TECH GOLF NOTEBOOK

Georgia Tech's golf team, which returned all seven members of its 2015-16 team, has added four freshmen to its roster, all of whom were ranked among the top 100 juniors in the country. The Yellow Jackets were ranked No. 17 in Golfweek magazine's pre-season college golf survey, but were outside the top 25 in the pre-season poll of college coaches released by the Golf Coaches Association of America.

Quick 2015-16 Recap

Georgia Tech was ranked No. 42 in the latest Golfstat rankings and No. 38 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Index following NCAA regional competition. The Yellow Jackets finished third (Princeton Invitational) and second (Clemson Invitational) in their last two tournaments, their best showings in a spring that proved difficult, then finished fourth in a stacked ACC Championship field in which the Yellow Jackets outplayed four teams ranked ahead of them nationally.

For the second straight year, Tech went West for its NCAA regional, joining 13 other teams for the Tucson Regional at the Gallery at Dove Mountain in Marana, Ariz. For just the third time since regional play was introduced in 1989, the Yellow Jackets did not advance through the regional, tying for seventh place.

The Yellow Jackets finished 14th out of 15 teams in a loaded field and logged their highest score of the year (905, +53) at the Valspar Collegiate Invitational, three weeks after posting their lowest score of the year (857, -7) in a sixth-place finish at the Puerto Rico Classic.

Tech had a 83-64-5 won-loss record cumulatively against a schedule rated the 15th-toughest in the country, and a 14-40-1 mark against top-25 teams. Only top-ranked Texas and No. 5 Stanford faced more top-25 teams than have the Yellow Jackets.

The Yellow Jackets posted high finishes of fifth place at the Carpet Capital Collegiate and the United States Collegiate Championship in the fall.

Tech Lineup

Tech's top five players in terms of scoring average competed in the ACC Championship and the NCAA Tucson Regional, led by junior Vincent Whaley (McKinney, Texas), who had three top-5 finishes to his credit this year, including a victory at the Clemson Invitational. He also tied for fifth at the Amer Ari Invitational with a career-low score of 207 (-9) and tied for ninth at the Princeton Invitational. He was ranked No. 79 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Index, and led the Jackets with a 72.16 stroke average and a 72.2 won-loss percentage.

Also in the starting five were sophomore Chris Petefish (Danville, Calif.), who led the Jackets (T-7) at the ACC Championship and tied for ninth in Puerto Rico. He ranked second on the team in stroke average (73.48). He also tied for 17th in the NCAA Tucson Regional along with Whaley and Jacob Joiner.

Joiner, a sophomore from Leesburg, Ga., who won the Carpet Capital Collegiate in the fall, had four other top-20 finishes, including a tie for 11th at the Puerto Rico Classic and a tie for 12th at Princeton this spring. He finished second on the team in won-loss percentage and third in stroke average (73.68).

Sophomore James Clark (Columbus, Ga.), who had one top-10 finish (Clemson) and a 73.77 stroke average, and junior Michael Hines (Acworth, Ga.), with a 75.38 average in eight events, completed the Tech travel team.

Tee Shots

- The seven players on Georgia Tech's roster collectively have played 329 rounds in their collegiate careers, compared to 475 rounds by last year's starting five in the NCAA Championship and 537 by the 2013-14 NCAA quintet.

- Three of Tech's players had played in an NCAA regional or championship. The 2015 regional unit included Chris Petefish (T-14), James Clark (T-29) and Vincent Whaley (T-49). At the NCAA Championship, Whaley tied for 33rd, Petefish finished solo 53rd and Clark tied for 54th.

- According to the Golfweek/Sagarin ratings, Tech faced the 15th-most difficult schedule in Division I (last year's team played the ninth-most difficult) -- Tech went 14-40-1 vs. the nation's top 25 teams, 30-52-3 vs. the top 50, 48-60-3 vs. the top 100.

- Tech finished fourth (ACC Championship), third (Princeton Invitational) and second (Clemson Invitational) in its last three events leading into the NCAA regional, but no higher than fifth in any event prior to that in 2015-16.

- Tech's team scoring average for the year is 290.14, nearly six strokes higher than last year's 284.90, almost nine shots higher than last year's 282.2.

- Tech's top two players in the Golfweek/Sagarin rankings were Vincent Whaley (79) and Jacob Joiner (239). Four members of last year's lineup finished in the top 150 - Schniederjans at No. 8, Albertson at No. 37, Petefish as 114 and Whaley at No. 143.

- Tech's best score of the year was 857 (-7) at the Puerto Rico Classic.

- Georgia Tech has played in the NCAA Championship finals 28 times, and 27 times since 1985.

Tech Again Receives APR Public Recognition

Georgia Tech's golf team was among four Yellow Jacket teams that were publicly honored by the NCAA for being among the top 10 percent in Academic Progress Rates (APR). The four teams – football, golf, men's swimming & diving and volleyball – are the second-most honorees for Georgia Tech and the most since 2013.

Bruce Heppeler's golf program earned a perfect four-year APR score of 1000 and has done so every year since its inception. Tech's golf program has received an APR Public Recognition Award every year since the APR's inception in 2006. Georgia Tech is one of only three ACC golf programs to receive an APR award every year.

The APR measures eligibility, graduation and retention each term and provides a clear picture of the academic performance for each team in every sport.

The APR is an annual scorecard of academic achievement calculated for all Division I sports teams nationally. The most recent APR scores are based on the 2011-12, 2012-13, 2013-14 and 2014-15 academic years. This year marks the 12th year of APR data for most teams.

Tech Signs Four in Class of 2016

Georgia Tech has signed four highly-regarded junior golf prospects from the class of 2016 - Andy Ogletree of Little Rock, Miss., Luke Schniederjans of Powder Springs, Ga., Anton Serafini of Lake Mary, Fla., and Tyler Strafaci of Davie, Fla.

Ogletree is ranked No. 25 nationally and No. 11 in the class of 2016 by the Junior Golf Scoreboard. He is the top-ranked player in his class in the state of Mississippi and No. 2 overall. In 2015, Ogletree finished 23rd in the Western Junior, 24th in the Junior Players and 24th in the Foot Joy Junior, made it to the quarterfinals of the U.S. Junior Amateur Championship and shot a 65 in a sectional qualifier to reach the U.S. Amateur. Named to the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger all-state first team in 2015, Ogletree won medalist honors four straight years in the class AA state championship playing at Union High School.

An all-state performer in Georgia in 2014 and 2015 at Harrison High School, Schniederjans helped the Hoyas to three class AAAAAA regional titles from 2013 to 2015. He graduated from Harrison before his senior season. On the junior circuit, Schniederjans is ranked No. 110 nationally among all classes, No. 6 in Georgia in his class, having earned four victories in junior events and 18 top-10 finishes overall in the last three years. In 2016, Schniederjans has won the Amelia Island Junior Open in the Hurricane Junior Golf Tour, tied for seventh at the Florida Azalea Amateur and tied for 19th at the Puerto Rico Junior Open, an American Junior Golf Association event.

Ranked 12th among junior golfers in the state of Florida, Serafini posted nine top-10 finishes in junior tournaments over the last three years, including three top-5 finishes in the Florida Boys Junior Championship. He also tied for ninth place in stroke play and made the round of 16 in the 2014 U.S. Junior Amateur Championship. He is ranked No. 147 nationally in the Junior Golf Scoreboard and No. 167 in the Golfweek/Sagarin junior ratings. Serafini led Lake Mary Prep to a pair of Florida state high school championships (2013, 2015) and was the individual runner-up in 2013. He won the 2015 district and regional champion and made the 2013, 2014 and 2015 all-Central Florida boys team.

An honorable mention Rolex Junior All-American in 2015, Strafaci is ranked 19th nationally and sixth in the class of 2016 in the Junior Golf Scoreboard. He is the top-rated class of 2016 player in the state of Florida and No. 3 overall. In 2015, he has logged a pair of victories, another top-5 finish, seven top-10s and 11 top-20s out of 14 junior events in 2015. Strafaci captured victories in sectional qualifying tournaments for the U.S. Amateur and U.S. Junior Amateur, and reached the round of 32 in match play at the U.S. Junior Amateur. Captain of his high school team, Strafaci led American Heritage to the 2012 and 2014 Florida state championship and runner-up finishes in 2013 and 2015. He won the individual state title in 2015.

