GEORGIA TECH YELLOW JACKETS - NOV. 9, 2025 - 2 PM - ACC NETWORK EXTRA

Princeton Tigers 21-8, 12-2 Ivy (2024-25)	Princeton at Georgia Tech Series History	Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets
	Georgia Tech leads the all-time series, 4-0. Princeton and Georgia Tech faced off in 2003, 2004, 2016 and 2017.

THE ROCK - Basic Information

- Princeton Women's Basketball begins the 2025-26 season at the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets on Sunday.
- The Tigers were voted as the No. 1 team in the Ivy League Preseason Poll, the league announced.
- They earned 163 voting points and 17 of the 21 first place votes. Columbia was second at 147 points and three first place tallies while Harvard nabbed 126 points and the final first place nod. Penn was fourth (106), followed by Brown (84), Dartmouth (46), Cornell (45) and Yale (39).
- Head coach Carla Berube's team returns four starters from last year's NCAA Tournament team in Ashley Chea (First-Team All-Ivy), Skye Belker (Second-Team All-Ivy), Fadima Tall (Second-Team All-Ivy) and Olivia Hutcherson.
- Also, returning is Madison St. Rose, who was recently named to the 2026 Becky Hammon Mid-Major Player of the Year Award Watchlist presented by the Her Hoops Stats.

RIKISHI - TOP RETURNERS

- Ashley Chea was unanimous First-Team All-Ivy last season after seeing a jump in scoring (12.6), shooting (.432), free-throw shooting (.750), assists (103), rebounding (3.2) and steals (26).
- Skye Belker nabbed her first All-Ivy honor (second-team) in 2025 as she improved in scoring (13.0), shooting (.447), three-point shooting (.379), rebounding (2.1) and assists (78).
- Fadima Tall also corralled her first All-Ivy selection (second-team) as she saw a spike in most categories including scoring (10.6), three-point shooting (.323), rebounding (6.3), assists (63) and steals (40).

•Olivia Hutcherson played in 28 games in 2024-25 and improved in scoring (4.2), rebounding (4.3), steals (26) and blocks (16).

•Madison St. Rose averaged 17.0 points, 7.2 rebounds 1.2 assists per game in four contests last season before missing the year with a knee injury.

•In her three campaigns with the Tigers, St. Rose has averaged 12.1 points, 3.0 rebounds and 1.3 steals per game, while collecting Ivy Rookie of the Year in 2023 and Second-Team All-Ivy in 2024.

JEY USO - THE CLASS OF 2029

•The Tigers brought in two players for the Class of 2029 in Sarah Lessig and Grace O'Sullivan.

•Lessig, from Seattle, Wash., was Metro League MVP and Seattle Sports Star of the Year nominee as a senior captain. She also played baseball, softball and flag football.

•O'Sullivan, from Acton, Mass., earned three ISL All-League honors and was a two-time NEPSAC AA and NEPSAC Class B All-Star after securing over 1,200 points and 500 rebounds.

JIMMY USO - THE COACHING STAFF

•The coaching staff for Princeton remains the same with head coach Carla Berube, associate head coach Lauren Gosselin, assistant coach/recruiting coordinator Lauren Dillon, assistant coach Jordan Edwards and Director of Basketball Operations Lilly Paro.

•In five playing seasons played under Berube, the Tigers have won four Ivy League championships, posting a 65-5 record against Ivy opponents during the regular season. Overall, the Tigers are 121-25 (.829) during Berube's tenure as head coach at Princeton.

Notes: Home games in in caps, wins in bold.

- Princeton fell in the second round to No. 8 nationally ranked Utah, 63-56, finishing 24-6 overall.

- During the 2021-22 season, Berube's unit defeated No. 6 seeded Kentucky, the SEC Champion, 69-62, in the first round, the program's second-ever NCAA victory.

- Princeton would then take No. 3 Indiana to the limit in the second round, falling to the hosts at Assembly Hall, 56-55.

Before the 2021-22 campaign, the Tigers last appeared in the NCAA Tournament in 2019, dropping an 82-77 decision to No. 17 Kentucky.

- The Tigers' first NCAA Tournament win was an 80-70 decision over No. 9 seeded Green Bay in 2015.

