TECH GOLF NOTEBOOK

Tech No. 2 Seed in Columbus Regional

Georgia Tech begins its quest for a 31st all-time trip to the NCAA Championship finals Monday at the NCAA Columbus Regional at the Ohio State University Golf Club in Columbus, Ohio. It is one of six regional qualifying tournaments being held around the country Monday through Wednesday to determine the 30-team field for the NCAA Division I Men's Championship, which begins May 27 in Scottsdale, Ariz.

The top five teams in each regional qualifier advance to the NCAA Championship. Tech is the No. 2 seed in Columbus, behind the nation's No. 2-ranked team, Oklahoma State. The remainder of the 13 teams, in order of seed, are Arkansas (14), Clemson (23), East Tennessee State (31), host Ohio State (27), Duke (42), Northwestern (44), Florida Gulf Coast (51), San Francisco (61), Kentucky (65), Wright State (94) and Southern Illinois (152). East Tennessee State (Southern), Southern Illinois (Missouri Valley) and Wright State (Horizon League) are automatic qualifiers after winning their conference tournaments.

The Yellow Jackets are playing in an NCAA regional for the 24th straight year and for the 31st time in the 33 years the NCAA has used a regional qualifying format for its championship (the NCAA Championship and regionals were not conducted in 2020 due to COVID-19).

Tech has advanced to the finals in six of the nine years, including each of the last two, finishing fourth in 2019 (Pullman, Wash.) and third last spring (Tallahassee, Fla.).

The top seeds in each regional are top-ranked Oklahoma in Norman, Okla., No. 2 Oklahoma State in Columbus, Ohio, No. 3 Vanderbilt in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., No. 4m Arizona State in Stockton, Calif., No. 5 North Carolina in New Haven, Conn., and No. 6 Pepperdine in Bryan, Texas.

Tech at OSU Golf Club

Georgia Tech last played an NCAA regional in Columbus in 2008, where the Yellow Jackets finished 15th (in a 27-team field) and failed to advance to the NCAA Championship finals. The OSU course also has hosted three NCAA Championships, in 1987, 1995 and 2002. The Yellow Jackets were the runner-up team in 2002, where Troy Matteson was the individual champion. Tech also won the 2014 and 2015 Robert Kepler Invitational, a regular-season event, at the Scarlet Course.

Tech in NCAA Regional Competition

Georgia Tech has advanced through an NCAA regional 25 times in 30 tries, and all but four times since the NCAA went to a six-regional qualifying format in 2009. Head coach Bruce Heppeler's teams have won five regional tournaments outright, most recently in 2014, and tied for one other.

The NCAA began using regional qualifying tournaments in 1989, first with the 81 teams split among three sites (27 teams each), then among six sites with either 13 or 14 teams each beginning in 2009. Since the NCAA went to six regional sites in 2009, Tech has advanced to the championship finals seven times - third in 2009 (Bowling Green, Ky.), third in 2010 (Milton, Ga.), tied for third in 2011 (Radford, Va.), fourth in 2013 (Tallahassee, Fla.), first in 2015 (Raleigh, N.C.), fourth in 2019 (Pullman, Wash.) and third in 2021 (Tallahassee, Fla.). No NCAA championship events were held in 2020 due to COVID-19.

Tech's first four victories all occurred in 27-team regionals in 1991 (New Haven, Conn.), 1998 (Daufuskie Island, S.C.), 1999 (Providence, R.I.) and 2002 (Roswell, Ga., tied with Clemson). Only the 2014 win in Raleigh occurred in a 13-team field.

How the Jackets Got Here

With four starters back from the 2021 squad that finished 15th at the NCAA Championship and adding two key contributors who have formed the core of the 2021-22 team, Georgia Tech has won four tournaments in 10 tournaments this year. Tech won the Maui Jim Intercollegiate and the Hamptons Intercollegiate in the fall, and added titles in the Watersound Invitational and The Calusa Cup this spring, elevating the Yellow Jackets to No. 11 in the Golfstat rankings and to No. 11 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Index.

Tech finished second in stroke play and advanced to the championship match of the ACC Championship, where they fell to Wake Forest, 3-2. The final and deciding individual match went to the 21st hole, where freshman Benjamin Reuter (Naarden, The Netherlands) lost to Alex Fitzpatrick.

Tech owns a 26-20 mark head-to-head against the nation's top 25 teams, according to Golfstat (28-19 according to the Golfweek/Sagarin Index), and is 52-24-2 against teams in the top 50, according to the Golfweek/Sagarin Index.

The Yellow Jackets rank among the nation's top 12 in a number of statistical categories, according to Golfstat - No. 3 in stroke average (70.97) and first in first-round stroke average (70.70), No. 13 in last-round stroke average (71.44), No. 5 in par-4 scoring average (4.03), No. 2 in par-5 scoring average (4.63), No. 2 in aggregate comparison to par (-0.53) and No. 11 in total birdies (591) and No. 6 in average drop score (75.36).