Tech's NCAA Championship History

Georgia Tech has reached the NCAA Championship finals 27 times since 1985 (28th time in program history), which is tied for fourth most in that time period behind Oklahoma State (31), Florida (30), Arizona State (29) and Texas (28). Tech has posted nine top-8 finishes in the last 14 tries. (Tech played in NCAA regionals in 2008, 2012 and 2015 but did not advance.)

The Yellow Jackets tied for 10th in 2009, the first-year of the stroke-play/match-play format, but qualified for match play each of the last four times they have advanced to the NCAA Championship (third in 2010, second in 2011, second in 2013, fifth in 2014). Tech did not advance out of its regional in 2012.

Tech has lost to the eventual champion three times in its first three forays into match play - Augusta State by the score of 3-2 in the quarterfinals in 2010 and 2011 and to Alabama (3-0-2) in 2013.

Tech has been the runner-up in the NCAA Championship four times (1993, 2000, 2002 and 2005), more than any team in the history of the championship except Houston, Michigan, Texas and Wake Forest, who also have four, and Oklahoma State, which has five.

In 1993 and 2002, the Yellow Jackets led after 54 holes, but finished second by one shot to Florida in 1993, and by four shots to Minnesota in 2002.

In 2000, the Yellow Jackets rallied to tie Oklahoma State after 72 holes, but lost to the Cowboys on the first hole of a playoff. Tech and OSU matched the lowest 72-hole team score in NCAA Championship history (36-under-par 1,116) at the Grand National Lake Course in Opelika, Ala. In 2005, Tech finished 11 shots behind Georgia, and seven shots ahead of third-place Washington.

Since Bruce Heppeler became Tech's coach, the Jackets have finished in the top 8 11 times, with one 10th-place and one 11th-place finish.

Three Tech players have won national collegiate championships. Troy Matteson did it most recently in 2002 at Ohio State. Watts Gunn (1927) and Charlie Yates (1934) won national titles under a match play format before the NCAA took sponsorship of the championship in 1939.

Other top-10 finishers for Tech include David Duval (runner-up in 1991 and 1993, T-8 in 1990), Bill McDonald (T-2 in 1988), Bunky Henry (2nd in 1967), Roberto Castro (3rd in 2005), Nacho Gervas (T-3 in 1986), Paul Haley (T-9 in 2010), Kris Mikkelsen (T-4 in 2001), Stewart Cink (T-5 in 1994), Bryce

TECH GOLF NOTEBOOK

Molder (6th in 1998), Matt Weibring (6th in 2000), James White (T8 in 2011) and Ollie Schniederjans (T8 in 2013 and 2nd in 2015).

Tech and NCAA Match Play

The 2009 NCAA Championship featured a new twist with the team champion determined via match play. The top eight teams after 54 holes of stroke play advance to a match play tournament format.

This year's format has added a fourth round of stroke play for the top 15 teams and nine individuals not on those teams, after which the national individual champion and the top eight teams for match play will be determined.

It is a format that Bruce Heppler has supported vigorously. Under Heppler, Georgia Tech finished in the top eight of the NCAA Finals seven times in 10 tries under the 72-hole, stroke-play format. Tech is one of only two teams (Oklahoma State is the other) to have advanced to match play four times in the six years the current format has been in effect.

In the stroke-play/match play era, the Yellow Jackets have finished 10th, third, second, second and fifth, respectively, in the stroke-play portion of the NCAA Championship in five tries (Tech did not advance out of its regional in 2012). Tech has lost to the eventual national champion three of the four times has qualified for match play (Augusta State in the 2010 and 2011 quarterfinals, Alabama in the 2013 semifinals).

Tech has had success in other match-play events in recent years, reaching the finals of the Callaway Collegiate Match Play Championship four times in six appearances.

Tech in NCAA Regional Competition

Georgia Tech has advanced through an NCAA regional 23 times in 26 tries, and all but twice since the NCAA went to a six-regional qualifying format in 2009. Head coach Bruce Heppler's teams have won five regional tournaments outright, most recently in 2014, and tied for one other.

The NCAA began using regional qualifying tournaments in 1989, first with the 81 teams split among three sites (27 teams each), then with six sites with either 13 or 14 teams each beginning in 2009. Since the NCAA went to six regional sites in 2009, Tech has finished third (Bowling Green, Ky.), third (Milton, Ga.), tied for third (Radford, Va.), sixth/did not advance (Norman, Okla.), fourth (Tallahassee, Fla.), first (Raleigh, N.C.), third (San Diego) and tied for seventh/did not advance (Tucson).

Tech's first four victories all occurred in 27-team regionals in 1991 (New Haven, Conn.), 1998 (Daufuskie Island, S.C.), 1999 (Providence, R.I.) and 2002 (Roswell, Ga., tied with Clemson). Only the 2014 win occurred in a 13-team field.

Georgia Tech Match Play History

While match play in college golf may be infrequent, Georgia Tech is no stranger to it, having participated in six regular season match play events since 2001, as well as three times in the five years the NCAA has utilized match play to determine its champion. Here is a history of Tech's participation.

- 2016 FarmLinks Collegiate Match Play Championship - I. Vanderbilt, 4-1-1, I. Alabama, 3-2-1
 - 2014 NCAA Championship - I. Oklahoma State, 4-0-1

ACC Championship History

Georgia Tech has won the last two Atlantic Coast Conference championships, six of the last seven and eight of the last 10.

The last three individual champions also have come from Georgia Tech. Anders Albertson won his second title in 2015, sharing medalist honors with Louisville's Robin Scot-Siegrist and Virginia Tech's Trevor Cone with a score of 11-under-par 205. He also won the championship in 2013 with a record score of 15-under 201. He is the fifth player to win two ACC titles, and the second Tech player to do so, joining David Duval in 1991 and 1993.

Albertson became Tech's 10th ACC individual champion, joining Bob McDonnell (1985), David Duval (1991, 1993), Mikko Rantanen (1994), Bryce Molder (2000), Cameron Tringale (2006), Chesson Hadley (2010), Paul Haley (2011), Albertson (2013, 2015) and Schniederjans (2014).

Tech's 16 ACC men's golf titles in history ranks second among conference schools behind Wake Forest (18). Tech has won 11 of its conference titles under current head coach Bruce Heppler, nine of those outright (1999, 2001, 2002, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2014, 2015) and two shared (2006, 2007). The Yellow Jackets won five championships (1985, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994) under previous head coach Puggy Blackmon.

Ten of Tech's ACC titles have occurred at the Old North State Club, the first occurring in 1999 by 10 strokes over North Carolina and Duke. Tech won the 2011 crown with a tournament record score of 831 (-33) and by a record 20 strokes. Tech shared the 2006 title with North Carolina, and the 2007 crown with Virginia Tech.

2015-16 REVIEW

ADMINISTRATION

DR. G.P. "BUD" PETERSON

President

G.P. "Bud" Peterson was appointed as the 11th president of Georgia Tech on April 1, 2009. Prior to his appointment, he served as chancellor at the University of Colorado at Boulder (2006-2009), provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York (2000-2006), and program director at the National Science Foundation for the Thermal Transport and Thermal Processing Program (1993-1994). He has held various positions at Texas A&M University, beginning in 1981 as an assistant professor of engineering technology and Halliburton Professor of Mechanical Engineering (1990), the College of Engineering's Tenneco Professor, head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering (1993-1996), executive associate dean of engineering (1996-2000), and associate vice chancellor for engineering for the Texas A&M University System (1996-2000). Prior to his service at Texas A&M, he was a visiting research scientist at NASA-Johnson Space Center in Houston, Texas (1981-1982), associate professor and head of the General Engineering Technology Department at Kansas Technical Institute in Salina, Kan. (1979-1981), and taught mathematics, physics and chemistry at Shawnee Mission South High School in Overland Park, Kan. (1978-1979), and Wabaunsee County High School in Alma, Kan. (1977-1978).

