TIPPING OFF

- UNC hits the road Thursday for the third time in a four-game stretch. The Tar Heels didn't play their first true road game until Jan. 7 at Notre Dame, the latest into the schedule they'd gone without playing a road game since the 1993-94 season. They've gotten their share of travel since then, with trips to South Bend, Tallahassee and now Atlanta in an 11-day span.
- Senior guard Deja Kelly is averaging 25 ppg over the past two outings, with 23 points at FSU last Thursday and a season-best 27 against Virginia on Sunday.
- · Senior guard/forward Alyssa Ustby has registered three double-doubles (one a tripledouble) in the team's five ACC games and eight this season. Her 17-point, 12-rebound outing against Virginia Sunday marked the 30th double-double of her career.

BY THE NUMBERS

» Players – Deja Kelly and Alyssa Ustby - on the Preseason All-ACC Team. Last time UNC had more than one player honored was 2014.

» Newcomers on the 2023-34 roster, five freshmen and three transfers. That's the most of any season during coach Courtney Banghart's tenure.

NORTH CAROLINA NOTES

Camryn Taylor led Virginia (8-8, 0-5 ACC) with 16 points. The Cavaliers got 13 from Kymora Johnson and 12 off the bench from Olivia McGhee.

"Hats off to a really good Virginia team," UNC coach Courtney Banghart said. "Those guys have had a really tough conference schedule so far, they've already played NC State twice, they've played us, they've played Duke, and Georgia Tech. And Camryn Taylor - hats off. She's a hard kid to guard."

Kelly hit a three just under a minute into the game to put the Tar Heels up and they never trailed, jumping ahead by as many as nine midway through the first guarter. By the second they had their largest lead of the game, 14 at 28-14, after a jumper by Teonni Key with 7 minutes to play in the first half. Virginia closed the gap to five by halftime, when the Tar Heels led 37-32.

The Cavaliers chipped away to finally tie the game at 52-52 with 28 seconds to play in the third, but a free throw by Ustby - a bonus try after a lane violation on a miss - gave Carolina a one-point lead heading into the fourth.

UNC outscored Virginia 28-16 in the fourth quarter to seal the win. The Tar Heels shot 50 percent (7-14) in the period to finish at 45.2 for the game.

The Tar Heels won the rebounding battle, 44-39, against a Virginia team that came in averaging 46.5 rebounds per game, which ranks eighth in the nation. The success on the boards is one of the areas in which Banghart has seen her team improve.

"This is a team that in the beginning of the season, we couldn't outrebound anybody," Banghart said of her Tar Heels. "We couldn't have outrebounded my kids' 9-year-old basketball team. (Virginia) is a top-10 rebounding team in the country and we outrebounded them."

This year is the 30th anniversary of the 1994 NCAA Championship, so those coaches and players were the guests of honor on Sunday. All of the Tar Heel alums in attendance were honored at halftime, and then the 1994 squad was introduced again to a standing ovation between the third and fourth quarters.

Three of the four head coaches in program history were in the building, with Jennifer Alley (1977-86) and Sylvia Hatchell (1987-2019) sitting courtside as Courtney Banghart (2020-present) led the Tar Heels to the homecourt victory.

Notes:

- Prior to the game, Alyssa Ustby was presented with a ball honoring her triple-double on Jan. 4. That was the first triple-double in 50 years of program history, but during the game it appeared she just might do it again three games later. At halftime, Ustby had eight points, seven rebounds and five assists. She finished with 17 points, 12 rebounds, five assists and three blocks.
- Deja Kelly has scored 50 points in the past two games, with 23 at Florida State on Thursday.
- The Tar Heels played in retro uniforms that copied those worn by the 1994 NCAA Champions in the title game.

Big Week for the Heels

After one week outside the top 25, UNC earned its way back in with two emphatic wins. On Jan. 4, the Tar Heels hosted No. 25 Syracuse - the team that moved into the poll when Carolina fell out - and earned a 24-point victory, 75-51. It was the team's first win of the season against a ranked team.

