PALADIN POINTERS

TIPOFF TIDBITS...Coming off a 70-59 overtime loss at Kennesaw State on Monday, Furman's women's basketball squad continues its five-game December road schedule this Sunday when it travels to Atlanta to face Georgia Tech in a 1:00 p.m. contest at McCamish Pavilion. The game will mark the first meeting between the Paladins and Yellow Jackets since 1994 but 11th clash in the series, which Georgia Tech leads 8-2. The Yellow Jackets claimed a 78-60 win over the Paladins in the 1994 contest and are 3-1 all-time versus Furman in Atlanta.

LAST TIME OUT...Furman dropped its third straight decision with a 70-59 overtime loss at Kennesaw State on Dec. 6. The Paladins opened the fourth quarter with a 41-31 lead but saw it evaporate against the Owls, who used a last second 3-pointer in regulation to tie the game at 57-57 and force the extra period. A trio of Atlanta-area Paladins led Furman against Kennesaw State. Sophomore guard Tate Walters, a Buford, Ga. (Buford H.S.), product, paced the scoring with 19 points. Senior forward Tierra Hodges from Covington, Ga. (Alcovy H.S.), followed with 12 points and nine rebounds, and freshman forward Kate Johnson from Canton, Ga. (Cherokee H.S.), contributed a season high 12 points. Furman shot only 30.6 percent (19x62) from the field, including just 3-of-18 from 3-point range.

TRACKING HODGES...Tierra Hodges, Furman's 5-foot-9 fifth-year senior forward from Covington, Ga., tops the Paladins in scoring (16.1 ppg) and rebounding (11.4 rpg), and ranks second and first in the SoCon, respectively, in those categories. Her 12-point performance on Monday against Kennesaw State, moved her into a tie for 13th place on the program's career scoring chart (1,267 pts.) with Lee Stephens (2007-10). Her 1,015 rebounds ranks fourth in Furman history. Next up for Hodges on the scoring ledger, in 12th place, is Nancy Glass (1987-90, 1,329 pts.), and on the rebounding charts Hodges needs just eight caroms to move into a third place tie with Rushia Brown (1,023 rebs., 1990-94). Hodges also has five double-doubles this year and 20 in her last 34 games.

HODGES LANDS SOCON PLAYER OF THE MONTH HONORS.Tierra Hodges was named Southern Conference Player of the Month for November after posting a solid first three weeks to the season. The stretch included a league player of the week scroll (Nov. 23), 20-point, 16-rebound performance in a 64-49 victory over UNC Asheville (Nov. 20), and career high 25-point performance versus California (Nov. 26) that helped her net all-tournament honors.

NOTING GRACE VAN RIJ...Furman senior Grace Van Rij has upped her game since moving into the starting lineup this year. Last season the Knoxville, Tenn., native saw action in 25 games (two starts) and averaged 13.6 minutes, 3.8 ppg, and 2.1 rpg. This season she's earned starts in all 10 contests and is averaging 25.3 minutes per game, 8.1 ppg, and 4.8 rpg. The 6-foot-2 Paladin forward registered new career highs for points (19) and rebounds (11) against Radford.

WALTERS NAMED SOCON PLAYER OF THE WEEK... Sophomore guard Tate Walters is also off to a solid start this season and heads into the Georgia Tech game sporting 13.1 ppg and 5.1 rpg averages. She was named SoCon Player of the Week on Nov. 29 after scoring a season high 24 points on the strength of 6-of-10 shooting from 3-point range in the Paladins' win over San Diego State. It was the second player of the week laurel for Walters, who earned her first a year ago on with a career high 25-point outburst in a 73-58 road win over Georgia Southern.

HODGES EARNS ALL-TOURNAMENT HONORS... Senior forward Tierra Hodges, who was accorded Cal's Raising The B.A.R. PRESEASON POLLS, HODGES TABBED... Furman, which returned three starters this year, was a No. 4 pick in a poll conducted by SoCon head coaches and a fifth place pick by league media. The Paladins finished fifth in the league last year, going 11-14 overall and 6-8 in conference play. Senior forward Tierra Hodges was named to the preseason all-conference squad. A year ago Hodges earned consensus first team all-conference laurels after averaging 16.2 ppg and a SoCon leading 10.4 rpg, while also topping the league with 15 double-doubles (pts., rebs). The league scroll was the second for the 5-foot-9 product of Covington, Ga.

