TECH GOLF NOTEBOOK

Jackets Return Five of Top Six Players

Georgia Tech returns five of the top six players who carried the Yellow Jackets to their fourth consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference Championship and a berth in the NCAA Southeast Regional.

James White, a two-time All-American, three-time All-ACC performer and co-recipient of the 2012 Byron Nelson Award, is the only departure from the 2011-12 unit, graduating as a two-time ACC Golf Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

But the other five players who logged most of the starts for the Yellow Jackets combined for 16 top-10 performances and seven other finishes in the top 20. All five had stroke averages under 73 and finished the spring ranked among the nation's top 150 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index.

Tech returning core group includes juniors Richard Werenski (No. 120), who won the Porter Cup this summer, Bo Andrews (No. 99) and Seth Reeves (No. 118), as well as talented sophomores Anders Albertson (No. 32), an All-ACC choice, and Ollie Schniederjans (No. 129), who reached the match play portion of the U.S. Amateur.

They are backed by fifth-year senior Minghao Wang, who was limited to three rounds last year because of a wrist injury and junior Drew Czuchry, a transfer from Akron who played in two events last year.

Joining the fold are a pair of talented freshmen, including the nation's top-ranked junior player in Shun Yat (Jason) Hak, a native of Hong Kong who moved to the United States at age 11 and attended high school in the Orlando area, Michael Hines of Acworth, Ga., the No. 2 junior in the state of Georgia, also is competing for a traveling spot this fall.

Worth Noting

- Georgia Tech finished the spring ranked 8th in the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index and No. 11 in the Golfstat rankings. The Yellow Jackets have finished the year ranked in the top 10 of either one or both rankings every year since 2000.
- The Yellow Jackets had a head-to-head winning percentage of 81.8 against the nation's 10th-most difficult schedule.
- The fivesome who played in the NCAA regional had 31 top-20 finishes between them, 21 top-10s and nine top-5s.
- Six Tech players finished the 2012 spring ranked among the nation's top 130 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index - White No. 24, Albertson No. 32, Andrews No. 99, Reeves No. 118, Werenski No. 120, and Schniederjans No. 129.
- Tech's 2011-12 team finished the year a collective 2-under-par.
- The Yellow Jackets' average drop (non-counting) score was 75.89, the second-best figure in the nation behind third-ranked UCLA.
- Tech scored a perfect 1000 on the NCAA's Academic Progress Report for the ninth consecutive year, every year since the annual report was established in 2003-04.

Jackets Hosting 2013 NCAA Championship

For the first time, Georgia Tech is the host institution for the NCAA Championship finals, which will be contested this year from May 27-June 2 at the Capital City Club Crabapple in Alpharetta, Ga.

Tech has hosted three NCAA regionals in past years, in 2002 at Ansley Golf Club at Settindown Creek, in 2007 at the Golf Club of Georgia, and in 2010 at the Capital City Club Crabapple.

The Yellow Jackets also will play five of their nine regular-season events within the borders of Georgia (see schedule on page 1), including its own United States Collegiate Championship at the Golf Club of Georgia, and will host the PING/Golfweek Preview Invitational, annually held at the site of the NCAA Championship.

Tech Continues to Dominate ACC Championship

Georgia Tech won its fourth consecutive Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 2012, sixth in the last seven years, leading wire-to-wire for a 7-shot victory over Virginia at the Old North State Club.

The Yellow Jackets has led each of the last four ACC Championships wire-to-wire and posted the day's low score in nine of the 12 rounds. Four of Tech's five players finished in the top 10 in 2012 - Anders Albertson T4, Bo Andrews, Richard Werenski and Ollie Schniederjans each T7. All-American James White tied for 16th and counted his score only once in three rounds.

Tech's 14 ACC men's golf titles in history ranks second among conference schools behind Wake Forest (18). Tech has won nine of its conference titles under current head coach Bruce Heppler, five of those outright (1999, 2001, 2002, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012) and two shared (2006, 2007).

The Yellow Jackets won five championships (1985, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994) under previous head coach Puggy Blackmon.

Eight of Tech's ACC titles have occurred at the Old North State Club, the first occurring in 1999 by 10 strokes over North Carolina and Duke. Tech won the 2011 crown with a tournament record score of 831 (-33) and by a record 20 strokes. Tech shared the 2006 title with North Carolina, and the 2007 crown with Virginia Tech.

Georgia Tech's individual ACC Champions include Bob McDonnell in 1985, David Duval in 1991 and 1993, Mikko Rantanen in 1994, Bryce Molder in 2000, Cameron Tringale in 2006, Chesson Hadley in 2010 and Paul Haley in 2011.

Tech's NCAA Championship History

Georgia Tech reached the NCAA Finals 24 times since 1985, a number surpassed by only three schools in that period, and has posted seven top-8 finishes in the last 11 tries. The Yellow Jackets tied for 10th in the first-year of the 54-hole stroke-play/match-play format, but qualified for match play each of the last two years by finishing third and second in the stroke play competition.

Tech lost to eventual champion Augusta State by the score of 3-2 in the match play quarterfinals each of the last two years.

Tech has been the runner-up in the NCAA Championship four times (1993, 2000, 2002 and 2005), more than any team in the history of the championship except Houston, Michigan, Texas and Wake Forest, who also have four, and Oklahoma State, which has five.

In 1993 and 2002, the Yellow Jackets led after 54 holes, but finished second by one shot to Florida in 1993, and by four shots to Minnesota in 2002.

In 2000, the Yellow Jackets rallied to tie Oklahoma State after 72 holes, but lost to the Cowboys on the first hole of a playoff. Tech and OSU matched the lowest 72-hole team score in NCAA Championship history (36-under-par 1,116) at the Grand National Lake Course in Opelika, Ala. In 2005, Tech finished 11 shots behind Georgia, and seven shots ahead of third-place Washington.

Since Bruce Heppler became Tech's coach, the Jackets have finished in the top 8 nine times, with one 10th-place and one 11th-place.

Three Tech players have won national collegiate championships. Troy Matteson did it most recently in 2002 at Ohio State. Watts Gunn (1927) and Charlie Yates (1934) won national titles under a match play format before the NCAA took sponsorship of the championship in 1939.

