to win the event in its current team format.

A 50-year-old native of St. George, Utah, Heppler has demonstrated his strength as a recruiter by attracting both National Players of the Year during 1997-98 and the ACC Players of the Year for 1998, 1999, 2000 and 2001. His first recruit at Tech was Kuchar, who won the 1997 U.S. Amateur Championship and was named the ACC Player of the Year and the Fred Haskins National Player of the Year in 1998. Molder was the Jack Nicklaus Player of the Year in 1998 and in 2001, along with being named the ACC Player of the Year in 1999, 2000 and 2001.

Heppler, a dean's list student at Brigham Young, earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from BYU in 1985, and later received his master's degree in sport management from Massachusetts in 1988. He played golf for one year at Dixie Junior College in St. George before transferring to Brigham Young.

He became a certified public accountant in 1985 and spent one year in the firm of Huber and Associates in Salt Lake City, then began his collegiate coaching career in 1987 as the men and women's golf coach at Amherst. He then spent two years as an administrative assistant at UNLV, becoming the assistant men's golf coach at UNLV in 1989. He spent two years in that role before moving to Oklahoma State in 1991.

"Georgia Tech is a great fit for me," said Heppler. "This is one of the five or six best programs right now if you look around at college golf's successful teams since the '90s. We have a lot of alumni on the PGA Tour, which is great for the school. Young people can see they have a chance to be player of the year or win a national championship here. It's a great school academically, which is a real draw with the general pool of talent out there interested in playing college golf."

Heppler is married to the former Traci Schull of Southbury, Conn., and they have a son, Zakary, and a daughter, Moriah. Heppler is actively involved with Atlanta Alliance for Children and is a member of the Golf Coaches Association of America.

Christian Newton

Assistant Coach
4th year at Tech

Formerly an assistant coach at Alabama and Georgia Southern, Christian Newton joined the Georgia Tech staff as assistant golf coach on August 1, 2007, and is now in his fourth year with the Yellow Jackets.

Involved not only in coaching and the strength and conditioning programs for Tech's players, Newton, 31, also assists Heppler in recruiting and coordinates the Yellow Jackets' golf booster club and fund-raising efforts.

He has been a finalist each of the last two years for the James Strickland Assistant Coach of the Year Award, presented by the Golf Coaches Association of America to the nation's top assistant coach. In six years as an assistant coach, he has helped guide his teams to the NCAA Championship four times, including both years at Tech.

Newton, who worked at Alabama for two years (2005-07), helped coach the Crimson Tide to a sixth-place finish at the 2007 NCAA Championship and was involved in all facets of the Crimson Tide program. He helped revamp the golf booster program and golf camp while assisting in the development of all-Southeastern Conference players Michael Thompson, Gator Todd and Matthew Swan.

A native of Lyons, Ga., Newton was an assistant coach at his alma mater, Georgia Southern, from 2003-2005, helping the Eagles to a tie for 13th at the 2005 NCAA Championship. He also assisted in coaching two All-Americans, Aron Price and David Palm, the Eagles' first All-Americans since the 1989-90 season.

Newton has worked as a golf shop assistant at Southern Links Golf Club in Statesboro and as assistant ticket manager for the AT&T Classic/Atlanta Classic Foundation. He competed on the Developmental Professional Golf Tour in 2002.

Newton earned a bachelor's degree in sports management from Georgia Southern in 2002, and completed his master's in sports management there in 2004. He played golf four years (1997-2001) for the Eagles, earned all-Southern Conference honors in 2001 and also played in the NCAA Championship that spring.

Newton was married in January, 2009, to Jessica O'Dwyer of Atlanta.

Dan Radakovich

Director of Athletics

Fifth Year at Georgia Tech

Now in his fifth year as Director of Athletics, Dan Radakovich has helped take a Georgia Tech program rich in athletic tradition to a higher level of excellence and national respect.

Since Radakovich arrived on The Flats in 2006, Georgia Tech has competed for conference and national championships across the board, Yellow Jacket student-athletes have excelled in the classroom and Tech's facilities rate among the finest in the nation.

Radakovich signed a new five-year contract in June of 2010.

The 2009-10 academic year was one of the most successful campaigns in nearly 120 years of Georgia Tech athletics:

- Yellow Jacket teams combined to produce a won-loss record of 213-80 (.727), the highest winning percentage at Georgia Tech in modern history.
- Georgia Tech participated in NCAA postseason play and/or bowl games in football, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's tennis, volleyball, baseball, softball and golf.
- Tech was the only school in the country to play in a BCS bowl game (Orange Bowl), host an NCAA baseball regional and advance to the second round of the NCAA men's basketball tournament.
- The Yellow Jackets won four ACC championships – in football, golf, softball and women's tennis.
- Academically, Georgia Tech's Academic Progress Report (APR) scores improved significantly for the third consecutive year. Five Yellow Jacket teams were recognized nationally by the NCAA for producing an APR score that ranked among the top 10 percent in each respective sport.
- The football team won the ACC championship outright for the first time since 1990, played in a bowl game for the 13th straight year, two Yellow Jackets were taken in the first round of the NFL draft, and Paul Johnson became the first coach ever to be named ACC Coach of the Year in his first two seasons in the conference.
- The men's and women's basketball teams both won 23 games and both earned NCAA Tournament bids. Coach Paul Hewitt's team advanced to the championship game of the ACC Tournament.
- The baseball and softball teams both earned top-eight national seeds and hosted NCAA regionals. Women's tennis also hosted NCAA 1st- and 2nd-round matches.
- The baseball team produced a school record-tying 10 draft picks.
- The ACC champion golf team advanced to the final eight of the NCAA championships.
- The volleyball team, under first-year coach Tonya Johnson, earned the program's first NCAA bid since 2004.
- Men's swimming (Gal Nevo) and men's track and field (Alphonso Jordan and Steve Marcelle) produced some of the most successful and most decorated athletes in those sports' history at Tech.