Throughout his career, Peterson has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government, and academic task forces and committees. He has served as a member of a number of congressional task forces, research councils, and advisory boards, including the Office of Naval Research (ONR), the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), the Department of Energy (DOE), the National Research Council (NRC), and the National Academy of Engineering (NAE). In addition, he has served as a member of the Board of Directors and vice president for education for the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA) and is currently serving as a member of the National Science Board (NSB), co-chair of the Government Relations Committee of the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities (APLU), as a member of the U.S. Council on Competitiveness, and was recently appointed by Secretary Gary Locke as a member of the National Advisory Council on Innovation and Entrepreneurship (NACIE).

As chancellor of the University of Colorado, Peterson led the development of a new university wide strategic plan, Flagship 2030, which defined a vision for the university for the next 20 years. In his nearly three years as chancellor, freshman applications increased by 35 percent, the number of under-represented minorities in the freshmen class increased by 38 percent, sponsored research increased by more than 18 percent, and private philanthropy for the university increased by nearly 80 percent.

As provost at Rensselaer, he played a key role in the institutional transformation and the dramatic improvement in the quality, size, and diversity of the faculty – overseeing the hiring of nearly 40 percent of the faculty, increasing the total number of tenured and tenure-track faculty by 20 percent, and improving the diversity of the tenured/tenure-track faculty by more than doubling the number of under-represented minorities and increasing the number of women by 40 percent. In addition, during his tenure as provost, the quality, size, and diversity of the student body increased, with the number of full-time PhD students increasing by 25%.

Peterson's research interests have focused on the fundamental aspects of phase change heat transfer, including the heat transfer in reduced gravity environments, boiling from enhanced surfaces, and some of the earliest work in the area of flow and phase change heat transfer in microchannels. Early investigations focused on applications involving the thermal control of manned and unmanned spacecraft and progressed through applications of phase change heat transfer to the thermal control of electronic components and devices. More recently, investigations have included fundamental applications of phase change heat transfer to the field of biotechnology, including the insitu treatment of cancerous tissue using hypo and hyperthermia to arrest epileptic seizures through the rapid cooling of localized brain tissue, which required highly efficient heat dissipation devices capable of dissipating thermal energy to surrounding tissue.

A Fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, Peterson is the author or co-author of 14 books or book chapters, 180 refereed journal articles, more than 150 conference publications, and holds eight patents with two others pending. He is a member of several professional organizations and the recipient of numerous national and international honors and awards for both teaching and research.

TODD STANSBURY

Director of Athletics

Georgia Institute of Technology introduced former Tech football player Todd Stansbury as the Institute's ninth director of athletics on Sept. 22, 2016.

Stansbury has served as Oregon State's athletic director since June 2015 following a nine-year stint as the university's executive associate athletic director from 2003-2012. During his time at Oregon State, Stansbury was part of a senior management team that raised $150 million for a football stadium expansion, in addition to fundraising for the construction of a sports performing center. He also was part of a team that established several career development initiatives for student-athletes.

"Todd Stansbury is committed to athletes' success both on and off the field," Peterson said. "His global perspective and leadership experience in athletics and development, combined with a lifelong passion for Georgia Tech, make him the ideal candidate. I believe this is one of those rare golden moments in life where opportunity meets ambition. We welcome him home."

Stansbury's resume also includes roles as athletic director at the University of Central Florida (2012-2015) and East Tennessee State University (2000-2003). He was Georgia Tech's assistant athletic director for academics from 1988-1995 under Homer Rice. Now he returns to campus to guide a department that features 15 teams in 17 NCAA Division I varsity sports.

"I am honored and humbled to have the opportunity to return to Georgia Tech, a place that has played such a large role in my life and the place responsible for opening up a world to me that I didn't even know existed," Stansbury said. "I am thankful to President Peterson and the selection committee for providing me this opportunity."

Stansbury grew up in Canada. When he was 10 years old and on vacation with his family in Florida, he befriended several Georgia Tech football players staying at the same hotel. During the drive back home to Ontario, his family stopped on campus to see a practice. That's when Stansbury knew he wanted to play football on The Flats. He earned varsity letters while at Georgia Tech from 1980-1984 as a middle linebacker and on special teams for head coach Bill Curry. He was a third-round draft pick of the Canadian Football League's Saskatchewan Roughriders in 1984.

As the ninth director of athletics in Georgia Tech history, he follows in the footsteps of storied names such as Rice, John Heisman and Bobby Dodd. He was hired following a national search that began in August 2016 when Mike Bobinski accepted the athletics director position at Purdue University. A nine-member search committee led by Georgia Tech Foundation President Al Trujillo identified candidates. The search process was assisted by Turnkey Search.

"I want to thank Al and the search committee for their outstanding guidance in evaluating candidates," Peterson said. "I'm also personally grateful for the leadership and (interim A.D.) Paul (Griffin), who interrupted his retirement to return to campus to lead our Athletics Association. He will continue to be a great asset during the transition period for the remainder of 2016."

Georgia Tech has achieved a school-record Graduation Success Rate (84 percent according to the most recent NCAA figures from November 2015) in each of the past three years. The Institute also recorded outstanding scores in the Academic Progress Rate (APR), which provides a real-time NCAA metric to measure the success of institutions in moving student-athletes toward graduation. The latest APR statistics, released in April, reported that 13 of Georgia Tech's 15 teams scored 980 or better out of a possible 1,000 points.

REGINALD DESROCHES*Faculty Athletics Representative

Reginald DesRoches is the Karen and John Huff School Chair and Professor of Civil and Environmental Engineering at the Georgia Institute of Technology. DesRoches took over as FAR on July 1, 2014, after Professor Sue Ann Bidstrip stepped down following a five-year stint as FAR.

As Chair of the School of Civil & Environmental Engineering, he provides leadership to a top-ranked program with 100 faculty and staff and 1,100 students. His primary research interests are in design of resilient infrastructure systems under extreme loads. He has published more than 300 articles in the general area of resilience and seismic risk assessment, and he has given more than 100 presentations in over 35 different countries.

A fellow of the American Society of Civil Engineers and the society's Structural Engineering Institute, Dr. DesRoches has served as the key technical leader in the United States' response to the Haiti earthquake and led a team of 28 engineers, architects, city planners, and social scientists to study the impact of the earthquake. He has also participated in numerous congressional briefings to underscore the critical role that university research must play in addressing the country's infrastructure crisis and resilience to natural hazards. Dr. DesRoches has served as thesis advisor to 29 Doctoral and 17 Master's thesis students.

Dr. DesRoches serves on the National Academy of Sciences Resilience Roundtable and the Academy's Board on Army Science and Technology as well as on the National Science Foundation's Advisory Committee for Engineering, the Global Earthquake Modeling Scientific Board, and the advisory board for the Natural Disasters, Coastal Infrastructure and Emergency Management Research Center. He has chaired the American Society of Civil Engineers' Seismic Effects Committee as well as the executive committee of the Technical Council on Lifeline Earthquake Engineering.

In recent years, Dr. DesRoches has testified before U.S. House and Senate subcommittees on earthquake resilience and science and participated in Washington, D.C., roundtables on topics ranging from disaster preparedness to challenges for African-American men in STEM fields. National media outlets frequently contact him for expert analysis following earthquake events, including CNN, CNN International, LiveScience, National Geographic, and Asia Times online. He also is frequently called on as a champion of the critical role that university research must play in addressing the country's infrastructure crisis and resilience to natural hazards.

Dr. DesRoches has received the Presidential Early Career Award for Scientists and Engineers (PECASE) in 2002 — the highest honor bestowed upon scientists and engineers in the early stages of their careers. Most recently, he was a recipient of the 2007 ASCE Walter L. Huber Civil Engineering Research Prize, the 2015 ASCE Charles Martin Duke Lifeline Earthquake Engineering Award, the Georgia Tech Outstanding Doctoral Thesis Advisor Award (2010), and the Georgia Tech ANAK Award (2008). The ANAK award is the highest honor the undergraduate student body can bestow on a Georgia Tech faculty member.

DesRoches was born in Port-au-Prince, Haiti, and grew up in Queens, New York. He earned his Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering, Master of Science in Civil Engineering, and Ph.D. in Structural Engineering at the University of California, Berkeley, where he was recently elected to the civil engineering department's Academy of Distinguished Alumni.

22nd Year at Tech ACC Coach of the Year 7 times 11 ACC Championships 18 NCAA Finals Appearances

If a consistently high level of success over a long period of time is the measure of a great program, then Georgia Tech's golf program under Bruce Heppler would certainly meet the standard. His peers recognized this in 2013 when they inducted him into the Golf Coaches Association of America Hall of Fame.