Other top-10 finishers for Tech include David Duval (runner-up in 1991 and 1993, T-8 in 1990), Bill McDonald (T-2 in 1988), Bunky Henry (2nd in 1967), Roberto Castro (3rd in 2005), Nacho Gervas (T-3 in 1986), Paul Haley (T9 in 2010), Kris Mikkelsen (T-4 in 2001), Stewart Cink (T-5 in 1994), Bryce Molder (6th in 1998), Matt Weibring (6th in 2000) and James White (T8 in 2011).

Tech and Match Play

The 2009 NCAA Championship featured a new twist with the team champion determined via match play. The top eight teams after 54 holes of stroke play advance to a match play tournament format.

During the match-play portion of the championships, each match is worth one point with all five players participating. The first team to win three points within the team match advances or, in the case of the championship match, is declared the national champion.

It is a format that Bruce Heppler has supported vigorously. Under Heppler, Georgia Tech finished in the top eight of the NCAA Finals seven times in 10 tries under the 72-hole, stroke-play format.

The Yellow Jackets finished third and second, respectively, in the stroke-play portion of the NCAA Championship the last two years and lost in the first round of match play to Augusta State (3-2), the eventual national champion each time.

Tech has had success in match-play events in recent years, reaching the finals of the Callaway Collegiate Match Play Championship four times in six appearances.

If a consistently high level of success over a long period of time is the measure of a great program, then Georgia Tech's golf program under Bruce Heppler would certainly meet the standard. One of the top coaches in collegiate golf, Heppler has guided the Yellow Jackets to the NCAA Championship every year since 1998, and helped author nine top-8 finishes in the Finals, including three runner-up showings.

During his tenure, Tech has won or shared nine Atlantic Coast Conference titles, including the title outright each of the last four years (2009, 2010, 2011, 2012) and a share of the championship in 2006 and 2007. Only two ACC coaches have led their teams to more ACC titles than has Heppler. The Yellow Jackets have captured or shared 36 team titles overall.

He was named ACC Coach of the Year in 2012 for the seventh time, more than any coach in ACC history.

Since 2000, the Yellow Jackets have finished in the top 10 of the final Golfstat rankings 10 times, and in the final Golfweek/Sagarin top 10 eleven times. Tech has not finished lower than 14th in either ranking in any year.

All these accomplishments, and more, factored into Tech's golf program being judged the best in the nation in the September, 2005, issue of Golf Digest magazine, and No. 2 in the 2006 edition.

Heppler has recruited and developed his share of star players as well. The Yellow Jackets have had at least a pair of All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorees in 14 of the last 15 years, and landed four members of the team on the squad twice (2005, 2011). Tech has had at least two players earn All-America honors 12 of the last 14 years, and James White became the Jackets' 19th first-team selection in 2011. Three of his players, Matt Kuchar, Bryce Molder and Troy Matteson, have been named national players of the year.

Five of his Tech players are members of the PGA Tour, including Roberto Castro, Matt Kuchar, Troy Matteson, Bryce Molder and Cameron Tringale, while Paul Haley, Nicholas Thompson and Matt Weibring, have status on the Nationwide Tour. Three others, including John-Tyler Griffin, Chesson Hadley, Kevin Larsen, Kyle Scott and Chan Song, are also playing professionally either in the United States or abroad.

During the summer of 2003, Heppler served as the head coach of the United States' Palmer Cup team, which faced off with a team of European collegiate players in Kiawah Island, S.C. Kuchar, Molder, Castro, Hadley, Tringale and White have all played for the USA in Palmer Cup competition.

Kuchar, Molder, Thompson and Tringale have represented the United States in the Walker Cup matches.

On the conference level since 1985, when the Yellow Jackets won their first ACC Championship, Tech has earned more NCAA Championship berths than any team except Clemson. The Jackets have earned more top-10, more top-5 and more top-2 finishes in NCAA Championship competition than any other ACC team. Tech also has had more All-America selections (55) than any other ACC team during the same period except the Tigers.

Nationally, only Arizona State, Florida and Oklahoma State have had greater success in NCAA Championship competition and in All-America selections over the same period of time. Since 1997, however, when Heppler got the Tech program back on its feet, the Yellow Jackets have fared just as well head-to-head against all those teams in medal play at the NCAA Championship (9-4 vs. Arizona State, 7-6 vs. Oklahoma State, 9-4 vs. Florida).

His players have been just as successful in the classroom. Tech's golf program has been recognized with a perfect Academic Progress Report score of 1000 for seven straight years, and every senior has graduated.

Twelve different players under Heppler have been named All-America Scholars by the Golf Coaches Association of America, which requires a minimum 3.2 GPA and participation in at least 75 percent of a team's events. Two, All-Americans Bryce Molder and Roberto Castro, have received the NCAA's Top VIII Award, an honor given to eight student-athletes from all sports each year and recognizes those who excel in their sport and in the classroom, and exhibit high character, leadership and service to others.

It didn't take long for Heppler to restore the glory to Tech's golf program following a couple of lean years in the mid-1990s. After recruiting future All-Americans Kuchar and Molder, Heppler had the Yellow Jackets back in the NCAA Tournament in his third season, where they finished third, just four shots off the lead. Tech also was ranked No. 1 in the nation during the course of the year and won the NCAA East Regional.

Even better things were to come as Tech captured the first of its ACC titles under Heppler in 1999. In 2000 the Yellow Jackets came the closest to an NCAA Championship in their history, tying for first after 72 holes with Oklahoma State before losing a one-hole playoff. On the year, Tech captured four team titles and finished in the top four in each event it entered.

During the 2001 campaign, the Jackets won their second ACC crown in three years, the second under Heppler, captured a school-record-tying five tournament wins during the year and finished fourth in the NCAA Championship. For his efforts, Heppler was named ACC Coach of the Year and guided three All-Americans in Molder, who was also the consensus National Player of the Year, Matteson and Kris Mikkelsen.