- It was the second Ivy League victory (Harvard in 1998 over Stanford) in the NCAA Tournament. Princeton finished that season at 31-1 overall.

- The program has been seeded as low as No. 12 and as high as No. 8. The Tigers' No. 8 seed in 2015 is the highest seed ever by an Ivy school in the NCAAs.

- Despite finishing second in the conference, Princeton became the first Ivy school to earn an NCAA at-large bid in 2016. The Tigers lost a 74-65 contest to No. 6 seed West Virginia. Columbia became the second squad in 2024.

- Princeton has gone 18-5 in the month of March during the Carla Berube era. Four of the team's five losses have been in the NCAA Tournament.

YOKOZUNA - THE CLASS OF 2024

- The Class of 2024 featuring Kaitlyn Chen, Ellie Mitchell and Cet Nweke made a monumental impact on the program.

- A three-time Ivy League Tournament Most Outstanding Player, Chen, who graduated in May of 2023, was the gold standard during the best stretch of Princeton Women's Basketball history.

- In just three playing seasons, Chen led the Tigers to three Ivy League titles, three Ivy League Tournament crowns and three NCAA Tournament appearances.

- The true definition of a student-athlete, Chen was named a College Sports Communicators Second Team Academic All-American as a senior, the program's first since 2016, after finishing her Tiger career with 1,276 points and 359 assists.

- Chen started every game for the 2025 National Champion UConn Huskies, averaging 7.1 points, 3.2 assists and 1.8 rebounds per game.

- The former Tiger would later be drafted by the Golden State Valkyries in the 2025 WNBA Draft. She became the ninth Ivy League player overall and four Princeton alumnae (Abby Meyers, Bella Alarie and Leslie Robinson) to be picked in the WNBA draft.

- After being cut by the Valkyries, she would later come back and play in 24 games for the team, helping them reach the playoffs.

- She is currently playing with USK Praha in the Czech WBL.

- Ellie Mitchell graduated as the program's all-time leader in rebounding (1,125) as she recorded the three highest rebounding totals ever by a Tiger (338 in 2022-23, 311 in 2021-22 and 306 in 2023-24).

- Mitchell had 54 games with at least 10 rebounds or more. She recorded six as a freshman, 16 as a sophomore, 17 as a junior and 16 in 2023-24. She finished her career with 15 caroms including eight offensive boards in the NCAA Tournament game vs. West Virginia.

- The former captain was a three-time Ivy League Defensive Player of the Year as she was the foundation piece for a defense that ranked No. 20 in scoring defense (56.2) in 2023-24, sixth in 2022-23 (53.2) and fourth in 2021-22 (51.5). She is currently doing commercial real estate in her post Princeton career.

- Chet Nweke had a career season in her senior campaign with the Tigers, averaging 6.1 points, 4.8 rebounds per contest. She finished her Princeton career with three Ivy titles and three Ivy League Tournament championships.

- Nweke is doing a graduate season at Georgetown. She tore her ACL in her first game in 2024 and is now doing her final campaign.

ROCKY JOHNSON - National Ranked Games

- After three ranked games in 2023-24, Princeton is 4-32 all-time against nationally ranked teams, defeating No. 20 Oklahoma 77-63 on Thanksgiving in 2023 two days before a 72-63 loss to No. 19 Indiana, both in Fort Myers, Fla. Just six days before the Oklahoma game, Princeton lost 77-74 at No. 3 UCLA.

- Before the 2021-22 season, the Tigers had one program victory over a top-25 team, coming on Jan. 5, 1978, 70-57 over No. 18 Rutgers, when coach Carla Berube was two years old.

- Princeton proceeded to collect two during that 2021-22 campaign. Berube's crew took down No. 15 Kentucky in the first round of the 2022 NCAA Tournament.

- In December of 2021, the Tigers defeated No. 22 Florida Gulf Coast, 58-55, the program's first top-25 victory in 43 years.

- After the Rutgers game in 1978, the Tigers did not face another top-25 opponent for 24 years until battling No. 7 Stanford on Nov. 29, 2002.

- Princeton went on to face 24 more top-25 squads and went 0-25, until the 2021 game against FGCU.

AVA JOHNSON - Ivy League Tourn. Info.