JAMES, WALTERS HEADLINE STRONG SOPHOMORE CLASS... Furman sports a pair of highly regarded sophomores, evidenced by the strong inaugural campaigns turned in by guards Sydney James and Tate Walters, who averaged 9.6 ppg and 9.3 ppg, respectively, a year ago. James registered nine double figure scoring performances in 2020-21 and earned consensus SoCon Freshman of the Year accolades in separate balloting by SoCon head coaches and media, becoming the third Jackie Carson recruit (Brittany Hodges, 2012; Holli Wilkins, 2013) and eighth Paladin in program history to collect the honor. Walters, meanwhile, joined James on the coaches' five-member SoCon All-Freshman Team after tallying a team high 92 assists in a campaign that saw her play three positions due after injuries wiped out the Paladins' starting back court. She scored a season high 25 points in her second game as a Paladin, a 73-58 road win over Georgia Southern that helped net her SoCon Player of the Week honors on Dec. 5.

Jackie Carson
 Head Coach
 12th Season

Furman Hall of Famer Jackie Carson is entering her 12th season as head coach of the Paladins women's basketball program.

Solidly entrenched as head coach at her alma mater, for which she once starred as a player, Carson has revitalized a program that suffered through five consecutive losing seasons prior to her arrival.

Challenged by the worldwide pandemic this past year, as well as injuries that claimed the Paladins' starting back court by mid-season, Furman finished strong, winning its final three regular season games and beating Chattanooga, 58-40, in SoCon Tournament quarterfinal round action — the 40 points allowed representing the lowest total surrendered a Paladins foe in league tournament history.

In 2019-20 Carson directed the Paladins to their second 19-win campaign, finishing at 19-12 overall highlighted by an 11-3 home record.

Furman posted a 19-14 overall record, 9-5 SoCon worksheet, second place regular season finish, and an appearance in the SoCon Tournament championship game in 2018-19, which yielded a fourth postseason berth and second Women's National Invitational Tournament (WNIT) appearance in the Carson era.

Furman's turnaround under Carson began almost the day she returned to campus in 2010. In her first year the Paladins, bereft of any recruiting additions and a SoCon coaches preseason No. 10 pick, started 6-3 in league play, highlighted by a home win over eventual league regular season champion Appalachian State. In winning five of its final six games to finish with 14 victories, thereby doubling the program's win total from the year before, Furman leaped from 11th to fifth place in the standings and jumped from a 4-16 league mark to a 10-10 SoCon ledger, making the Paladins to league's most improved team in 2010-11.

The strides continued in year two as Furman, with only one senior starter and a host of newcomers, again won 10 league games, including a 75-61 triumph over Chattanooga in Greenville that halted an embarrassing series losing skid to the Mocs. In addition, the Paladins defeated Conference USA member Marshall and picked up their first SoCon Tournament victory under Carson.

In 2014, the big dividend arrived with an 18-13 season, highlighted by an 11-2 home record and second place league finish — the program's best in over a decade. In addition, the Paladins produced two All-SoCon First Team selections for the first time since the 2004-05 campaign and landed a bid to the NIT — another program first. Those accomplishments netted Carson consensus Coach of the Year honors, making her the first person in league women's basketball history to garner both player of the year and coach of the year accolades.

The success continued the following year as the Paladins went 19-14 and secured the program's first bid in the Women's Basketball Invitational (WBI) Tournament.

In 2017, the Paladins dealt Chattanooga, the eventual SoCon Tournament champion, their first league loss of the season with a 65-48 triumph in Greenville, halting the Mocs' seven-game winning streak, and in 2018 Furman notched its first season sweep of Chattanooga since 2002 on the way to a second round appearance in the WBI.

That Carson could quickly transform Furman's basketball fortunes may have surprised many but not those who know her and appreciate her talent and commitment to recruiting, on-the-floor coaching, preparation, intensity, execution and overall passion for the game. It is those same qualities, underscored by a deep and abiding dedication to her players and to their athletic and intellectual development, that has many fans of the purple and white sold on the future of Paladins women's basketball.

After bringing in a solid recruiting class in her first year that included 2011-12 SoCon Freshman of the Year forward Brittany Hodges, Carson's second recruiting haul stoked the embers of excitement by including 2012-13 SoCon Freshman of the Year forward Hollie Wilkins, who graduated as Furman's fifth all-time leading scorer. Among the newcomers featured in her third class was standpoint point guard Whitney Bunn, a consensus three-time All-SoCon selection who blew away Furman's assist standards on the way to brilliant career that saw her finish as the Paladins' fifth all-time leading scorer (1,538 points) despite suffering a career ending injury seven games prior to season's end.

In 2017-18, Furman produced three All-SoCon performers for only the second time in program history. The trio included forward Cierra Carter, who finished her career as the program's 10th all-time leading scorer (1,383 points) and fifth in rebounding, guard Le'Jzae Davidson, and forward Celena Taborn.