In 2002, Heppler led the Yellow Jackets to arguably the best season in school history, as Tech captured seven team titles and finished second at the NCAA Championship. In the process, Heppler earned National and ACC Coach of the Year honors. During the year, the Jackets won the school's eighth ACC title, while placing all five starters on GCAA All-America teams. Under Heppler's tutelage, Matteson became the third Tech player to win the national individual title.

Tech has dominated the Atlantic Coast Conference in recent years, winning five of the last six titles and the last three in a row. The Yellow Jackets have been to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1998, and only once in that time failed to advance out of a regional. In the three years the NCAA has conducted the current medal/match play format for the championship, Tech has advanced to match play twice.

A 52-year-old native of St. George, Utah, Heppler has demonstrated his strength as a recruiter by attracting both National Players of the Year during 1997-98 and the ACC Players of the Year for 1998, 1999, 2000 and 2001. His first recruit at Tech was Kuchar, who won the 1997 U.S. Amateur Championship and was named the ACC Player of the Year and the Fred Haskins National Player of the Year in 1998. Molder was the Jack Nicklaus Player of the Year in 1998 and in 2001, along with being named the ACC Player of the Year in 1999, 2000 and 2001.

Heppler, a dean's list student at Brigham Young, earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from BYU in 1985, and later received his master's degree in sport management from Massachusetts in 1988. He played golf for one year at Dixie Junior College in St. George before transferring to Brigham Young.

He became a certified public accountant in 1985 and spent one year in the firm of Huber and Associates in Salt Lake City, then began his collegiate coaching career in 1987 as the men and women's golf coach at Amherst. He then spent two years as an administrative assistant at UNLV, becoming the assistant men's golf coach at UNLV in 1989. He spent two years in that role before moving to Oklahoma State in 1991.

"Georgia Tech is a great fit for me," said Heppler. "This is one of the five or six best programs right now if you look around at college golf's successful teams since the '90s. We have a lot of alumni on the PGA Tour, which is great for the school. Young people can see they have a chance to be player of the year or win a national championship here. It's a great school academically, which is a real draw with the general pool of talent out there interested in playing college golf."

Heppler is married to the former Traci Schull of Southbury, Conn., and they have a son, Zakary, and a daughter, Moriah. Heppler is actively involved with Atlanta Alliance for Children and is a member of the Golf Coaches Association of America.

ADMINISTRATION

DR. G.P. "BUD" PETERSON President

Since assuming the role as Georgia Tech's 11th president more than three years ago, Dr. G. P. "Bud" Peterson has engaged the Georgia Tech and greater Atlanta community in developing and implementing a 25-year strategic plan, realigned Tech's research organization for greater effectiveness, championed efforts to strengthen the Institute's leadership in innovation, expanded strategic partnerships, and worked to maximize Tech's impact in the state, region, nation, and the world.

Peterson came to Georgia Tech from the University of Colorado at Boulder, where he served as chancellor. Prior to that, he served as provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in New York. He served on the faculty and in leadership positions at Texas A&M University for 19 years. He has worked for NASA and the National Science Foundation.

Throughout his career, Peterson has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government and academic task forces and committees. A distinguished scientist, he was appointed in 2008 by U.S. President George W. Bush to serve through 2014 as a member of the National Science Board, which oversees the National Science Foundation (NSF) and advises the President and Congress on national policy related to science and engineering research and education.

In 2010 he was named by U.S. Secretary of Commerce Gary Locke as a member of the National Advisory Council on Innovation and Entrepreneurship. This group is focused on helping the U.S. develop policies that foster entrepreneurship and identify new ways to take innovations and creative ideas from the laboratory to the marketplace in order to create jobs, develop new businesses and drive economic growth.

In June 2011 he was named by President Barack Obama to the Advanced Manufacturing Partnership steering committee. The partnership is bringing together industry, universities and the federal government to identify and invest in the key emerging technologies to help U.S. manufacturers improve cost, quality and speed of production in order to remain globally competitive.

He is a fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA), and received the AIAA Distinguished Service Award for 2011. His research has focused on phase change heat transfer and spacecraft thermal control. He is widely published, authoring or co-authoring 16 books or book chapters, 200 refereed journal articles, and more than 140 conference publications. He also holds nine patents with two others pending.

Peterson earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering, a second bachelor's degree in mathematics, and a master's degree in mechanical engineering, all from Kansas State University. While an undergraduate at Kansas State, Peterson lettered three years as a tight end/wide receiver for the Wildcats football team. He earned a PhD in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University.

President Peterson and Tech's first lady, Valerie H. Peterson, actively participate in campus and community events, meeting and working alongside alumni, faculty, staff, students, parents, and civic and government groups. They have become familiar faces within the Georgia Tech community. Students might find them listening to a Yellow Jacket Marching Band performance after a game, supporting the swimming and diving team, or joining in a cleanup day in neighborhoods surrounding the campus. In addition, they have served as ambassadors for Georgia Tech throughout the state, the region, the nation, and even on Tech's international campuses. The Petersons have been married for 38 years and have four adult children.

As the newest member of the Association of American Universities and a top ten public research university, Georgia Tech has outstanding programs in architecture, computing, engineering, liberal arts, management and the sciences. With more than 21,000 students and 130,000 living alumni who work in business, industry and government throughout the world, Tech has become internationally recognized for the quality of its educational and research programs.

DAN RADAKOVICH Director of Athletics

Now in his seventh year as Director of Athletics, Dan Radakovich has helped take a Georgia Tech program rich in athletic tradition to a higher level of excellence.

Since Radakovich arrived on the Flats in 2006, Georgia Tech has competed for conference and national championships across the board, Yellow Jacket student-athletes have excelled in the classroom and Tech's facilities rate among the finest in the nation.

The 2011-12 academic year was another extremely successful campaign in Georgia Tech athletics. The Yellow Jackets captured three ACC championships – golf, softball and baseball, and Tech participated in NCAA postseason play in women's basketball, golf, women's tennis, softball and baseball. The football team participated in a bowl game for the 15th straight year. The women's basketball program enjoyed its finest season, advancing to the ACC Tournament title game and to the NCAA Sweet 16. Academically, Georgia Tech's Academic Progress Report (APR) improved for the fifth consecutive year.