The construction of new facilities or upgrades to existing ones has been a focus of Radakovich's tenure.

This past year, Radakovich began laying the groundwork for a proposed basketball replacement facility that will eventually be one of the top basketball complexes in the ACC. The previous year, Shirley Clements Mewborn Field, home for Tech's softball program, was unveiled prior to the start of the 2009 season and was ultimately showcased on ESPN when the Yellow Jackets hosted an NCAA Super Regional.

The Zelnak Center, a practice facility for Georgia Tech basketball, was in place prior to the start of the 2009-10 season. Bobby Dodd Stadium continues to receive cosmetic and functional upgrades, including a new video board last fall. Other facility upgrades under Radakovich include the transformation of Tech's former football locker room on the ground floor of the Edge Athletic Center into a new Technology Center, which benefits academic support services for all Yellow Jacket student-athletes.

Outside the competition venues, Radakovich has directed an overhaul of the annual giving and donation structure for Tech athletics, anchored by the TECH Fund, which establishes minimum giving levels tied to season tickets in various seating areas of Bobby Dodd Stadium and Alexander Memorial Coliseum.

Radakovich also initiated the Athletic Director's Initiative Fund, started in June, 2006, which has raised in cash and pledges more than $12 million. A recent gift from the Henry F. McCamish, Jr. family for the renovation of Alexander Memorial Coliseum, could be worth up to $15 million toward that project.

Named Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics on February 22, 2006, Radakovich came to Georgia Tech after five years as senior associate athletics director at LSU (2001-06). He previously served as the Athletics Director at American University in 2000-01. That followed stints as associate athletics director at South Carolina (1994-2000) and Long Beach State (1989-94) as well as two years as the athletics business manager at Miami (FL) (1983-85).

Just the seventh Director of Athletics in Tech history, Radakovich was named by then-Institute President Dr. Wayne Clough to succeed Dave Braine, who retired after nearly nine years in the post. Radakovich also follows in the footsteps of storied names such as John Heisman, Bobby Dodd and Homer Rice.

A graduate of Center High School near Aliquippa, Pa., and a member of its Alumni Hall of Fame, Radakovich, 52, became a football letterwinner and student coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, where he graduated in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in finance. He was enshrined into the Beaver County Sports Hall of Fame in April, 2008, and was recognized as a Distinguished Alumni from IUP in March, 2009.

Radakovich added a master's degree in business administration from Miami (FL) in 1982. He also completed the Sports Management Institute's executive education program in 1992.

He is married to the former Marcie McDonald, and the couple has two children, Christian (20) and Grant (16). Christian is a junior Industrial Engineering major at Georgia Tech.

Dr. G.P. "Bud"
Peterson
Institute President

In April 2009, following a unanimous vote by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents, Dr. G. P. "Bud" Peterson became the 11th president of the Georgia Institute of Technology. In this capacity he oversees a top-ten public research university with more than 19,000 students and more than $500 million in sponsored funding.

Throughout his career, Peterson has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government, and academic task forces and committees.

A distinguished scientist, Peterson was selected in 2008 by President George W. Bush to serve on the National Science Board through 2014. The Board oversees the National Science Foundation (NSF) and advises the President and Congress on national policy related to science and engineering research and education.

Peterson earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1975, a bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1977, and a master's degree in mechanical engineering in 1980, all from Kansas State University. He also earned a doctorate in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University in 1985.

In 1981 and 1982, Peterson served as a visiting research scientist at the NASA Johnson Space Center. In 1985, he joined the faculty of the Mechanical Engineering Department at Texas A&M, where he conducted research and taught courses in thermodynamics and heat transfer.

In 1990 he was named the Halliburton Professor of Mechanical Engineering and in 1991 was named the College of Engineering's Tenneco Professor. In 1993, Peterson was invited to serve as program director for the NSF's Thermal Transport and Thermal Processing Division, where he received the NSF Award for Outstanding Management.

From June 1993 through July 1996, he served as head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering at Texas A&M University and in 1996 was appointed executive associate dean of the College of Engineering, where he also served as associate vice chancellor for Engineering for the Texas A&M University System. Previous leadership positions Peterson has held include provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y. and chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder.

He also has served as a member of a number of congressional task forces, research councils, and advisory boards, including the Office of Naval Research, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of Energy, the National Research Council, and the National Academy of Engineering.

