VISION

We develop the young people who will change the world.

MISSION

Georgia Tech athletics develops and empowers student-athletes to live a life of purpose by optimizing achievement in academics, competition and life.

DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION PLEDGE

The Georgia Tech Athletic Association's vision is to develop the young people who will change the world. As part of that vision, we pledge the following:

- to support our student-athletes as agents of essential social change;
- to help create a world where all of our student-athletes are able to take full advantage of being Georgia Tech graduates;
- and to develop student-athletes to live a life of purpose and who are equipped to be the leaders of their generation.

Through education and the power of sport, Georgia Tech student-athletes have a unique opportunity to unite our community and our society. Not only do they have an exceptional platform, but as athletes, they get to experience the miracle of team – where differences do not matter. Therefore, they are examples of what our society can be. As members of the huddle, our student-athletes have the ideal makeup to be agents for essential social change that will allow every current, former and future member of the Georgia Tech athletics family to reach and exceed their potential.

To create an environment that allows individuals to reach and exceed their potential, we must not only be committed to our core values of teamwork, character, excellence and innovation, but also stand committed to the ideals of diversity, equity and inclusion. By committing to these ideals, we hope to help create a world where all people – regardless of race color, national origin, religion, gender, sexual orientation or disability – are judged solely by the content of their character, and where our experience in athletics can serve as an example to others who may never have experienced the power of diversity and the magic of team.

Georgia Tech attracts the best of each generation, and that includes the exceptional young people from all different backgrounds that represent our Institute as student-athletes. Georgia Tech athletics is charged with developing our Everyday Champion student-athletes not just academically and athletically, but as the next generation of the world's leaders. Beyond the challenges they face in the classroom and the realm of athletic competition, as the leaders of tomorrow, they will also be expected to meet the most difficult challenges that our community, our nation and our world face today, and be prepared to meet the unforeseen challenges of our future.

The Georgia Tech Athletic Association's pledge is that we will prepare, support and stand with our student-athletes as they lead the charge to make the world a better place for all.

WINNING

BUSTER POSEY & JOHNNY BENCH AWARD WINNER KEVIN PARADA

College Baseball's Top Catcher

Georgia Tech baseball's Kevin Parada was the unanimous choice as college baseball's best catcher in 2022, as he swept the Buster Posey and Johnny Bench Awards, which both recognize the nation's top backstop.

Parada became only the second catcher in Georgia Tech history to win a national catcher of the year award, joining current San Francisco Giant Joey Bart, who won the Johnny Bench Award in 2018.

A 2022 unanimous all-American, Parada had an excellent sophomore season in 2022 in which he was named first-team all-ACC, all-Region and NCBWA District 4 Player of the Year, as well as a finalist for the Golden Spikes Award and Dick Howser Trophy (National Player of the Year). He also earned three National Player of the Week honors.

The Pasadena, Calif. native ranked sixth nationally in 2022 with a school-record 26 home runs. He also ranked among college baseball's leaders in total bases (second - 174), RBI (third - 85), runs (fifth - 74) and hits (35th - 85). He led the ACC in runs and RBI, ranked third in home runs, fourth in hits and was the fourth-toughest hitter to strikeout in the league.

Parada started all 60 of Georgia Tech's games in 2022, playing an impressive 55 of them behind the dish, where he posted a .992 fielding percentage and threw out 12 would-be base thieves. He went on to be selected No. 11 overall by the New York Mets in the first round of the 2022 Major League Baseball Draft.

THE INSTITUTE

GRADUATION SUCCESS RATE

NCAA Graduation Success Rate (GSR) measures the success of an athletics department in graduating its student-athletes within a six-year period. Unlike Federal Graduation Rate, which assesses only first-time, full-time freshmen, GSR also includes transfer students and mid-year enrollees in the sample. Student-athletes who leave an institution while in good academic standing before exhausting athletics eligibility are removed from the cohort of their initial institution (essentially passed to another squad's GSR cohort if they transfer and removed altogether in the case of early departures for professional careers). The GSR provides a more complete and accurate look at actual student-athlete success by taking into account the full variety of participants in Division I athletics and tracking their academic outcomes.

The latest GSR cohorts include student-athletes that enrolled at Georgia Tech from 2011-14.

GEORGIA TECH SET A NEW SCHOOL RECORD WITH A 90% NCAA GRADUATION SUCCESS RATE IN 2021.

ACADEMIC PROGRESS RATE

Despite the challenges presented by the Covid-19 pandemic, Georgia Tech athletics continues to excel in the NCAA's Academic Progress Rate (APR) metric, according to the latest data released by the NCAA in 2022.

APR is an annual scorecard of academic achievement calculated for all NCAA Division I sports teams. It measures eligibility, graduation and retention each semester or academic term and provides a clear picture of the academic performance for each team in every sport. APR scores are measured on a scale of 1,000 with the threshold for penalties set at 930. The most recent multiyear scores are based on the 2017-18, 2018-19, 2019-20 and 2020-21 academic years.