Tech is currently on a run unprecedented in school history and perhaps unmatched by any other in Division I - eight Atlantic Coast Conference titles in the last 11 years and four trips to match play at the NCAA Championship in the last seven.

Heppler has guided the Yellow Jackets to the NCAA Championship every year since 1998, and helped author 11 top-8 finishes in the Finals, including three runner-up showings.

Tech has advanced to match play at the NCAA Championship for the four times in the eight years the format has been used, and is one of only two programs that have advanced to match play four times.

During his tenure, Tech has won or shared 11 Atlantic Coast Conference titles. Only two ACC coaches have led their teams to more ACC titles than has Heppler. The Yellow Jackets have captured or shared 46 team titles overall.

He was named ACC Coach of the Year in 2014 for the eighth time, more than any coach in ACC history except one, and was a finalist for the GCAA's Dave Williams national coach of the year award.

Since 2000, the Yellow Jackets have finished in the top 10 of the final Golfstat rankings 11 times, and in the final Golfweek/Sagarin top 10 13 times. Tech did not finish lower than 14th in either ranking in any year from 2000 to 2015.

In a July, 2015 poll of his coaching peers conducted by Golfweek magazine, Heppler ranked No. 3. His program was ranked No. 2 among College Factual's ranking of the best colleges to play golf, taking into account both the quality of the golf team, as well as the academic success of the players and the quality of the school.

Heppler has recruited and developed his share of star players as well. The Yellow Jackets have had at least a pair of All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorees in 16 of the last 18 years, and landed four members of the team on the squad twice (2005, 2011). Tech has had at least two players earn All-America honors 14 of the last 17 years, and Ollie Schniederjans became the program's 20th and 21st first-team selections in his junior and senior years. Three of his players, Matt Kuchar, Bryce Molder and Troy Matteson, have been named national player of the year.

Thirteen of Heppler's players are currently active members of either the PGA Tour or the Web.com Tour, with several other recent graduates climbing their way up through the SwingThought.com or other mini-tours.

Heppler has been named to coach the United States team in the Palmer Cup twice, in 2003 and 2015, and eight of his players have also represented the USA in that annual event.

Kuchar, Molder, Nicholas Thompson and Cameron Tringale have represented the United States in the Walker Cup matches. Twice, in 1998 and 2013, five or more of the Heppler's active Tech players have qualified to play in the U.S. Amateur. Six of Tech's seven returning players in 2013 competed in that year's U.S. Amateur in Brookline, Mass., an unprecedented feat.

On the conference level since 1985, when the Yellow Jackets won their first ACC Championship, Tech has earned more NCAA Championship berths than any team except Clemson. The Jackets have earned more top-10, more top-5 and more top-2 finishes in NCAA Championship competition than any other ACC team. Tech also has had more All-America selections (61) than any other ACC team during the same period except the Tigers.

His players have been just as successful in the classroom. Tech's golf program has been recognized with a perfect Academic Progress Report score of 1000 for 11 straight years, and every senior has graduated.

Fourteen different players under Heppler have been named All-America Scholars by the Golf Coaches Association of America, which requires a minimum 3.2 GPA and participation in at least 75 percent of a team's events. Two, All-Americans Bryce Molder and Roberto Castro, have received the NCAA's Top VIII Award, an honor given to eight student-athletes from all sports each year and recognizes those who excel in their sport and in the classroom, and exhibit high character, leadership and service to others.

It didn't take long for Heppler to restore the glory to Tech's golf program following a couple of lean years in the mid-1990s. After recruiting future All-Americans Kuchar and Molder, Heppler had the Yellow Jackets back in the NCAA Tournament in his third season, where they finished third, just four shots off the lead. Tech also was ranked No. 1 in the nation during the course of the year and won the NCAA East Regional.

Even better things were to come as Tech captured the first of its ACC titles under Heppler in 1999. In 2000 the Yellow Jackets came the closest to an NCAA Championship in their history, tying for first after 72 holes with Oklahoma State before losing a one-hole playoff. On the year, Tech captured four team titles and finished in the top four in each event it entered.

During the 2001 campaign, the Jackets won their second ACC crown in three years, the second under Heppler, captured a school-record-tying five tournament wins during the year and finished fourth in the NCAA Championship. For his efforts, Heppler was named ACC Coach of the Year and guided three All-Americans in Molder, who was also the consensus National Player of the Year, Matteson and Kris Mikkelsen.

In 2002, Heppler led the Yellow Jackets to arguably the best season in school history, as Tech captured seven team titles and finished second at the NCAA Championship. In the process, Heppler earned National and ACC Coach of the Year honors. During the year, the Jackets won the school's eighth ACC title, while placing all five starters on GCAA All-America teams. Under Heppler's tutelage, Matteson became the third Tech player to win the national individual title.

Tech has dominated the Atlantic Coast Conference in recent years, winning eight of the last 10 titles and six of the last seven. The Yellow Jackets have been to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1998, and only twice in that time failed to advance out of a regional. In the seven years the NCAA has conducted the current medal/match play format for the championship, Tech has advanced to match play four times.

A 55-year-old native of St. George, Utah, Heppler has demonstrated his strength as a recruiter by attracting both National Players of the Year during 1997-98 and the ACC Players of the Year for 1998, 1999, 2000 and 2001. His first recruit at Tech was Kuchar, who won the 1997 U.S. Amateur Championship and was named the ACC Player of the Year and the Fred Haskins National Player of the Year in 1998. Molder was the Jack Nicklaus Player of the Year in 1998 and in 2001, along with being named the ACC Player of the Year in 1999, 2000 and 2001.

Heppler, a dean's list student at Brigham Young, earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from BYU in 1985, and later received his master's degree in sport management from Massachusetts in 1988. He played golf for one year at Dixie Junior College in St. George before transferring to Brigham Young.

He became a certified public accountant in 1985 and spent one year in the firm of Huber and Associates in Salt Lake City, then began his collegiate coaching career in 1987 as the men and women's golf coach at Amherst. He then spent two years as an administrative assistant at UNLV, becoming the assistant men's golf coach at UNLV in 1989. He spent two years in that role before moving to Oklahoma State in 1991.

"Georgia Tech is a great fit for me," said Heppler. "This is one of the five or six best programs right now if you look around at college golf's successful teams since the '90s. We have a lot of alumni on the PGA Tour, which is great for the school. Young people can see they have a chance to be player of the year or win a national championship here. It's a great school academically, which is a real draw with the general pool of talent out there interested in playing college golf."

Heppler is married to the former Traci Schull of Southbury, Conn., and they have a son, Zakary, and a daughter, Moriah. Heppler is actively involved with Atlanta Alliance for Children and is a member of the Golf Coaches Association of America.

COACHING STAFF

DREW MCGEE

Assistant Coach
1st year at Tech
Baylor, 2012

Drew McGee, who spent the last two years as an assistant coach at the University of New Mexico, has joined the Georgia Tech golf program as assistant coach, head coach Bruce Heppler announced Friday.

McGee, 26, will assist head coach Bruce Heppler in the areas of operations, scheduling, recruiting, academics and fund-raising. Jeff Pierce, who spent the 2015-16 year as Heppler's full-time assistant coach, was transitioned into a volunteer coaching role and will continue to assist with instruction.

"We're excited for Drew to join our program," said Heppler, who is entering his 22nd year at the helm of the Tech program. "Drew has been involved in every aspect of the New Mexico program and has been successful in their recruiting over the past couple of years. He comes highly recommended and is highly-regarded by many of the coaches on the West Coast. He is thrilled with the opportunity to work in our program and recognizes the years of continued excellent that our program has enjoyed."

During his two years at New Mexico, McGee helped guide the Lobos to three tournament victories, two NCAA regional tournament appearances and a second-place finish in the Mountain West Conference Championship in 2016. Four Lobos won individual tournament titles, while five members of the team made the all-MWC team, and one was named Mountain West Player of the Year. McGee also served as co-director of the Lobo Junior Golf Camps.