In total, Georgia Tech teams have combined to win 14 ACC championships and nine ACC regular season titles in Radakovich's tenure. In addition, Yellow Jacket teams have combined to make 51 NCAA postseason or bowl appearances and captured a national championship in women's tennis in 2007.

Over the last six years combined, Tech coaches have been named ACC Coach of the Year 13 times and National Coach of the Year three times. Fifty-one student-athletes have been named first team All-American, 13 have been named ACC Player of the Year in their respective sport, and 30 have earned Academic All-America honors from at least one source.

The construction of new facilities or upgrades to existing ones has been a focus of Radakovich's tenure. In October, McCamish Pavilion – the renovated new home for Georgia Tech men's and women's basketball – will open its doors. In June, ground was broken for the Byers Tennis Complex. In 2011, the John and Mary Brock Indoor Practice Facility was dedicated.

Previously under Radakovich's guidance, Shirley Clements Mewborn Field, home for Tech's softball program, which was unveiled prior to the start of the 2009 season. The Zelnak Center, a practice facility for Georgia Tech basketball, was in place prior to the start of the 2009-10 season.

Other facility upgrades under Radakovich include the transformation of Tech's former football locker room on the ground floor of the Edge Athletic Center into a new Technology Center, which benefits academic support services for all student-athletes, and cosmetic and functional improvements to Bobby Dodd Stadium.

Outside the competition venues, Radakovich directed an overhaul of the annual giving and donation structure for Tech athletics, anchored by the TECH Fund, which establishes minimum giving levels tied to season tickets in various seating areas of Bobby Dodd Stadium and McCamish Pavilion.

Named Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics on Feb. 22, 2006, Radakovich came to Georgia Tech after five years as senior associate athletics director at LSU (2001-06). He previously served as the Athletics Director at American University in 2000-01. That followed stints as associate athletics director at South Carolina (1994-2000) and Long Beach State (1989-94) as well as two years as the athletics business manager at Miami (FL) (1983-85).

Just the seventh Director of Athletics in Tech history, Radakovich was named to succeed Dave Braine, who retired after nearly nine years in the post. Radakovich also follows in the footsteps of storied names such as John Heisman, Bobby Dodd and Homer Rice.

A graduate of Center High School near Aliquippa, Pa., and a member of its Alumni Hall of Fame, Radakovich, 54, became a football letterwinner and student coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, where he graduated in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in finance. He was enshrined into the Beaver County Sports Hall of Fame in April, 2008, and was recognized as a Distinguished Alumni from IUP in March, 2009. Radakovich added a master's degree in business administration from Miami (FL) in 1982.

He is married to the former Marcie McDonald, and the couple has two children, Christian, a senior at Georgia Tech, and Grant, a freshman at Mercer.

DELLINGER GOLF CENTER

The Dellinger Golf Center, housed on the ground level of the Northwest stands of Bobby Dodd Stadium, was originally dedicated on Oct. 13, 1990, and reopened after renovation in the fall of 2003. It was named for Tech golf enthusiast James Dellinger, and is the perfect spot for studying, relaxing, watching television, playing pool or browsing the internet. It also is a glorious reminder of Georgia Tech's great golf tradition.

The Dellinger Center houses a lounge with a large-screen television, stereo system, DVD player, video game console, comfortable couches, a card table and a pool table for the enjoyment of Tech's golfers. Additionally, there are offices for the Tech coaching staff and a state-of-the-art locker room. The center also includes a study hall with computer stations with internet access, along with a recreation room.

The carpeted lounge area is named for Charles R. Brown, the catalyst responsible for the modern success of Tech golf.

On the walls, you'll find portraits of each of Tech's All-America golfers, from Watts Gunn in 1927 to Roberto Castro and Cameron Tringale, plus photos of Tech teams past and a collage from Larry Mize's 1987 Masters triumph.

On display in trophy cases is memorabilia from the days of Watts Gunn, Bobby Jones and Charlie Yates. Encased in the center are Tech's National Player of the Year trophies honoring David Duval, Stewart Cink, Matt Kuchar and Bryce Molder. Also on display are Tech's NCAA East Regional individual championship trophies, and all 11 ACC championship trophies. Prominent displays of Tech's GCAA All-America honorees are in both the locker room and television lounge.

Tech's three team trophies, the Robert Tyre Jones Award for the team's outstanding player, the Watts Gunn Trophy for the team's most improved and dedicated player, and the Charles Yates Cup for academic achievement, are also displayed here.

As part of Tech's renovation of Bobby Dodd Stadium, the renovated golf center was completed in the fall of 2003 along with the expanded north end zone of the stadium.

GEORGIA TECH PRACTICE RANGE

Thanks to the generosity of four supporters of the Georgia Tech golf program, the Yellow Jackets can take advantage of a Tom Fazio-designed practice facility conveniently located adjacent to campus between 14th and 16th Streets.

"We really needed to have our own place to practice, and Jim Dellinger, Julian Saul, Gene Brooks and Dan Yates were willing to make that happen for us," said head coach Bruce Heppler, referring to the four donors for the facility, which will be expanded and updated within the next couple of years.

A tremendous asset for the team, the facility allows the Yellow Jackets to practice a wide array of skills. Covering eight acres of land and more than 320 yards in length from one end to the other, the range includes two bent grass greens, one for chipping and one for putting.

Tee boxes are located at both ends, as well as several fairway bunkers from which players can hit iron shots, and there are designed wedge areas to work on the short game. There is no shot in golf that Tech's players are not able to work on.

"Plus, they are able to practice with the balls they play with in competition rather than range balls, so they can find out more about distance, control and accuracy," says Heppler. "When you have your own place and you can throw down your own balls and practice anywhere you want, that's a much better situation than going to a driving range.

"It's four blocks from the new Olympic housing. It makes practicing more convenient and allows our players to use their time better. And, of course, it's still backed up by our ability to play on some of the best golf courses in the Southeast."

UNITED STATES COLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIP

When the Golf Club of Georgia and Georgia Tech joined forces with the idea of hosting one of the nation's premier collegiate golf events in 2005, the idea was to bring together the nation's top golf programs to play one of the top golf facilities in the state of Georgia and enjoy a first-class golf experience.