Each of the Jackets except Reuter and Smith have at least two top-10 finishes this year, and three Tech players are listed among Golfstat's top 90 players nationally. At No. 28, sophomore Christo Lamprecht (George, South Africa) holds the highest Golfstat ranking among the Yellow Jackets with six top-10 finishes this year following his tie for third at the ACC Championship. Junior Bartley Forrester (Gainesville, Ga.), ranked No. 85, captured a share of medalist honors at The Calusa Cup and has finished no lower than 22nd in Tech's last five events this spring. Junior Ross Steelman (Columbia, Mo.) has five top-10 finishes, three of them this spring, while junior Connor Howe (Ogden, Utah) has a pair of top-10 finishes in 2021-22 and is ranked No. 87.

Tee Shots

- Tech may also have one of the tallest teams in collegiate golf, with Christo Lamprecht at 6-foot-8, Bartley Forrester and Ross Steelman at 6-5 each, freshman Benjamin Reuter at 6-3 and Connor Howe at 6-2.

- Only No. 3 Vanderbilt and No. 9 Washington, with six wins each, and No. 1 Oklahoma, with five, have more wins than Georgia Tech's four. Arkansas, Illinois and North Carolina are the only other college teams to win as many as four.

- Tech's No. 11 Golfstat ranking is its highest of the year, up from No. 20 at the end of the fall season.

- Tech has a 28-19 head-to-head record against teams ranked among the nation's top 25 this year, including an 0-1 mark against Oklahoma State, 1-0 against Arkansas and 5-0 vs. Clemson among teams in the Columbus Regional. Against the rest of the field, Tech is 3-1 vs. Northwestern, 2-0 vs. Duke and 1-0 each vs. East Tennessee State, Ohio State and San Francisco.

- According to the Golfweek/Sagarin ratings, Tech faced the 22nd-most difficult schedule in Division I -- Tech is 52-24-2 against the nation's top 50 teams, 88-25-4 against the top 100.

- Tech returns four starters who finished third in last year's NCAA Tallahassee Regional and 15th at the NCAA Championship, and all four will be in Columbus. The Yellow Jackets will start three juniors (Bartley Forrester, Connor Howe, Ross Steelman), one sophomore (Christo Lamprecht) and one freshman (Benjamin Reuter) Friday at the ACC Championship, with a senior, Ben Smith, available to substitute.

- Collectively, Tech's ACC Tournament lineup has compiled 17 individual top-10 finishes, six by Lamprecht, five by

Tech Lands 3 on All-ACC Team

Georgia Tech's Christo Lamprecht, Bartley Forrester and Connor Howe were named to the All-Atlantic Coast Conference Men's Golf Team for 2022.

The Tech trio are among fifteen student-athletes who were honored on the all-conference team, each making the team for the first time in his career.

Lamprecht (ranked No. 28 in Golfstat and No. 25 in the Golfweek/Sagarin ratings) and Forrester (No. 85 Golfstat, No. 69 Sagarin) each made the team automatically via their average national ranking. Howe, ranked No. 87 in Golfstat and No. 92 in Golfweek/Sagarin, earned his way onto the team via a vote of the ACC's 12 coaches.

The trio has been the core of a Yellow Jackets' team that has won four tournaments in 2021-22, finished as the runner-up in the ACC Championship and is ranked No. 11 in the nation. Each has started all 10 tournaments this year, and they have combined for 12 top-10 individual finishes.

Lamprecht, a sophomore from George, South Africa, has finished in the top-10 of six tournaments, most recently tying for third place in ACC Championship stroke play and winning both of his matches in the match play championship. Forrester, a junior from Gainesville, Ga., was co-medalist in The Calusa Cup in early April and has earned three other top-10 finishes this year. Howe, a junior in his fourth year as a Yellow Jacket, has two top-10 finishes and five other top-20 showings. All three have stroke averages under 71.

This is the 26th time since 1985 that Tech has had multiple players make the All-ACC team, and the 13th time that three or more Yellow Jackets have made the team. The selections bring to 40 the number of different Tech golfers who have made the All-ACC team at least once during their careers. Tech's 77 all-time All-ACC selections trail only Clemson (88) and Wake Forest (86), who are charter members of the conference.

Tech's NCAA Championship History

Georgia Tech has reached the NCAA Championship finals 29 times since 1985 (30 times in program history), which is tied for fifth most in that time period behind Oklahoma State (35), Arizona State (33), Florida (32) and Texas (32). Tech has posted nine top-8 finishes in the last 15 tries.

The Yellow Jackets have qualified for match play four times since the advent of the stroke-play/match-play format in 2009, finishing third in 2010, second in 2011, second in 2013, fifth in 2014. Tech did not advance out of its regional in 2012, 2016, 2017 or 2018.

Tech lost to the eventual champion three times in its four appearances in match play - Augusta State by the score of 3-2 in the quarterfinals in 2010 and 2011 and to Alabama (3-0-2) in 2013.