"I am very excited to join Coach Heppler and the Georgia Tech golf program," said McGee. "I am also grateful for my time at New Mexico and the chance to work with Coach (Glen) Millican. I believe that my experience there has prepared me well for this tremendous opportunity. Coach Heppler has created a tradition of success both on the course and in the classroom, and I look forward to working with him and the players to build on that success. Georgia Tech is definitely a special place and I am thankful to be here."

Prior to accepting an assistant's position at New Mexico, McGee was head coach of the men's and women's teams at NAIA Northwood College in Cedar Hill, Texas, for the spring of 2014. Northwood's teams broke two scoring records under McGee during his tenure, and the women's team finished 10th in the 2014 NAIA Championships in Lincoln, Neb. That spring, he received the NAIA's Champion of Character Award.

McGee began his coaching career as a volunteer assistant in 2013 at McNeese State.

McGee is a 2012 graduate of Baylor University with a bachelor's degree in business administration and was a three-year letter winner for coach Greg Priest. McGee was a member of the Big XII Commissioner's honor roll.

He was a four-year letterwinner for head coaches Ronnie Jones and Jeff Williamson at Graham (Texas) High School. McGee led the Steers to back-to-back state runner-up finishes in 2005 and 2006 before helping Graham strike gold with a state championship in 2008. McGee was a first-team all-district, all-region and all-state performer his senior year. His sister Anna is a volleyball player at Texas Women's University.

JEFF PIERCE

Volunteer Coach
2nd year at Tech
Morehead State, 2009

Jeff Pierce, a veteran professional golf instructor dating back to his college years, moved into a volunteer assistant role for the Georgia Tech golf team in August of 2016 after joining the Yellow Jackets as an assistant coach on October of 2015.

Pierce, 29, will continue to assist with golf instruction for the current Tech players, and will now take over management of the program's newly-renovated Noonan Golf Facility at the edge of campus and next to Atlantic Station, using the facility to tutor the Yellow Jackets' players and his professional clients, including PGA Tour members Roberto Castro, Brooks Koepka, Derek Fathauer, Si Woo Kim and others.

Pierce came to Tech after serving as the director of instruction at Elk River Golf Club in Banner Elk, N.C., during the summer of 2015 and a three-year tenure as the senior instructor at Butch Harmon Floridian, an elite golf learning center based at The Floridian Resort in Palm City, Fla. Pierce has delivered golf instruction to players at all levels, creating and administrating programs in both individual and group situations. He has expertise in the latest instruction technology as well as club fitting and performance.

"Last fall, I made a decision to hire Coach Pierce in an effort to provide some specific skill instruction for our team," said head coach Bruce Heppler. "At that time, he was also working closely with several PGA Tour professionals. With Coach Pierce moving to the volunteer role, he can still be involved in skill instruction with our team and work with players who stay behind when we are competing in tournaments as well as serve his professional clients, some of whom are former Tech players."

Pierce's list of pupils at Butch Harmon Floridian included winners in the PGA Tour, the Web.com Tour, the European Tour and the LPGA Tour. He has traveled 12-15 weeks a year to work directly with players such as former Florida State All-American Brooks Koepka, who finished 24th in the 2015 FedEx Cup standings and won the Waste Management Phoenix Open, and former Louisville All-American Derek Fathauer, who won the 2014 Web.com Tour championship.

"The structure of our staff is new and something we're all excited about," said Pierce. "It will enable us to provide the best instruction possible to our players going forward. Thus blueprint will be something other programs may follow in the future. I've been instructing players at the highest level for a long time, and part of that is developing players. I've been doing the job with guys that have been fresh out of college or late in college. In the college environment, I can have a deeper relationship with our players as we work with them to develop their games."

Prior to working at Butch Harmon Floridian, Pierce was an assistant golf professional at The Virginian Golf Club in Bristol, Va. (March 2011-Oct. 2012), and begin his career as an assistant golf professional at Elizabethtown (Ky.) Country Club from 2006-09 while a student-athlete at Morehead State University.

A native of Glasgow, Ky., Pierce earned All-Ohio Valley Conference honors in golf at Morehead State in the 2008-09 academic year. He earned OVC academic honors (3.5-plus GPA) and made the MSU Dean's List all four years at Morehead State, where he studied industrial engineering technology. He played professionally for a year before diving into instruction full-time.

DELLINGER GOLF CENTER

The Dellinger Golf Center, housed on the ground level of the Northwest stands of Bobby Dodd Stadium, was originally dedicated on Oct. 13, 1990, and reopened after renovation in the fall of 2003. It was named for Tech golf enthusiast James Dellinger, and is the perfect spot for studying, relaxing, watching television, playing pool and table tennis or browsing the internet. It is also a glorious reminder of Georgia Tech's great golf tradition.

The Dellinger Center houses a lounge with a large-screen television and audio/visual system, video game console and comfortable couches for the enjoyment of Tech's golfers. Additionally, there are offices for the Tech coaching staff and a golf club-style locker room. The center also includes a study hall with computer stations with internet access, along with a recreation room that includes table tennis, shuffleboard and billiards as well as exercise equipment.

The carpeted lounge area is named for Charles R. Brown, the catalyst responsible for the modern success of Tech golf.

On the walls, you'll find portraits of each of Tech's All-America golfers, from Watts Gunn in 1927 to the most recent All-Americans Anders Albertson and Ollie Schniiederjans, plus photos of Tech teams past and memorabilia of alumni accomplishments in professional golf.

On display in trophy cases is memorabilia from the days of Watts Gunn, Bobby Jones and Charlie Yates. Encased in the center are Tech's National Player of the Year trophies honoring David Duval, Stewart Cink, Matt Kuchar and Bryce Molder. Also on display are Tech's NCAA Regional individual championship trophies, and all 16 ACC championship trophies. Prominent displays of Tech's GCAA All-America honorees are in both the locker room and television lounge.

Tech's three team trophies, the Robert Tyre Jones Award for the team's outstanding player, the Watts Gunn Trophy for the team's most improved and dedicated player, and the Charles Yates Cup for academic achievement, are also displayed here.

As part of Tech's renovation of Bobby Dodd Stadium, the renovated golf center was completed in the fall of 2003 along with the expanded north end zone of the stadium.

NOONAN PRACTICE FACILITY

Georgia Tech began work on an ambitious plan to redevelop Tech's golf practice facility in the spring of 2015, and the practice areas became available for the Tech golf team to use in the spring of 2016.

Once totally completed, the intricately re-designed 13-acre spread between 14th and 16th streets will include a completely renovated and redesigned indoor hitting bays and a clubhouse with locker facilities, as well as the teaching and practice areas and a par-3 competition course.

The go-ahead came from Tech president G.P. "Bud" Peterson in the fall of 2014 after many months of collaborating with philanthropic partners to secure the financial resources needed to initiate the first phase of the project to renovate the existing site. The property, which is located close to campus on 14th Street, was recently purchased by the Georgia Tech Athletic Association.

"Georgia Tech's golf team has a tradition of excellence, both athletically and academically," said Peterson. "Through ongoing support, we're taking bold and decisive steps to provide a state-of-the-art practice facility immediately adjacent to campus. This exciting and transformative project has the potential to make a dramatic impact on student-athletes' experience while at Tech, and on our ability to continue the successful recruitment of the best golfers in the nation."

The golf program at Georgia Tech has set a high standard — winning ACC championships, producing talented professional golfers, and maintaining a Dean's List cumulative GPA among players.

"There is no doubting the importance of having a quality practice site near campus," said Coach Bruce Hepler. "We cannot thank our alumni and friends enough for supporting Georgia Tech golf, or put into words how much their association with the program means to us."

Every step of the way, two people have stood at the forefront of fundraising: Kim P. Noonan, IM 1983, and Thomas E. Noonan, ME 1983. Their leadership has been integral to the success of the project to date. They, along with countless other generous donors and volunteers, will continue to reach out to individuals, foundations, and corporations in helping to ensure that the overall philanthropic goal for the project is met, and that Georgia Tech's golf team will enjoy and make the most of the significant benefits that come with having a first-rate practice facility near the Tech campus.

As professional golfer Stewart Cink, MGT 1995, put it, "In an effort to recruit the best possible student-athletes, a program must provide outstanding facilities. The proximity of the practice facility to campus is a tremendous asset."