- The Tigers have reached the Ivy League Tournament Championship game in six of the seven years the tournament has been played (2017, 2018, 2019, 2022, 2023, 2024), winning five times while losing in 2017 to Penn.

- The Tigers lost to the eventual champion, Harvard, in the 2025 Ivy Semifinal.

- Bella Alarie (twice) and Kaitlyn Chen (three times) have won five Tournament Most Outstanding Player awards for Princeton.

- Princeton has had 16 All-Tournament selections in Alarie (three), Abby Meyers (twice) Leslie Robinson (twice), Chen (three), Gabrielle Rush, Carlie Littlefield, Julia Cunningham, Ellie Mitchell, Madison St. Rose and Skye Belker.

ZILLA FATU - Interesting Nuggets

- Princeton's 15-point comeback at Rutgers in 2022-23 was the largest of the Carla Berube era.

- After winning 20 games just three times prior to the 2009-10 season, the Tigers have won at least 20 games in all but one campaign since.

- Ashley Chea's buzzer beater vs. Harvard in 2025 and Grace Stone's buzzer beater over Rhode Island (Dec. of 2022) are the first buzzer beaters for Princeton since Eileen Powers' putback with one-second remaining in overtime lifted the Tigers past Southwest Texas State, 82-81, at the Ferrell Center in Waco, Texas on Nov. 23, 2002.

- Princeton finishes each shootaround on the day of a game with a half-court shot. Last season, Ashley Chea led the team with four.

THE SAMOAN SAVAGE - #PrincetonPros

- Parker Hill '25 signed a professional contract with Helios Basket of the SB Women's League in Switzerland in the summer.

- She is the sixth Princeton alumnae to play professionally this season, joining Blake Dietrick Seifert '15 (3XBA), Carlie Littlefield Friberg '21 (3XBA), Abby Meyers '22 (Maccabi Bnot Ashdod), Grace Stone '23 (Perry Lakes Hawks) and Kaitlyn Chen '24 (Golden State Valkyries).

- Meyers is currently with Maccabi Bnot Ashdod in Israel and Perfumerias Avenida in Spain.

- Meyers got some playing time in the WNBA with the Washington Mystics and Dallas Wings. She was drafted in the first round of the 2023 WNBA Draft by the Wings.

- Grace Stone '23 is playing for the Perry Lake Hawks in Australia. She is averaging 10.1 points, 4.4 assists and 4.2 rebounds per contest for the Hawks. She has also seen action in Finland and Cyprus.

- Stone graduated from Princeton third all-time in games played (118) and fifth in free throw percentage (.802). She recorded 807 points, 405 rebounds, 138 steals and 55 blocks during her time with the Tigers.

- Friberg '21 and Seifert '15 are playing in the 3XBA league.

- Last season, Friberg appeared in leagues in Slovakia and Belgium as well. She recorded 1,021 points in 87 games for the Tigers, adding 358 rebounds, 255 assists and 135 steals.

- These two former Tigers led the U.S. 3x3 team to a series victory in Pristina, Kosovo in July of 2023. The tournament win is the third-ever in the Women's Series for the United States (2022 - Quebec City, 2021 - Klaipeda).

- Seifert helped the United States 3x3 women's team earn gold at the 2023 Pan American Games in October of 2023. The United States dropped Colombia, 21-14, in the gold medal game to secure its second straight gold at the Pan American Games.

- During her senior campaign, Seifert helped the Tigers to one of the greatest seasons in Ivy League history. The Tigers had an unblemished 30-0 regular season, won its fifth Ivy League title in six years, and won the program's first ever NCAA Tournament game in 2015.

BLACK PEARL - Breakfast

- Katie Thiers '25 ranked each road trip's breakfast last year taking over for Maggie Connolly '23 who did it for two seasons. Thiers ranked Yale at 9.2, DePaul 8.8, Dartmouth, 8.0, Utah 7.8, Quinnipiac 7.5, Harvard, Brown 6.5, Duquesne 5.72 and Portland at 5.0.

Fort Myers and Harvard (2023-24) - 9.4 are the top two rankings over the past three seasons.

ROMAN REIGNS - Writer Notes

- Since OAC contact Warren Croxton had his first child, Teresa, in March of 2022, the Tigers are 71-20 (.780 winning percentage) with two NCAA Tournament victories.