Most recently, Peterson served as a member of the Board of Directors and vice president for Education for the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA). He is currently serving on a number of national accreditation agencies including the American Association of Colleges & Universities, the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, and the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, with a focus on improving and assessing outcomes for higher education.

A fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the AIAA, Peterson is the author or co-author of 14 books or book chapters, 165 refereed journal articles, and more than 140 conference publications. He also holds eight patents. Having served as editor or associate editor for eight different journals, he is currently serving on the editorial advisory board of two others. He is a member of Pi Tau Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Professional society awards include the Ralph James and the O. L. "Andy" Lewis awards from ASME, the Dow Outstanding Young Faculty Award from the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE), the Pi Tau Sigma Gustus L. Larson Memorial Award from ASME, the AIAA Thermophysics Award, the ASME Memorial Award, the AIAA Sustained Service Award, and the Frank J. Malina Award from the International Astronautical Society.

Peterson was born September 1, 1952, in San Francisco, California, and raised in Prairie Village, a suburb of Kansas City, Kansas. He and his wife, Val, have four adult children.

Dr. Sue
Ann
Bidstrup
Allen
Faculty Athletics
Representative

Dr. Sue Ann Bidstrup Allen, a professor in the School of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering at Georgia Tech, was appointed as the Yellow Jackets' Faculty Executive Assistant in July 2009.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen received her B.S. in Chemical Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1981. She then attended the University of Minnesota and received her Ph.D. in the field of Chemical Engineering in 1986. After a postdoctoral appointment in the Electrical Engineering Department at MIT, Dr. Bidstrup Allen joined Georgia Tech as an assistant professor in the School of Chemical Engineering in 1988, was appointed to the position of associate professor in 1994 and to the position of professor in 2000. She served as the Associate Chair of the School of Chemical Engineering from 2004 to 2005. In 2005, she was named Faculty Executive Assistant to the President by Dr. G. Wayne Clough and continued to serve in this position under Interim President Gary B. Schuster and President G.P. "Bud" Peterson until August 2009.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen's main research focus is in the area of new materials and processes for microelectromechanical systems (MEMS) and for advanced interconnects for integrated circuits. She has advised nine postdoctoral fellows and has graduated 19 Ph.D. and 14 M.S. students. During her career, she has published approximately 100 refereed articles and has been issued eight patents.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen is a recipient of the National Science Foundation Presidential Young Investigator Award, the DuPont Young Faculty Award, the 2008 American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE) Sharon Keillor Award, and the 2008 Council of Chemical Research (CCR) Diversity Award. She also received the Faculty Leadership Award from Georgia Tech in 1995 and the Packaging Research Center Educator of the Year Award in 2000. She is a Fellow of the Society of Plastics Engineers and is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the American Chemical Society, the Electrochemical Society and the American Society for Engineering Education.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen is married to Mark G. Allen, a professor in the School of Electrical and Computer Engineering at Georgia Tech. They have two children, David and Sarah.

DELLINGER GOLF CENTER

Conveniently located near the Tech athletics offices, this facility offers Tech golfers a quiet place to study, workout and unwind.

The Dellinger Golf Center, housed on the ground level of the Northwest stands of Bobby Dodd Stadium, was originally dedicated on Oct. 13, 1990 and reopened after renovation in the fall of 2003. It was named for Tech golf enthusiast James Dellinger, and is the perfect spot for studying, relaxing, watching television, playing pool or browsing the internet. It also is a glorious reminder of Georgia Tech's great golf tradition.

The Dellinger Center houses a lounge with a large-screen television, stereo system, DVD player, video game console, comfortable couches, a card table and a pool table for the enjoyment of Tech's golfers. Additionally, there are offices for the Tech coaching staff and a state-of-the-art locker room. The center also includes a study hall with computer stations with internet access, along with a recreation room.

The carpeted lounge area is named for Charles R. Brown, the catalyst responsible for the modern success of Tech golf.

On the walls, you'll find portraits of each of Tech's All-America golfers, from Watts Gunn in 1927 to Roberto Castro and Cameron Tringale, plus photos of Tech teams past and a collage from Larry Mize's 1987 Masters triumph.

On display in trophy cases is memorabilia from the days of Watts Gunn, Bobby Jones and Charlie Yates. Encased in the center are Tech's National Player of the Year trophies honoring David Duval, Stewart Cink, Matt Kuchar and Bryce Molder. Also on display are Tech's NCAA East Regional individual championship trophies, and all 11 ACC championship trophies. Prominent displays of Tech's GCAA All-America honorees are in both the locker room and television lounge.

Tech's three team trophies, the Robert Tyre Jones Award for the team's outstanding player, the Watts Gunn Trophy for the team's most improved and dedicated player, and the Charles Yates Cup for academic achievement, are also displayed here.

As part of Tech's renovation of Bobby Dodd Stadium, the renovated golf center was completed in the fall of 2003 along with the expanded north end zone of the stadium.

GEORGIA TECH PRACTICE RANGE

Yellow Jacket golfers have a convenient facility at the edge of campus where they can work on all part of their games.