GOLF CLUB OF GEORGIA COLLEGIATE

When the Golf Club of Georgia and Georgia Tech joined forces with the idea of hosting one of the nation's premier collegiate golf events in 2005, the idea was to bring together the nation's top golf programs to play one of the top golf facilities in the state of Georgia and enjoy a first-class golf experience.

The United States Collegiate Championship was the result, and the event has been a rousing success, drawing rave reviews from coaches and players alike. The first four events were played during the spring, but due to scheduling conflicts, the tournament was not played during the 2009-10 academic year. It then became a major event on the collegiate fall schedule in 2010. In 2016, the name was changed to the Golf Club of Georgia Collegiate to reflect the host venue.

The 2008 event, in which Clemson captured its second title in four years, attracted the nation's top 11 teams according to the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index, making it the strongest field of any regular-season collegiate event.

"This event is in a class by itself in college golf," said East Tennessee State coach Fred Warren. "Everything associated with the tournament was first-class in every sense of the word."

"Without a doubt," said Georgia Coach Chris Haack, "(the USCC) is a Major on the college circuit."

"It really does kind of give you a feel of Augusta," said Wake Forest alumnus Webb Simpson, the 2005 Southern Amateur champion who had a first- and second-place finish in the event.

"To have a tournament of this magnitude at a facility we feel is the best in the country is very exciting," said Georgia Tech coach Bruce Hepler, whose program has enjoyed a long-standing relationship with The Golf Club of Georgia. "Knowing and appreciating the commitment and enthusiasm the staff and the members hold toward the event, it makes us feel very comfortable that it will become a very special tournament."

The competition and golf experience of United States Collegiate Championship are as first-class as the quality of its teams.

The course is not roped, allowing galleries an intimate opportunity to walk with the competitors, as is the case with the club's annual Georgia Cup match between the United States and British Amateur champions.

Rules officials and scoring volunteers also accompany each group, giving the competitors the feel of a championship event.

"As far as college tournaments go, the U.S. Collegiate Championship did, in fact, raise the bar," wrote the late Ron Balicki in Golfweek magazine. "Providing a great golf course is one thing. Providing all the extras and the unsurpassed hospitality is another, and is what pushed the bar to new heights of what a college tournament could be."

The Golf Club of Georgia, a 36-hole Arthur Hills facility north of Atlanta named "Best New Private Course in America" in 1991 by Golf Digest, also served as the host site for the 2007 NCAA East Regional Championship, with Georgia Tech as the host institution. The Lakeside Course, on which both tournaments have been played, measures 7,020 yards and plays to a par of 72.

HISTORY

CARPET CAPITAL COLLEGIATE

The annual Carpet Capital Collegiate, a staple of the fall collegiate golf schedule for many of the nation's top golf programs for more than 20 years, annually hosts one of the toughest fields on one of the most challenging golf courses that stage college events.

"With the excellent ACC and SEC teams in the tournament, outcome plays a significant role in which teams are selected for postseason competition," said Tech head coach Bruce Heppler.

Georgia Tech has won the event six times, including three in a row most recently between 1999 and 2001, and has been the runner-up five other times.

Future PGA stars such as Tech's Stewart Cink and Troy Matteson, Clemson's Lucas Glover, Kyle Stanley and D.J. Trahan, and NC State's Tim Clark have won medalist honors. But former Yellow Jacket Bryce Molder captured the event three consecutive times between 1998 and 1999.

Three different formats have been used for the event. In the inaugural 1989 event, the low five of six scores by round were used for team totals, while the four low scores on each hole were used in 1991. All others have used the standard low four-of-five rounds each day counting toward the team score.

The Carpet Capital Collegiate is played at The Farm Golf Club, the 6,896-yard, par-72 course designed by Tom Fazio, located in Rocky Face, Ga., just outside the city of Dalton in Northwest Georgia. The tournament takes its name from the city, which is home to some of the largest carpet manufacturers in the world. The Farm has been recognized as one of the nation's premier modern facilities.

The original idea for the tournament, conceived by former Tech coach Puggy Blackmon and born with the help of many Tech alumni in the Dalton area, was to pit the six best teams each from the Atlantic Coast Conference and the Southeastern Conference, with the winner claiming bragging rights.

The event was envisioned as a tribute to amateur and collegiate golf in the South, particularly Georgia, where Bobby Jones and The Masters have contributed to the heritage of the sport. The event has grown to include many nationally prominent programs outside the ACC and SEC area, and better than half of the tournament participants each year are ranked among the nation's top 25 teams.

The permanent Carpet Capital Collegiate champions trophy is named for Lowell Fritz, golf professional at Dalton Golf and Country Club. Fritz has long been dedicated to junior golf and the youth of the Dalton area. Boys or girls, members or non-members, Fritz has taken many hours of his personal time to teach the game of golf.

BRYCE MOLDER
FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICAN 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001

The Golf Coaches Association of America selects a 60-man All-America team each year following the NCAA Division I Championship. The first, second and third teams each honor 10 golfers, with the remainder named honorable mention. Golfers not initially named to the 60-man team but who finish in the top 15 of the NCAA Championship are automatically added to the honorable mention unit. The GCAA has been selecting All-America teams since 1958.

Bryce Molder (1998-2001) and David Duval (1990-93), pictured above, are two of only four Division I players ever to be named first-team All-American four times. The others are Gary Hallberg of Wake Forest (1975-78) and Phil Mickelson of Arizona State (1989-92). Nicholas Thompson and Roberto Castro earned All-America recognition each of their four years at Tech, though not first-team honors each time.

NCAA TODAY'S TOP VIII AWARD

The NCAA honors eight student-athletes each year out of nominees from every sport, recognizing those who excel in their sport, in the classroom, and exhibit high character, leadership and service to others.

Roberto Castro (bottom), who graduated in 2007 with high honor in Industrial Engineering and won the Byron Nelson Award as a senior, and Bryce Molder (below), who won four national player of the year honors in 2001, are the only two men's golfers ever to win the prestigious NCAA Today's Top VIII Award.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

TROY MATTESON

NCAA Champion in 2002

Troy Matteson capped an outstanding junior season by winning the biggest tournament of the year, the NCAA Championship in Columbus, Ohio. The victory was his fourth of the year and marked the first time since 1934 that a Yellow Jacket was crowned National Collegiate Champion.

Matteson's run to the title began inauspiciously as he opened with a 2-over-par score of 73 to stand tied for 88th place, seven shots off the tournament lead. That would change quickly, as he found his scoring groove over the next 54 holes of play.

Day two saw the first significant move, as Matteson carded a 5-under-par round of 66 to move into a tie for 12th place at 73-66—139. The steady play continued over the final two rounds, as Matteson finished with sub-par rounds of 70 and 67 respectively to take over the individual lead as the final round came to an end.

His NCAA title tied him for most tournament wins in one year with David Duval, along with being the third time in school history that a Yellow Jacket had been the individual national champion.

For his efforts, Matteson was named the recipient of the Arnold Palmer National Player of the Year award and earned first-team All-America honors for the first time in his career.

CHARLIE YATES

National Collegiate Champion in 1934

Yates, who won the British Amateur in 1938 and the Western Amateur in 1935, won the Georgia state championship in 1931 and 1935, advanced to the second round of match play in the U.S. Amateur and was the low amateur in the first Masters tournament in 1934.

He culminated a fine college career by winning the 1934 National Collegiate Championship in Cleveland, Ohio, joining Watts Gunn as the only two Tech golfers ever to do so. Yates is one of eight Yellow Jackets to have competed in the Walker Cup, as he was a team member in both 1936 and 1938, compiling a 3-0-1 record in those matches. In 1953, he was named the captain of the Walker Cup team and was an honorary captain in 1985.

Yates played in the first 11 Masters tournaments, five times finishing as low amateur and three times finishing in the top 24.

He was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1959 and an award named in his honor has been given annually to the member of the Yellow Jacket golf team displaying the most outstanding academic achievement.

WATTS GUNN

National Collegiate Champion in 1927

The Rambling Wreck and the name of Watts Gunn rose to supreme heights in 1927.

Becoming the first Georgia Tech golfer to win the National Collegiate Championship, Gunn shot a total of 302 over the 72-hole event at the Garden City Country Club to win the medal competition. He went on to dispatch Walker Cup teammate Roland McKenzie, 10-9, to win the individual title, and his 69 in the final round broke the course record. He also helped Tech win the Southern Intercollegiate title the same year.