- The program produced only a .571 winning percentage and only one NCAA victory prior to the birth of Teresa.

Princeton Women's Basketball has gone 46-13 (.779 winning percentage) since the birth of his second child, Michael, in October of 2023. Prior to that, the program only had a .585 winning percentage.

- Each headline is a wrestler from the Anoa'i wrestling family who includes Roman Reigns, a Georgia Tech alum.

CARLA BERUBE HEAD COACH • 7TH YEAR • CONNECTICUT '97

In five playing seasons played under Berube, the Tigers have won four Ivy League championships, posting a 65-5 record against Ivy opponents during the regular season. Overall, the Tigers are 121-25 (.829) during Berube's tenure as head coach at Princeton with three Ivy League Tournament Championships and two NCAA Tournament victories.

Princeton went 21-8 in 2024-25 and collected a Net Ranking of 46, adding four combined quad 1/2 victories. The Tigers placed second in the Ivy League and received an at-large bid in the NCAA Tournament. Princeton had four earn All-Ivy selections highlighted by Ashley Chea's unanimous First-Team honor.

The 2023-24 season saw the Tigers win their fifth consecutive Ivy League Tournament title, nabbing a No. 9 seed in the NCAA Tournament. Princeton finished with a Net Ranking of 35 overall and had one of the toughest non-conference schedules in the country, taking on No. 3 UCLA on the road in addition to No. 20 Oklahoma and No. 19 Indiana on a neutral floor. The Tigers' victory over Oklahoma was the fourth top-25 win in program history.

The 2022-23 season had Women's Basketball go 24-6, advancing to the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year becoming the first Ivy team to do that since Harvard men's team in 2013 and 2014. After starting the Ivy campaign 0-2, the Tigers ripped off 12 straight before sweeping both games at home in the Ivy Tournament for their second straight crown and earning a bid to the NCAA. With the team's victory over NC State in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, it marked the first time an Ivy League school has had its men's and women's teams both win in the NCAA in the same year.

The 2021-22 season saw Princeton finish with a 25-5 record, advancing to the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament for just the second time in program history. After a second consecutive undefeated regular season championship in the Ivy League, the Tigers swept both games of the Ivy League Tournament to claim Berube's first Ivy Tournament title and earn an automatic bid to NCAA's.

Seeded No. 11, the Tigers knocked off No. 6 Kentucky -- the SEC Tournament champion -- in the First Round, 69-62. Princeton would then take No. 3 Indiana to the limit in the Second Round, falling to the hosts at Assembly Hall, 56-55.

Berube was named Ivy League Coach of the Year for the second season in a row, and again coached the Ivy League Player of the Year in unanimous selection Abby Meyers who was also named unanimous first-team All-Ivy. Ellie Mitchell was named Ivy League Defensive Player of the Year, while Julia Cunningham (first team) and Grace Stone (honorable mention) also garnered All-Ivy honors.

The Tigers went 26-1 overall in 2019-20 and finished with a 22-game winning streak. The Tigers' streak was the second longest in the country behind No. 1 South Carolina. The unit wrapped up the campaign with a RPI of No. 9, the best mark in Ivy history and went undefeated in conference play before the postseason was cancelled due to the Coronavirus. Berube was named the Ivy League Coach of the Year. Bella Alarie was one of three players to be named All-Ivy as she was honored with her third straight Ivy Player of the Year award. Charlie Littlefield was first-team All-Ivy for the second consecutive season while Julia Cunningham was honored with honorable mention accolades.

Berube was named the head coach of women's basketball at Princeton University in May of 2019 after spending the previous 17 years at Tufts University. Berube has also coached internationally with USA Basketball, leading the U.S. Under-16 national team to a gold medal at the FIBA Americas and the Under-17 national team to a gold medal at the World Championships.

Berube brings a long history of success as both a player and coach to Princeton. She won exactly 80 percent of her games with the Jumbos, going 384-96 in 17 seasons while reaching the NCAA Division III final twice, the Final Four four times and the Sweet 16 nine times, including each of the last eight. In her last seven seasons at Tufts, her record was 197-24, with a winning percentage of .891 during those years.

Berube was the 2015 Pat Summitt Trophy winner as the Division III National Coach of the Year and a three-time regional coach of the year.