Practice Facility Donors

GENE BROOKS
JIM DELLINGER
JULIAN SAUL
DAN YATES

Thanks to the generosity of four supporters of the Georgia Tech golf program, the Yellow Jackets can take advantage of a Tom Fazio-designed practice facility conveniently located adjacent to campus between 14th and 16th Streets.

"We really needed to have our own place to practice, and Jim Dellinger, Julian Saul, Gene Brooks and Dan Yates were willing to make that happen for us," said head coach Bruce Heppler.

A tremendous asset for the team, the facility allows the Yellow Jackets to practice a wide array of skills. Covering eight acres of land and more than 320 yards in length from one end to the other, the range includes two bent grass greens, one for chipping and one for putting.

Tee boxes are located at both ends, as well as several fairway bunkers from which players can hit iron shots, and there are designed wedge areas to work on the short game. There is no shot in golf that Tech's players are not able to work on.

"Plus, they are able to practice with the balls they play with in competition rather than range balls, so they can find out more about distance, control and accuracy," says Heppler. "When you have your own place and you can throw down your own balls and practice anywhere you want, that's a much better situation than going to a driving range.

"It's four blocks from the new Olympic housing. It makes practicing more convenient and allows our players to use their time better. And, of course, it's still backed up by our ability to play on some of the best golf courses in the Southeast."

CARPET CAPITAL COLLEGIATE

A staple of the fall collegiate schedule for many of the nation's top teams

The annual Carpet Capital Collegiate, a staple of the fall collegiate golf schedule for many of the nation's top golf programs for the last 20 years, annually hosts one of the toughest fields on one of the most challenging golf courses that stage college events.

"With the excellent ACC and SEC teams in the tournament, outcome plays a significant role in which teams are selected for postseason competition," said Tech head coach Bruce Heppler.

Georgia Tech has won the event six times, including three in a row most recently between 1999 and 2001, and has been the runner-up five other times. Clemson has four victories, first in 1993 and most recently in 2002, while Florida and Georgia each has won twice.

Future PGA stars such as Tech's Stewart Cink and Troy Matteson, Clemson's Lucas Glover and

D.J. Trahan, and NC State's Tim Clark have won medalist honors. But former Yellow Jacket Bryce Molder (pictured above right) captured the event three consecutive times between 1998 and 1999.

Three different formats have been used for the event. In the inaugural 1989 event, the low five of six scores by round were used for team totals, while the four low scores on each hole were used in 1991. All others have used the standard low four-of-five rounds each day counting toward the team score.

The Carpet Capital Collegiate is played at The Farm Golf Club, the 6,896-yard, par-72 course designed by Tom Fazio, located in Rocky Face, Ga., just outside the city of Dalton in Northwest Georgia. The tournament takes its name from the city, which is home to some of the largest carpet manufacturers in the world. The Farm has been recognized as one of the nation's premier modern facilities.

The original idea for the tournament, conceived by former Tech coach Puggy Blackmon and born with the help of many Tech alumni in the Dalton area, was to pit the six best teams each from the Atlantic Coast Conference and the Southeastern Conference, with the winner claiming bragging rights.

The event was envisioned as a tribute to amateur and collegiate golf in the South, particularly Georgia, where Bobby Jones and The Masters have contributed to the heritage of the sport. The event has grown to include many nationally prominent programs outside the ACC and SEC area, and better than half of the tournament participants each year are ranked among the nation's top 25 teams.

The permanent Carpet Capital Collegiate champions trophy is named for Lowell Fritz, golf professional at Dalton Golf and Country Club. Fritz has long been dedicated to junior golf and the youth of the Dalton area. Boys or girls, members or non-members, Fritz has taken many hours of his personal time to teach the game of golf.

U.S. COLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIP

"This event is in a class by itself in college golf."

When the Golf Club of Georgia and Georgia Tech joined forces with the idea of hosting one of the nation's premier collegiate golf events in 2005, the idea was to bring together the nation's top golf programs to play one of the top golf facilities in the state of Georgia and enjoy a first-class golf experience.

The United States Collegiate Championship was the result, and the event has been a rousing success the first four years, drawing rave reviews from coaches and players alike. Due to scheduling conflicts, the tournament was to be played in 2009, but will return in the fall of 2010.

The 2008 event, in which Clemson captured its second title in four years, attracted the nation's top 11 teams according to the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index, making it the strong field of any regular-season collegiate event.

"This event is in a class by itself in college golf," said East Tennessee State coach Fred Warren. "Everything associated with the tournament was first-class in every sense of the word."

"Without a doubt," said Georgia Coach Chris Haack, "(the USCC) is a Major on the college circuit."

"It really does kind of give you a feel of Augusta," said Wake Forest alumnus Webb Simpson, the 2005 Southern Amateur champion who has a first- and second-place finish in the event.

"To have a tournament of this magnitude at a facility we feel is the best in the country is very exciting," said Georgia Tech coach Bruce Hepler, whose program has enjoyed a long-standing relationship with The Golf Club of Georgia. "Knowing and appreciating the commitment and enthusiasm the staff and the members hold toward the event, it makes us feel very comfortable that it will become a very special tournament."

The competition and golf experience of United States Collegiate Championship are as first-class as the quality of its teams.