Along with winning the collegiate championship, Gunn was a two-time U.S. Walker Cup team member, joining the squad in both 1926 and 1928. In those two events, he compiled a combined 4-0 record, posting a pair of victories in each.

Gunn was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1961. The annual Yellow Jacket men's golf team award for the season's most improved player is named in Gunn's honor.

HISTORY

INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

Georgia Tech players have been integral parts of United States teams in international competitions on both the amateur and professional levels.

Stewart Cink and Matt Kuchar (top left) both played for the United States in the 2010 Ryder Cup in Newport, Wales. Cink has competed in five Ryder Cups for the U.S., including the victorious 2002 team with David Duval (left). Kuchar played in his third Ryder Cup in 2014.

HISTORY

ALL-TIME GREATS

ROBERT TYRE "BOBBY" JONES • ATLANTA, GA.

On Sept. 27, 1930, Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., of Atlanta walked off the 11th green at the Merion Cricket Club and into history. No one before him had won golf's four major championships in a single year. No one has done it since.

No one might ever do it again.

"It may be 60 years, if then, before we see another Grand Slam," said Joe Dey, former commissioner of the PGA Tour and former executive director of the United States Golf Association.

"You never say never," said Ben Hogan, who was 18 when Jones won the Slam and remains the only golfer to win three professional majors in one year. "But considering the times — there are so many more good players — it's improbable that any player will win all four."

Of all the single-season sustained records of excellence in major sports, Jones' mark has stood the longest. Longer than Babe Ruth's 60 home runs, a record that last 34 years after he set it in 1927; longer than Joe DiMaggio's 1941 hitting streak of 56 games, which is still alive after 49 years; longer than Wilt Chamberlain's 50.4 points-per-game average, set in 1961-62; longer than Bryon Nelson's PGA Tour streak of 11 straight victories and 18 overall in 1945.

The four tournaments Jones won — the national Open and amateur championships of the United States and Britain — originally were known as the "Impregnable Quadrilateral." That term eventually evolved into the Grand Slam, a term that stuck even when the PGA Championship and the Masters replaced the two amateur tournaments in the mythical foursome.

To understand the magnitude of Jones' deed, consider that in the ensuing 60 years only four players — Hogan, Gene Sarazen, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus — in their careers have won each of the four events that make up the modern Slam.

In golf's record books, Hogan comes across as the most serious challenger to Jones record when in 1953 the Texan won the Masters, U.S. Open and British Open. But because there was some overlap in dates of the British Open and the PGA Championship, the possibility of Hogan completing the Slam never existed.

Perhaps the most incredible thing about Jones' Slam is that he planned it. He didn't have a name for it, nor was he glory-seeking. His reasons were purely personal. Being an amateur golfer, his finances and family obligations would not allow him to play in all four tournaments after 1930. As it turned out, he didn't have to. He announced his retirement from competitive golf a few weeks after winning the U.S. Amateur. He was 28.

Dey, then a 23-year-old sportswriter for The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, was there at Merion in Ardmore, Pa., when Jones completed the Grand Slam. Now 83, Dey said Jones' performance was "simply unbelievable.

"I saw every shot, and I haven't seen anyone since as dominant as Jones was in that Amateur," Dey said. "None of his matches went past the 14th hole. He cruised along. Considering the pressure and the crowds — you have to remember in those days the fairways weren't roped — it was a remarkable performance by a remarkable player."

Dey has seen all the great players and says only Hogan and Nicklaus equaled Jones in figuring out a way to win.

"If Nicklaus couldn't do it, I don't think it could be done. Maybe Hogan could have, but there wasn't that much emphasis on the Grand Slam during his day. I don't see anyone out there today who knows how to win like they did and like Jones did.

"Also, it's just too hard now because there are too many good players to expect one to win all four, and too, I believe the intense media attention given to the majors creates tremendous pressure that begins to build when someone wins the first two."

Hogan, now 78, agrees about the media pressure. "It's incredible," he said, "much more so than when I played. Because it was impossible for me to play in all four in 1953, there was none of that."

Dey credits Jones with the Grand Slam transformation from two amateurs and two Opens to today's four pro majors. "When Jones retired, there was not another amateur of his ability, and after he started Augusta National, and the Masters took hold, the attention turned away from the amateurs to the professionals," he said.

"What Jones did was win the Grand Slam, then without realizing it, created another one."

How good was Jones? From 1923 through 1930, Jones won 13 major national titles in the U.S. and Great Britain, 62 percent of the championships he entered.

In the last 11 British and U.S. Opens in which he played, he finished no worse than second in 10, winning seven times. And from the time he was 14 to the time he was 28, no player ever beat him twice in championship match play.

It also must be noted that Jones was hardly a full-time golfer. Often he would go months without picking up a club. Instead, he studied mechanical engineering at Georgia Tech, got a degree in English literature at Harvard, dabbled in real estate and then attended law school at Emory. In his 13 years in major championship competition, he was a student, high school or college, in nine of them. He played only 52 tournaments in that span, an average of four a year, and won 23.

Though Jones was born and raised in Atlanta, there is no public display of his memorabilia. His old locker remains at East Lake Country Club men's locker room and several pictures hang on the walls of the grill room. Most of his trophies and his famous putter, Calamity Jane, are on display in a showcase in the Jones Room at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Jones died in the early evening of Dec. 18, 1971. He played his last round of golf in 1948, the year he was stricken with syringomyeliam, a disease that attacks the central nervous system. His burial is in Atlanta's Oakland Cemetery. His tombstone reads:

Robert Tyre Jones, Jr.
Born 1902 Died 1971
No other words were thought necessary.

This story was written by the late Tom McCollister, who covered golf for the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and paid this tribute to Bobby Jones on the 60th anniversary of his Grand Slam, in the Sept. 27, 1990, edition of the Journal and Constitution.

ALL-TIME GREATS

WATTS GUNN • MACON, GA.

Watts Gunn was born in Macon, Ga., on January 11, 1905. He made golf history in 1925 in the U.S. Amateur at Oakmont Country Club, setting the world record for international championship golf by winning 15 straight holes in the first round of the 36-hole match. In that tournament, he went to the finals against friend and rival Bobby Jones, marking the only time two players from the same city ever met for the U.S. Amateur crown.

Gunn's first major tournament win was in the 1923 Georgia Amateur. In 1927, he won the Southern and National Intercollegiate tournaments, and the following year he won the Southern Amateur and Southern Open Championships. In 1926 and 1928, he played on the Walker Cup teams with Jones, defeating the British team both years. He played many benefit tournaments, including several exhibitions with Jones in 1927 and 1928. He took the Georgia State Amateur title in 1927 and 1928. At Lanier High School, he captained golf teams that never lost a match.

Watts Gunn was inducted into the Georgia Golf Hall of Fame on January 14, 1989.

From a Time Magazine account dated July 11, 1927

Last week, Watts Gunn of Georgia Tech, playmate of Robert Tyre Jones Jr., went four times around the Garden City (L. I.) Golf Club course in a total of 302 strokes. Had he been alive to do this in 1902, he would have won the U. S. Open Championship by five strokes.* But, at 22, his reward was the qualifying medal of the national intercollegiate golf tournament.

Consistently but not brilliantly, Golfer Gunn battered his way to the finals where he found the other favorite, Roland Mackenzie of Brown University, his good friend, with nerves set for a 36-hole struggle.

Beginning at the fifth hole of their first round, Golfer Gunn went stark, staring golf-mad, made six birdies, used only nine putts on seven consecutive holes—putts varying between 35 and 12 feet—sunk with a borrowed putter. His score for the first 18 holes was 69, breaking the course record by two strokes. After that it was only a matter of time before Mr. Gunn won match and championship, 10 up, 9 to go.

Another figure in the tournament was John D. Ames, blond son of Knowlton L. ("Snake") Ames (sinuous Princeton quarterback of the strenuous '90s), who lost to Watts Gunn in the second round but was elected president of the Intercollegiate Golf Association.

CHARLIE YATES • ATLANTA, GA.

Charlie Yates, a link to Atlanta's vast golf history who later shepherded the city's arts community into the future, was once heralded by Life magazine as owning "the best grin in golf."