Berube is a 1997 UConn grad with a degree in sociology. She scored 1,381 points during her career, and the Huskies were an astonishing 132-8 in her four years, for a winning percentage of .942. The highlight of her career was the 1995 NCAA championship, which capped a perfect 35-0 season. She played in two Final Fours and also was part of four Big East championships.

After playing professionally in the American Basketball League, Berube began her coaching career as an assistant coach at Providence College before becoming the head coach at Tufts in 2002. During her time there, she coached three NESCAC Players of the Year, three Rookies of the Year, six Defensive Players of the Year and three CoSIDA Academic All-Americans. She also has coached seven All-Americans in the last eight years.

Under Berube's leadership, Tufts reached the Division III championship game in 2016 and 2017. Her final Tufts team went 28-3, won the NESCAC championship and reached the Elite Eight of the NCAA tournament in 2019.

She is a member of the Connecticut Women's Basketball Hall of Fame and the New England Basketball Hall of Fame. In addition to the 2015 national Coach of the Year honor, Berube is also a three-time regional Coach of the Year, a four-time NESCAC Coach of the Year and a two-time USA Basketball Development Coach of the Year.

Her players have also been active in the community. The Tufts women's basketball team adopted two Team IMPACT teammates -- a 12-year-old with leukemia and a 15-year-old with sickle cell anemia -- partnering with the non-profit organization that works to improve kids' quality of life and help them experience the camaraderie of collegiate sports. Many of her players have also been Big Sisters to local children.

Carla and her wife, Meghan, are the parents of two sons, Parker and Caden, along with a daughter, Brogan.

LAUREN GOSSELIN - ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH

Lauren (Battista) Gosselin will begin her seventh year with Princeton in 2025-26.

In five playing seasons with Gosselin on the staff, Princeton has won four Ivy League championships, posting a 65-5 record against Ivy opponents during the regular season. Overall, the Tigers are 121-25 (.829) during Gosselin's tenure as a coach with Princeton with three Ivy League Tournament Championships and two NCAA Tournament victories.

Princeton went 21-8 in 2024-25 and collected a Net Ranking of 46, adding four combined quad 1/2 victories. The Tigers placed second in the Ivy League and received an at-large bid in the NCAA Tournament. Princeton had four earn All-Ivy selections highlighted by Ashley Chea's unanimous First-Team honor.

Princeton finished with a Net Ranking of 35 overall and had one of the toughest non-conference schedules in the country, taking on No. 3 UCLA on the road in addition to No. 20 Oklahoma and No. 19 Indiana on a neutral floor. The Tigers' victory over Oklahoma was the fourth top-25 win in program history.

Prior to her time at Tufts, Battista was a graduate assistant at Boston College while securing her master's degree in Leadership and Administration. Before BC, Battista was at the NCAA office in a postgraduate internship program, helping the women's basketball staff with the NCAA Tournament and Final Four.

Battista graduated from Bentley University in 2014. She was a 4-year starter, 3-time All-American, and 2-year team captain for the nationally ranked Falcons. Her senior year was spectacular as she led the team to the Division II national title with an undefeated 35-0 season. She earned national recognition as the WBCA Division II National Player of the Year, the Capital One Academic All-American of the Year, CWSA/Honda Division II Athlete of the Year, and an NCAA Today's Top 10 Award honoree. She graduated as the all-time leading scorer in Bentley history, scoring over 2,100 points. Battista graduated summa cum laude with a degree in marketing and minor in finance.

LAUREN DILLON - ASSISTANT COACH/ RECRUITING COORDINATOR

Lauren Dillon will begin her seventh year with Princeton in 2025-26.

In five playing seasons with Dillon on the staff, Princeton has won four Ivy League championships, posting a 65-5 record against Ivy opponents during the regular season. Overall, the Tigers are 121-25 (.829) during Dillon's tenure as a coach with Princeton with three Ivy League Tournament Championships and two NCAA Tournament victories.

Princeton went 21-8 in 2024-25 and collected a Net Ranking of 46, adding four combined quad 1/2 victories. The Tigers placed second in the Ivy League and received an at-large bid in the NCAA Tournament. Princeton had four earn All-Ivy selections highlighted by Ashley Chea's unanimous First-Team honor.