Players wear long pants and have caddies. The course is not roped, allowing galleries an intimate opportunity to walk with the competitors, as is the case with the club's annual Georgia Cup match between the United States and British Amateur champions.

Rules officials and scoring volunteers also accompany each group, giving the competitors the feel of a championship event.

"As far as college tournaments go, the U.S. Collegiate Championship did, in fact, raise the bar," wrote Ron Balicki in Golfweek magazine. "Providing a great golf course is one thing. Providing all the extras and the unsurpassed hospitality is another, and is what pushed the bar to new heights of what a college tournament could be."

The Golf Club of Georgia, a 36-hole Arthur Hills facility north of Atlanta named "Best New Private Course in America" in 1991 by Golf Digest, also served as the host site for the 2007 NCAA East Regional Championship, with Georgia Tech as the host institution. The Lakeside Course, on which both tournaments have been played, measures 7,020 yards and plays to a par of 72.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Troy Matteson

NCAA Champion in 2002

Troy Matteson capped an outstanding junior season by winning the biggest tournament of the year, the NCAA Championships in Columbus, Ohio. The victory was his fourth of the year, tying the school record held by David Duval and marked the first time since 1934 that a Yellow Jacket was crowned National Collegiate Champion.

Matteson's run to the title began inauspiciously as he opened with a 2-over-par score of 73 to stand tied for 88th place, seven shots off the tournament lead. That would change quickly, as he found his scoring groove over the next 54 holes of play.

Day two saw the first significant move, as Matteson carded a 5-under-par round of 66 to move into a tie for 12th place at 73-66-139. The steady play continued over the final two rounds, as Matteson finished with sub-par rounds of 70 and 67 respectively to take over the individual lead as the final round came to an end.

The victory marked the fourth individual title of the year for Matteson, tying the school record previously held by David Duval, along with being the third time in school history that a Yellow Jacket had been the individual national champion.

For his efforts, Matteson was named the recipient of the Arnold Palmer National Player of the Year award and earned first-team All-America honors for the first time in his career.

Watts Gunn

National Collegiate Champion in 1927

The Rambling Wreck and the name of Watts Gunn rose to supreme heights in 1927.

Becoming the first Georgia Tech golfer to win the National Collegiate Championship, Gunn shot a total of 302 over the 72-hole event at the Garden City Country Club to win the medal competition. He went on to dispatch Walker Cup teammate Roland McKenzie, 10-9, to win the individual title, and his 69 in the final round broke the course record. He also helped Tech win the Southern Intercollegiate title the same year.

Along with winning the collegiate championship, Gunn was a two-time U.S. Walker Cup team member, joining the squad in both 1926 and 1928. In those two events, he compiled a combined 4-0 record, posting a pair of victories in each.

Gunn was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1961. The annual Yellow Jacket men's golf team award for the season's most improved player is named in Gunn's honor.

Charlie Yates

National Collegiate Champion in 1934

Yates, who won the British Amateur in 1938 and the Western Amateur in 1935, won the Georgia state championship in 1931 and 1935, advanced to the second round of match play in the U.S. Amateur and was the low amateur in the first Masters tournament in 1934.

He culminated a fine college career by winning the 1934 National Collegiate Championship in Cleveland, Ohio, joining Watts Gunn as the only two Tech golfers ever to do so. Yates is one of eight Yellow Jackets to have competed in the Walker Cup, as he was a team member in both 1936 and '38, compiling a 3-0-1 record in those matches. In 1953, he was named the captain of the Walker Cup team and was an honorary captain in 1985.

Yates played in the first 11 Masters tournaments, five times finishing as low amateur and three times finishing in the top 24.

He was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1959 and an award named in his honor has been given annually to the member of the Yellow Jacket golf team displaying the most outstanding academic achievement.

NCAA TODAY'S TOP VIII AWARD

The NCAA honors eight student-athletes each year out of nominees from every sport, recognizing those who excel in their sport, in the classroom, and exhibit high character, leadership and service to others.

Roberto Castro (below), who graduated in 2007 with high honor in Industrial Engineering and won the Byron Nelson Award as a senior, and Bryce Molder (above), who won four national player of the year honors in 2001, are the only two men's golfers ever to win the prestigious NCAA Today's Top VIII Award.

INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

Georgia Tech players have been integral parts of U.S. teams on both the professional and amateur levels.

Stewart Cink and Matt Kuchar (top left) both played for the United States in the 2010 Ryder Cup in Newport, Wales. Cink has competed in five Ryder Cups for the U.S., including the victorious 2002 team with David Duval (left).

ALL-SOUTHEASTERN CONFERENCE

1948	Albert Swann

H.E. DENNISON • 1931-55

A professor of economics and social science, as well as the director of industrial management, H.E. Dennison served as Georgia Tech's first golf coach from 1931-55. He shepherded a program which had already earned success on the national stage when Watts Gunn won the national collegiate championship in 1927. Collegiate golf was strictly a dual match sport in Dennison's time, and Tech went three straight years from 1933-35 without losing a match.

Dennison had the distinction of coaching such standouts as Charlie Yates, the 1934 national collegiate champion, 1938 British Amateur champion and three-time Walker Cup team member, as well as the 1938 Southern Intercollegiate champion Tommy Barnes and 1948 Southeastern Conference champion Albert Swann. He also led the Yellow Jackets to their first NCAA Championship appearance as a team in 1947.