UNC followed that up with a 61-57 win at No. 16 Notre Dame on Jan. 7 in the team's first true road game of the season. The Tar Heels were the only team to beat two ranked teams during the week and returned to the polls at No. 20 in the AP poll and No. 22 in the coaches' poll. Carolina was honored as the National Team of the Week by both ESPN.com and the U.S. Basketball Writers Association.

· Against Syracuse, Alyssa Ustby added to the night's excitement by handing out a career-high 10 assists to go with 16 points and 16 rebounds, earning the program's first-ever triple-double.

Welcome to the Family

In addition to the season-opening win, Nov. 8 was a big day because it marked the signing of two new Tar Heels, Blanca Thomas and Jordan Zubich. They'll arrive on campus next summer, ahead of the 2024-25 season.

"At the University of North Carolina, we want the most talented student-athletes who can make an immediate impact and whose best basketball is still ahead of them," coach Courtney Banghart said. "We recruit great teammates and great people. We want people that want to wear the Carolina uniform and to help us do something special together.

"As a staff, we aim for players that fit our programmatic needs at the right time. Blanca and Jordan are a homerun for all the right reasons. I clearly want to recognize my current players who have attracted such high-quality players, people, and families, and we all can't wait to have both Blanca and Jordan here."

Thomas is from Charlotte, N.C., and attends Charlotte Catholic High School. A 6-5 post, she has led her team to the state's final four in each of the past two seasons after reaching the state quarterfinals in 2021. She was a first-team All-State pick as a junior after earning second-team honors in her freshman and sophomore years. The Charlotte Observer named her its Defensive Player of the Year in 2023.

Zubich is from Mountain Iron, Minn., and attends Mountain Iron-Buhl High School. A 5-11 shooting guard, she helped her team to a state championship in 2023 and has earned all-state honors in each of the past two seasons. A two-year team captain, she has already scored more than 2,000 points in her high school career.

She plays for Minnesota Fury, the same club for which current UNC senior Alyssa Ustby played.

- On Tuesday, both Thomas and Zubich were announced as nominees for the 2024 McDonald's All-American Game
  - Zubich recently passed 3,000 points for her career.

Hull, Toomey to Sit This Season

Coach Courtney Banghart announced on Oct. 10 that two freshmen, Laila Hull and Ciera Toomey, will redshirt in 2023-24 while continuing to rehab injuries from high school. Both players underwent surgery over the summer as part of their continued rehabilitation, and by taking a redshirt year, each will retain four full years of playing time.

"When any player that you are excited to coach redshirts, there is obviously an element of disappointment as their process is a bit delayed," Banghart said. "But this decision also means that they get a year to rehab, build strength, and better prepare for the collegiate game, so in many ways it's a win. I've already been really inspired by the work ethic and dedication of both Ciera and Laila and am thrilled with their decision to get four full years with us on the court. I know we will continue to get their best as they work hard to return even stronger."

Hull, a wing from Zionsville, Ind., was Indiana's Miss Basketball and Gatorade Player of the Year in 2023. She averaged 22.4 points per game as a senior and finished her high school career as Zionsville High's all-time scoring leader.

Toomey, a forward from Dunmore, Pa., was named Pennsylvania's Miss Basketball as a senior, when she helped Dunmore to the 2023 state title. She was ranked as high as No. 3 among the players in this year's freshman class.

Season Ends for McPherson

UNC announced on Jan. 6 that redshirt sophomore quard Kayla McPherson will miss the rest of the season after sustaining a knee injury requiring surgery. McPherson appeared in seven games this season, starting three.

"I continue to be amazed and inspired by Kayla's resilience," UNC coach Courtney Banghart said. "We are all heartbroken on her behalf as she faces more time away from playing the game she loves and excels at, but her mindset remains so positive. While she attacks this setback, she is determined to impact our team in every way she can. We're a better team with Kayla, even when she is on the sidelines. Our entire program is behind her as she faces this new challenge."