The United States Collegiate Championship was the result, and the event has been a rousing success, drawing rave reviews from coaches and players alike. The first four events were played during the spring, but due to scheduling conflicts, the tournament was not played during the 2009-10 academic year. It then became a major event on the collegiate fall schedule in 2010.

The 2008 event, in which Clemson captured its second title in four years, attracted the nation's top 11 teams according to the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index, making it the strong field of any regular-season collegiate event.

"This event is in a class by itself in college golf," said East Tennessee State coach Fred Warren. "Everything associated with the tournament was first-class in every sense of the word."

"Without a doubt," said Georgia Coach Chris Haack, "(the USCC) is a Major on the college circuit."

"It really does kind of give you a feel of Augusta," said Wake Forest alumnus Webb Simpson, the 2005 Southern Amateur champion who had a first- and second-place finish in the event.

"To have a tournament of this magnitude at a facility we feel is the best in the country is very exciting," said Georgia Tech coach Bruce Heppler, whose program has enjoyed a long-standing relationship with The Golf Club of Georgia. "Knowing and appreciating the commitment and enthusiasm the staff and the members hold toward the event, it makes us feel very comfortable that it will become a very special tournament."

The competition and golf experience of United States Collegiate Championship are as first-class as the quality of its teams.

Players wear long pants and have caddies. The course is not roped, allowing galleries an intimate opportunity to walk with the competitors, as is the case with the club's annual Georgia Cup match between the United States and British Amateur champions.

Rules officials and scoring volunteers also accompany each group, giving the competitors the feel of a championship event.

"As far as college tournaments go, the U.S. Collegiate Championship did, in fact, raise the bar," wrote Ron Balicki in Golfweek magazine. "Providing a great golf course is one thing. Providing all the extras and the unsurpassed hospitality is another, and is what pushed the bar to new heights of what a college tournament could be."

The Golf Club of Georgia, a 36-hole Arthur Hills facility north of Atlanta named "Best New Private Course in America" in 1991 by Golf Digest, also served as the host site for the 2007 NCAA East Regional Championship, with Georgia Tech as the host institution. The Lakeside Course, on which both tournaments have been played, measures 7,020 yards and plays to a par of 72.

CARPET CAPITAL COLLEGIATE

The annual Carpet Capital Collegiate, a staple of the fall collegiate golf schedule for many of the nation's top golf programs for more than 20 years, annually hosts one of the toughest fields on one of the most challenging golf courses that stage college events.

"With the excellent ACC and SEC teams in the tournament, outcome plays a significant role in which teams are selected for postseason competition," said Tech head coach Bruce Heppler.

Georgia Tech has won the event six times, including three in a row most recently between 1999 and 2001, and has been the runner-up five other times.

Future PGA stars such as Tech's Stewart Cink and Troy Matteson, Clemson's Lucas Glover, Kyle Stanley and D.J. Trahan, and NC State's Tim Clark have won medalist honors. But former Yellow Jacket Bryce Molder (pictured above right) captured the event three consecutive times between 1998 and 1999.

Three different formats have been used for the event. In the inaugural 1989 event, the low five of six scores by round were used for team totals, while the four low scores on each hole were used in 1991. All others have used the standard low four-of-five rounds each day counting toward the team score.

The Carpet Capital Collegiate is played at The Farm Golf Club, the 6,896-yard, par-72 course designed by Tom Fazio, located in Rocky Face, Ga., just outside the city of Dalton in Northwest Georgia. The tournament takes its name from the city, which is home to some of the largest carpet manufacturers in the world. The Farm has been recognized as one of the nation's premier modern facilities.

The original idea for the tournament, conceived by former Tech coach Puggy Blackmon and born with the help of many Tech alumni in the Dalton area, was to pit the six best teams each from the Atlantic Coast Conference and the Southeastern Conference, with the winner claiming bragging rights.

The event was envisioned as a tribute to amateur and collegiate golf in the South, particularly Georgia, where Bobby Jones and The Masters have contributed to the heritage of the sport. The event has grown to include many nationally prominent programs outside the ACC and SEC area, and better than half of the tournament participants each year are ranked among the nation's top 25 teams.

The permanent Carpet Capital Collegiate champions trophy is named for Lowell Fritz, golf professional at Dalton Golf and Country Club. Fritz has long been dedicated to junior golf and the youth of the Dalton area. Boys or girls, members or non-members, Fritz has taken many hours of his personal time to teach the game of golf.

TECH COACHING HISTORY

H.E. DENNISON • 1931-55

A professor of economics and social science, as well as the director of industrial management, H.E. Dennison served as Georgia Tech's first golf coach from 1931-55. He shepherded a program which had already earned success on the national stage when Watts Gunn won the national collegiate championship in 1927. Collegiate golf was strictly a dual match sport in Dennison's time, and Tech went three straight years from 1933-35 without losing a match.

Dennison had the distinction of coaching such standouts as Charlie Yates, the 1934 national collegiate champion, 1938 British Amateur champion and three-time Walker Cup team member, as well as the 1938 Southern Intercollegiate champion Tommy Barnes and 1948 Southeastern Conference champion Albert Swann. He also led the Yellow Jackets to their first NCAA Championship appearance as a team in 1947.

TOMMY PLAXICO • 1956-82

Likeable Tommy Plaxico, a former Georgia Tech star of the cinders in the 1940s, served as the Yellow Jackets' golf coach from January of 1956 until he retired in 1982, an era which saw the landscape of college golf evolve from schools playing dual matches exclusively to playing stroke-play tournaments. Among his players were future PGA Tour star Larry Mize, 1967 NCAA runner-up Bunky Henry and 1999 U.S. Senior Amateur champion Bill Ploeger.

Plaxico, a contemporary of such Tech coaching luminaries as Bobby Dodd, Whack Hyder and Jim Luck, was a regular on the Tech track team for three years and was captain of the 1941 squad. After serving four years as a Navy fighter pilot in World War II, Plaxico returned to campus to receive his degree in industrial management in 1946. He immediately joined the Tech faculty as a member of the Physical Training staff, a capacity in which he served until he retired. Plaxico, also an avid tennis player, served as an assistant track coach for five years and was in charge of Georgia Tech's intramural program.