TOMMY PLAXICO • 1956-82

Likeable Tommy Plaxico, a former Georgia Tech star of the cinders in the 1940s, served as the Yellow Jackets' golf coach from January of 1956 until he retired in 1982, an era which saw the landscape of college golf evolve from schools playing dual matches exclusively to playing stroke-play tournaments. Among his players were future PGA Tour star Larry Mize, 1967 NCAA runner-up Bunky Henry and 1999 U.S. Senior Amateur champion Bill Ploeger.

Plaxico, a contemporary of such Tech coaching luminaries as Bobby Dodd, Whack Hyder and Jim Luck, was a regular on the Tech track team for three years and was captain of the 1941 squad. After serving four years as a Navy fighter pilot in World War II, Plaxico returned to campus to receive his degree in industrial management in 1946. He immediately joined the Tech faculty as a member of the Physical Training staff, a capacity in which he served until he retired. Plaxico, also an avid tennis player, served as an assistant track coach for five years and was in charge of Georgia Tech's intramural program.

PUGGY BLACKMON • 1982-95

The arrival of Puggy Blackmon signaled a new era in golf at Georgia Tech, keeping the Yellow Jackets in line with the way college golf was growing. The South Carolina native came from a teaching and professional golf background, and laid the foundation for the stature of the program today. Heavily involved in junior golf, Blackmon immediately began recruiting top junior players, set about raising money for the program and started the booster club which continues to support Tech golf today.

Within three years, he guided the Yellow Jackets to their first Atlantic Coast Conference championship, and Tech became a perennial top-25 program. That led to the program being invited to compete in bigger and better events, and the Jackets would go on to win five ACC titles, compete in 11 NCAA Championships and win 33 tournaments overall during his tenure. He recruited and coached PGA Tour players Stewart Cink, Michael Clark II, David Duval and Tripp Isenhour.

Bobby Jones • Atlanta, Ga.

On Sept. 27, 1930, Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., of Atlanta walked off the 11th green at the Merion Cricket Club and into history. No one before him had won golf's four major championships in a single year. No one has done it since.

No one might ever do it again.

"It may be 60 years, if then, before we see another Grand Slam," said Joe Dey, former commissioner of the PGA Tour and former executive director of the United States Golf Association.

"You never say never," said Ben Hogan, who was 18 when Jones won the Slam and remains the only golfer to win three professional majors in one year. "But considering the times — there are so many more good players — it's improbable that any player will win all four."

Of all the single-season sustained records of excellence in major sports, Jones' mark has stood the longest. Longer than Babe Ruth's 60 home runs, a record that last 34 years after he set it in 1927; longer than Joe DiMaggio's 1941 hitting streak of 56 games, which is still alive after 49 years; longer than Wilt Chamberlain's 50.4 points-per-game average, set in 1961-62; longer than Bryon Nelson's PGA Tour streak of 11 straight victories and 18 overall in 1945.

The four tournaments Jones won —the national Open and amateur championships of the United States and Britain—originally were known as the "Impregnable Quadrilateral." That term eventually evolved into the Grand Slam, a term that stuck even when the PGA Championship and the Masters replaced the two amateur tournaments in the mythical foursome.

To understand the magnitude of Jones' deed, consider that in the ensuing 60 years only four players—Hogan, Gene Sarazen, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus—in their careers have won each of the four events that make up the modern Slam.

In golf's record books, Hogan comes across as the most serious challenger to Jones record when in 1953 the Texan won the Masters, U.S. Open and British Open. But because there was some overlap in dates of the British Open and the PGA Championship, the possibility of Hogan completing the Slam never existed.

Perhaps the most incredible thing about Jones' Slam is that he planned it. He didn't have a name for it, nor was he glory-seeking. His reasons were purely personal. Being an amateur golfer, his finances and family obligations would not allow him to play in all four tournaments after 1930. As it turned out, he didn't have to. He announced his retirement from competitive golf a few weeks after winning the U.S. Amateur. He was 28.

Dey, then a 23-year-old sportswriter for The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, was there at Merion in Ardmore, Pa., when Jones completed the Grand Slam. Now 83, Dey said Jones' performance was "simply unbelievable.

"I saw every shot, and I haven't seen anyone since as dominant as Jones was in that Amateur," Dey said. "None of his matches went past the 14th hole. He cruised along. Considering the pressure and the crowds—you have to remember in those days the fairways weren't roped—it was a remarkable performance by a remarkable player."

Dey has seen all the great players and says only Hogan and Nicklaus equaled Jones in figuring out a way to win.

"If Nicklaus couldn't do it, I don't think it could be done. Maybe Hogan could have, but there wasn't that much emphasis on the Grand Slam during his day. I don't see anyone out there today who knows how to win like they did and like Jones did.

"Also, it's just too hard now because there are too many good players to expect one to win all four, and too, I believe the intense media attention given to the majors creates tremendous pressure that begins to build when someone wins the first two."

Hogan, now 78, agrees about the media pressure. "It's incredible," he said, "much more so than when I played. Because it was impossible for me to play in all four in 1953, there was none of that."