McPherson sat out the 2021-22 season, her first in Chapel Hill, while continuing to rehabilitate a high school knee injury. She made her collegiate debut midway through the 2022-23 season, playing in 13 games and earning ACC Freshman of the Week honors.

After dealing with a knee issue in the preseason, she sat out the season-opener against Gardner-Webb then returned to the court against Davidson on Nov. 12. She played in the next seven games before being sidelined again.

"While I'm devastated to miss the rest of the season, I know that I can play an important role on the team even when I'm not in uniform," McPherson said. "I'll be cheering for my teammates from the bench and continuing to work hard to get back on the court. I want to thank our sports medicine team, our coaching staff, my teammates, my family and all of our fans for their support."

Story Lines

- The Tar Heels return three starters, five of their top seven scorers, and seven letterwinners from last season's squad. They add eight newcomers, the most of any season during fifth-year coach Courtney Banghart's tenure in Chapel Hill
- Of the newcomers, five are freshmen and three are transfers Lexi Donarski (Iowa State), Maria Gakdeng (Boston College) and Indya Nivar (Stanford).
- With eight new faces on the roster, offseason bonding was particularly important. The Tar Heels held a team pickleball tournament, played wiffleball and water polo as part of their conditioning, tried axe throwing, and went whitewater rafting during a day trip to the U.S. National Whitewater Center in Charlotte.
- Over the summer, the entire team and staff read "The Energy Bus," by Jon Gordon. The book emphasizes the importance and impact of a positive attitude in team dynamics.
- Deja Kelly spent part of her summer with Team USA as part of the squad that won silver at the FIBA Women's AmeriCup in Mexico in July. She also interned with SLAM magazine. She is now producing a podcast, NILosophy.
- Alyssa Ustby was selected to serve as the ACC's representative to the NCAA DI Women's Basketball Student-Athlete Engagement Group for 2023-24. She is part of UNC's Student-Athlete Advisory Council (SAAC), in addition to serving as a team captain, along with Deja Kelly.
- In July, coach Courtney Banghart started a two-year term as president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).

- This year, UNC will celebrate the 30th anniversary of its 1994 NCAA title. The team will be recognized at the home game against Virginia on January 14th.
- Deja Kelly, UNC's No. 25, was named one of the top 25 players in the nation by ESPN.com during the preseason.
- Deja Kelly and Alyssa Ustby were both named to the Naismith Trophy Watch List and the John R. Wooden Award Watch List.
- Three Tar Heels were included on the watch lists for their respective positional awards: Deja Kelly for the Nancy Lieberman Point Guard of the Year Award, Alyssa Ustby for the Cheryl Miller Small Forward of the Year Award and Maria Gakdeng for the Lisa Leslie Center of the Year Award.
- Freshman Reniya Kelly had her No. 10 jersey retired by Hoover High School over the holiday break. Kelly was part of four state championship teams at Hoover and was MVP of three of those championships. As a senior in 2023, she was Alabama's Miss Basketball and Gatorade Player of the Year.

By the Numbers: Why the Tar Heels wear the jersey numbers they do

#O: ALEXANDRA ZELAY/

Zelaya wore No. 3 in middle and high school, but it wasn't available at UNC. Within the family, her older sister (Adriana) had claimed No. 1 and her younger sister (Avalyn) had No. 5. "I brought up zero and at first my family didn't really like it — you think, 'Is zero even a number?'" she said. "It's just really different. And I want to be different so that kind of highlighted everything I wanted it to be. So I picked zero and it's really grown on me."

#1: ALYSSA USTBY

Ustby wore No. 21 in high school but it was already taken at UNC so she picked No. 1. It had extra significance because it had recently been vacated by Taylor Koenen, a 2020 graduate who, like Ustby, is from Minnesota. "I'm keeping the Minnesota legacy going," Ustby said.