He didn't mind using it either, whether to woo the English crowds while he was winning the 1938 British Amateur championship or while heading the effort to raise the $20 million that built the High Museum. A participant in the city's history for much of the 20th century, it is not inappropriate he be remembered first for that smile and a benevolent demeanor that underscored his life.

Yates, 92, died October 17, 2005 at his home in Buckhead.

Mentored by Bobby Jones - he in fact played with Jones in his final round in 1948 at East Lake Golf Club - Yates was national college champion while at Georgia Tech (1934), a two-time Walker Cup competitor (1936 and 1938) and was captain of the U.S. Walker team in 1953.

He seized the international limelight at the 1938 British Amateur at Royal Troon. Beating two U.S. and British Amateur champions along his eight-match campaign, he struck a tone with the British galleries who were not then so easily charmed by foreigners taking away their titles. Afterward, the legendary British golf author Bernard Darwin wrote, "There has been no invading Champion more popular than Charlie Yates, whose cheerfulness and humor, of his own particular brand, made everybody like him."

Yates played 11 times in the Masters, including the inaugural tournament in 1934.

"There wasn't any strict rule about who was eligible to play in the Masters then," he once told The Augusta Chronicle. "Bob invited some of his friends, such as myself."

He tied for 21st that year and twice was low amateur, but his most memorable Masters came in 1935. Yates was playing in the group ahead when Gene Sarazen made double eagle on the par-5 15th to force a playoff he won the next day. That shot put the Masters on the map.

Yates' amateur career, except for playing the Masters, ended with World War II when he was drafted into the Army. He transferred to the Navy and spent 30 months as a lieutenant on the destroyer USS Mayo, which was struck by enemy fire during the invasion of Italy.

For nearly 50 years, he served on the Masters' Press Committee, a constant presence in the media quarters and, to many who returned to Augusta National year after year, a Masters tradition in himself.

"I am deeply saddened by the passing of Charlie Yates," Augusta National chairman Hootie Johnson said. "Charlie was an outstanding amateur golfer and a member who was linked to Bobby Jones and the club's history, attending every Masters through 2003. He will be greatly missed."

But it was in 1973 that Yates began some of his most lasting work. He accepted Mayor Ivan Allen's suggestion to retire at age 60 and head up the Atlanta Arts Alliance (which later became the Woodruff Arts Center).

Yates had already served as president of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra (1962-65) and helped recruit Robert Shaw to be its conductor.

"When you look at who had a heavy influence on the thinking of people like the late Ivan Allen, or Robert W. Woodruff, Charlie was an effective leader in getting those people to see how Atlanta's strategy should include the development of world class arts and organizations," said Beauchamp Carr, executive vice president of the Woodruff Arts Center.

Originally drawn to the arts when his wife Dorothy recruited him for nights at the symphony, Yates ushered the city into a new age. Besides overseeing the effort to build the High, he helped raise the $5.4 million for the center's endowment. In his 10 years as president (1973-83) of what became the Woodruff Arts Center, the overall budget rocketed from $3.8 million to $16.3 million.

"I don't think of it as reaching into their pockets," he once said of his fund-raising ethic. "I think of it as their doing something for their own benefit."

The smile didn't hurt much either.

This story was written by Thomas M. Stinson and published in the Oct. 18, 2005 edition of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution. Additional information from an Associated Press story was added to this account.

HISTORY

TECH COACHING HISTORY

H.E. DENNISON • 1931-55

A professor of economics and social science, as well as the director of industrial management, H.E. Dennison served as Georgia Tech's first golf coach from 1931-55. He shepherded a program which had already earned success on the national stage when Watts Gunn won the national collegiate championship in 1927. Collegiate golf was strictly a dual match sport in Dennison's time, and Tech went three straight years from 1933-35 without losing a match.

Dennison had the distinction of coaching such standouts as Charlie Yates, the 1934 national collegiate champion, 1938 British Amateur champion and three-time Walker Cup team member, as well as the 1938 Southern Intercollegiate champion Tommy Barnes and 1948 Southeastern Conference champion Albert Swann. He also led the Yellow Jackets to their first NCAA Championship appearance as a team in 1947.

TOMMY PLAXICO • 1956-82

Likeable Tommy Plaxico, a former Georgia Tech star of the cinders in the 1940s, served as the Yellow Jackets' golf coach from January of 1956 until he retired in 1982, an era which saw the landscape of college golf evolve from schools playing dual matches exclusively to playing stroke-play tournaments. Among his players were future PGA Tour star Larry Mize, 1967 NCAA runner-up Bunky Henry and 1999 U.S. Senior Amateur champion Bill Ploeger.

Plaxico, a contemporary of such Tech coaching luminaries as Bobby Dodd, Whack Hyder and Jim Luck, was a regular on the Tech track team for three years and was captain of the 1941 squad. After serving four years as a Navy fighter pilot in World War II, Plaxico returned to campus to receive his degree in industrial management in 1946. He immediately joined the Tech faculty as a member of the Physical Training staff, a capacity in which he served until he retired. Plaxico, also an avid tennis player, served as an assistant track coach for five years and was in charge of Georgia Tech's intramural program.

PUGGY BLACKMON • 1982-95

The arrival of Puggy Blackmon signaled a new era in golf at Georgia Tech, keeping the Yellow Jackets in line with the way college golf was growing. The South Carolina native came from a teaching and professional golf background, and laid the foundation for the stature of the program today. Heavily involved in junior golf, Blackmon immediately began recruiting top junior players, set about raising money for the program and started the booster club which continues to support Tech golf today.

Within three years, he guided the Yellow Jackets to their first Atlantic Coast Conference championship, and Tech became a perennial top-25 program. That led to the program being invited to compete in bigger and better events, and the Jackets would go on to win five ACC titles, compete in 11 NCAA Championships and win 33 tournaments overall during his tenure. He recruited and coached PGA Tour players Stewart Cink, Michael Clark II, David Duval and Tripp Isenhour.

NCAA Championship Timeline

The national collegiate championships were conducted by the United States Golf Association through 1938, and consisted of a medal competition and a match play bracket similar to today's U.S. Amateur.

The NCAA began conducting the championship in 1939, using a match play format through 1965, when it became a 72-hole, stroke-play event.

The NCAA instituted a 54-hole cut from 1979-88. A 36-hole cut was used in 1989, and again from 1992-2001. No cuts were made in 1990, 1991 or 2002.

Regional qualifying tournaments were instituted in 1989, expanding the championship field to 81 teams, 27 in each of three regionals, with 30 teams advancing to the 72-hole finals. In 2009, the format was changed to include a total of six regional tournaments (13 teams in three, 14 teams in the other three). Thirty teams (five from each regional) advanced to the finals.

The finals structure changed again in 2009, with 30 teams playing 54 holes of stroke play. The individual national champion was crowned after 54 holes, and the top eight teams advanced to a match play bracket to decide the team champion. In 2015, the NCAA added a fourth 18-hole round to the stroke-play portion, cutting the field to the top 15 teams and nine individuals not on those teams for the final round.

Georgia Tech fielded its first intercollegiate golf team in 1918, "and it was met with marked success in the matches with the Eastern colleges," reads the 1918 edition of the Blueprint, the Georgia Tech yearbook.

"To get to the personnel and work of the team. Very little time was had by the men to practice, but they went to it with a will and when the time for the first match with Columbia came around, a formidable quartet was on hand. Perry Adair, one of the foremost golfers in the South, was number one man. Adair has been playing golf around Atlanta since twelve years old and holds many of the course records in the South. Fred Howden of Savannah, was elected manager. Howden had a score of notable records to his credit there. Ewing Watkins, one of the best golfers in Tennessee and said to be the longest driver in the South, and Tom Prescott of Atlanta golf fame, comprised the other two members of the team."

Scoring for matches that year, and in years beyond, "was kept on the Nassau system, the winners on the first nine being awarded one point, the same being true for the second nine holes, and an additional point being awarded for the best ball of the match."

YEAR-BY-YEAR RESULTS (SINCE 1947)

From 1937-39, the Southeastern Conference Championship was held in Baton Rouge, La. From 1940-64, the SEC Championship was held in Athens, Ga., as part of the Southern Intercollegiate Championship (no championship was held from 1943-45 due to World War II). Tech continued to participate in the SIC long after leaving the Southeastern Conference in 1964.