Four Paladins collected All-SoCon recognition in 2018-19, with Davidson and Taborn garnering All-Conference laurels, Milicia Manojlovic an All-Freshman Team citation, and Kaitlyn Duncan a SoCon All-Defensive Team selection.

Davidson concluded her Furman career in 2020 as the program's all-time 3-point leader and ranking third in scoring with 1,753 points. Taborn, meanwhile, concluded her Paladins tenure in 2021 as the program's all-time leader in field goal percentage (.633).

Headlining the shortened 2020-21 campaign was the selection of consensus All-SoCon forward Tierra Hodges and SoCon Freshman of the Year guard Sydney James.

All told during Carson's tenure Furman has produced 16 All-SoCon performers, 10 All-Tournament players, three Freshmen of the Year, and 11 SoCon

All-Freshman Team selections.

In addition to the on-court performance of her squads, Carson has taken an active leadership role in a number of areas, serving on the NCAA Women's Basketball Oversight Committee and WBCA Board of Directors. In addition, she serves on the Southern Conference Racial Equity Task Force and is president of the Women of Color Coaching Network.

A Woodbridge, Va., native, and 2000 Furman graduate who served as an assistant coach at James Madison for five seasons (2006-10), including the final two as associate head coach and last four as recruiting coordinator, Carson was named Furman's ninth head coach in April of 2010.

During Carson's five-year tenure at James Madison, the Dukes posted a 125-40 record (.758), including a 74-16 mark (.822) in the Colonial Athletic Association (CAA), and advanced to postseason tournament play each year. The string of postseason berths included NCAA Tournaments in 2007 and '10, as well as Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT) appearances in 2006, '08, and '09.

In 2009-10 the Dukes went 26-7 overall and 16-2 in CAA action en route to league regular season and tournament championships. Among the noteworthy wins were triumphs over nationally 13th-ranked Virginia (75-73), Georgetown (79-76), and Virginia Tech (66-59).

In 2007, her second season on staff, James Madison posted a 27-6 slate and advanced to the NCAA Tournament after a regular season that featured wins over Clemson and Wake Forest.

That same year she was among a select number of coaches chosen to participate in the Black Coaches Association's "Achieving Coaching Excellence" program. The program, for ethnic minority male and female basketball coaches, is a collaborative effort of the BCA, the NCAA Office of Diversity and Inclusion, the NCAA Minority Opportunities and Interests Committee, and the NCAA Committee on Women's Athletics.

It was during her time at James Madison that Carson gained notoriety on the national level with a "Rising Star" Award, presented to five associate or assistant coaches by BasketballScoop.com and ONS Performance in recognition of recruiting, player development, team development/scouting, leadership, and administration.

Prior to going to James Madison, she spent two seasons as an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Bucknell (2004-05). In her short tenure there she played a key role in recruiting Patriot League All-Rookie Team honorees Hope Foster and Kesha Champion, who went on to garner league player of the year and defensive player of the year honors, respectively, while leading the Bison to a 20-11 campaign and Patriot League crown in 2007.

Carson began her coaching career as an assistant with the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) Fairfax (Va.) Stars, helping the squad, which featured future collegiate stars Marissa Coleman (Maryland), Britany Mitch (Duke), Abby Robertson (Virginia), and Laura Haskins (Virginia Tech), to the 2003 15-Under AAU National Championship.

One of the finest players in Furman women's basketball history, she led the Paladins in scoring and rebounding and earned First Team All-SoCon honors and team MVP accolades as a sophomore, junior and senior. The standout forward was named SoCon Player of the Year in 1998 and 1999, and served as team captain her final two seasons. She also garnered three SoCon Academic Honor Roll tabs.

As a freshman, she helped Furman to a SoCon regular season championship and as a senior keyed the Paladins to a 20-11 season, SoCon Tournament championship and the program's second NCAA Tournament appearance.

Many of her statistics rank among the finest ever posted by a Paladin, including points (1,920/2nd), points per game (16.8/4th), rebounds (1,057/2nd), rebounds per game (9.3/7th) and blocks (99/4th). She scored a school record 37 points against Middle Tennessee State her junior year, and her 724 career free throws and 52 double-doubles (points/rebounds) are still program standards, as are her 12 SoCon Player of the Week scrolls.

Honored as Furman's 1999 Edna Hartness Female Athlete of the Year, she was inducted into the University's Athletic Hall of Fame in 2005 in her first year of eligibility and in November of 2009 became only the third player in program history to have her jersey (No. 22) retired.

Following graduation in 2000 with a degree in health and exercise science, she played for professional teams in Belgium and Israel for two years before entering the coaching ranks.

Carson and husband, Rob, who serves as Associate Athletics Director for Academic Success Diversity, Inclusion and Engagement, have two daughters — Londyn Elaun Carson and Lathyn Ellea Carson.