Dey credits Jones with the Grand Slam transformation from two amateurs and two Opens to today's four pro majors. "When Jones retired, there was not another amateur of his ability, and after he started Augusta National, and the Masters took hold, the attention turned away from the amateurs to the professionals," he said.

"What Jones did was win the Grand Slam, then without realizing it, created another one."

How good was Jones? From 1923 through 1930, Jones won 13 major national titles in the U.S. and Great Britain, 62 percent of the championships he entered.

In the last 11 British and U.S. Opens in which he played, he finished no worse than second in 10, winning seven times. And from the time he was 14 to the time he was 28, no player ever beat him twice in championship match play.

It also must be noted that Jones was hardly a full-time golfer. Often he would go months without picking up a club. Instead, he studied mechanical engineering at Georgia Tech, got a degree in English literature at Harvard, dabbled in real estate and then attended law school at Emory. In his 13 years in major championship competition, he was a student, high school or college, in nine of them. He played only 52 tournaments in that span, an average of four a year, and won 23.

Though Jones was born and raised in Atlanta, there is no public display of his memorabilia. His old locker remains at East Lake Country Club men's locker room and several pictures hang on the walls of the grill room. Most of his trophies and his famous putter, Calamity Jane, are on display in a showcase in the Jones Room at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Jones died in the early evening of Dec. 18, 1971. He played his last round of golf in 1948, the year he was stricken with syringomyelium, a disease that attacks the central nervous system. His burial is in Atlanta's Oakland Cemetery. His tombstone reads:

Robert Tyre Jones, Jr.

Born 1902 Died 1971

No other words were thought necessary.

This story was written by the late Tom McCollister, who covered golf for the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and paid this tribute to Bobby Jones on the 60th anniversary of his Grand Slam, in the Sept. 27, 1990, edition of the Journal and Constitution.

Watts Gunn • Macon, Ga.

Watts Gunn was born in Macon, Ga., on January 11, 1905. He made golf history in 1925 in the U.S. Amateur at Oakmont Country Club, setting the world record for international championship golf by winning 15 straight holes in the first round of the 36-hole match. In that tournament, he went to the finals against friend and rival Bobby Jones, marking the only time two players from the same city ever met for the U.S. Amateur crown.

Gunn's first major tournament win was in the 1923 Georgia Amateur. In 1927, he won the Southern and National Intercollegiate tournaments, and the following year he won the Southern Amateur and Southern Open Championships. In 1926 and 1928, he played on the Walker Cup teams with Jones, defeating the British team both years. He played many benefit tournaments, including several exhibitions with Jones in 1927 and 1928. He took the Georgia State Amateur title in 1927 and 1928. At Lanier High School, he captained golf teams that never lost a match.

Watts Gunn was inducted into the Georgia Golf Hall of Fame on January 14, 1989.

From a Time Magazine account dated July 11, 1927

Last week, Watts Gunn of Georgia Tech, playmate of Robert Tyre Jones Jr., went four times around the Garden City (L. I.) Golf Club course in a total of 302 strokes. Had he been alive to do this in 1902, he would have won the U. S. Open Championship by five strokes.* But, at 22, his reward was the qualifying medal of the national intercollegiate golf tournament.

Consistently but not brilliantly, Golfer Gunn battered his way to the finals where he found the other favorite, Roland Mackenzie of Brown University, his good friend, with nerves set for a 36-hole struggle.

Beginning at the fifth hole of their first round, Golfer Gunn went stark, staring golf-mad, made six birdies, used only nine putts on seven consecutive holes—putts varying between 35 and 12 feet—sunk with a borrowed putter. His score for the first 18 holes was 69, breaking the course record by two strokes. After that it was only a matter of time before Mr. Gunn won match and championship, 10 up, 9 to go.

Another figure in the tournament was John D. Ames, blond son of Knowlton L. ("Snake") Ames (sinuous Princeton quarterback of the strenuous '90s), who lost to Watts Gunn in the second round but was elected president of the Intercollegiate Golf Association.

Charlie Yates • Atlanta, Ga.

Charlie Yates, a link to Atlanta's vast golf history who later shepherded the city's arts community into the future, was once heralded by Life magazine as owning "the best grin in golf."

He didn't mind using it either, whether to woo the English crowds while he was winning the 1938 British Amateur championship or while heading the effort to raise the $20 million that built the High Museum. A participant in the city's history for much of the 20th century, it is not inappropriate he be remembered first for that smile and a benevolent demeanor that underscored his life.

Yates, 92, died October 17, 2005 at his home in Buckhead.

Mentored by Bobby Jones - he in fact played with Jones in his final round in 1948 at East Lake Golf Club - Yates was national college champion while at Georgia Tech (1934), a two-time Walker Cup competitor (1936 and 1938) and was captain of the U.S. Walker team in 1953.

He seized the international limelight at the 1938 British Amateur at Royal Troon. Beating two U.S. and British Amateur champions along his eight-match campaign, he struck a tone with the British galleries who were not then so easily charmed by foreigners taking away their titles. Afterward, the legendary British golf author Bernard Darwin wrote, "There has been no invading Champion more popular than Charlie Yates, whose cheerfulness and humor, of his own particular brand, made everybody like him."