PUGGY BLACKMON • 1982-95

The arrival of Puggy Blackmon signaled a new era in golf at Georgia Tech, keeping the Yellow Jackets in line with the way college golf was growing. The South Carolina native came from a teaching and professional golf background, and laid the foundation for the stature of the program today. Heavily involved in junior golf, Blackmon immediately began recruiting top junior players, set about raising money for the program and started the booster club which continues to support Tech golf today.

Within three years, he guided the Yellow Jackets to their first Atlantic Coast Conference championship, and Tech became a perennial top-25 program. That led to the program being invited to compete in bigger and better events, and the Jackets would go on to win five ACC titles, compete in 11 NCAA Championships and win 33 tournaments overall during his tenure. He recruited and coached PGA Tour players Stewart Cink, Michael Clark II, David Duval and Tripp Isenhour.

ALL-TIME GREATS

Bobby Jones • Atlanta, Ga.

On Sept. 27, 1930, Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., of Atlanta walked off the 11th green at the Merion Cricket Club and into history. No one before him had won golf's four major championships in a single year. No one has done it since.

No one might ever do it again.

"It may be 60 years, if then, before we see another Grand Slam," said Joe Dey, former commissioner of the PGA Tour and former executive director of the United States Golf Association.

"You never say never," said Ben Hogan, who was 18 when Jones won the Slam and remains the only golfer to win three professional majors in one year. "But considering the times — there are so many more good players — it's improbable that any player will win all four."

Of all the single-season sustained records of excellence in major sports, Jones' mark has stood the longest. Longer than Babe Ruth's 60 home runs, a record that last 34 years after he set it in 1927; longer than Joe DiMaggio's 1941 hitting streak of 56 games, which is still alive after 49 years; longer than Wilt Chamberlain's 50.4 points-per-game average, set in 1961-62; longer than Bryon Nelson's PGA Tour streak of 11 straight victories and 18 overall in 1945.

The four tournaments Jones won —the national Open and amateur championships of the United States and Britain—originally were known as the "Impregnable Quadrilateral." That term eventually evolved into the Grand Slam, a term that stuck even when the PGA Championship and the Masters replaced the two amateur tournaments in the mythical foursome.

To understand the magnitude of Jones' deed, consider that in the ensuing 60 years only four players—Hogan, Gene Sarazen, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus—in their careers have won each of the four events that make up the modern Slam.

In golf's record books, Hogan comes across as the most serious challenger to Jones record when in 1953 the Texan won the Masters, U.S. Open and British Open. But because there was some overlap in dates of the British Open and the PGA Championship, the possibility of Hogan completing the Slam never existed.

Perhaps the most incredible thing about Jones' Slam is that he planned it. He didn't have a name for it, nor was he glory-seeking. His reasons were purely personal. Being an amateur golfer, his finances and family obligations would not allow him to play in all four tournaments after 1930. As it turned out, he didn't have to. He announced his retirement from competitive golf a few weeks after winning the U.S. Amateur. He was 28.

Dey, then a 23-year-old sportswriter for The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, was there at Merion in Ardmore, Pa., when Jones completed the Grand Slam. Now 83, Dey said Jones' performance was "simply unbelievable."

"I saw every shot, and I haven't seen anyone since as dominant as Jones was in that Amateur," Dey said. "None of his matches went past the 14th hole. He cruised along. Considering the pressure and the crowds—you have to remember in those days the fairways weren't roped—it was a remarkable performance by a remarkable player."

Dey has seen all the great players and says only Hogan and Nicklaus equaled Jones in figuring out a way to win.

"If Nicklaus couldn't do it, I don't think it could be done. Maybe Hogan could have, but there wasn't that much emphasis on the Grand Slam during his day. I don't see anyone out there today who knows how to win like they did and like Jones did."

"Also, it's just too hard now because there are too many good players to expect one to win all four, and too, I believe the intense media attention given to the majors creates tremendous pressure that begins to build when someone wins the first two."

Hogan, now 78, agrees about the media pressure. "It's incredible," he said, "much more so than when I played. Because it was impossible for me to play in all four in 1953, there was none of that."

Dey credits Jones with the Grand Slam transformation from two amateurs and two Opens to today's four pro majors. "When Jones retired, there was not another amateur of his ability, and after he started Augusta National, and the Masters took hold, the attention turned away from the amateurs to the professionals," he said.

"What Jones did was win the Grand Slam, then without realizing it, created another one."

How good was Jones? From 1923 through 1930, Jones won 13 major national titles in the U.S. and Great Britain, 62 percent of the championships he entered.

In the last 11 British and U.S. Opens in which he played, he finished no worse than second in 10, winning seven times. And from the time he was 14 to the time he was 28, no player ever beat him twice in championship match play.

It also must be noted that Jones was hardly a full-time golfer. Often he would go months without picking up a club. Instead, he studied mechanical engineering at Georgia Tech, got a degree in English literature at Harvard, dabbled in real estate and then attended law school at Emory. In his 13 years in major championship competition, he was a student, high school or college, in nine of them. He played only 52 tournaments in that span, an average of four a year, and won 23.

Though Jones was born and raised in Atlanta, there is no public display of his memorabilia. His old locker remains at East Lake Country Club men's locker room and several pictures hang on the walls of the grill room. Most of his trophies and his famous putter, Calamity Jane, are on display in a showcase in the Jones Room at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Jones died in the early evening of Dec. 18, 1971. He played his last round of golf in 1948, the year he was stricken with syringomyelium, a disease that attacks the central nervous system. His burial is in Atlanta's Oakland Cemetery. His tombstone reads:

Robert Tyre Jones, Jr.

Born 1902 Died 1971

No other words were thought necessary.

This story was written by the late Tom McCollister, who covered golf for the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and paid this tribute to Bobby Jones on the 60th anniversary of his Grand Slam, in the Sept. 27, 1990, edition of the Journal and Constitution.

ALL-TIME GREATS

Watts Gunn • Macon, Ga.