Dillon came from Tufts where she spent a season as a coach after graduating from the school in 2018. She helped lead her squad team to a NESCAC championship her freshmen year, and one Elite Eight, one Final Four, and two National Championship game appearances throughout her career.

A two-year captain, Dillon was the NESCAC Defensive Player of the Year as a sophomore, earned a First-Team All-League honor as a senior and graduated as the program's all-time record in career steals and assists.

She earned her masters' degree in Child Study and Human Development at Tufts in 2021.

JORDAN EDWARDS - ASSISTANT COACH

Jordan Edwards is in her second season with Princeton Women's Basketball in 2025-26.

Princeton went 21-8 in 2024-25 and collected a Net Ranking of 46, adding four combined quad 1/2 victories. The Tigers placed second in the Ivy League and received an at-large bid in the NCAA Tournament. Princeton had four earn All-Ivy selections highlighted by Ashley Chea's unanimous First-Team honor.

Edwards comes from High Point where she spent the previous season as an assistant coach/Director of Operations. The Panthers won 20 games and reached the WBIT in 2023-24.

Previously, Edwards played for three seasons at High Point, helping the Panthers to its first NCAA Tournament in 2021. Edwards averaged 7.1 points, 4.2 assists and 3.1 rebounds per game in 87 contests. She also saw action in 61 contests at Niagara before transferring to High Point.

LILLY PARO - DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

Lilly Paro will begin her fifth season with Princeton in 2025-26.

Princeton went 21-8 in 2024-25 and collected a Net Ranking of 46, adding four combined quad 1/2 victories. The Tigers placed second in the Ivy League and received an at-large bid in the NCAA Tournament. Princeton had four earn All-Ivy selections highlighted by Ashley Chea's unanimous First-Team honor.

The 2023-24 season saw the Tigers win their fifth consecutive Ivy League Tournament title, nabbing a No. 9 seed in the NCAA Tournament. Princeton finished with a Net Ranking of 35 overall and had one of the toughest non-conference schedules in the country, taking on No. 3 UCLA on the road in addition to No. 20 Oklahoma and No. 19 Indiana on a neutral floor. The Tigers' victory over Oklahoma was the fourth top-25 win in program history.

The 2022-23 season had Women's Basketball go 24-6, advancing to the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year becoming the first Ivy team to do that since Harvard men's team in 2013 and 2014. After starting the Ivy campaign 0-2, the Tigers ripped off 12 straight before sweeping both games at home in the Ivy Tournament for their second straight crown and earning a bid to the NAAs. With the team's victory over NC State in the first round of the NCAA Tournament, it marked the first time an Ivy League school has had its men's and women's teams both win in the NCAA in the same year.

The 2021-22 season saw Princeton finish with a 25-5 record, advancing to the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament for just the second time in program history. After a second consecutive undefeated regular season championship in the Ivy League, the Tigers swept both games of the Ivy League Tournament to claim the Ivy Tournament title and earn an automatic bid to NAAs.

Seeded No. 11, the Tigers knocked off No. 6 Kentucky -- the SEC Tournament champion -- in the First Round, 69-62. Princeton would then take No. 3 Indiana to the limit in the Second Round, falling to the hosts at Assembly Hall, 56-55.

The win over Kentucky was one of two Princeton victories over Top-25 opponents during the 2021-22 season. In addition to the win over the Wildcats, who were ranked No. 15 in AP Poll at the time, Paro and the Tigers knocked off No. 22 Florida Gulf Coast on the road, 58-55, for the program's first win over a Top-25 opponent in 43 years.

During the 2021-22 season, Paro was on staff as Princeton had the Ivy League Player of the Year in unanimous selection Abby Meyers who was also named unanimous first-team All-Ivy. Ellie Mitchell was named Ivy League Defensive Player of the Year, while Julia Cunningham (first team) and Grace Stone (honorable mention) also garnered All-Ivy honors.

Paro graduated from Tufts in 2020 where she was coached by Berube for two of her three seasons. She saw action in 78 games, averaging 2.7 points and adding 63 three-pointers. The Jumbos went to the Division III Sweet 16 all four years she was at Tufts.

After graduating with a degree in Psychology, Paro was a learning specialist at the Connelly School of the Holy Child in Potomac, Md. While there, she coached basketball and lacrosse and was a volunteer assistant at Smith College.