#2: PAULINA PARIS

Paris wore No. 23 growing up but it's retired at UNC – for Charlotte Smith, who hit the three-pointer to win the 1994 NCAA Championship – so she went with the first digit and decided to wear No. 2. (She writes "23" on her shoes to keep that number as part of her uniform.)

#4: LAILA HULL

Has worn 4 throughout her basketball career (since age 7) and says its her favorite number.

#5: MARIA GAKDENG

Wore 5 throughout middle school and high school and also through her two years at Boston College. She says it represents stability to her, even through a lot of change.

#10: RENIYA KELLY

Wears 10 because her birthday is in October, the 10th month.

#11: KAYLA MCPHERSON

Switched to back to 11, the number she wore throughout high school, this season after two years of wearing 14. (The number was worn by Ariel Young when McPherson arrived at UNC.)

#13: TEONNI KEY

Key has worn No. 13 since she started playing basketball and says it's her favorite number.

#15: SYDNEY BARKER

Is repping a new number this year because none of the others she'd worn were available.

#20: LEXI DONARSKI

She's always worn 21 but since it wasn't available she went with 20 as a fresh start in a new place.

#21: CIERA TOOMEY

The number was passed down to her from a family friend at the beginning of high school and she's worn it ever since.

#22: RYLEE GRAYS

Her father wore 23 in college and her mother wore 21, so she picked the number in between. Also, she's the second child in her family and the second girl.

#24: INDYA NIVAR

Chose it as a new number because her traditional number, 12, is retired at UNC for Ivory Latta.

#25: DEJA KELLY

Kelly wears the number in honor of her father, Darren, who played at the University of Texas and overseas. "Growing up watching him play inspired me," she said. "I decided to pick his number at a young age and it stuck."

#31: ANYA POOLE

The number was handed to her as a seventh grader and she's stuck with it ever since.

COURTNEY BANGHART

Head Coach · Fifth season at UNC, 17th season as a head coach

The 2023-24 season is the fifth at UNC for head coach Courtney Banghart, who has transformed the Tar Heel roster and led the team to NCAA Tournament appearances in each of the past three seasons and a Sweet 16 spot in 2022.

Banghart was announced on April 30, 2019 as North Carolina's head coach, the first new face in the position since 1986. She came to Chapel Hill after 12 years as the head coach at Princeton, where her teams won seven Ivy League crowns and made eight NCAA Tournament appearances. (Before her arrival, Princeton hadn't reached the tournament even once.)

A New Hampshire native, Banghart was a three-year starter at Dartmouth, where she twice earned All-Ivy honors. She still holds the Ivy League record for career three-pointers (273) and as a senior competed in the three-point shooting contest at Butler's Hinkle Fieldhouse during the men's Final Four in Indianapolis.

Including a WNIT appearance at Princeton, Banghart has led her teams to 12 postseason appearances in 16 seasons as a head coach.

More on Banghart:

- In July she began a two-year term as president of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA).
- She was the 2015 Naismith National Coach of the Year and is the only current ACC coach to have won that
- A player she coached was picked in the top 10 in back-to-back WNBA Drafts (Stephanie Watts from UNC 10th in 2021, Bella Alarie from Princeton 5th in 2020)
- In 2015 she was named to Fortune's list of the World's 50 Greatest Leaders. Also on the list that year: Pope Francis, Bill and Melinda Gates, Chief Justice John Roberts Jr., LeBron James, Elon Musk and Taylor Swift.
- She holds a bachelor's degree in neuroscience and a master's degree in writing and leadership, both from Dartmouth. Her graduate thesis was on sport leadership.
- She hitchhiked through Alaska after college (after ditching the outdoor leadership course in which she was enrolled) and has bungeed off a jump in Switzerland that was then the highest in the world.
- Right around the time she got the Princeton job, she and her brother were finalists to appear on "The Amazing Race."
- A four-time soccer state champion in high school, she planned to play that sport at Dartmouth until a coaching change made her rethink her path and talk the women's basketball coach into giving her a spot. (She also won two high school state titles in basketball and three in tennis.)
- She's a mom to three kids under the age of 10.