Watts Gunn was born in Macon, Ga., on January 11, 1905. He made golf history in 1925 in the U.S. Amateur at Oakmont Country Club, setting the world record for international championship golf by winning 15 straight holes in the first round of the 36-hole match. In that tournament, he went to the finals against friend and rival Bobby Jones, marking the only time two players from the same city ever met for the U.S. Amateur crown.

Gunn's first major tournament win was in the 1923 Georgia Amateur. In 1927, he won the Southern and National Intercollegiate tournaments, and the following year he won the Southern Amateur and Southern Open Championships. In 1926 and 1928, he played on the Walker Cup teams with Jones, defeating the British team both years. He played many benefit tournaments, including several exhibitions with Jones in 1927 and 1928. He took the Georgia State Amateur title in 1927 and 1928. At Lanier High School, he captained golf teams that never lost a match.

Watts Gunn was inducted into the Georgia Golf Hall of Fame on January 14, 1989.

From a Time Magazine account dated July 11, 1927

Last week, Watts Gunn of Georgia Tech, playmate of Robert Tyre Jones Jr., went four times around the Garden City (L. I.) Golf Club course in a total of 302 strokes. Had he been alive to do this in 1902, he would have won the U. S. Open Championship by five strokes.* But, at 22, his reward was the qualifying medal of the national intercollegiate golf tournament.

Consistently but not brilliantly, Golfer Gunn battered his way to the finals where he found the other favorite, Roland Mackenzie of Brown University, his good friend, with nerves set for a 36-hole struggle.

Beginning at the fifth hole of their first round, Golfer Gunn went stark, staring golf-mad, made six birdies, used only nine putts on seven consecutive holes—putts varying between 35 and 12 feet—sunk with a borrowed putter. His score for the first 18 holes was 69, breaking the course record by two strokes. After that it was only a matter of time before Mr. Gunn won match and championship, 10 up, 9 to go.

Another figure in the tournament was John D. Ames, blond son of Knowlton L. ("Snake") Ames (sinuous Princeton quarterback of the strenuous '90s), who lost to Watts Gunn in the second round but was elected president of the Intercollegiate Golf Association.

Charlie Yates • Atlanta, Ga.

Charlie Yates, a link to Atlanta's vast golf history who later shepherded the city's arts community into the future, was once heralded by Life magazine as owning "the best grin in golf."

He didn't mind using it either, whether to woo the English crowds while he was winning the 1938 British Amateur championship or while heading the effort to raise the $20 million that built the High Museum. A participant in the city's history for much of the 20th century, it is not inappropriate he be remembered first for that smile and a benevolent demeanor that underscored his life.

Yates, 92, died October 17, 2005 at his home in Buckhead.

Mentored by Bobby Jones - he in fact played with Jones in his final round in 1948 at East Lake Golf Club - Yates was national college champion while at Georgia Tech (1934), a two-time Walker Cup competitor (1936 and 1938) and was captain of the U.S. Walker team in 1953.

He seized the international limelight at the 1938 British Amateur at Royal Troon. Beating two U.S. and British Amateur champions along his eight-match campaign, he struck a tone with the British galleries who were not then so easily charmed by foreigners taking away their titles. Afterward, the legendary British golf author Bernard Darwin wrote, "There has been no invading Champion more popular than Charlie Yates, whose cheerfulness and humor, of his own particular brand, made everybody like him."

Yates played 11 times in the Masters, including the inaugural tournament in 1934.

"There wasn't any strict rule about who was eligible to play in the Masters then," he once told The Augusta Chronicle. "Bob invited some of his friends, such as myself."

He tied for 21st that year and twice was low amateur, but his most memorable Masters came in 1935. Yates was playing in the group ahead when Gene Sarazen made double eagle on the par-5 15th to force a playoff he won the next day. That shot put the Masters on the map.

Yates' amateur career, except for playing the Masters, ended with World War II when he was drafted into the Army. He transferred to the Navy and spent 30 months as a lieutenant on the destroyer USS Mayo, which was struck by enemy fire during the invasion of Italy.

For nearly 50 years, he served on the Masters' Press Committee, a constant presence in the media quarters and, to many who returned to Augusta National year after year, a Masters tradition in himself.

"I am deeply saddened by the passing of Charlie Yates," Augusta National chairman Hootie Johnson said. "Charlie was an outstanding amateur golfer and a member who was linked to Bobby Jones and the club's history, attending every Masters through 2003. He will be greatly missed."

But it was in 1973 that Yates began some of his most lasting work. He accepted Mayor Ivan Allen's suggestion to retire at age 60 and head up the Atlanta Arts Alliance (which later became the Woodruff Arts Center).

Yates already had served as president of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra (1962-65) and helped recruit Robert Shaw to be its conductor.

"When you look at who had a heavy influence on the thinking of people like the late Ivan Allen, of Robert W. Woodruff, Charlie was an effective leader in getting those people to see how Atlanta's strategy should include the development of world class arts and organizations," said Beauchamp Carr, executive vice president of the Woodruff Arts Center.

Originally drawn to the arts when his wife Dorothy recruited him for nights at the symphony, Yates ushered the city into a new age. Besides overseeing the effort to build the High, he helped raise the $5.4 million for the center's endowment. In his 10 years as president (1973-83) of what became the Woodruff Arts Center, the overall budget rocketed from $3.8 million to $16.3 million.

"I don't think of it as reaching into their pockets," he once said of his fund-raising ethic. "I think of it as their doing something for their own benefit."

The smile didn't hurt much either.

GEORGIA TECH ALL-AMERICANS

The Golf Coaches Association of America selects a 60-man All-America team each year following the NCAA Division I Championship. The first, second and third teams each honor 10 golfers, with the remainder named honorable mention. Golfers not initially named to the 60-man team but who finish in the top 15 of the NCAA Championship are automatically added to the honorable mention unit. The GCAA has been selecting All-America teams since 1958.

Bryce Molder (1998-2001) and David Duval (1990-93), pictured above, are two of only four Division I players ever to be named first-team All-American four times. The others are Gary Hallberg of Wake Forest (1975-78) and Phil Mickelson of Arizona State (1989-92). Nicholas Thompson and Roberto Castro earned All-America recognition each of their four years at Tech, though not first-team honors each time.