Yates played 11 times in the Masters, including the inaugural tournament in 1934.

"There wasn't any strict rule about who was eligible to play in the Masters then," he once told The Augusta Chronicle. "Bob invited some of his friends, such as myself."

He tied for 21st that year and twice was low amateur, but his most memorable Masters came in 1935. Yates was playing in the group ahead when Gene Sarazen made double eagle on the par-5 15th to force a playoff he won the next day. That shot put the Masters on the map.

Yates' amateur career, except for playing the Masters, ended with World War II when he was drafted into the Army. He transferred to the Navy and spent 30 months as a lieutenant on the destroyer USS Mayo, which was struck by enemy fire during the invasion of Italy.

For nearly 50 years, he served on the Masters' Press Committee, a constant presence in the media quarters and, to many who returned to Augusta National year after year, a Masters tradition in himself.

"I am deeply saddened by the passing of Charlie Yates," Augusta National chairman Hootie Johnson said. "Charlie was an outstanding amateur golfer and a member who was linked to Bobby Jones and the club's history, attending every Masters through 2003. He will be greatly missed."

But it was in 1973 that Yates began some of his most lasting work. He accepted Mayor Ivan Allen's suggestion to retire at age 60 and head up the Atlanta Arts Alliance (which later became the Woodruff Arts Center).

Yates already had served as president of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra (1962-65) and helped recruit Robert Shaw to be its conductor.

"When you look at who had a heavy influence on the thinking of people like the late Ivan Allen, of Robert W. Woodruff, Charlie was an effective leader in getting those people to see how Atlanta's strategy should include the development of world class arts and organizations," said Beauchamp Carr, executive vice president of the Woodruff Arts Center.

Originally drawn to the arts when his wife Dorothy recruited him for nights at the symphony, Yates ushered the city into a new age. Besides overseeing the effort to build the High, he helped raise the $5.4 million for the center's endowment. In his 10 years as president (1973-83) of what became the Woodruff Arts Center, the overall budget rocketed from $3.8 million to $16.3 million.

"I don't think of it as reaching into their pockets," he once said of his fund-raising ethic. "I think of it as their doing something for their own benefit."

The smile didn't hurt much either.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP TIMELINE

The national collegiate championships were conducted by the United States Golf Association through 1938, and consisted of a medal competition and a match play bracket similar to today's U.S. Amateur.

The NCAA began conducting the championship in 1939, using a match play format through 1965, when it became a 72-hole, stroke-play event.

The NCAA instituted a 54-hole cut from 1979-88. A 36-hole cut was used in 1989, and again from 1992-2001. No cuts were made in 1990, 1991 or 2002.

Regional qualifying tournaments were instituted in 1989, expanding the championship field to 81 teams, 27 in each of three regionals, with 30 teams advancing to the 72-hole finals. In 2009, the format was changed to include a total of six regional tournaments (13 teams in three, 14 teams in the other three). Thirty teams (five from each regional) advanced to the finals.

The finals structure also changed in 2009, with 30 teams now playing 54 holes of stroke play. The individual national champion is crowned after 54 holes, and the top eight teams advance to a match play bracket to decide the team champion.

SIX GEORGIA TECH PLAYERS HAVE WON ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE TITLES, AND WITH ONE EXCEPTION, THE YELLOW JACKETS HAVE WON THE TEAM TITLE EACH TIME. DAVID DUVAL IS THE ONLY YELLOW JACKET TO WIN TWICE (1991 AND 1993), WHILE BOB MCDONNELL WAS THE FIRST TECH PLAYER TO WIN THE MEDAL IN 1985. ONLY IN 2000, WHEN BRYCE MOLDER CAPTURED THE INDIVIDUAL TITLE, DID TECH FAIL TO ALSO WIN AS A TEAM (RUNNER-UP).

Georgia Tech fielded its first intercollegiate golf team in 1918, "and it was met with marked success in the matches with the Eastern colleges," reads the 1918 edition of the Blueprint, the Georgia Tech yearbook.

"To get to the personnel and work of the team. Very little time was had by the men to practice, but they went to it with a will and when the time for the first match with Columbia came around, a formidable quartet was on hand. Perry Adair, one of the foremost golfers in the South, was number one man. Adair has been playing golf around Atlanta since twelve years old and holds many of the course records in the South. Fred Howden of Savannah, was elected manager. Howden had a score of notable records to his credit there. Ewing Watkins, one of the best golfers in Tennessee and said to be the longest driver in the South, and Tom Prescott of Atlanta golf fame, comprised the other two members of the team."

Scoring for matches that year, and in years beyond, "was kept on the Nassau system, the winners on the first nine being awarded one point, the same being true for the second nine holes, and an additional point being awarded for the best ball of the match."

Year-by-Year Results (since 1947)

From 1937-39, the Southeastern Conference Championship was held in Baton Rouge, La. From 1940-64, the SEC Championship was held in Athens, Ga., as part of the Southern Intercollegiate Championship (no championship was held from 1943-45 due to World War II). Tech continued to participate in the SIC long after leaving the Southeastern Conference in 1964.