2022 marked the first time since 2020 that the NCAA has publicly announced APR data, as the public release was suspended in 2021 due to the academic challenges caused by Covid-19. Public Recognition Awards (honoring programs that rank among the top 10% nationally in APR in their respective sports) and penalties for programs with APR scores below 930 remain suspended.

In the latest data, 13 of Georgia Tech's 15 sports programs boast a multiyear APR higher than the national average in their respective sports. In all, seven of the Yellow Jackets' 15 sports have APRs at least 10 points higher than the national average – baseball (+18), men's track (+17), football (+15), men's tennis (+14), golf (+12), men's basketball (+11) and men's cross country (+10).

Nine of Georgia Tech's 15 programs have multiyear APRs of 990 or higher, led by golf and men's tennis, who both have perfect multiyear APR scores of 1,000. Additionally, 10 of Tech's 15 programs recorded a perfect single-year APR for 2020-21: baseball, men's basketball, men's cross country, women's cross country, golf, women's swimming and diving, men's tennis, men's track and field, women's track and field and volleyball. Remarkably, Georgia Tech golf has had a perfect APR score of 1,000 each of the 18 years since the metric was introduced.

GEORGIA TECH ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

TOTAL PERSON PROGRAM

JACKETS WITHOUT BORDERS RETURNS

In May 2022, Jackets Without Borders, Georgia Tech athletics' award-winning international service program, made its first trip in three years, as 16 student-athletes and four staff members traveled to Villa del Rio, Puerto Rico to continue hurricane rehabilitation efforts following the storms that devastated the island in 2017.

Founded in 2017, the 2022 Jackets Without Borders trip was the fourth overall and the first since 2019, as the program was suspended for two years due to the Covid-19 pandemic. It marked JWOB's third trip to Villa del Rio, as the community continues to rebuild from the effects of Hurricanes Irma and Maria in 2017. Prior to the trips to Villa del Rio, the initial Jackets Without Borders project took place in Cartago, Costa Rica in 2017, where Georgia Tech's student-athletes and staff assisted in building a multi-use sports court for a K-12 school.

In 2019, Jackets Without Borders was the recipient of the Atlantic Coast Conference's prestigious Game Changers Award as the ACC's top service initiative of the year.

The 2022 Jackets Without Borders trip was the first to be entirely funded without Georgia Tech athletics department operational funds, as funds for the $40,000 trip were raised entirely by participating student-athletes, teams and generous donors.

The 16 student-athletes that made the journey to Puerto Rico for the fourth Jackets Without Borders trip included: LaMiles Brooks (football), Avyonce Carter (women's basketball), Carmyn Harrison (women's basketball), Colin Hemingway (football), Jaylon King (football), Ryan King (football), Rebecca Lieber (spirit), Eylia Love (women's basketball), Michael Maye (football), Will Milam (football), Luke Moseley (football), Bubba Parham (men's basketball), Lucas Rary (spirit), Myles Sims (football), Chase Sippola (football) and Calyn Siver (spirit). STUDENT-ATHLETE PERFORMANCE CENTER

STUDENT-ATHLETE PERFORMANCE CENTER APPROVED BY BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia (USG) approved Georgia Tech athletics' plan to construct a new state-of-the-art student-athlete performance center project in April 2022. The 115,000-square-foot facility, funded through Athletics Initiative 2020, will be built in the footprint of the current Edge/Rice Center in the northeast corner of Bobby Dodd Stadium.

Georgia Tech athletics' Student-Athlete Performance Center will house areas that most directly impact student-athlete performance on a day-to-day basis, including strength and conditioning, nutrition, sports medicine, academic support and Tech athletics' renowned Total Person Program. It will also include new expanded space for Georgia Tech football, featuring a dedicated football-only strength-and-conditioning area, players' lounge and meeting spaces. The student-athlete performance center will also serve as a campus fixture for fans and passersby, and include premium seating for Georgia Tech football games and other events held inside Bobby Dodd Stadium.

To allow for the new student-athlete performance center to be dedicated entirely to student-athlete development functions, Georgia Tech will convert the Wardlaw Center (located on the south end of Bobby Dodd Stadium) and the McCamish Pavilion Annex building into permanent office space for athletics staff that are displaced from the Edge/Rice Center.

With approval of the project from the Board of Regents, Georgia Tech will immediately begin the final design process for the student-athlete performance center, with construction to follow in conjunction with Bobby Dodd Stadium operations. The anticipated completion date for the project is 2025.

The Student-Athlete Performance Center is the crown jewel of Athletics Initiative 2020, which raised $175.39 million from 2018-20, surpassing its $125 million goal by more than 40%. Other notable facilities projects funded by AI 2020 include Georgia Tech's new football and women's basketball locker rooms, as well as the latest phase of renovations at Mac Nease Baseball Park.