NCAA TODAY'S TOP VIII AWARD

The NCAA honors eight student-athletes each year out of nominees from every sport, recognizing those who excel in their sport, in the classroom, and exhibit high character, leadership and service to others.

Roberto Castro (bottom), who graduated in 2007 with high honor in Industrial Engineering and won the Byron Nelson Award as a senior, and Bryce Molder (below), who won four national player of the year honors in 2001, are the only two men's golfers ever to win the prestigious NCAA Today's Top VIII Award.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Troy Matteson

NCAA Champion in 2002

Troy Matteson capped an outstanding junior season by winning the biggest tournament of the year, the NCAA Championships in Columbus, Ohio. The victory was his fourth of the year, tying the school record held by David Duval and marked the first time since 1934 that a Yellow Jacket was crowned National Collegiate Champion.

Matteson's run to the title began inauspiciously as he opened with a 2-over-par score of 73 to stand tied for 88th place, seven shots off the tournament lead. That would change quickly, as he found his scoring groove over the next 54 holes of play.

Day two saw the first significant move, as Matteson carded a 5-under-par round of 66 to move into a tie for 12th place at 73-66-139. The steady play continued over the final two rounds, as Matteson finished with sub-par rounds of 70 and 67 respectively to take over the individual lead as the final round came to an end.

The victory marked the fourth individual title of the year for Matteson, tying the school record previously held by David Duval, along with being the third time in school history that a Yellow Jacket had been the individual national champion.

For his efforts, Matteson was named the recipient of the Arnold Palmer National Player of the Year award and earned first-team All-America honors for the first time in his career.

Watts Gunn

National Collegiate Champion in 1927

The Rambling Wreck and the name of Watts Gunn rose to supreme heights in 1927.

Becoming the first Georgia Tech golfer to win the National Collegiate Championship, Gunn shot a total of 302 over the 72-hole event at the Garden City Country Club to win the medal competition. He went on to dispatch Walker Cup teammate Roland McKenzie, 10-9, to win the individual title, and his 69 in the final round broke the course record. He also helped Tech win the Southern Intercollegiate title the same year.

Along with winning the collegiate championship, Gunn was a two-time U.S. Walker Cup team member, joining the squad in both 1926 and 1928. In those two events, he compiled a combined 4-0 record, posting a pair of victories in each.

Gunn was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1961. The annual Yellow Jacket men's golf team award for the season's most improved player is named in Gunn's honor.

Charlie Yates

National Collegiate Champion in 1934

Yates, who won the British Amateur in 1938 and the Western Amateur in 1935, won the Georgia state championship in 1931 and 1935, advanced to the second round of match play in the U.S. Amateur and was the low amateur in the first Masters tournament in 1934.

He culminated a fine college career by winning the 1934 National Collegiate Championship in Cleveland, Ohio, joining Watts Gunn as the only two Tech golfers ever to do so. Yates is one of eight Yellow Jackets to have competed in the Walker Cup, as he was a team member in both 1936 and '38, compiling a 3-0-1 record in those matches. In 1953, he was named the captain of the Walker Cup team and was an honorary captain in 1985.

Yates played in the first 11 Masters tournaments, five times finishing as low amateur and three times finishing in the top 24.

He was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1959 and an award named in his honor has been given annually to the member of the Yellow Jacket golf team displaying the most outstanding academic achievement.

INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

Georgia Tech players have been integral parts of United States teams in international competitions on both the amateur and professional levels.

Stewart Cink and Matt Kuchar (top left) both played for the United States in the 2010 Ryder Cup in Newport, Wales. Cink has competed in five Ryder Cups for the U.S., including the victorious 2002 team with David Duval (left). Kuchar played in his second Ryder Cup in 2012.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP TIMELINE

The national collegiate championships were conducted by the United States Golf Association through 1938, and consisted of a medal competition and a match play bracket similar to today's U.S. Amateur.

The NCAA began conducting the championship in 1939, using a match play format through 1965, when it became a 72-hole, stroke-play event.

The NCAA instituted a 54-hole cut from 1979-88. A 36-hole cut was used in 1989, and again from 1992-2001. No cuts were made in 1990, 1991 or 2002.

Regional qualifying tournaments were instituted in 1989, expanding the championship field to 81 teams, 27 in each of three regionals, with 30 teams advancing to the 72-hole finals. In 2009, the format was changed to include a total of six regional tournaments (13 teams in three, 14 teams in the other three). Thirty teams (five from each regional) advanced to the finals.

The finals structure also changed in 2009, with 30 teams playing 54 holes of stroke play. The individual national champion is crowned after 54 holes, and the top eight teams advance to a match play bracket to decide the team champion.

Georgia Tech fielded its first intercollegiate golf team in 1918, “and it was met with marked success in the matches with the Eastern colleges,” reads the 1918 edition of the Blueprint, the Georgia Tech yearbook.

“To get to the personnel and work of the team. Very little time was had by the men to practice, but they went to it with a will and when the time for the first match with Columbia came around, a formidable quartet was on hand. Perry Adair, one of the foremost golfers in the South, was number one man. Adair has been playing golf around Atlanta since twelve years old and holds many of the course records in the South. Fred Howden of Savannah, was elected manager. Howden had a score of notable records to his credit there. Ewing Watkins, one of the best golfers in Tennessee and said to be the longest driver in the South, and Tom Prescott of Atlanta golf fame, comprised the other two members of the team.”

Scoring for matches that year, and in years beyond, “was kept on the Nassau system, the winners on the first nine being awarded one point, the same being true for the second nine holes, and an additional point being awarded for the best ball of the match.”

YEAR-BY-YEAR RESULTS (SINCE 1947)

From 1937-39, the Southeastern Conference Championship was held in Baton Rouge, La. From 1940-64, the SEC Championship was held in Athens, Ga., as part of the Southern Intercollegiate Championship (no championship was held from 1943-45 due to World War II). Tech continued to participate in the SIC long after leaving the Southeastern Conference in 1964.