Tech has been the runner-up in the NCAA Championship four times (1993, 2000, 2002 and 2005, all before the introduction of match play). Only Oklahoma State, which has 18, Texas (6) and Purdue (5) have more.

In 1993 and 2002, the Yellow Jackets led after 54 holes, but finished second by one shot to Florida in 1993, and by four shots to Minnesota in 2002.

In 2000, the Yellow Jackets rallied to tie Oklahoma State after 72 holes, but lost to the Cowboys on the first hole of a playoff. Tech and OSU matched the lowest 72-hole team score in NCAA Championship history (36-under-par 1,116) at the Grand National Lake Course in Opelika, Ala. In 2005, Tech finished 11 shots behind Georgia, and seven shots ahead of third-place Washington.

Since Bruce Heppler became Tech's coach, the Jackets have finished in the top eight 11 times.

Three Tech players have won national collegiate championships. Troy Matteson did it most recently in 2002 at Ohio State. Watts Gunn (1927) and Charlie Yates (1934) won national titles under a match play format before the NCAA took sponsorship of the championship in 1939.

Tech and NCAA Match Play

The 2009 NCAA Championship featured a new twist with the team champion determined via match play. The top eight teams after 54 holes of stroke play advance to a match play tournament format.

The NCAA added a fourth round of stroke play in 2016 for the top 15 teams and nine individuals not on those teams, after which the national individual champion and the top eight teams for match play will be determined.

Match play is a format that Bruce Heppler has supported vigorously. Under Heppler, Georgia Tech finished in the top eight of the NCAA Finals seven times in 10 tries under the 72-hole, stroke-play format. Tech is one of only two teams (Oklahoma State is the other) to have advanced to match play four times in the six years the current format has been in effect.

In the stroke-play/match play era, the Yellow Jackets have finished 10th, third, second, second and fifth, respectively, in the stroke-play portion of the NCAA Championship in five tries (Tech did not advance out of its regional in 2012 or 2016). Tech lost to the eventual national champion three of the four times it has qualified for match play (Augusta State in the 2010 and 2011 quarterfinals, Alabama in the 2013 semifinals).

Tech has had success in other match-play events in recent years, reaching the finals of the Callaway Collegiate Match Play Championship four times in six appearances.

Georgia Tech Match Play History

While match play in college golf may be infrequent, Georgia Tech is no stranger to it, having participated in 10 regular season match play events since 2000, as well as three times since the NCAA added match play to determine its champion, and once in the two years the Atlantic Coast Conference has implemented it as part of its format. Here is a history of Tech's participation.

Tech's ACC Championship History

Georgia Tech has won 18 ACC men's golf championships, putting the Yellow Jackets one behind Wake Forest for the most titles in conference history. Tech's titles have all come from 1985 to the present. Before the Demon Deacons outlasted the Jackets in the championship match in 2022, Wake Forest's most recent title came in 1989.

Tech has won the ACC Championship 10 times in the last 16 years, most recently in 2019. The 2020 ACC Tournament was not held after the 2020 spring season was cut short due to COVID-19.

Tech has won 13 of its conference titles under current head coach Bruce Heppler, 11 of those outright (1999, 2001, 2002, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2014, 2015, 2018, 2019) and two shared (2006, 2007). The Yellow Jackets won five championships (1985, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994) under previous head coach Puggy Blackmon.

Twelve of Tech's ACC titles have been won at the Old North State Club in New London, N.C., site of the event 22 of the last 26 years. The first occurred in 1999 by 10 strokes over North Carolina and Duke. Tech won its 2018 crown without an individual finishing higher than 12th place.

Georgia Tech has produced 10 ACC individual champions, including Bob McDonnell (1985), David Duval (1991, 1993), Mikko Rantanen (1994), Bryce Molder (2000), Cameron Tringale (2006), Chesson Hadley (2010), Paul Haley (2011), Albertson (2013, 2015) and Ollie Schniederjans (2014). Albertson and Duval are among five ACC players.

Jackets to Add 3 for 2022-23

Georgia Tech's golf program signed three prospective student-athletes to letters-of-intent during the November signing period, a pair of top-100 junior players in Hiroshi Tai of Singapore by way of Windermere, Fla., and Aidan Tran of Fresno, Calif., as well as an Atlanta-area prospect in Brady Rackley.

Tai, who served a two-year stint in the Singapore navy following high school graduation, enrolled at Tech in January, while Tran and Rackley will join the program next fall.

Ranked as high as No. 45 in his high school graduation year of 2020, Tai rose as high as No. 40 in the Junior Golf Scoreboard (No. 11 in his class), and No. 521 in the World Amateur Golf Ranking.

Ranked as high as No. 51 in the Class of 2022 according to the American Junior Golf Association, Tran scored three victories and seven other top-10 finishes in AJGA events since 2018. He is ranked No. 22 in his class in the Golfweek/Sagarin Boys Index, and No. 43 by the Junior Golf Scoreboard.

A four-year varsity player, Rackley led The Lovett School to both state and region championships while finishing second as an individual in the state championship last spring (2021).
